Horse in Trestle.

Wednesday evening just before time for the passenger train to pass, a horse belonging to Col. Harry Skinner fell and got one of his legs hung in the trestle, between Fourth and Fifth streets, while attempting to go down the railroad track. The train, which came a few minutes later, had to be stopped for several minutes, until the horse could be gotten out. The horse was not hurt very much however.

MODERN HOTEL.

Greenville Will Soon Have One.

At last Greenville is to have a modern hotel.

Mr. B. F. Patrick has been contemplating erecting a hotel on the corner of Evans and Fifth streets for some time. An architect has been here and made plans of the building and Mr. Patrick has given him the contract.

The Hotel will contain forty rooms and have a complete system of water works and sewerage. Another story will be added to the three stores which Mr. Patrick owns and a three story brick addition built just back of the stores and both joined together making the main part of the hotel fronting Fifth street three stories and that fronting Evans street two stories high. This is a thing that Greenville has long needed and we are glad to know that Mr. Patrick has decided to build one.

THE REFLECTOR has long been talking for a hotel and rejoices that one is now near at hand.

THURSDAY, APRIL 26, 1900.

The Goldsboro correspondent of the Raleigh Post reports a white hen. He says the hen has a brood of young chickens, one among the number being black. The mother has refused to hover or scratch for the black number of her family, and will not permit it to enjoy the company of the balance of the brood.

While under the influence of whiskey, Mordecai Small was shot by Robert Sudderth and it is thought the wound will be fatal. This occurred at Morganton. Both men were under the influence of whiskey, and it is said both of them had always been the closest of friends. This is but one of the examples of what whiskey will do for men.

The Democratic candidates are making powerful speeches in the trust part of the State and are being heard by a great crowd. The arguments Aycock is making for the amendment is so logical and convincing as to be simply unanswerable. In replying to a charge made by a Republican at one appointment that the Democrats would disfranchise white men, Aycock captivated the crowd by proving that the Republican party was the only party that had ever disfranchised white men. He showed that in 1868 it had prevented white men from voting, but allowed negroes in a three days election to vote on the question of whether they should vote. There are white men living in Pitt county today who were prevented from voting just as Mr. Aycock said.

There are few northern newspapers that have the decency and regard for truth not to refer to the southern whites as traitors and rebels and to the rebellion. To do this is to repeat threadbare falsehood and to offer needlessly fresh insults. The use of these terms of obprobrium shows that there is no real reconciliation between the sections only so far as the "cohesive power" of money goes. For a wonder the New York Tribune recently referred to the illustrious gentlemen who was so foully dealt with by the federals after the war had ended as "President Davis of the Confederacy." That was good manners and it was precisely true and proper.—Wilmington Messenger.

physician in Scott county, Kansas, recently moved to another part of the State because he could not make both ends meet in his practice; but his services were so badly needed in the old field that the citizens circulated a petition asking the County Commissioners to appropriate a bonus of $500 annually to the doctor on condition that he should return. The Commissioners made the appropriation and the doctor has gone back to his former home.

In Kentucky, where there is a law to compel railway companies to provide separate cars for white and colored people, a negro woman has brought suit against a railway company for permitting white men to ride in the coaches set apart for colored people. The white persons referred to smoked, swore and drank whiskey in the vehicle in which she rode, and the conductor and other employes of the company ignored her protests. Her feelings were outraged to the extent of $10,000.

The fathers of more than three children are hereafter to be given preference in the selection of town officers in Givet, in the Ardennes, and married men will rank above bachelors as candidates. Prizes of $5 are to be awarded yearly to those parents who shall have sent the largest number of children to school regularly, and scholarships in the national schools will be reserved only for families of more than three children. Fathers of families are also to have the preference for admission to almshouses and old people's homes.

No Pipe Tobacco in Cuba.

"Strange as it may appear, smoking tobacco is practically unknown in Cuba or Puerto Rico," observed an Ordinance Corps who has recently returned from those islands, "though, as well known, tobacco is the principal crop and every one uses it. They regard it as so much time lost to use tobacco in a pipe. Even if they wanted to use pipes they cannot get them, for the simple reason there is no pipes for sale. The natives content themselves with cigars, cheroots and cigarets, and many of them did not know until a couple of years ago that there was some benighted people who supposed that smoking tobacco in a pipe was enjoyable and indulged in to any great extent. The Cuban and Porto Rican tobaccos are, of course, not suited to pipe smoking, for it is grown with the idea of getting as large leaf as possible and as thin as they can get, not considering that the stems have any value. Their ignorance in regard to smoking tobacco is remarkable. Indeed, there is no word in the Spanish language for smoking tobacco."

Beware of the Spectacle Man

Folks who dont want to be humbugged should beware of people who peddle spectacles—apparently a most prolific and profitable source of fraud. But then folks want to be humbugged. They just can't live without it.

A few days ago a citizen who represented himself to be a brother of Rev. John Wakefield, of Salisbury, went about town and sold spectacles to various unsuspected ladies at a vety high price. Some of them bought from him because he was supposed to be Rev. John Wakefield's brother—the latter is a Presbyterian minister of Salisbury—and they thought that the broter of a preacher must necessarily be a good man. Alas for human weakness! But others bought under the idea that the man was Dr. Wakefield, of Charlotte—who is a Brother of Rev. John—or at least the doctor's representative.

Anyway they bought spectacles—many of them—and paid for them in good coin of the realm at the rate of three or four times their value. Now they are dissatisfied, but the good Mr. Wakefield or who ever he is has gone to greener fields and pastures new.

Bring along the next humbug! We'll all be ready to give him business.—Statesville Landmark.

Bits of News For Both.

Two girls met in a dry goods store the other day. They had evidently not seen each other for some time, as the trend of their conversation proved.

"What good times we used to have at the lake!" said one.

"Yes, I like our own resorts," replied the other, "better than on the coast. Oh, say, where is my old flame Perry? I think the world of that boy."

"Oh, he's married!"

"You don't say! Who to?"

"Me."

"Well, of all things!" replied her friend, flushing.

The conversation drifted, but a short time later reverted to its old channel.

"Say, Hetty," remarked Perry's wife, "did you meet Jonny—out in San Francisco?" and then added, "He told me that summer he was there that he could not live without me."

Yes, I met him in Los Angeles." "Poor fellow! I feel sorry for him. He is a bachelor yet, I suppose?"

"No; he's married."

"You don't say! Who to?"

"Me."—Salt Lake Herald.

Shippers and the War Tax.

The United States Supreme Court, with two judges dissenting, has decided that the express companies cannot be prevented from shifting to the shipper the burden of the stamp taxes imposed by the war revenue act. When the law was passed it was claimed that the rich carrying corporations would be compelled to bear a large share of the burden of taxation. The lobbyists of these corporations evidently were on hand earning their salaries, however, for the language of the act as finally passed was so ambiguous as to leave much doubt as to the intent of Congress with respect to the incidence of taxes imposed. The express companies at once proceeded to require the shipper to affix the necessary stamps, and the court of last resort has now sustained their right to do so. Thus the entire burden of this portion of the war taxation is shifted to the people, while the corporations it was intended to reach go free.

It is time that a large portion of the war taxes were repealed, and those bearing most heavily on the people should be the first to go.—Chicago Record.

Doesn't Live Here.

"The trouble with some people in towns is they will not cast their bread upon the waters unless they are assured in advance that in a few days it will come back to them in a full grown sandwich, all trimmed with ham, butter and mustard and rolled in a warranty deed for one-half the earth and a mortgage on the other half."—Floating Item.

It is perfectly right for men to be careful about making investments, but a man who has made a fortune in a community, even from nothing, by dint of his own perseverance and energy, owes the community some liberality in return. If he had not had public patronage he could not have made his money, and he ought to remember this when the public interest appeals to him.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

The Candidates at Marion.

Marion, N. C., Apr. 25.—This was a great day for McDowell Democracy. Up to last night it had been raining for about two weeks, but the weather today was perfect. The crowd began coming in early this morning and by 11 o'clock Mainstreet looked like it does on circus days. The Morgan-ton and Lenoir brass bands played patriotic music between speeches. The crowd was enthusiastic and estimated at fully one thousand. Many believe this is the strongest Democratic ticket ever put up. Lacy started the ball rolling today by making a nice short speech. He was followed by Grimes, Dixon and Gilmer with short speeches. The speech of the day was made by Aycock. He made one of the best ever heard in Marion and held the attention of the entire crowd throughout the two hours he spoke. He won many votes for the amendment. This county will give an increased majority for the ticket and amendment.

The mother of Hon. W. D. Turner, Democratic nominee for Lieutenant Governor, died Monday morning at her home in Statesville. She was 87 years old.

SPRING BLOSSOMS.

Pretty Weather! Brings Them Out.

Rev. L. L. Nash came up last night from Washington.

Henry T. King came up this morning from Washington.

Joseph Powell came over Wednesday evening from Parmele and returned this morning.

R. D. Harington returned today from New Bern where he has been attending the Federal court.

Messrs. H. W. Holcum, Charlie John O'Hagan and Fred Medley left Wednesday evening for Washington, and returned this morning.

Sheriff G. M. Mooring returned last night from Wilmington with J. W. A. Cahoon, who was arrested there this week, charged with passing bogus checks around Bethel.

End of the Century Book Club.

Between showers and wedding preparations the End of the Century Club did not fail to hold its fortnightly meeting with Mrs. J. L. Little, on Tuesday afternoon. In truth such is the interest manifested by its members that little less than a "coelum ruet" can prevent a good attendance. The subject of criticism for the evening was "Statesmen of the medieval days of the Republic." Notably interesting sketches of our own Nathaniel Macon and Daniel Webster, being read by Mrs. Grimes and Mrs. Little. The latter prepared by Mrs. Bowen who was detained by sickness.

Both the intellectual and edible menu were highly enjoyable and only after several reminders of waiting husbands and infants, at home did the club disperse to meet on the next regular day with Mrs. Dr. Moye.

GRIFFON ITEMS

GRIFFON, N. C. April 26, 1900.

Bryant Gardner returned from New Bern Tuesday.

Felix Pittman spent the day at Kinston Sunday.

Rev. A. D. Betts, of Ayden, stopped over here Monday night, while on his way from the New Bern fair.

Dr. H. D. Harper, of Kinston, spent the day here Sunday.

J. Z. Brooks is looking for his machinery on every freight. When it comes another steam saw mill will soon start to cutting timber.

All the workmen have gone home for two weeks that have been at work on the tobacco warehouses.

Rev. J. J. Harper filled his regular appointment here Sunday and as usual preached splendid sermons both morning and night.

Miss Mollie Joyner who has for several years been living in South Carolina, is on a visit to friends and relatives here.

Some one found a large lump of foxfire Monday and that night put it right where the calaboose was buried, and the negro Joe Porter in it, a few months ago. The negroes are having a big preaching and a good many have to go close by where the calaboose was, and the foxfire scared some of them almost to death. One of them says he saw Joe's teeth.

There is a white negro preacher here. He eats and sleeps with them and is preaching for them now.

If ghosts could blush, many would do so upon reading the epitaphs on their tombstones.

It doesn't require a trust to make umbrellas go up. An April shower will do that.

Many a call up on the telephone is really a call down.

It doesn't require a musical education to play the races.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

At a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee held in Greenville on the 14th day of April, 1900, a convention for the nomination of Democratic candidates for the Legislature and the various county offices and for the appointment of delegates to the First Congressional District Democratic convention, was called to meet in the Court House, in Greenville, at 12 o'clock M., on Saturday, May 19th, 1900.

Township primaries, for the purpose of appointing delegates to said county convention, were called to meet at the usual places in each township on Saturday, May 12th, 1900, at 3 o'clock P. M. The said primaries will also elect an Executive Committee for each precinct, composed of five members, and also nominate candidates for Justices of the Peace and Constable. The number of delegates and alternates each township will be entitled to is as follows:

Beaver Dam	5
Belvoir	5
Bethel	9
Carolina	8
Chicod	20
Contentnea	21
Falkland	8
Farmville	7
Greenville	29
Pactolus	4
Swift Creek	11

All white men in the county of Pitt who favor the white people controlling the affairs of State and county, and who intend to vote to that end, are cordially invited to attend and participate in these meetings.

A SPRING GREETING IN A MERRY MOOD.

Good Fortune Smiles

and you ignore rightful advantages if you do not claim the benefits offered in this Announcement.

Many are the needs that confront you with the advent of Spring. It is concerning these requirements and how they may be secured with satisfaction and economy that we wish to speak. Our new line is now ready. We present the latest and best Spring goods at a scale of uniformly low figures—so low, in fact, that they may be truthfully called, "price concessions." These goods are fully as attractive in style and quality as they are in price, and we are perfectly confident that they will appeal to your best judgment as a careful buyer in every way. This is a conservative statement regarding facts which can be easily substantiated any time you visit our store. Our great desire is to have you call and see our new Spring line. It will speak for itself—the quality and style will be apparent and the price will present its own argument. In extending this invitation we are not urging you to become a buyer on the strength of our statements but to become a visitor. We do not ask you to buy; but bring your experience and best judgment with you and compare our reasonable attractions with your most cherished memories of cheap buying—we'll leave the rest to your own inclination. Our stock is of the practical, popular kind, that shows in a marked degree the evidences of a careful and judicious selection from the best markets. Variety, new novelties, and a thorough up-to-date quality in all things is everywhere apparent. Our Spring goods are marked for quick selling. It is a time for you to decide quickly as to whether you shall select from our full assortment of fresh, desirable styles, or take chances on perfect satisfaction a little later on, when stocks of necessity, must be more or less broken. We should prefer to see you today or tomorrow; later in the season we should be very likely to please you but now we are certain to do so. Remember, such opportunities do not have to wait long for new comers. A look will convince you these are no idle words—will you call and give it? Yours respectfully,

J. B. CHERRY & CO.
