STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina.

At Elm City Saturday evening a little two-year-old girl of Lee Greenwood got hold of a box containing some arsenic pills and swallowed some of them. The child died in a short while.

Almost as regular as the Tarboro Southerner comes the paper reports a burglary in its town.

Gen. J. S. Carr, of Durham, is on a trip North. In New York Sunday he slipped and fell on the ice, so badly wrenching one foot that he cannot walk a step.

One night last week a demented negro escaped from the county home of Durham county, and froze to death.

OVER THE COUNTRY.

The State Department at Washington has received an appeal for help from Alfred Robert, an American citizen, who claims that he is imprisoned and subjected to torture at Monterey, Mexico.

The removal of a tumor from the brain of Mrs. F. G. Parker, of Chicago, Ill., has restored her sight, after seven years of total blindness.

Smallpox has developed in a mild form at Yale College.

Seven young men have been arrested on a charge of placing dynamite to blow up St. Paul's Methodist Church at Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

The stammering judge is apt to be noted for long sentences.

THE MAN FOR SHERIFF.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

In view of the fact that Sheriff Mooring positively and emphatically declines to be a candidate for re-election to the office of Sheriff, we want to suggest the name of a man as his successor, who can come nearer polling the entire vote of the white man's party than will any other in the county. This man is J. J. Laughinghouse, of Grimesland. He is well and favorably known in every section of the county. He is an ardent Democrat and no one has worked harder for the success of his party than he.

During the last few years when the party was threatened with almost dissolution it was largely through his influence and untiring efforts that his, the banner township of the county, was kept solid for the ticket.

Mr. Laughinghouse has never but once been a candidate for any office and that was thrust upon him.

He is eminently qualified to fill the office and in recognition of his long and loyal sacrifice to the party it is but just and proper to give him the nomination. Then, too, he will come nearer harmonizing all factions than any other man we know, and this is a time when the party needs such men on the ticket. Bold, fearless and determined, yet prudent and conservative. Mr. Laughinghouse is the ideal man for the place and we predict that if nominated he will make for the county a sheriff in every way as acceptable as his excellent and highly respected predecessor.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21, 1900

We desire a live correspondent at every Postoffice in the county who will send in brief items of news as it occurs in each neighborhood. Write plainly and only on one side of the paper.

Mr C. P. Sapp, who has for some time been on the editorial staff of the Raleigh News and Observer, has gone to Norfolk to accept a similar position on the Virginian-Pilot. We regret to see young men of his ability leave North Carolina.

Besides the nomination of a State ticket, the Democratic convention in Raleigh next month will select delegates to the National convention. Each Congressional district will have one delegate and there will be two from the State at large. The convention could not do itself or the party more honor than by selecting Maj. E. J. Hale, of Fayetteville, as one of the delegates at large. No one could represent our State in the National convention more creditably than he.

A number of ladies in Raleigh formed an organization, the object of which is to aid in disseminating Democratic literature during the coming campaign. They are, for the most part, the wives of prominent Democrats, and will take active steps to raise funds for the purpose indicated. One method adopted is the "endless-chain letter" system, and there is no doubt that they will be able to render valuable service to the party and in the interest of the Constitutional Amendment.

Rev. O. C. Horton, a Baptist minister, residing in East Durham some fifty odd years of age, went out to Piney Grove church, some six miles from town, on Saturday last, and preached a sermon to that congregation on that day. During the conference that followed his sermon, his voice became affected, and on his way home from church he was stricken with paralysis. He stopped at the residence of Mr. Ed. Rogers, and died in two hours. He leaves a wife and one child.—Durham Sun.

The total of the Spanish losses in the Cuban war were as follows: Killed in battle, 2,355; died of wounds, 1,391; died of yellow fever 20,629; died of starvation and otherwise, 30,130; missing 74; total, 54,569.

It is stated by a correspondent of the Charlotte Observer that there is not a white democrat in Alamance county who is opposed to the franchise amendment. There is no sound, just reason why there should be one in any county or in the whole state.—Wilmington Messenger.

Indications at present strongly point to Charles B. Aycock, of Wayne, as the next candidate of the Democracy for Governor of North Carolina. Counties are declaring for him right along—a kind of spontaneous choosing, with no big blowing of horns or beating of drums—just as if it were a matter of duty and nothing else. And what is better, no mistake will have been made should he become the standard bearer. He can win out more easily, as it now appears, than any of the contestants for the honor, and all are estimable gentlemen and the personification of honor.—Greensboro Record.

This paper believes that the most important business before the Democrat party in the state at present is the adoption of the constitutional amendment. That being so, it ill becomes newspapers or individuals professing to be Democrats, to spend their time accusing regular Democrats, who compose four fifths of the party in North Carolina, of running after false gods and populist doctrines. This old false charge has been exploded often enough, and if it had not been, it seems to us that no one desirous of Democratic harmony and Democratic success would be lugging into the present campaign.—Charlotte News.

The first law of Congress fixing rates of postage was passed February 20, 1792, and went into effect June 1, 1792. The charge established for transmitting letters was as follows:

- Not exceeding 30 miles, 6 cents.
- Over 30 and not exceeding 60 miles, 8 cents.
- Over 60 and not exceeding 100 miles, 10 cents.
- Over 100 and not exceeding 150 miles, 12½ cents.
- Over 150 and not exceeding 200 miles, 15 cents.
- Over 200 and not exceeding 250 miles, 17 cents.
- Over 250 and not exceeding 350 miles, 22 cents.
- Over 350 miles, 25 cents.

President Meserve, of Shaw University, of Raleigh, is a sensible man. Better advice was never given negroes than that he gave certain graduates, a few days ago, when he told them to avoid politics, their race having never gotten anything out of it except Jim Crow cars and disfranchisement. Politics has been the bane of the negro. His participation in it has been the worse for him and for the white man; and the best friend of the negro is he who votes for the constitutional amendment, the adoption of which will remove him from the field of political strife and lessen the prejudice which now exists against him as a citizen.—Charlotte Observer.

An exchange says that Publicity such as newspapers supply, is the greatest reforming agency on earth. Violators of public law, even when they are sunk to the depth where they are practically outlaws, still fear the publicity given their deeds as much as they do the punishment of the court. Every person, no matter how depraved, has some friend or relative to whom he wishes to seem not a criminal. To this as much as to any other cause, may be traced the assumption of aliases by the habitual criminals. Concealed crime always flourishes. So long as the newspapers are silent the authorities, no matter how energetic and conscientious, pursue the crusade against crime only half-heartedly. Present the facts to the people through the newspapers and the most effective step toward ending crime has been taken. Light is the best policeman. It was this, doubtless, that Thomas Jefferson thought when he said: "Were is left for me to decide whether we should have a government without newspaper or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter."

Cleveland to Support Bryan.

A dispatch from Washington to the Baltimore Sun represents that great interest is being manifested there in a report that Grover Cleveland is going very shortly, to announce that he will support Mr. Wm. J. Bryan for the presidency. The dispatch goes on to say that very many of the gold standard democrats are taking the position that, as the bill establishing the gold standard is now a law, silver is, in fact, eliminated as a political issue, and that there is, therefore, no longer any reason why the democrats who split off from the party in 1896 should longer remain separated from it.—Richmond Times.

Our Cattle Industry.

The extreme western portion of this State already has an established reputation for good stock. It lacks only further development and the infusion of more of the best blood in the different classes of stock to rank close up to the best sections of the West for production of cattle.

One of the leading cattlemen in Western North Carolina has increased at least 50 per cent. since 1895 both in quantity and quality. There was shipped from my county during 1899, 100 cars of cattle at an average of $700 a car. We have in the county one herd of shorthorn, Devons and a great many good grades. Our farmers are very much excited over the rapid improvement of their stock cattle and the high prices those farmers that raise good grades are receiving.—Southern Field.

Not Self Made.

"I am sorry to disappoint you, young man," said the great railway magnate to the reporter who had called in for the purpose of writing him up, "but I did not begin at the bottom and work my way up. I never blacked the boots of the engine wipers and never carried beer for the janitor of the roundhouse. I was kicked through college by my father, inherited a fortune, which I invested in railroad shares, and I hold this job because I have votes enough to control it. It is too bad, my young friend, but we can't all be self made men. We would become tiresome." And he bowed the caller out.—Chicago Tribune.

He Gave It Away

In his speech in the Senate on the amendment Mr. Pritchard said: "It is plain that it is an attempt to deprive the colored race of the right to vote." Senator Chandler then asked him if he knew "why the date January 1st, 1867, was fixed." In answer to Mr. Chandler, Mr. Pritchard said: "It was fixed, I understand with a view of caring for the white men of the State who were entitled to vote at that time."

After this, the Senator is estopped from saying the Democrats wanted to or want to deprive the uneducated white men of their right to vote.—News and Observer.

It's peculiar that the money a fellow earns by the sweat of his brow should be called "cold cash."

It's only fair to suppose that the homely woman would put a better face on the situation if she were able.

WINE OF CARDUI

A LITTLE DOES MUCH.

BOONE, IOWA, Dec. 14.
 No tongue can tell what I have endured in the past ten years with my monthly sickness. While suffering untold agony, a friend called and recommended Wine of Cardui. I sent for a bottle, and Oh! what relief. After the first dose I began to feel better and have had no pain since.
 MRS. GRACE LAMPHERE.

Wine of Cardui

Wine of Cardui not only cures but it acts AT ONCE. Here is a case of ten years' standing, and yet one single dose made the sufferer feel better, and stopped the pain. The Wine goes straight to the seat of the trouble. It acts directly upon the menstrual and genital organs. Its action is not violent, and it does not force a result. It simply gives Nature that little assistance that the sufferer's system lacks. A single disorder in the feminine organs spreads many disorders all over the body, and when the Wine cures the source, all the other ills vanish as a matter of course. A woman can be her own physician and cure herself at home. Local examinations are largely things of the past—the obnoxious custom is no longer necessary. Wine of Cardui is the only perfectly safe and sure vegetable Wine made to-day for the cure of "female troubles".

More Blood Hounds

Tuesday night W. C. Hines received by express three blood hound puppies. They came from Connecticut, are about three months old and have a very fine pedigree. As soon as they are a little older Mr. Hines will train them for use.

The Dogs Here

The blood hounds which Gus Forbes intends buying if proven satisfactory arrived Tuesday evening with their trainer. He had the dogs out this morning showing Gus how to manage them. They will be thoroughly tested before he accepts them.

Bad Bridges.

The bridge across the academy branch on Sutton lane takes a washing notion at every big rain. The rains last week put it in such condition that the town had to build a new bridge there. The foot bridge at Evans street crossing is also in very bad condition.

All Invited.

Although the meetings of the W. C. T. U. are being held in the Methodist church the organization is non-sectarian and every woman in town of any denomination, or of no church at all, are most cordially invited to be present at the meeting Thursday afternoon.

Small Fire

About 11 o'clock this morning the roof of the dining room at the residence of Capt A. J. Griffin, in South Greenville, caught fire from sparks falling on it. The fire was discovered in time to be put out by neighbors before much damage was done. No alarm was sent to the fire department.

Goebel's Slayer.

Louisville, Ky., Mar. 20—The supposed slayer of Goebel is a mulatto and a bad man. He has a record as leader in a feud, is a barber and proprietor of a blind tiger. His name is Coombs, and he is said to be fearless and dangerous, and it will take an army to capture him. He was heard to say that he was going to assassinate Goebel. He is now in Ellicott county surrounded by his faction. Evidence of his guilt is strong.
