NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Jan. 31, 1900

M. G. Bryan returned from Washington yesterday.

There is some talk of A. G. Cox moving to town.

R. H. Hunsucker went to Washington yesterday on business with N. S. Fulford Hdw. Co.

We hear that Harrington & Barber of this place will handle fertilizers this year.

H. T. Smith and wife, of this place, who have been in Durham for some months, returned last week.

Regret to learn that Mr. Amos Shivers, who lives near here, is at the point of death with pneumonia.

J. B. Cherry, Jr., of Greenville, who is now a notion drummer, was in town selling goods yesterday.

O. K.—We received a letter last night reading this way: "I received the cigars on the 16th, and found them all right." All right is all right enough, isn't it?

WINTERVILLE CIG. CO.

Buggies don't grow on honeysuckle vines, but if you don't believe that the Hunsucker Buggy Co. can make buggies, just lookout. You know there's nothing in the name.

Mr. Miley, representing Baugh, Sons & Co., of Norfolk, came down on the train last night. He seems to think that farmers are getting so hard down on guano men that it will be safer for him to carry a gun with him.

THE BEST TEST.

Good work and quick
Makes our customers stick;
If you don't believe us,
Please don't deceive us;
By asking for prices
To use as indices,
But give us a trial,
And see if our style
Of making work the test
Is not the best.

—A. G. COX MFG. CO.

We are sorry to say that so many boys in the place drew tickets last night for the graphophone which George Kittrell raffled off. This is certainly a needless temptation before the young, and encourages them to gamble, also is inclined to create wrong impressions in their minds, one of the worst of which is they seem to get the idea that luck is worth more than pluck.

A. G. Cox wants 500 cords wood cut. Wood cutters should apply at once.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina.

A plot among the prisoners in Wilson jail to make their escape was discovered by Sheriff Sharp, Saturday night. The prisoners had a steel saw with which they could have easily cut their way out, as we learn from the News.

Mr. T. B. Bailey, of Mocksville, who lost two daughters of fever among the the students of the Normal and Industrial College, at Greensboro, has decided to establish a fund, to be known as the Sarah and Evelyn Baily fund, a part of the income from which will be used to educate some deserving young woman at the college.

Sunday night a large British steamer went ashore off New Inlet, on the North Carolina Coast. It is thought the steamer may be floated.

Capt. J. E. Jones, a section foreman on the North Carolina Midland railroad, fell dead Monday. He had just given his hands instruction for the afternoon work when he fell dead with heart disease.

The State Normal and Industrial College at Greensboro that was closed on account of the outbreak of fever, is again opened.

The State Auditor has prepared a statement showing real estate valuations in North Carolina. They were $125,000,000 in 1861, in 1862-3 were $131,000,000 and $162,000,000 for slaves; in 1867 were only $97,000,000 and now are $269,867,000. In 1862 the bonded debt was $14,312,000, in 1866 it was $18,625,000, and now it is $6,570,000.

At Asheville Saturday there was strange occurrence at the trial of Pandon Philips for murder. The case was submitted to the jury without argument on either side. Not a word was spoken for or against the prisoner.

It's a dull newspaper in North Carolina that doesn't have a report of a new outbreak of smallpox and a new cotton mill.—Charlotte News.

The Free Press says J. T. Meacham, who has been agent of the Atlantic Coast Line at Kinston since the road was built to that town, died Monday.

A man named McCoy Waters has been arrested in Kinston charged with committing a murder in Georgia, says the Free Press.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY, 21 1900.

The past week in the British South African war was the bloodiest since the conflict began. Great Britain's hopes swelled high when her soldiers gained a footing on Spion Kop, but this was only temporary, for the Boers drove them back with a great slaughter. So frequent have been the British reverses in this war that this last defeat caused Gen. Buller to withdraw his forces to a safe retreat across Trugela river to recuperate and await reinforcements. This war of Great Britain against the Boers—like the one the United States is waging against the Filipinos—is unjust and cruel and ought to be stopped.

We understand that Mr. Frank B. Hackett, of Wilkes county, who was principal clerk of the House of the last Legislature, is a candidate for the nomination for State auditor by the Democratic State Convention. Now that looks like getting candidates from over the State about right, and with J. Bryan Grimes from the east, for Secretary of State, and H. A. London, from the central section, for Treasurer, and Frank D. Hackett, from the west, for Auditor, it looks like all sections could unite as one man for both the ticket and the amendment.

He who declares that the Democratic party is attempting to disfranchise the white man simply lies. It is folly to suppose that the party would cut its own throat by enacting such a measure. The Democratic party is the only party that is composed of white men—it has battled for the white man's interest in the past and will continue to do so in the future. White men do not intend, and will not, disfranchise themselves.—Smithfield Herald.

No Division.

All of our people it seems are united on one thing in the campaign, to place the interests of the Amendment above those of the candidate. And this is right. No amount of wrangling should be allowed to divide our people. And looking to this end where officials have been faithful in the discharge of their duties, both to the people and their office, a second term would be but a just reward of their services, considering the fact that the last campaign was fought under many disadvantages, and at the outset with no absolute certainty of success.—Wilson Times.

What Does It Cost?

What does it cost you to speak a good word for a fellow brother? How much does it cost to say something good about a deserving man or say nothing, than to turn in and repeat some idle lie which you know is farther from the truth? How much better would you feel if you could go about and not envy a man's prosperity. Why is human nature prone to jump with both feet upon success? Simply because you have tried and failed, and Envy is a jealous Hag.

Some one of these days, it may be a century or two or three in the dim distance, but there is going to be a change in mannerisms; there is going to be a change of heart so to speak, and the world will be better.

Just now when Greed is clutching at every straw; when Ambition is selling its own soul to coin it into Woe; when Virtue is forced on the block to buy bread and clothes; when the whole crazy scheme is dollars, dollars, dollars—well, we must not expect but little for the betterment of mankind just now.

But all ages have their seasons and their cycles. There was a time when Art flourished and was patronized. To-day and the Masters would starve to death. A man to-day who can do a job of white-washing stands more chance of a job than if he could paint Angelo's "Crucifixion of St. Peter." We are living in an age of steam and of electricity. The human mind has been keyed up to that pitch. The mind of man to-day would have been voted Lunacy five hundred years ago. What men execute to-day with ease would have been called a crazy dream two centuries back. And as all this high rate of speed is gotten up for the purpose alone of making dollars and not enjoying them after they are made—it is not to be wondered that every man you meet is jealous of every other man. They figure it out that you may get some of the dollars which they might get, and so they throw out their black eyes whenever an opportunity presents.

But we are complaining. We are only moralizing on a cheap scale. It is a grand field to lie in and look around. It is a picture which is ludicrous. Instead of a lot of struggling little maggot like we all are anyhow, working for some great end, we go at it and snatch from each other's lips any cup of happiness that may be filled. We know that if we get a million, dyspepsia as surely goes with it as the tail goes with the hide as was according to the beautiful Florentine custom and we know that we at once become miserable—but where is the lucky wight who will not risk it? Nowhere is he to be found on this earth's surface. All of them and all of us are plodding and scheming and planning, night and day, to get hold of that million which would take away what little pleasure we have; which would intensify our troubles and our cares. But human nature, as has been remarked, is human nature, and you will excuse us, while we go hustle for that million.—Danville Farra-go.

The amount of money that will be dealt out in Gastonia, within the next twelve months will be enormous. The building of the Arlington Mill, the Loray Mill and the installing of the electric lights and water-works will all be completed by the new year, and the amount of labor required to complete all of these is something that is hard to form any conception of. Conservative estimates of the number of men employed place the figures at something like eight or nine hundred. These men will receive on an average of one dollar a day or very near it, which means the weekly pay roll of $4,800 and while there will be a great deal of it that will not circulate in Gastonia a great deal of it will necessarily be spent here.

Every one believes that the year 1900 will be the banner year for the town and its progress during the coming year will be more phenomenal than those gone by. From the present outlook no one need feel concerned. The business men all feel that this year will mark an epoch in our history.—Gastonia Gazette.

The above is another evidence of the way towns are helped and business increased by factories. Yet Greenville is so slow to take on to this idea.

Big Price for a Stamp.

Messrs. August Dietz and Franklin Stears, of Richmond, have sold to a man in Europe a Confederate 5-cent postage stamp for $600 cash. The sale was effected through a New Jersey broker. The purchaser is believed here to be a French millionaire. The stamp was issued in 1861 by a Confederate postmaster of Franklin, N. C. Mr. Stears bought the stamp some months ago for $25, making $575 on the deal.—Raleigh Post.

Daniel to the Rescue.

Winston, N. C., Jan. 20.—R. B. Glenn, Esq., recently wrote Senator Daniel of Virginia, asking him if he would not uphold the cause of North Carolina and reply to Senator Pratchar's speech against the proposed amendment to the constitution. Mr. Glenn added: "During the dark days of Virginia, when she needed a defender, having none on the floor of the Senate, our beloved Senator Vance came to her rescue and made a brave and manly fight in her behalf."

In his reply Senator Daniel says: "I will gladly champion the cause of North Carolina in the Senate if she is assaulted in any way."

An Invincible Ally.

Success in business is achieved, it is never thrust upon anybody. The merchant who would be successful must "hustle," and he must call to his aid an ally that will support him in his endeavors. That loyal, steadfast and invincible ally is daily advertising, which always wins.—Philadelphia Record.

HOWELL, IND., Nov. 25.
I will always praise Wine of Cardui. It has done me more good than all the medicines I have ever taken in my life. Please send a book about female diseases to the ladies whose names I enclose.
Mrs. MINNIE STODGHILL

McGEE'S Wine of Cardui

It isn't necessary for a woman to give particulars. When she says she has "female troubles", other women know what that means. It means days and nights of endless suffering. It means headaches which no tongue can describe. It means that terrible bearing and dragging down in the lower abdomen. It means agonizing backache, and shoulder ache, and arm ache, and aches in the lower limbs. It means nerves on edge—the blues—despondency and loss of hope. It means debilitating drains that the doctors call leucorrhoea. It means martyrdom—sometimes even death seems preferable. And still Wine of Cardui will utterly put those diseases and pains to rout. It has cured thousands of cases when nothing else on earth would. To the budding woman, to the bride, to the wife, to the expectant mother, to those going through the Change of Life, this Vegetable Wine is a blessing.

HOWDY DO.

Some Speak to Me, Some to You.

The little child of A. H. Taft is very sick.

H. M. Hardee has been sick the last few days.

M. H. Tucker has taken a position with H. M. Hardee.

Mrs. B. T. Bailey, who has been sick for several days, is out again.

Mrs. Dr. Christian, of Urbana, Va., is visiting Mrs. E. B. Ficklen.

Mrs. Mellie Harris left this morning for Rocky Mount to visit her son.

Rev. I. A. Canfield went to Kingston Tuesday evening and returned this morning.

Mrs. H. A. Joyner and children, of Laurinburg, who have been visiting Mrs. J. A. Lang, left this morning.

Fin de Siecle Club.

The regular meeting the Fin de Siecle Club was held at Hotel Marion and delightfully entertained by Mrs. E. B. Ficklen, Tuesday afternoon.

The literary program consisted of a paper on "Heroic Women of the Revolutionary Period" by Mrs. William Harding, which was very much enjoyed by every one present.

Mrs. Dr. Moye read a well written and entertaining paper on "Historic Men of the Revolution."

Mrs. Cotten read a sketch of the "Living Washingtons" which was both interesting and instructive.

This ending the appointed program. Mrs. Ficklen distributed papers containing a short story with blanks to be supplied by the name of an author, which completed the sense. Mrs. Harry Skinner won the prize having filled in the largest number of blanks.

Delightful refreshments were then served, after which the club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Quinley on Tuesday, Feb. 13th.

Complimentary Sociable.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Timberlake gave a sociable at their home, Tuesday evening, complimentary to Miss Alice Carson who is soon to leave Greenville. The evening was spent most pleasantly by all present, among whom were:

B. J. Pulley with Miss Fannie Higgs, W. F. Carlisle with Miss Della Erwin, Gus Forbes with Miss Dot Flanagan, Robert Tunstall with Miss Emily Higgs, Alfred Forbes with Miss Minnie Tunstall, Albert Holoman with Miss Annie Robeson, Major Fleming with Miss Bertha Patrick, James Averitt with Miss Emmie Smith.

Several young men, who were disappointed from getting their girls, owing to sickness or other sad misfortunes, were also there eager to assist the host and hostess in making the occasion pleasant for Miss Carson and her friends. E. E. Griffin was thoughtful enough to take along his phonograph which all enjoyed.

CLIMAX.

The Hunter collection of old postage stamps which a good deal of time was spent in hunting up, was sold at auction in New York last week and brought $26,313. Foolish people have all sorts of ways for spending money.—Wilmington Star.

NOTICE.

This is to state that the firm of Drs. O'Hagan & Laughinghouse has not been dissolved. The only change made is, that for the better convenience of our patrons we have established a down town office.

Dr. O'Hagan will occupy the old stand. Dr. Laughinghouse will occupy the new office situated on Fourth street, just behind Frank Wilson's clothing store in the Perkins block of buildings where the old post office used to be.
