SUPERIOR COURT.

January Term in Session—The Grand Jury Twice Sworn.

The January term of Pitt Superior court began this morning, Judge J. W. Bowman presiding and Solicitor L. I. Moore representing the State.

The grand jury was drawn, the foreman selected and all of them sworn, the Judge overlooking to first inquire if any of them had a suit pending which would disqualify them from serving on the grand jury. Judge Bowman proceeded with his charge and had about finished when this omission was called to his attention. Upon putting the inquiry to the jury it was found that the foreman and one other member of the jury had suits pending. Two other jurors were called, another foreman was selected and all the jurors were again sworn. The Judge did not go over his charge again but simply told them that they had charge of the entire criminal law.

The following compose the grand jury:

James L. Smith, Foreman, J. T. Whitehurst, Jonas Bilda, J. D. Jones, W. A. Hudson, J. E. Warren, Marcellus Smith, J. E. Congleton, J. T. Jenkins, L. B. Stokes, T. R. Allen, J. R. Sugg, W. J. Clark, Jesse B. Hill, W. G. Hathaway, A. F. Cox, J. R. Cory, E. S. Lewis.

S. I. Dudley is officer of the grand jury and J. E. Fleming is court crier.

Sheriff Mooring is sick and could not be at court today but his deputies kept his part of the business going.

The criminal docket, which is about an average one, was taken up this afternoon. There is but one capital case on the docket.

Mayor's Court.

Mayor J. G. Moye has disposed of the following cases in his court since last report: Robert Johnson and John Billie Jones, riotous and disorderly conduct, fined $2 and costs each, total $4.75 each.

Matt Cobb and Kate Silverthorne, riotous and disorderly conduct, $1 and costs each, $3.75 each.

Mack Allen, disorderly and using profane language, fined one penny and costs, $3.26.

Mandy Daniel, disorderly conduct, not guilty and case dismissed.

George Credle, riotous and disorderly, fined one penny and costs, 4.96.

L. E. Fountain and Alex Bailey, disorderly, Fountain fined one penny and costs, $2.76. Judgment suspended over Bailey.

Caudie English, disorderly, fined $2 and costs, $5.15.

Some these offenders have been so troublesome and appeared so often before the Mayor that he warned them if there was not a change in their conduct he would feel it his duty to declare them a nuisance and order them out of town.

Some women are never satisfied. If they get a pair of shoes that don't hurt they are mad because they didn't get a size smaller.

Sunday School Officers.

On Sunday morning the Baptist Sunday school elected the following officers for the year:

Superintendent—C. D. Roundtree.

Assistant Superintendent—J. W. Bryan.

Secretary—V. J. Lee.

Treasurer—J. J. Cherry.

Librarian—Thomas Moore.

Organist—Miss Rosalond Roundtree.

The Methodist Sunday school elected the following officers for the year:

Superintendent—L. H. Pender.

Assistant Superintendent—W. F. Harding.

Secretary and Treasurer—G. E. Harris.

Librarian—D. D. Overton.

Organist—Miss Nina James.

Buggy Upset.

Mr. David Marrow, of Greene county, was driving down Evans street Saturday afternoon. Mrs. J. L. Little and Mrs. E. B. Ficklen were out driving and they also were coming down Evans street, their buggy being close behind Mr. Marrow's. Without noticing any one coming behind him Mr. Marrow reined up his horse to stop. Just at this time the ladies started to turn into Fourth street. The buggy in front of them stopping unexpectedly there was a collision. A front wheel of the rear buggy caught a rear wheel of the front buggy and Mr. Marrow and his vehicle were turned over in the street. Of course it was all purely an accident, and the fortunate part of it is there was no damage to either person or vehicle.

Any man can shoot off his mouth, but it takes a woman to look daggers.

To Reach The People.

The executive committee of the Democratic Press Association of the State recognizes that in this campaign as in 1898 the press must educate the people, must remove doubts, and make straight the paths for the orators who are to follow. They were in conference yesterday with State Chairman Simmons consulting as to the best sort of campaign literature and the best method of reaching the people. Plans were perfected by which the falsehoods disseminated about the amendment will be effectually answered and the answer put into the hands of the voters.

There is but one thing necessary for the Democrats to win this year by a large majority, and that is to reach the people with the truth. Some one once said "fight the devil with fire." A philosopher said "Not so. Fire is the devil's own weapon. He can use it better than any opponent. Fight the devil with Truth. He knows nothing about that weapon and you will have him at a disadvantage from the start."

The Democratic press and speakers need only to reach the people with the truth about the amendment to secure for it the support of every white man in the State who desires permanent White Supremacy.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Free Bathing and Barbering for Statesmen.

It is not generally known that Uncle Sam furnishes his legislators with bath tubs and other accessories of cleanliness, but it is nevertheless a fact. In the basement of the capitol are located the congressional bathrooms, where the statesmen cleans their cuticle at the expense of the people. On the House side there are fifteen tubs, while on the Senate the number is somewhat smaller. They are patronized by the statesmen at all hours of the day. Attendants are provided at the expense of the government. The fact that the bathrooms are almost constantly occupied indicates the extent to which the privilege of the free bath is appreciated. Senators and members who live at hotels, where an extra charge is made for a bath, usually wait until they reach the capitol to enjoy this luxury. Not only are the statesmen furnished free baths, but barber shops are provided for their use. These are well patronized, as no charge is made, and the barbers turn many an honest penny. They receive good salaries from the government, and at the same time get tips from their patrons.—Washington Telegram to Chicago Tribune.

Two Points of Views.

A farmer drifted into a hardware store at Mulhall and was asked by the manager: "Don't you want to buy a bicycle to ride around your farm on? They're cheap now. Can give you one for $35."
"I'd sooner put $35 into a cow," said the farmer.
"But think," said the manager, "how foolish you would look riding around town on a cow."
"Oh, I don't know," said the farmer. "no more foolish, perhaps, than I would milking a bicycle."—Charlotte Observer.

An exchange gives this advice: "Young man, don't swear. Swearing never was good for a sore finger. It never cured the rheumatism nor helped draw a prize in a lottery or win at any game. It isn't recommended for liver complaint. It isn't sure against lightning, sewing-machine agents, nor any of the ills which beset people through life. There is no occasion of swearing outside of a newspaper office, where it is useful in proof-reading and indispensably necessary in getting forms to press. It has been known, also, to materially assist the editor in looking over the paper after it is printed."

A Mistake.

It has been officially announced that school will not reopen at the State Normal until next fall, owing to the inability to properly renovate and fumigate the premises.—Mooreville Enterprise.

The above report is without foundation. The executive committee of the board of directors and the representative of the State board of health were here last week and mapped out the work necessary to be done before the reopening. Most of this work has been done, much of the renovating having already been completed according to the direction of the State board of health and by order of the full board at their last meeting in Nov.

All patients were out of the main dormitory two weeks ago and out of the other dormitories this week, the last patient at the college left the infirmary for her home last Wednesday, January 3rd. There appears to be no reason why the college should not open before the close of January.

President McIver informs us that he has heard from nearly all the students and that about three-fourths of them expect to return, and that only about 10 per cent. have indicated an intention not to return, leaving about 15 per cent. doubtful.

The executive committee called the meeting of the full board for next Thursday in order that the exact date of the reopening may be decided upon and announced.—Greensboro Record.

Three Boys Drowned.

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 6.—Three boys were drowned eight miles from here today, two from Raleigh, one a son of Captain B. P. Williamson county treasurer; the other a son of C. B. Lee, a tobacco warehouseman. The third boy was a son of of Charles L. Hinton. The drowning occurred at a fish pond on Hinton's farm. The boys had been in the water several hours before discovery was made that they were drowned. All were students at the Raleigh male academy. The grief is intense here.

EASY LIFE IN NICARAGUA.

When the Family is Broke, the Wife Digs a Little Gold.

"When I was in the Olancho district, in Nicaragua," said a visitor who is largely interested in mining in Central America, "I had an opportunity of seeing how the lazy natives tap nature's till when they need some small change.
"Near our camp by the river was a hut occupied by a typical Honduran family, consisting of husband and wife, grandfather and grandmother and a dozen or so of assorted children. The only one of the crowd who did anything except rest and smoke was the wife. At intervals of perhaps a week she would sally out with the family tinpan, erstwhile used for cooking, and proceed to an old placer digging on the river bank. There she would squat, throw a few gourdfuls of dirt into the pan, fill it with water and begin the usual circular motion of gold washing.
"She was very skillful and would keep a little sheet of dirty water spraying over the edge like a miniature cataract. When the water was exhausted, a few spoonfuls of sand would be left in the bottom of the pan, and, spreading it out thin with a bit of stick, she would go over it grain by grain, looking for 'color.' Whenever she saw a speck of gold she moistened the stick on her tongue and picked up the particle by adhesion. Each bit of the precious metal was stored away in a quill, plugged with clay at the ends, and I have known her to take out as much as a quarter of an ounce in the course of one day.
"Usually her limit was about $2, and when she got that she stopped. Then the head of the house would arise languidly and start for the nearest store, 12 miles away. Sometimes he would trade the whole amount for whisky; but, as a rule, he brought back tobacco, salt, meal or calico.
"There are hundreds of native families who live in exactly that manner in Olancho. Sometimes the woman will be lucky enough to strike a rich pocket that will yield a dollar or more a pan, but they never dream of washing it out at once and getting a stake. It simply means that they can secure their usual amount with less work."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

The Billing and Cooling.

Uncle George—You do not appear to think it necessary to spend so much time at home as you did when you were first married. I suppose the billing and cooling are all over now.
Harry—There doesn't seem to be much of a let up in the billing, and, as for the cooling, I am dreadfully afraid of it. It is sure to mean a new hat or a new gown or a new something.—Boston Transcript.

An Amazed Woman.

A woman who had an Arabic glass cup of the fourteenth century and did not know its value took it to the British museum. After due consideration the expert, to her surprise, said that, though the museum did not want it, it might be worth $2,000. The woman shuddered, because she had been carrying in a crowded London omnibus a bit of glass worth so much money and it had miraculously escaped smashing.

Finally, wanting money more than Arabian glass, she sent the object to an auctioneer's. Fancy her amazement when, starting at $2,500, the Arabic cup went by leaps and bounds and was finally knocked down for the nice sum of $8,500.

Actually the Arabic cup was worth very much less, but it so happened that there were two rivals at the auction, who bid against each other—China, Glass and Lamps.

Aggravating the Offense.

"You are charged, young man," the magistrate said, not unkindly, "with scaring the complaining witness nearly out of his senses by putting him through some mock ceremony of initiation. I can make allowance for exuberance of spirits among college students, but sometimes this exuberance is carried too far."

"It was this way, your honor," exclaimed the youth who appeared to be the spokesman—"we were out for a little lark, and we caught a jay."

"The fine will be $2 and costs each," said his honor, his face hardening.—Chicago Tribune.

Some Ready Made Law.

Bourke Cockran studied law under Judge Theodore L. Dwight. One day the professor asked a question which seemed easy, but was really difficult. With his magnificent voice Cockran answered the best he could, adding as a saving clause, "Such, I take it, is the common law."

The good old doctor gleamed benignantly through his spectacles. "That would be all right, sir, if you had made it uncommon law."—Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.

To make paper fireproof nothing more is necessary than to saturate the paper in a strong solution of alum water and when thoroughly dry it will resist the action of flame.

New Form of Marriage Ceremony.

During the holidays an inexperienced magistrate performed the marriage ceremony for a young couple up in "God's country" in a rather unique fashion. When it came time to pronounce the ceremony the magistrate's memory failed him on the marriage ceremony, but he remembered something about an oath, and not wishing to delay matters, he proceeded somewhat as follows:

"Young man, you swear before God you'll marry this woman for your only wedded wife while you are alive, so help you God. Kiss the book.

"Young woman, you swear you'll marry this young man and keep him to himself till he dies. Kiss the book. The laws of North Carolina pronounce you man and wife."

While this is rather a novel ceremony, we are assured by experienced hands that it will hold in law, and the couple are living happily together.—Wilkesboro Chronicle.
