Bound Over.

J. W. A. Cahoon, who sometime ago forged the name of some of the school committee near Bethel, and was afterwards captured at Wilmington, was given a hearing this morning before Justice of the Peace W. H. Long. There were two warrants. One for obtaining goods under false pretense was postponed until next Thursday. The other for forgery was tried today, the evidence was sufficient to bind him over to the September term of Superior court.

He was recommitted to jail until the other case against him is investigated.

The May number of Werner's Magazine contains a number of features not only valuable to its particular class of readers, but interesting and instructive to the general reading public. While continuing to be indispensable to the artist who works in any part of the field of Expression—the elocutionist, the reader, the dramatist, the singer, the entertainer, the physical culturist, the teacher in general,—the publishers aim to make the Magazine of such general value and attraction to cultured persons that it will be a welcome guest to every home in the land.

Governor Jarvis will address the people of Pitt at Farmville on May 5th, at 3 p. m., on the political issues of the day. "War Records" may have ceased to be useful when choosing men for office, as was recently suggested by a contemporary, but still in grave emergencies those who made war records and carry evidences of such making about with them as Thomas J. Jarvis does are very useful in defending the old State against her enemies and maintaining the integrity of the party.—Raleigh Post.

The discarding of orange blossoms at weddings by some ultra-fashionable seems to be a senseless bit of iconoclasm. Older than the Anglo-Saxon race was the use of orange blossoms. In Arabia was its first symbolism in bridal wreaths. The orange branch bears fruit and flowers at the same time, and nothing could be a fairer emblem of sweet prosperity.

TUESDAY, MAY 1, 1900.

The editor of THE REFLECTOR is not a farmer, and never followed a plow but half a day in his life, but he believes that if the farmers would cultivate just half the number of acres that they do, and put all the fertilizers and labor on the smaller number of acres that they use on the larger acreage, that they would reap just as good results and make just as large crops. In other words, we believe that if the fertilizers and labor that are scattered over twenty acres of land were concentrated upon ten acres, the ten acres would yield as much as the twenty. One mistake the farmers make is in planting and trying to cultivate too many acres. We believe they could make their cotton land produce a bale to the acre, and their corn land make twice as much per acre, and at the same time save much labor and expense, if they would plant fewer acres and fertilize them highly, instead of scattering the same quantity of fertilizers over too many acres.

The Best Age for Men to Marry.

Edward Bok, writing in the May Ladies' Home Journal, on "A Boy for a Husband," contends that "no young man under twenty-five years of age is in any sense competent to take unto himself a wife. Before that age he is simply a boy who has absolutely nothing which he can offer to a girl as a safe foundation for life happiness. He is unformed in his character, unsettled in his ideas, absolutely ignorant of the first essentials of what consideration or love for a woman means. He doesn't know himself, let alone knowing a woman. He is full of fancies, and it is his boyish nature to flit from one fancy to another. He is incapable of the affection upon which love is based, because he has not lived long enough to know what the feeling or even the word means. He is full of theories, each one of which, when he comes to put it in to practice, will fail. He is a boy, pure and simple, passing through that trying period through which every boy must pass before he becomes a man. But that period is not the marrying time. For as his opinions of life are to change, so are his fancies of the girl he esteems as the only girl in the world to make him happy. The man of thirty rarely weds the girl whom he fancied when he was twenty."

Somebody is asking about the town election. Greenville does not hold her election until the first Monday in June.

OUR RALEIGH LETTER.

Political and General News and Gossip From the State Capital.

Special Correspondent of Reflector.

RALEIGH, N. C., April 30, 1900.

Now it is Marse Jeter's turn. As these lines are written the coon politicians of Raleigh are standing on the street corners discussing the probability of what their State Con-ven-shun may bring forth Wednesday, when it assembles in this city to ratify the will and fiat of Marse Jeter.

The "old soldiers" of North Carolina made no mistake when, one year ago at the Confederate Reunion at Charleston, they elected General Julian S. Carr as their Commander-in-Chief. There is no man in the State who has been so liberal to them pecuniarily, nor one who has personally interested and exerted himself more in looking after their interest and well being. He is heard from in a substantial manner almost every week or so at the Soldier's Home in Raleigh, where many of the old and indigent Confederates are cared for, and General Carr's heart is unquestionably in the work. The next thing he will do for them will be to aid many to take the trip to the Reunion this year, which meets in about a month at Louisville. On his return Gen. Carr will stop at Winchester, Va., to attend the unveiling of the Confederate monument erected to the memory of the North Carolina dead who lie buried there. Letters are being prepared and sent out to the various North Carolina Confederate organizations, by General Carr and Adjutant Burgwyn, requesting as many as possible to be represented at the Winchester event, which occurs June 6.

The State Convention of Christian Endeavorers was held in this city last week and this. Large attendance and most enjoyable and interesting meeting.

Claude Dockery, Esq., a prominent Republican, of Rockingham County, and son of Hon. O. H. Dockery, was married in New York a few days ago to Miss Maude Ryder. The bridal tour extends to Europe.

Commencement exercises of the A. & M. College will take place May 27th.

During the last month or so five North Carolina postoffices have been robbed by safe-crackers, the last one being the Mooresville office where $1,000 in cash and stamps were stolen. The other offices robbed were at Graham, Chapel Hill, Youngsville and Leaksville. There is evidently an organized gang of safe-crackers in the state. Northern tramps, doubtless.

A white woman named Dora Baker was shot and possibly fatally wounded in Raleigh last week and is now in Rex Hospital. Her husband Dick Baker is in jail on suspicion of having done the shooting. The woman came here recently from Harnett county and last week the husband followed. It is not certain whether he did the shooting or the woman herself.

Efforts are being made to reestablish the United States arsenal at Fayetteville, and a monster petition has been presented to Congress on the subject.

More than 100 Gypsies have been holding a sort of "reunion" near Salem.

The Odell Mills of Concord have just placed orders for machinery to manufacture a new class of goods in this State, viz., eiderdown for bath robes, lap robes, etc.

Prof. J. B. Burwell (formerly of Peace Institute of Raleigh) has resigned his position of principal of the female college at Statesville.

Colonel Rodgers, of Wilmington died there suddenly a few days ago, aged 62. He was widely known.

The Edna cotton mills of Reidsville will enlarge the capacity of the plant and new machinery has been ordered.

The State agricultural department has begun issuing crop reports for the season.

Raleigh and Winston have been connected by telephone, and Charlotte and Greensboro also within a few days.

Congressman Bellamy will deliver the annual address at Davidson College in the coming commencement.

Charlotte is arranging for cheap rail road rates and other matters looking to a big 20th of May celebration this year.

The ceremonies attendant upon the wedding of Miss Lala Ruth Carr, daughter of General Julian S. Carr, at Durham last Wednesday were witnessed by one of the greatest throngs of interested spectators ever assembled in North Carolina on a like occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Patton will make their home in Curwensville, Pa., the home of the groom where he enjoys a fine law practice. The magnificence of the bridal banquet and reception at General Carr's home, "Somerset Villa," has never been equalled in North Carolina. The supper was served by the famous New York caterer, Sherry, who, accompanied by 27 assistants, came to Durham on a special car.

LLEWXAM.

WASHINGTON LETTER

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 30, 1900.

The broad streak of yellow down the backbone of the McKinley administration, the exhibition of which disgusted so many Americans during the weeks which immediately preceded the war with Spain, is again in full view of the world. The present exhibition is connected with our relations with Turkey. Only a few days ago, all of the well-known disseminators of semi-official news, in Washington, were singing a song of jingoism and filling the newspaper men with thrilling stories of the red hot demand the administration had made upon the Sultan of Turkey, to settle those long-standing missionary claims at once, and intimating that if the spondulix was not at once forthcoming, an American fleet would be sent into Turkish waters to forcibly collect it. These stories were duly sent out, but they didn't fire the country even a little tiny bit, the people not being in a jingo humor. But they did something else. They brought an intimation from Russia, in the politest diplomatic language that there were reasons which made it incumbent upon Russia to object to any forcible collection of claims from the Sultan. That threw Secretary Hay into a blue funk, almost as bad as would have followed a snubbing by an English lord, and straightway the yellow streak in the administration backbone was uncovered, to add to the gaiety of nations and to the humiliation of Americans, and the official announcement made that this government had at no time intended to go beyond diplomatic insistence in trying to make the Sultan pay that claim. A famous American wit once commented upon an exhibition of a yellow streak by a public man, by saying: "God Almighty hates a quitter," and it is well-known to every observing man that the American people also hate a quitter.

Democratic Senators have decided that the army reorganization bill contains so many objectional features that they will not allow it to go through the Senate, and notice to that effect has been served on the republicans. Among the striking features of the army bill are provision for making Gen. Miles lieutenant-general (put in to catch democratic votes) and Gen. Corbin major general; for the increase of the regular army and for doubling the number of cadets to West Point. Senator Jones, of Ark., the democratic leader, who never minces words when he has anything to say, declared the Army bill to be full of rascality.

The republican leaders will allow the Nicaragua Canal bill to pass the House this week, simply because they saw that they could not prevent it, but their present programme is to hang it up in the Senate, for fear that its passage would not be pleasing to England, which is already somewhat displeased because the Nicaragua Canal Treaty has not been ratified. Still, the country is expected to believe the repeated assertions of administration men that there is no secret understanding between the McKinley administration and the English government.

A Negro Woman in the Peabody Normal College.

It was found today that a colored woman, the wife of "Coon" Bosley a Republican politician, was one of the students of the Peabody Normal College. About two months ago she applied for admission to the art department, satisfied all requirements and was admitted. She is 21 years old and would pass anywhere for a white woman.

On Tuesday she was seen by one of the professors talking from a studio window with a negro, and later was seen upon the street with him. When called before the chancellor to account for her conduct, she explained the man was her husband and that she was a negress. Realizing that this meant dismissal she withdrew from the college before any action was taken on the part of the faculty.—Nashville, Tenn., Dispatch, 26th.

IT WILL PAY YOU TO INVESTIGATE the new policies of the Bankers. The Life, Limited Payment Life and Endowment policies contain all the up-to-date features, many of which are original.

Good Things.

Did you ever look for the "good things" in your life insurance policy? Unless it was in the Bankers Life Insurance Company of the City of New York, you probably found side issues labelled "Grace" "Incontestability," "Loans," and the like, made prominent as "good things." Of course we have these features, too, for the "Bankers" is nothing if not progressive; but—

Did you ever see a policy with which the Company keeps an Individual Account?

Or one in which all earnings are guaranteed to the policy-holder?

Or one which guaranteed both reserve and surplus if surrendered?

Or one which gives all withdrawable surplus at death, in addition to face of policy?

Or one, in fact, which treats the policy-holder with absolute equity, confiscating no portion of the net premiums, and allowing a policy-holder to control his own money at all times, as far as is consistent with a conservative system which embraces the best points of banking and insurance?

If you have never seen any of these "good things," investigate the new policies of the Bankers Life Insurance Company of the City of New York.

Who are its officers and directors? Among them are many of the best known men in New York financial circles.

The Company's record has been unequalled for economical management, safe investments, equitable dealings with its policy-holders and low cost of Insurance Protection.

Miss Sallie Galloway is visiting Miss Bertha Patrick.

Henry T. King left Monday evening for Washington.

E. B. Ficklen returned from Tarboro Monday night.

R. W. King left Monday evening on a trip to Lenoir and Craven counties.

H. W. Whedbee left this morning on a trip to Norfolk and Elizabeth City.

Mrs. J. L. Little and Mrs. C. C. Vines went over to House Station this morning.

Mrs. Hardy Loftin came over this morning from Kinston to visit Mrs. J. B. Cherry.

Misses Lena Carr and Maggie Darden, of Greene county, spent the day in Greenville.

Dr. R. L. Carr, Mrs. Alice Harper and little Alexander Harper left this morning for Baltimore.

L. I. Moore left this morning for Rocky Mount and will go to Nashville tomorrow to attend the Nash county Superior court.

Ex-Gov. T. J. Jarvis went to Rocky Mount this morning to hear the speaking of the Democratic nominees there today.

Mrs. S. M. Schultz and children, Alfred and May, returned Monday evening from Rocky Mount, where they have been visiting relatives.

Lawn Party.

Thursday night there will be a lawn party at the home of Rev. J. N. Booth, given by the ladies of the Baptist church. Seasonable refreshments will be served. The Osceola band will be present and furnish music. The object of the entertainment is to help the organ fund of the church.

Bitten by Dog.

Early this morning Carl Wilson, a little son of Mr. W. B. Wilson, was bitten on the leg by a dog. He was running along with other boys when the dog took after them, and Carl being behind was bitten on the leg. He was not hurt much, and it is hoped no serious consequences will follow.

Telegraphic Code.

The Western Union Telegraph Company is supplying its offices with a telegraphic code (universal edition) for the use of patrons in telegraphing. The same code is in use the world over and will prove a convenience to the public. One of the code books has been received at the telegraph office in Greenville, where patrons can have reference to it at their pleasure.

No girl can afford, either for her own surest happiness or for the comfort of mind of him whom she marries, to wed a young man during the formative period of his life, which is between twenty and twenty-five. And she who withholds from a young man her consent to marriage until he has reached the first year of the beginning of wisdom is a mighty sensible little body, and acts in a manner which she will never have cause to regret as long as God gives her and her husband life—Edward Bok, in the May Ladies' Home Journal.

It's the fellow with a peppery temper who commits assault.

Lots of people who are going over to do Paris will be done.

Even the rich girl may have a poor complexion.

The flatterer usually practices upon himself.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

At a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee held in Greenville on the 14th day of April, 1900, a convention for the nomination of Democratic candidates for the Legislature and the various county offices and for the appointment of delegates to the First Congressional District Democratic convention, was called to meet in the Court House, in Greenville, at 12 o'clock M., on Saturday, May 19th, 1900.

Township primaries, for the purpose of appointing delegates to said county convention, were called to meet at the usual places in each township on Saturday, May 12th, 1900, at 3 o'clock P. M. The said primaries will also elect an Executive Committee for each precinct, composed of five members, and also nominate candidates for Justices of the Peace and Constable. The number of delegates and alternates each township will be entitled to is as follows:

Beaver Dam	5
Belvoir	9
Bethel	5
Carolina	8
Chicod	20
Contentnea	21
Falkland	8
Farmville	7
Greenville	29
Pactolus	4
Swift Creek	11

All white men in the county of Pitt who favor the white people controlling the affairs of State and county, and who intend to vote to that end, are cordially invited to attend and participate in these meetings.

DRY GOODS STOCK

is more complete than ever before and prices not so high. Call and see us, we want to sell you. Remember we carry a full line of Stoves and Stove Fixtures.

Our stock is complete in every department and we suit you in price and quality. Call and see us at Forbes' old stand. Your friends,

J. C. COBB & SON,

A SPRING GREETING IN A MERRY MOOD.

Good Fortune Smiles

and you ignore rightful advantages if you do not claim the benefits offered in this Announcement.

Many are the needs that confront you with the advent of Spring. It is concerning these requirements and how they may be secured with satisfaction and economy that we wish to speak. Our new line is now ready. We present the latest and best spring goods at a scale of uniformly low figures—so low, in fact, that they may be truthfully called, "price concessions." These goods are fully as attractive in style and quality as they are in price, and we are perfectly confident that they will appeal to your best judgment as a careful buyer in every way. This is a conservative statement regarding facts which can be easily substantiated any time you visit our store. Our great desire is to have you call and see our new Spring line. It will speak for itself—the quality and style will be apparent and the price will present its own argument. In extending this invitation we are not urging you to become a buyer on the strength of our statements but to become a visitor. We do not ask you to buy; but bring your experience and best judgment with you and compare our reasonable attractions with your most cherished memories of cheap buying—we'll leave the rest to your own inclination. Our stock is of the practical, popular kind, that shows in a marked degree the evidences of a careful and judicious selection from the best markets. Variety, new novelties, and a thorough up-to-date quality in all things is everywhere apparent. Our Spring goods are marked for quick selling. It is a time for you to decide quickly as to whether you shall select from our full assortment of fresh, desirable styles, or take chances on perfect satisfaction a little later on, when stocks of necessity, must be more or less broken. We should prefer to see you today or tomorrow; later in the season we should be very likely to please you but now we are certain to do so. Remember, such opportunities do not have to wait long for new comers. A look will convince you these are no idle words—will you call and give it? Yours respectfully,

J. B. CHERRY & CO.
