Does God Love to Hear Us?

God loves to hear people pray to Him and praise Him. He loves to hear people speak words of warning, instruction, comfort and encouragement to their fellow beings.

He surely does not love to hear men talk of politics on Sunday. Neither does He love to hear axes on Sunday. A. D. BETTS, Ayden, N. C.

Commissioners Court.

U. S. Commissioner Ormond held court today. Jesse Hardy, Sam Hardy and Isaac Cox were before him on a charge of retailing liquor without license. The defendants appeared and asked for a continuance to secure further testimony. It will be heard next Tuesday.

DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Mar. 10.

John Nichols is quite sick.

Mrs. Jarman went to Grifton last night.

Mrs. Fanny Tyson is improving, we are glad to say.

Regret to learn that Miss Mary Hardy is about to leave us.

We are glad to see G. R. Dixon able to be in his store again.

J. R. Cooper and wife are now at home in the new dwelling near the church.

Alfred Collins has finished his house here, and has just moved into it.

What a job it is to repair an old rotten rail fence. That trouble is done away with by using G. W. Parker's wire fence.

Cotton planters and back bands are being shipped from here to Texas, Arkansas, Georgia and other States, besides the Carolinas.

Yesterday was a big day here for drummers. Messrs. Archer, Mewborne, Moore, Dawson and perhaps half a dozen others were coming and going.

Goldboro Drug Co's travelling man was here yesterday. That firm is handling a special brand of cheroots made by Winterville Cig. Co.

I. A. Sugg, Jr., went to Kinston Wednesday night to have his eyes treated, returning Friday morning. Dr. Hyatt said he was just in time to save his left eye.

A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. are now working a full force of fifteen hands, with everything that they can do. There is still a premium going with every pair of their cart wheels.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina

The hotel at Halifax was burned Thursday. There was no insurance on either building or furniture. Judge Starbuck, who was holding court at Halifax, lost what legal papers and other belongings he had along with him.

At Winton court last week a judge, jury, seven lawyers and thirty-nine witnesses were engaged for four whole days deciding to whom a hog belonged. No danger of losing liberty in a country as free as this. The humblest gets his rights. This hog stands for the right of property, which is always held sacred here in North Carolina.—Windsor Ledger.

The North Carolina Bar Association will meet this year at Asheville on June 27th.

Mr. Wm. Brand, one of the oldest and a highly respected citizen in this county, died at his home near Castoria a few days ago. Mr. Brand fought in the Mexican war, and with his death there passes away the last of those old 'vets' in this county.—Snow Hill Standard.

SATURDAY MARCH 10, 1900.

Where did Congress get power to act "outside" the Constitution? Its powers were delegated to it "by" the Constitution and it has none not so delegated, any more than any other body of respectable old gentlemen, as Secretary Olney once called the Senate. Once it goes outside the Constitution, it goes out of existence. It is only by the Constitution that it exists at all.

Representative Payne, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives was fairly stumped the other day. He announced that the President had increased the value of the Porto Rican peso from 41 to 62 cents by a decree. He was at once asked by Mr. Norton of Ohio, why the value of the United States silver dollar could not similarly be raised by legislation. Mr. Payne could not answer. Can any one do so?

The President says that every one is against imperialism. True enough! Everyone in this country is against what he considers imperialism. The question is one of definition. The President does not consider it imperialism to hold several millions of people as subjects, governed by an alien people without representation, and given only such rights as Congress may see fit to bestow on them. If he did he would be opposed to it himself. But other people do consider this sort of thing the rankest imperialism and they would like Mr. McKinley to tell them just what he does understand by the word.

Miss Mollie Little, of Mecklenburg county, committed suicide. Thursday, by taking laudanum. She wrote letters explaining that her rash act was due to the faithlessness of a lover—a young man having won her heart's deepest love and then deserted her for another. The thief on the cross found forgiveness for the sin he had committed, yet, while God has all power, weak humanity would judge that if any man should be left without the pale of forgiveness it is the wretch who will so trifle with a woman's love as to drive her to self destruction.

The House on Thursday by a strict party vote unseated G. A. Robbins, Democratic Congressman from the fourth Alabama district, and gave his seat to W. F. Aldrich, Republican contestant.

A Hope of Escape.

Another! The flour trusts has gone into bankruptcy, and the reason stated for it is that no flour trusts could be formed big enough to prevent competition. The sugar trust, as we told a few days ago, has found the profits gone of its business. It turns out to be not so bad—or rather not so good—as this, but it has been forced to reduce its 12 percent. dividends one-half. Taking the failure of the flour trusts—which is only one of the many which has come to grief—for its text, The Philadelphia Times points out the best hope we have yet seen for believing that the country is not to be dominated entirely by the trusts. Invention it says, has introduced and is still introducing new economies into the refining of sugar, the making of steel, flour and other articles of trust manipulation. It follows that at any given time there is a large amount of dead capital in each of these industries invested in out of date and useless construction. A trust combination in either of these industries means the issue of shares to cover all of this non-productive capital, and in many instances a liberal addition of water besides. The moment a new concern, capitalized on a sound basis and employing only the newest and most productive methods, takes the field the trust aggregation is at a disadvantage, and sooner or later must absorb its new rival or go to the wall.

There is hope in this view of the matter. The progress of invention must keep the trust tearing out old machinery, at enormous expense, and replacing it with new, or put it at a disadvantage in the presence of ever-present new competition, even though of smaller capital, which starts with the new appliances.—Charlotte Observer.

Advertisements Point the Way.

Even the most inveterate "shopper" occasionally likes a hint as to what she should purchase; and she gets that hint from the advertisements she reads in her favorite newspaper. If the "shopper" can thus be moved thousands of other purchasers can be more easily influenced. Advertisements point the way to trade.—Philadelphia Record.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 9, 1900.

Uneasiness reigns in the McKinley camp for various reasons and especially because of a rumor that Ben. Harrison, who has been jumping all over the republican wobbling on the Porto Rico tariff question, is going to be boomed as an anti-McKinley and anti-English republican candidate for the Presidential nomination. The story, as it comes to Washington, is that Harrison is sure of the Indiana vote in the convention to start with; that he is reasonably sure of the Minnesota vote and has more than a fighting chance to get the Michigan vote, if Mr. McKinley continues his present pro-English attitude towards the war in South Africa, and has supporters in many other states. It is too soon to say how much there is in this alleged Harrison boom, but he isn't the sort of man to say or do anything without an object, and it is difficult to see what other object he can have in thumping the McKinley policy, as he has been doing recently, than to try to get the Presidential nomination for himself.

When Mr. McKinley signs the gold standard bill, which will make the rich richer and the poor poorer, which was passed in the Senate and House this week, as reported from the Conference committee, he will cancel one of the heavy obligations he incurred to the moneyed interests of the country during his campaign for election to the Presidency.

Senator Lodge is usually a good talker, although always radical in his ideas, but he couldn't do himself justice in his speech in favor of the bill giving Mr. McKinley authority to govern the Philippines as he pleases, which ought properly to be called: A bill making William McKinley Czar of the Philippines. It is not easy to tell the Senate that it should give one man autocratic power over the lives and fortunes of millions of poor devils who were bought and sold without their consent. If Congress ever passes this bill the people of this country will sorely regret it.

The attempts of republicans to shift responsibility for the disgraceful exhibition given the country by the passing of the Porto Rico tariff bill by the House would be amusing if the matter were not too serious to laugh over. The wrangling among republican Senators over the bill, which is now before the Senate, has almost reached the fighting stage. A caucus is to be held to patch up matters by amending the bill to the extent necessary to get the votes to put it through the Senate. The sugar and tobacco trusts, which are credited with having compelled the republicans to make this disgusting exhibition are said to have let become known among Republican Senators that they have no objections to any amendment may be made to the bill so long as the tariff on Porto Rican tobacco and sugar is not disturbed, and if they don't object Mr. McKinley won't.

Senator Mason is stirring things up in the Senate again. He wants the committee on Foreign Relations discharged from further consideration of his resolution containing an expression of the sympathy of the Senate for the Boers, which has been in its hands since December 6, and he says he is going to keep on hammering at it until something is done to give the Senate an opportunity to vote on the question. He says the Senate would adopt the resolution if a vote could be taken.

The end not yet. The Philippine negroes keep up the fight. Otis cables one day that all is over and that the whole lay out has been trampled under foot. The next day the old donkey cables that new and perplexing complications have arisen, that the Filipinos are again massing and they have killed a few of our brave boys. Thus the war and the great cost to the people go on until the last old fossil in the service of this country has had time to show that he is a hero and not an ass as many of them really are. These foreign complications may end sometime. But it will be long years after all men who now figure in it are dead and gone. The United States government is now setting out upon new and tempestuous seas, and if nothing else, it will result in the expenditure of billions of dollars and a burdensome and tormenting debt, all of which will go to immortalize the present Administration.—Lexington Dispatch.

How a Woman Suffers.
It isn't necessary for a woman to give particulars. When she says she has "female troubles", other women know what that means. It means days and nights of endless suffering. It means headaches which no tongue can describe. It means that terrible bearing and dragging down in the lower abdomen. It means agonizing backache, and shoulder ache, and arm ache, and aches in the lower limbs. It means debilitating times even death seems preferable. And still Wine of Cardui will utterly put those diseases and pains to rest. It has cured thousands of cases when nothing else on earth would. To the budding woman, to the bride, to the wife, to the expectant mother, to those going through the Change of Life, this Vegetable Wine is a blessing.
How a Woman Suffers.
I will always praise Wine of Cardui. It has done me more good than all the medicine I have ever taken in my life. Please send a book about female diseases to the ladies whose names I enclose.

Well Said.

The Democratic Editors of North Carolina have fought many hard political fights, and yet no suitable recognition has been shown them. These political campaigns have meant personal loss to the Editors, and yet no complaints have been heard; their papers have published the news which gave encouragement, the Editors have toiled individually, and the successful candidates were given the heartiest welcome by the Editors, when the battle was ended.

This year the Press asks that it may have one of its Editors among those who shall take public office next January.

It asks that Henry A. London, of Chatham, be nominated for State Treasurer, and in thus honoring Mr. London, the Editors will recognize that the State Press has been honored, and justly so, for its splendid services in the cause of all the people, all the time.—Newbern Journal.

Think of Him.

If I see a man came out of a saloon before breakfast and walk the street with a cigar just after breakfast, I will be sure to think of him at sunset, if I see his wife chopping wood. The money for those luxuries in the morning would hire a wood chopper. A. D. BETTS. Ayden, N. C.

New A. & N. C. Train.

Sunday a new daily train will be put on the Atlantic & North Carolina road from Goldsboro to Morehead. This train will pass Kinston going east at 8:50 A. M., and going west at 6:40 P. M. If the schedules of that train and the passenger train on this branch of the Coast Line could connect at Kinston it would be a convenience to the public. As it is the trains are about an hour apart.

The Opening Gem.

This afternoon Hon. C. B. Aycock, of Goldsboro, whom ex-Gov. Jarvis introduced as "the second Zeb Vance of North Carolina," made the opening political speech of the campaign of 1900 in Pitt county. A large crowd was in the Court House to hear him, and his speech was one of the best of his life.

Owing to the late hour, comment upon it will have to be deferred to another issue. The crowd was delighted and applauded generously.

The Osceola Band was out and played several pieces before the speaking began.

The Heaviest Mortgage Ever Recorded Here.

Register of Deeds Edwards has just recorded the heaviest mortgage ever put upon the records of Vance county.

It was for $11,500,000 and was executed by the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad Company in favor of the Continental Trust Company, of Baltimore.

There were $2,500 worth of revenue stamps on the document. The fee for recording was $24.00.—Henderson Gold Leaf.
