It Was $156.67.

Our attention has just been called to an error made in publishing the amounts paid out by the County Commissioners at their December meeting. The amount expended for the County Home was, by a typographical error, made $256.67 when it should have been $156.67.

Congressman Small.

Washington, Dec. 9.—The North Carolina delegation in the House is a unit in endorsing Hon. John H. Small for a place on the River and Harbor Committee. It has been years since the State had a member on the important committee. Some of the ablest men in former delegations did not desire to serve on this committee because the large appropriations usually voted to the various States were denominated "steals" and our best men fought shy of the very appearance of evil. Now however, things have changed. The need of a Merchant Marine, the extension of our railroad facilities and the growing industries of the South make it important that the rivers should be made navigable as far inland as possible and that the harbors should be improved and deepened. The coast of North Carolina included within Mr. Small's district is one of the most dangerous in the world. It puts out at a point almost midway in the ocean roadway which carries our coastwise commerce. Hatteras, an ever-present menace to navigation, is a part of his constituency. Realizing the importance of having special attention paid to this subject, the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce has sent resolutions here asking Mr. Bellamy to urge Mr. Small's name before the speaker for a place on this committee. Realizing what the State needed in this particular, Senator Ransom had a place on the Senate committee on commerce—which corresponds to the River and Harbor Committee in the House for years. He was once chairman of the committee on commerce and no man knew better than Senator Ransom what North Carolina wanted and needed. I sincerely hope Mr. Small will be placed on this committee. No man better understands the needs of the coast than he does. His record for honesty and fair dealing precludes the possibility of his asking for more money than can be judiciously expended on our rivers and harbors.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1899.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 11, 99.

Mr. McKinley's hired men, otherwise known as the republican majority of the House, are obeying orders like trained animals. They began today the actual work of railroading through the House, in a single week, the gold standard bill that Mr. McKinley had prepared last summer. The vote is to be taken a week from today, and, of course, the bill will be passed, as it will be sure to get all the republican votes, and it is being claimed that eight democrats from New York, and possibly others from the Eastern states will also vote for it. The republicans are so fond of wearing their gags that they have offered to give some of the time allotted to them for debate on the bill to the democrats.

The Navy Department has got Schley well out of the way, but his friends in Congress are on the alert in his behalf, as was seen when a proposition, which originated with Mr. McKinley was submitted to them. The proposition was that Congress pass a bill reviving the grade of Vice Admiral in the Navy and that Mr. McKinley would at once nominate both Schley and Sampson to that grade. This sounded well, but Schley's friends have so far declined to accept it, unless Mr. McKinley would promise that Schley's nomination should be made first, so that he would continue to rank Sampson. Representative Berry, of Ky., who is one of Schley's staunchest friends says he intends to push his resolution offering the thanks of Congress to Schley and the men under him for destroying Cervera's fleet, but if an agreement is reached about the Vice Admiral business, that will probably end the whole matter.

That Mr. Quay isn't as certain of getting that seat in the Senate, as his friends would like everybody to believe is shown by the presence in Washington, working in Quay's interest, of ex-Senator Don Cameron. Mr. Quay will also be in Washington this week. An adverse report is expected from the Committee on Elections, which is one of the few committees not included in the republican grab of increasing their representation, but the real fight will be on the floor of the Senate. The chances still seem to favor Quay, although several of the Senators who had been counted upon as certain to vote to seat him, are said to be in doubt as to how they would vote. It is on the personal friendship of those Senators that Cameron and Quay are now working. Senator Mason's speech in favor of his resolution of sympathy for the Transvaal Republic, now engaged in a war for liberty with Great Britain, contains some hard knocks for prominent republicans including the President. Mason may not rank high as a statesman, but his tongue has a sting on the end of it when he wishes it to have quite as nagging if not so polished as that wielded by Ingalls, and other sting-slingers who have been in the Senate.

Boss Hanna appears to have emerged from his wrestle with the rheumatism and his check-book, which is credited with such a prominent part in the Ohio campaign, as cross as a crippled bear. He was hobbling out of the White House, where he had been holding a conference with Mr. McKinley and Mr. Henry C. Payne, of Wis., who has been mentioned as Hanna's successor at the head of the Republican National Committee, when he was asked if it were true that he intended to retire from the Chairmanship of the Committee,

He glared angrily at the newspaper man who asked the question, before answering and then snapped out as he turned away: "No one is authorized to say what I will do."

The Philadelphia Record issues annually a handsome and useful almanac, filled with information that is of much value. We are indebted to the Record for a copy of the edition for 1900.

While we are being so crowded with advertisements those wanting changes should get in their copy early in the day. If possible hand it in a day ahead.

This ware is rapidly taking the place of White Granite or Iron Stone China. It has that soft, white, velvet finish; is of the finest quality, and without doubt the best in the world. The shapes are the very latest patterns and have been designed to meet the tastes of the most fastidious.

It is only by our guaranteeing to use a large quantity of this ware that we have been able to get it at a price that puts it within the reach of all.

Our assortment consists of Cups and Saucers, Pie Plates, Breakfast Plates, Dinner Plates, Platters, Covered Dishes, Cream Pitchers, Sugar Bowls, Tea Pots, and everything else which goes to make up a FINE SET OF DISHES.

We earnestly invite you to call and inspect it, when we will cheerfully give you full information.

Very respectfully,

The Partrick-Clute Marriage.

At the Episcopal church on Wednesday, Dec. 6th, at 8 o'clock a. m. a very pretty and impressive marriage was solemnized by Rev. F. N. Skinner, pastor of the church, the contracting parties being Mr. G. A. Clute, a prominent business man, of Greenville, and Miss Agnes Partrick, the accomplished and popular daughter of Capt. C. Partrick, of this place. The church was artistically decorated in blue and white for the occasion under the auspices of Miss Mary Anna Holmes. As the bridal party reached the church, Mrs. J. R. Boykin, of Wilson, touched the keys of the organ to the strains of Mendelssohn's march. During the ceremony was rendered "The Sweetest Story Ever Told."

The ushers were Misses Annie Morrissey, Langdon Holliday, Annie Laurie Partrick and Clyde Benton of Newberne. Then came the maids of honor. Miss Bessie Partrick, sister of the bride, first maid of honor, and Miss Hattie Mahn, of Wilmington, second maid of honor, who were followed by the bride with her father. They were met at the chancel by the groom, with his best man, Dr. F. H. Holmes, coming from the vestry room.

After the ceremony the second maid of honor retired alone, while the first maid of honor was accompanied by Dr. Holmes.

The bride was attired in a becoming mode, tailor-made gown, and carried white carnations. The first maid of honor wore white organdie entrain trimmed with white satin and ribbon, and carried pink carnations.

The second maid of honor was attired in blue organdie, trimmed with lace and ribbon, and carried pink carnations. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Clute left by private conveyance for Warsaw, where they met the morning north bound train which took them to their home in Greenville. Their many friends wish for them a happy life.—Clinton Caucasian.
