WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, Nov. 29, '99

Rev. A. D. Betts, of Ayden, was in town yesterday.

Hear that we are to have a Methodist church here soon.

Several parties are talking of starting a livery and sale stable here.

Mrs. Joe Bunn and Miss Matilda O'Hagan, of Greenville, were at church Sunday.

Pastor W. L. Bilbro will conduct Thanksgiving services here at eleven o'clock.

Sheriff Warren and son, Ollen, of Greenville, were in town on business yesterday.

Mrs. Tew, wife of Captain Tew, of the work train, was the guest of Mrs. Wm. Dixon yesterday.

Drive on, weigh, and drive off, is very convenient now for people selling A. G. Cox cotton seed.

Miss Ludie Haddock is assistant teacher this week in place of Miss Rosa Cox who has the mumps.

Mrs. Mary Braxton went to Oxford Monday and returned last night. She has four children in the orphanage.

Bring your cotton here, get as near 7½ cents for it as you can, and invest part of the money in wire fence as Mr. Tyson did the other day.

Do like Sheriff Warren. Get a box of our hand made cigars for Xmas. But perhaps he didn't want it told. However, it is too late now. WINTERVILLE CIG. CO.

Well! Well! another drummer at B. F. Manning's. It seems that this place beats the world for drummers, but B. F. don't take up much time with the most of them as you will see by looking at his goods, which are none of this fancy stuff, but square down solid articles.

CAUSE FOR THANKSGIVING.—While we all have great room to be thankful, the proprietors of the A. G. Mfg. Co. have especial cause from the fact that it has been a very prosperous year for them in as much as they have had the hearty patronage of so many, and have been able to readily dispose of their goods as fast as they were ready for the market. Hoping that we have given our customers cause for being thankful too, and that we shall do a more profitable business to ourselves and you in the future, we are,

Yours for honest work,
A. G. COX MFG. CO.

Thanksgiving Services

At the Baptist church the Methodist and Baptist congregations will hold services together at 11 A. M. Sermon by Rev. J. N. Booth. Collection for Thomasville Orphanage.

At the Episcopal church Rev. I. A. Canfield will hold service at 11 A. M. Collection for Thompson Orphanage.

At the Methodist church there will be union service at 7:15 P. M., consisting of appropriate songs, and five minute addresses by Messrs. Booth, Canfield, Ragsdale and Watson. Collection for the Orphanages as directed by donators.

Goes Away

Mr. H. C. Linthicum will conduct prayer services at the Presbyterian church tonight at 7:15 o'clock. He leaves tomorrow morning for his home in Henderson, having finished his work here. Mr. Linthicum has made many warm friends in Greenville and they hope to see more of him here.

Justice Harding married William Wood and Panettie Kinsey, both colored, in the Register of Deeds office.

When you come in to court next week will be a good time to bring what you owe THE REFLECTOR. We hope to have many callers for receipts today.

Rev. C. A. G. Thomas Resigns.

At the conclusion of the morning service at the Baptist Church the pastor, Rev. C. A. G. Thomas, laid his resignation before a congregational meeting and asked that it be accepted, to take effect December 31st. The congregation had nothing to do but to obey his wishes and the resignation was accepted.

Mr. Thomas announced that upon the close of his pastorate here, he would enter upon the duties of traveling representative of the Baptist Female College, Raleigh. —Fayetteville Observer.

Opera House

Col. John Holmes Grover, with his recognized U. S. Government war exhibition, will begin an engagement in the opera house here on Friday night. There will be thrilling scenes of the three great wars under the stars and stripes during the last half century. See announcement in another column.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER, 29, 1899

The Western N. C. Conference at Concord adopted a resolution requesting Congress to refuse to seat Congressman-elect B. H. Roberts, of Utah. The resolution was adopted by a rising vote.

THE REFLECTOR has much cause for gratitude this Thanksgiving. This has been one of our best years in many. We feel thankful to the people for their patronage, but more especially thankful to the All Wise Providence for His abundant blessing.

Some miserable miscreant on last Friday night visited the hen coop of Editor Whichard, of the Greenville REFLECTOR, and with full knowledge of the act if not malice aforethought did then and there feloniously purloin and take away his Thanksgiving turkey. The wretch! The English language would be impoverished to furnish adjectives sufficient to express our opinion of the creature who is mean enough to steal an editor's Thanksgiving turkey. Yet, Dave may be thankful still—that he was lucky enough to have once had a turkey.—Henderson Gold Leaf.

It is mighty clever in Brother Manning to speak in our behalf like he does, but this time the thing worked to our advantage, for we not only got back the lost turkey but another one as well. However, it is a good illustration of the "power of the press." There is nothing like the fetching qualities of printers ink.

Some months ago the town of Kinston held an election on the question of issuing bonds for public improvements. The bonds were placed on the market and negotiations were made for their sale when the discovery was made that through a clerical error the record of the act passed by the last Legislature authorizing the election on the question of bonds had not been properly made, and inventors were consequently afraid to take hold of the bonds in the face of certain decisions the Supreme court had made in such matters. This is unfortunate, and as several errors of carelessness on the part of legislative clerks have been discovered it goes to show that our legislative bodies should be more careful in their selections and not place incompetent men in responsible positions where so much is involved.

Marries One Woman Twice.

There is rather a singular case in our county now, somewhere similar to one which appeared in one of the New York papers quite a while ago, involving a lady in an adjoining county.

The case of which we speak is that of Mr. W. S. Craver, who lives out at the Bala mill. Quite a number of years ago he married a lady. They became separated and after a considerable period of time, having reasons to think that his wife was dead, he married a lady named Miss Lillie Blackwelder. After his second marriage the first wife was found to be living and he was now a husband to two wives. In order to not violate the law, which would have been dangerous, and giving the light to the case in regard to his assumption that the first wife was dead, he was at the last term of court granted a divorce from his first wife and the second marriage was declared null. So on last Saturday evening Esq. W. J. McLaughlin, who lives out at the Bala mill, performed the ceremony uniting again Mr. Craver and Miss Blackwelder. Now Mr. Craver has answered to three marriage vows, yet with only two different ladies.—Concord Standard.

Pay the Preacher.

We would endorse the sentiment expressed by Rev. T. W. Mansfield, at the Methodist Conference, yesterday, to the effect that it is just as bad to owe a preacher as to owe any other debt. If there are degrees in the sin of non debt paying, we would suggest that it is not only just as bad, but worse, and yet how frequently it is the case that a preacher is promised a certain amount and the people fail, by a considerable percentage, to meet the promise, leaving the preacher the alternative of weeding a very tough row or committing the sin and breach of the Discipline of taking up goods without the prospect of being able to pay for them—in other words, going into debt.

This condition is rarely the lot of the preachers with good salaries, but it is a harassing situation confined almost entirely to the preachers whose salaries are meagre when paid in full.

A peculiar fact connected with the debt to the preacher is that when the year closes his congregation practically goes into bankruptcy without assets, so very unusual is it that any thing is ever paid on the balance due the preacher, or that any effort whatever is made to pay it. It strikes us that this ought not to be so.—Winston Sentinel.

She Don't Drink Water.

There is living in Guilford county, in Sumner township, one good old lady who would not be bothered by good, bad or indifferent water if she lived in Greensboro, for the reason that she does not drink it. Her name is Mrs. Nancy Hodgkin and she is eighty-seven years old. Water of any kind does not agree with her and she has not tasted it in twelve years, while she has not eaten any supper for twenty-five years. It is also said that she has never eaten a tomato, at least since early in life, and has never had a lamp in her home, using the old tallow-dip, in use everywhere from time immemorial. Her health is said to be first-rate and the prospect is that she will push a century very closely.—Greensboro Record.

The Last of a Family of Giants.

Matthew Howard, aged 84, the last member of the famous Howard family, died this afternoon at his home near Paris. He was a bachelor, and left a large estate. He was the last of nine children, each of whom was over six feet in height. Their father was six feet four and weighed 200 pounds; the mother was six feet and one half and weighed 285 pounds. The height of the parents and nine children aggregated seventy feet and one half inch, and their aggregate weight was 2,298 pounds. The four women aggregated twenty-four feet seven and one-half inches, and aggregated in weight 760 pounds. The seven men aggregated forty-five feet five inches in height and 1,538 pounds in weight. The mother had twelve brothers, each over six feet in height. The height and weight of this family was probably without a parallel in the world.—Louisville Courier-Journal

The Man to Help.

So many of us forget that it is the weak fellow who is in the ditch, rather than the strong man who is on the throne of partial or pronounced prosperity, who most needs the helping hand of the influential and powerful. So many of us are ready to help the fellow whose pathway is easy, while we will pass by the unfortunate who really needs a helping hand. So many of us are prone to sneer at, if not crush, the man who has been in error and who is trying to do better—to make a new man of himself—while we will throw more sunshine and more material help into the lap of the stalwart citizen.—Augusta Herald.

The Prize Composition on Pants

The following composition by a little girl won a prize of a fruit cake, offered by a school teacher in the Boston cooking school:

Pants are made for men and men are made for pants. Woman was made for pants. When a man pants for a woman, and a woman pants for a man, they are a pair of pants. Such pants don't last. Pants are like molasses, they are thinner in hot weather and thicker in cold. The man in the moon changes his pants during an eclipse. Men are often mistaken in pants. Such mistakes make breeches of promise. There has been much discussion as to whether pants are singular or plural. Seems to us when men wear pants it is plural and when they don't wear any it is singular. Men get on a tear in their pants and its all right, but when the pants get on a tear it's all wrong.

Claim for Eleven Millions.

Columbia, Nov. 27.—Governor McSweeney has addressed a letter to theseveral governors of Southern States, urging them to obtain united action among their congressional delegations to have legislation enacted to enable the real owners of eleven millions of dollars held in the United States treasury, the proceeds of cotton wrongfully seized and sold by treasury agents during and immediately preceding the civil war, to get their own. He says that in this era of good feeling and reunion the time is opportune for securing this measure of relief. The governor expects united action from the South.
