NARROW ESCAPE.

Mr. Alston's Clothing Caught in Shafting

Mr. W. H. Alston, who is manager of the automatic machine at the Strausestemmery, met with an accident Monday afternoon that gave him a narrow escape from being killed. Mr. Alston was lying on top of the machine regulating the air currents, and happening to raise up one foot the leg of his pants was caught by a set screw on a rapidly revolving shaft. He had presence of mind to grab the side of the machine, and by holding on with all his strength saved himself from being drawn around the shafting. His clothing from the waist down was torn off and one leg was considerably bruised. Fortunately the pants he had on at the time was an old pair in which he worked and they were torn in shreds as the shaft twisted them off him. Otherwise he might have been killed.

Memorial Services.

They are Right

A large number of voters have petitioned Congress to not allow B. H. Roberts, of Utah, to take his seat with his three wives.

Meet Wednesday.

The Daughters of the Confederacy will meet Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with Miss Lillian Cherry. Full and prompt attendance desired.

Well Done.

The ladies of Greenville, through the Daughters of the Confederacy, have today drawn a check for $70.50 for the loving gift to Mrs. Stonewall Jackson. Greenville has the youngest and smallest chapter of the Daughters of Confederacy in the State, and taking this into consideration our ladies have indeed done nobly in raising so large a sum. According to their age and strength we doubt if another chapter has done so well.

No Profit at Such Price

Mr. J. J. Laughinghouse, one of the best farmers in the State, was talking with THE REFLECTOR about the Tarboro Southerner and Raleigh Post recently saying that with the price of cotton at 5 cents it could be raised at a profit. He says such talk is all nonsense, as any intelligent farmer well knows. Even at the present price there is no profit in the crop worth speaking of. It takes one-fourth of the crop to pay for picking out and ginning, to say nothing of the cost of fertilizers and labor. Mr. Laughinghouse says if a man with his own family performs all the labor in cultivating his crop he may possibly come out a little ahead, but if the labor has to be hired there is no profit in it.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 14, '99.

Boss Hanna will have a fight on his hands when he returns to Washington, just as hard as the one he had in Ohio, and one in which he cannot rely victoriously with cash. Notice has been served on Mr. McKinley by leading men in his party that Hanna will be too heavy a load to carry through another National campaign; that his record was bad enough before he made those speeches in the Ohio campaign in defence of trusts, and that it has since then become an imperative necessity that he should retire from the head of the Republican National Committee.

According to an official report of the U. S. Consul-General at Stockholm, the Government of Sweden owns and operates 2,284 miles of railway, the rolling stock of which consists of 502 locomotive 428 baggage cars, 892 passenger coaches, 3 dining cars, 45 postal wagons, 6 combined coaches and baggage, 21 prison vans, 216 flat cars, and 12,161 freight cars.

of $2,282,164 for pensioning employees retired on account of age or injury, and a fund of $2,079,219 for the relief of widows and children of deceased employees.

Copies of the following petition to Congress, understood to have been prepared by Ex-Senator Edmunds, who is honorary President of Philadelphia branch of the anti-imperialist league, are receiving the signatures of those who are opposed to the administration's Philippine policy: "We, the undersigned, citizens of the U. S. of America, especially petition your honorable body to bring about an immediate cessation of hostilities in the Philippine islands, and to announce to the people thereof, with promptitude, that it is the purpose of the U. S., not to interfere with their aspirations for independence, or to subject them to our authority, but only to aid them in setting up an independent government of their own choice and to protect them against hostile foreign interference, and to assist them with the military and naval forces of the U. S. so far as may be required in the maintenance of order and security until such a government shall be established."

In these days when the average republican is stretching every thing to prove that the result of the state elections was an endorsement of the policy of imperialism, there is a pointer for them in the plain words of that plain man, Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, who is now in Washington. He said that the people of his state were in favor of expansion as applied to development of trade, but that they did not understand it to mean imperialism and an immense standing army, and would not support such a construction of it.

There is much protesting on the part of many republican Senators and Representatives against the programme that Secretary Gage and other radical gold men have arranged to have the coming session of Congress enact a law placing the country upon a single gold standard. The most of this protesting is on the quiet, but several Senators, including Hawley of Conn., Chandler, of N. H., and Thurston, of Nebr., have publicly announced their opposition to the programme. With the exception of Chandler, these gentlemen favor the gold standard, but oppose the legislation from policy, because of their belief that it will lose the republican party votes which they can keep along with the single gold standard as now established and maintained by edict of the Secretary of the Treasury. Most democrats hope that Gage's programme will be carried out; then there will be no dodging the question by republican Speakers and Editors in next years campaign.

The newly founded town of Triangle, Tex., promises to be one of the most unique in the United States. It is laid out in the form of an equilateral triangle; its lots are triangular in shape, and the ground plan of each of the twenty-three houses which have thus far been erected there is three-cornered. The three principal streets are named Equilateral, Scalene and Isosceles, and the residents have even carried their curious idea into the local government, which consists of a so-called Triangular Council having three members.

Washington diplomats discredit the forecast of trouble in the far east between Japan and Russia. Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, is authority for the statement that the situation in Korea is peaceful as both Russia and Japan are keeping their hands off.

President Paul Kruger is said to have been converted under the ministry of Rev. Daniel Lindley, who went from North Carolina as a missionary to the Zulus in 1834, laboring with them for 43 years.

Portrait of Gen. Grimes.

The reunion of the Daughters of the Confederacy in Richmond was made the occasion for the presentation of pictures in the Confederate Museum. Portraits of Gen. Robert E. Lee, President Jefferson Davis and Gen. Bryan Grimes were presented.

The portrait of General Grimes was unveiled in the North Carolina room. The Richmond Dispatch said of the presentation:

"After the presentations took place in the Virginia room, the audience ascended to the North Carolina room, on the second floor, where the portrait of Gen. Bryan Grimes, the gift of Washington Grays Chapter, Children of the Confederacy, of Washington, N. C., hung veiled upon the wall. Rev. Edward L. Pell introduced Miss Lucille Nicholson, of Washington, N. C., who made a ringing Confederate speech in presenting the portrait. The speech, quite a lengthy one, was written by Mrs. Call, but was delivered by Miss Nicholson without manuscript. The speech concluded with an original poem descriptive of the battles in which the distinguished General Grimes participated. While Miss Nicholson was speaking little Misses Cammie R. Short and Nina

Frizzle, of Washington, N. C., drew the veil, revealing the portrait

"Dr. J. Allison Hodges accepted the portrait in an eloquent speech, in which he paid a high tribute to the subject of the portrait and to the ladies of North Carolina and the South. In conclusion, he spoke glowingly of the Children's Chapter of Washington, N. C., and said: "No more worthy present could have been received, nor could it have come from a more worthy people."

The Farmer Pays It

Why the growers of leaf tobacco in Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Kentucky and Tennessee do not keep a continual demand and agitation for the repeal of the taxes and restrictions on the sale of leaf tobacco, the direct product of the soil, we cannot understand. Under the restrictions of the sale of tobacco by planters and growers, the whole tax on all forms of tobacco fall chiefly on the tobacco raisers, even the license taxes of dealers in tobacco and its manufacturers of every sort. As the topmost brick, slate or shingle of a building rests on the foundation sills, or stones, so do all the imposts on tobacco bear upon the grower of the plant.—Norfolk Pilot.

Here is a Dish to Feast On. Odd Fellows meet tonight. Weddings are on the programme again. Ormond & Carr have their Wilson Heaters, go and see them. Patrick & Greene have a large line of sample Notions at cost. See them. Lead Pencils from 5 cents a dozen, to $1 a dozen, at Reflector Book Store. Full line of Drummer's sample Notions at N. Y. cost at Patrick & Greene's. Some men cut acquaintances while scraping them—barbers, for example. Big lot of lead pencils, different styles, just arrived at Reflector Book Store. So far in 1899 the State has chartered 29 cotton mills. This breaks all records. New prepared Buck Wheat, Poto Rico Molasses, Orange Syrup 10 cents can, at S. M. Schultz'. Town Tax Collector Rountree has just laid in a supply of new tax receipts. Better get yourself one. Presiding Elder B. R. Hall will hold Quarterly Meeting with Bethlehem church Nov. 25th and 26th. The difference between a habit and a vice is whether it is yourself or your neighbor who is addicted to it. Phone No. 18 on the directory has been changed and is now Dr. R. L. Carr's office. No. 18½ is his residence. Wilson is macadamizing the roads leading out of town. That is an example Greenville might follow. The reform movement that doesn't interfere with the rights of a number of people usually dies in its infancy. Two oyster boats came up Monday. The people were hungry for the bivalves and orders went faster than they could be opened. Every member of Covenant Lodge I. O. O. F. should be present at the meeting tonight. There will be a lecture on the first degree. THE REFLECTOR has received a copy of Turner's N. C. Almanac, the household favorite, for 1900. It is fully up to its usual excellent standard. There were about as few stars Monday night as on any clear night you ever saw, and none of them took a shooting notion. And tonight it will be cloudy. The Tarboro Southerner says there should be no objection to cock-fighting as long as there are public hangings. And the Southerner is very near right. This week we will receive a car load of fine mules from St. Louis and a large number of excellent drive horses. See us when you want a good animal. R. L. SMITH & Co.
