STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina

12-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Rhett Dameron, of South Point, Gaston county, pulled a pot of boiling meat over on itself and was so badly scalded that it died.

The five-year-old daughter of George White, of Durham, was accidentally burned to death Thursday. Her clothing caught from an open grate.

We learn of the burning of A. J. Fordham's residence yesterday, between 11 and 12 o'clock, in Jones county, near Pleasant Hill. Fire supposed to have caught by sparks from the chimney. Loss about $2,000; no insurance.—Kinston Free Press.

Rev. Alban Greaves, former rector of St. Mary's, has returned to the State and is now located at Laurinburg. He has many strong friends in Kinston.—Kinston Free Press.

Mayor's Court.

Mayor Moye has disposed of the following cases in his court since last report:

Daniel James and Silas Donalson, riotous and disorderly, intoxication and profanity, fine $2.50 and costs each, making a total of $5.65 each.

Julia Sutton, Ada Sutton, Helen Sutton, Julia Sutton, Jr., Matilda Crandall, Mary Crandall, Harriet Langley, Ada Langley, Samuel Donalson and Oscar Sutton, riotous and disorderly and using vulgar and profane language; Ada Sutton, Matilda Crandall, Mary Crandall, Harriet Langley, and Ada Langley guilty. Total fine and costs amounted to $8.75. Other defendants not guilty.

Ada Sutton, riotous and disorderly, using profane and vulgar language, judgment suspended.

Noah Sutton, drunk and disorderly on Sunday, fined $5 and costs, total $6.85.

Jesse C. Wilson, drunk and disorderly, fined one penny and cost, $2.20. Defendant appealed to Superior Court.

Thos. Williams and Alex. Bailey, riotous and disorderly conduct. Defendants recognized for their appearance at April term of Superior Court.

FARMERS ANTI TRUST MEETING.

CAROLINA TOWNSHIP.

Pursuant to a call of the farmers of the county, a large number of the farmers of Carolina township met at Stokes, Feb'y 3rd 1900, and organized a meeting to fight the fertilizer and tobacco trusts.

The meeting was called to order by W. H. Williams, who was elected permanent chairman, L. Roy Whichard was elected secretary.

After mature deliberation the meeting decided to do nothing at this time, only to appoint delegates to the Anti Trust Meeting to be held in Greenville Feb'y 10th. Whereupon the following gentlemen were appointed and requested to act as our representatives in said meeting: A. B. Congleton, I. H. Little, J. B. Whitehurst, J. L. Roberson, J. I. James, W. B. Roebuck, Asa Bullock, J. F. Tyson, W. T. Keel and J. S. Overton.

W. H. WILLIAMS, Ch'm.
L. ROY WHICHARD, Sec.

Against Trusts.

The farmers of Pitt county are going ahead in a determined manner against both the tobacco and fertilizer trusts. Last Saturday meetings were held in every township of the county to appoint delegates to a county meeting to be held here next Saturday. The only way for the farmers to accomplish anything in opposition to the trusts is by thorough organization in their efforts, and it looks like they are starting right in that particular.

Advertising a Modern Necessity

It used to be said 'but good wine needs no bush.' That was when advertising was comparatively unknown, and no one dreamed of competition like that of to-day. Nowadays alert merchants depend little upon the bush or (store sign) but make the desirability of their wares publicly known by means of daily newspaper advertisements. The store sign forces itself upon the notice of a few hundred of passers by if it be novel and attractive, but the advertisement engages the attention of hundreds of thousands of newspaper readers.—Philadelphia Record.

An exchange remarks that one of the prosperous newspaper owners in Chicago was once a pie builder. That was Mr. Kolsaht who was a baker and still runs a big bakery in Chicago. But he hasn't gone entirely out of the pie business yet.—Wilmington Star.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1900.

Upon the death of Mr. Goebel, who a week ago was shot down while approaching the capital at Frankfort, Ky., J. W. C. Beckham was sworn in as Governor of the State. Mr. Beckham had been acting Governor for a day previous to Mr. Goebel's death. The assassination caused great excitement and the turbulent proceedings that followed were the comment of the entire country. The crime is believed to have been the result of a conspiracy, and the Louisville Courier Journal does not hesitate to say that Mr. Taylor is a party to it. That paper adds that "many a man has been hanged upon less evidence than that which connects him with it."

It is useless for editorial associations to pass resolutions demanding the repeal of the duty on wood pulp if they continue to support congressmen who vote against it. Newspapers accomplish great things for political parties and all manner of reforms and it should not be impossible for them to do something in their own behalf, but this cannot be done by adopting high-sounding resolutions.—Durham Herald.

Right along this same line the newspapers do not help themselves much by supporting those Legislators far re-election who so ignore them by killing in committee room their bill for a just libel law. There are several things that the newspapers ought to think about in the coming campaign.

The Raleigh correspondent of the Charlotte Observer says: "It was remarked to-day as a curious fact that while the heads of all the State educational institutions—the University, Agricultural and Mechanical College, Blind and Deaf, Mute Institutions, Normal and Industrial Colleges, etc., are natives, all the heads of the denominational institutions are from other States; as for example, Davidson Trinity, Elon, Wake Forest, the Baptist Female University, Peace Institute, St. Mary's etc. This shows the great attention North Carolina is attracting from an educational point of view."

The three-year-old son of Mr. Floyd Candill was drowned near Peden, Alleghany county, a few days ago. While attempting to cross a creek on a footlog the child fell and floated under the ice. Two other small children were present and summoned their father but he arrived too late to save the child's life.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 5, 1900.

Mr. McKinley can change his opinions as quick as other men can change their coats, when he finds it necessary, and he can smilingly pretend that he is thoroughly pleased with his last one. His latest lightning change act was in connection with the Porto Rico bill. It is well known that the Payne bill, providing for free trade with Porto Rico, was prepared under Mr. McKinley's instructions, but the republican revolt grew so rapidly that the republicans of the House Ways and Means Committee jumped into the breach with a compromise in the shape of a substitute for the Payne bill. This substitute provides for the collection of a duty on Porto Rican products, of 25 per cent. of the duty leveled upon similar foreign products, and it will be pushed through as a party measure. It has already been endorsed by the Senate Porto Rico Committee. Notwithstanding all his previous talk, to Porto Ricans and others in favor of free trade, Mr. McKinley now pretends to be perfectly satisfied with the 25 per cent. bill. In other words he is once more demonstrating that he is a follower, not the leader of his party; and that he has no opinion that he would not sacrifice rather than take any chances of missing a renomination. But the trouble among the republicans over this matter, isn't yet ended, as Senator Platt, of Connecticut, who started the revolt, has given notice of his intention to offer an amendment increasing the tariff on Porto Rican products to 50 per cent.

Representative Talbot, of South Carolina, has served notice on the House that no pension bills are to be passed except when there is a quorum present. In the course of short, but emphatic speech, he said: "I believe the pension laws are sufficiently liberal to pension every deserving soldier and widow, and I am opposed to sitting here every Friday night, as a Court of Appeals, to pass special cases which have been refused by the Pension Bureau. If it is to be done, there must be a quorum. Members cry aloud their love for the old soldiers but they will not give up their pink teas and poker parties and that sort of thing to vote pensions."

The best lawyers in the Senate regardless of politics, are of the opinion that the refusal of Taylor to issue a certificate of election to Senator elect Blackburn, of Kentucky, will not prevent the seating of Senator Blackburn, when the term of Senator Lindsay, whom he was elected to succeed, expires which, by the way, will not be until March 3, 1901. It has only been a few years since Senator Call was seated without objection in the face of the absolute refusal of the Gov. of Florida, to give him a certificate of election. Mr. Call merely presented a certified copy of the proceedings of the legislature when he was elected, and that will be all that Mr. Blackburn will have to do.

Secretary Gage, in officially notifying the national banks which have been receiving the internal revenue receipts on deposit, that the money would not hereafter be sent to the city National Bank of New York, for distribution, as has been done since December 18th, last, but would be sent to the various sub-treasuries, as usual, virtually acknowledge the justice of the democratic attacks upon his favoritism. That acknowledgement has not, however, stopped the pressure in either House or Senate for an investigation of that favoritism. The only way that can be stopped is for the republican majority to vote down the investigation resolution, and if they do that it will be an acknowledgement that they fear an honest investigation. If they are willing to take that stand, they have the power to do; but they will thereby increase the already bright prospects for democratic success in the Presidential and Congressional elections.

Senator Allen's remedy for trusts as given by him in a public speech is so plain that he who runs may read and understand. He said: "The remedy is in the ballot box. Go to the polls next November and cast your vote against the present trust-ridden administration, and you will have remedied the evil of these gigantic corporations and their purchased press. Redeem the country by the ballot."

If a girl prefer not to accept a young man's suit she may freely exercise her privilege of rejection, and nobody will dream of flouting her as an old maid, nor would she be disturbed if any one did. She would simply walk on, holding her dainty head high, and setting her capable hands at whatever task invited them. The girl knows, and we all know, that spinsters are as honorable and as essential in modern society as are the most admired of matrons.—February Ladies' Home Journal.

The Christian church here will soon begin having services again. Rev. D. W. Davis is to preach for them once a month.

The guarantee ticket holders have had two days checking off seats for Alba Heywood and the sale will be open to the public tomorrow morning.

At the meeting of the Jr. O. U. A. M. to be held Wednesday night every member is urged to be present. Business of importance will be under consideration.

Wherever the Alba Heywood Company has appeared in this State the press speaks in highest terms of it. Remember the date in Greenville, Thursday night, 8th.

All members of The Patient Circle of The King's Daughters are earnestly requested to attend the meeting this evening at the home of Mrs. A. L. Blow. Business of importance to be considered.

MRS. J. B. CHERRY, Sec.

The Reflector Book Store has been appointed as one of the depositories for furnishing school books. We have just received a large shipment of such books as are used in both the public and private schools of this county, and are ready to fill orders. When you want anything in the way of books and school supplies come to the Reflector Book Store.

Burned to death.

Miss Ida Forest, a young lady aged about 15 years, was burned to death near Vanceboro on Saturday. She was in the act of pouring oil in a stove to make the fire burn, when the can ignited and exploded, setting her clothing on fire.

Found Dead in Bed.

Mr. John Leggett, who lived a few miles north of Greenville, was found dead in bed Saturday morning. He appeared to be in his usual health upon retiring the night before, but when Mrs. Leggett awoke that morning she discovered that her husband was dead.

The public will never know what one has to sell unless one tells it through some advertising medium.—Baltimore World.

Farm Hands Flocking To Town.

A Sharon farmer who was in the city yesterday, says that the people in his section are beginning to be worried about the wholesale abandonment of the farms for the town, by the croppers, both white and colored. "Within one mile of my place," said he, "eight families have moved to Charlotte within the past week, and that means eight farm houses vacant." This influx of farm hands to town probably means more business for Humane Society, among the next few cold snaps, but but by the time blackberry bushes are in bloom, the farmers will find themselves able to pick up a few hands, here there.—Charlotte Observer.

White Thinks He's White

Pittsburg, Feb. 2.—Walter E. Billows a colored attorney of this city entered a suit Thursday against William H. McCarthy, a prominent restaurateur, for $5,000 for refusing to serve congressman George H. White of North Carolina, and himself with dinner. Billows claims that McCarthy offered to serve them elsewhere than in the general dining room. But they demanded an equal footing with white persons and left the place.
