STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina.

The brick store of B. F. Hatch, of Mt. Olive, was destroyed by fire Wednesday night.

Nicholas Fitzpatrick, of Tillery, who was a student of the A. & M. College at Raleigh, has been arrested by the postal authorities for taking a letter for a fellow student from the postoffice, the letter containing a $15 money order on which Fitzpatrick forged the owner's name.

Durham Aldermen say that after June 1st you cannot spit on that town, unless you get off the sidewalk to expectorate.

On June 1 people will be coming to their census.

Postal Work Increased.

The District census office in Greenville, of which D. W. Patrick is Supervisor, has so increased the business of the postoffice here that it has become necessary to employ another clerk to handle the registered mail. Postmaster Perkins has been instructed to employ one for this purpose. Miss Annie Perkins will fill the position. Probably the largest registered mail ever sent from this office was sent today.

The Eclipse.

There will be an eclipse of the Sun next Monday morning. Greenville will be very close to the line of totality which crosses this State. Get you a piece of colored glass ready to view the eclipse. You will never have a chance to see another like it.

Gilmer and Toon Speak—The Town Progressing.

Hon. R. D. Gilmer, candidate for Attorney General and Gen. T. F. Toon, candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction, spoke at Bethel Friday afternoon. Though much of the day was rainy there was a good crowd out to hear them and all seemed pleased with the speeches, which were along the same lines that the gentlemen had made at their other appointments in this county. The speeches did good.

Mr. Gilmer was introduced to the audience by Col. W. N. M. Hammond. We do not recall ever listening to an introduction that was more impressive, and Mr. Gilmer said it touched him as no other ever had. One sentence that fell from the lips of this silver-haired veteran was worthy of a patriot. Said he: "I am getting too old to expect to see a great deal of the benefit that will come from the adoption of the great question before us, but I am glad that I can stand here and introduce a man to discuss a matter that means so much to this and future generations as the constitutional amendment."

The editor of THE REFLECTOR spent the day in Bethel and had both a pleasant and profitable trip. We were glad to see the town making good progress and to note a number of improvements.

The people have shown their interest in education by coming together and erecting a splendid academy building that is a credit to the town. Prof. Z. D. McWhorter, principal of the school, is just closing one of the most prosperous sessions he has had. Bethel can well be proud of her educational advantages.

The truck barrel factory is a new enterprise that a visit to proved very interesting. It makes barrels, baskets, crates and boxes for shipping truck in and employs a large number of hands. The plant is splendidly equipped and has a capacity of over 2,000 packages a day.

Another new enterprise there is a brick manufactory, conducted by Messrs. Robert Staton and F. S. Gardner. They turn out good brick for building or paving and do a large business.

Prof. C. H. James, the inventor of the best school desk in use, also has a busy factory. Besides his desk business he manufactures tables, desks, cabinets, lawn swings &c., and told us that he had orders far ahead.

Bethel is a large truck raising section and they expect to begin shipping potatoes next week. The town also has some stirring, enterprising merchants.

Beaufort County Officers.

The Democratic convention of Beaufort county Wednesday nominated the following ticket: Representative, B. B. Nicholson; Sheriff, R. T. Hodges; Register of Deeds, Gilbert Rumley; Coroner, Dr. Joshua Tayloe; Surveyor, Edward Tripp; Commissioners, T. H. Blount, B. H. Thompson and George L. Swindell.

Some fellows would do anything to get married, but most of them prefer to do a father-in-law.

FRIDAY, MAY, 25 1900.

The Democrats of the second district held their Congressional convention at Goldsboro Thursday, and the convention was a warm number. Mr. Claude Kitchin, of Scotland Neck, was nominated on the one hundred and twentieth ballot. When he is elected, as no doubt he will be, there will be two of the same family in Congress from North Carolina. We believe the convention made a wise choice in selecting him.

There is Nothing so Conducive to Health and Happiness as a quiet Mind.

There is nothing more conducive to health, long life and happiness than mental quietude or calm—not the quietude of stagnation, but that of a gentle current flowing smoothly without agitation. It is much easier, however to define such a desirable element than to tell how it may be attained. It is quite certain, however, that to attain mental calm one must have a clear conscience. He who has done no wrong to any man is armed against accusation. The martyrs could meet their fate calmly, not only because of their faith in the life to come, but also, we may be sure because their consciences were clear. In the ordinary walks of life there is little to disturb one's mental calm except the excitements arising from evil passions and unsatisfied ambitions. The man who does his simple duty, who wrongs no one, whether he be rich or poor, has nothing with which to upbraid himself. He moves along contentedly and sleeps the sleep of the just. But if, moved by ambition, such a man should seek political or other preferment requiring the use of chicanery, his mental calm is sure to be disturbed; he will pass restless nights and his health will likely suffer, for there is a very intimate relation between the condition of the body and that of the mind. Or, if such a man should commit a fault his conscience will disturb him; he will learn to dread possible exposure and punishment; he will no longer enjoy the blessings of mental calm and, suffering for want of brain rest, his health will fail him. Mental activity in itself is not a disturbing agent, but there is danger in too great concentration upon one line of thought. Men break down mentally from too much work of one kind, but they may work almost unceasingly if they make a part of their work take upon itself the nature of rest from other occupation. Mr. Gladstone in his long and useful life illustrated this important truth to a remarkable degree. He was never idle, but he had a great variety of mental and physical operations and he rested even while at work. His mental calm was no doubt disturbed at times, but he would turn to his books or seek forgetfulness in his woodlands and thus restore his mental equilibrium. The greatest foe to mental calm, however, is what is called a bad conscience, one that keeps on reminding us night and day some duty neglected or wrong done. One's conscience may be dulled in time, but it is not desirable that it should be quieted by neglect of its admonitions. As long as it is active it will bring disquiet to the wrong doer and thus deprive him of mental calm. Incidentally it will effect his health and deprive him of happiness. Those, therefore would live long and prosper should aim to keep their consciences clear. They cannot hope to be mentally calm if they are conscious of wrong doing, and they will be in a worse state if they can do wrong without upbraiding themselves. One essential element to mental calm, therefore, is an alert conscience that has little to say. The man who has done no wrong enjoys the sleep that knits up the raveled sleeve of care, and rises each morning refreshed for the duties of the day.—Baltimore Sun.

The Business Drift to Great Cities.

The post office receipts of fifty leading cities in the United States show an aggregate gain in the month of April over the corresponding part of last year of $225,000 in round figures. Of this increase, no less than $177,000 is accounted for by the three cities of New York, Chicago, and Philadelphia. Taking Brooklyn with these three centers of trade and industry, and only about $40,000 of the entire gain remains for forty-six cities. In nine cities of the large size the whole increase for fifty cities is found.

Such statistics show how steadily and powerfully the concentration of business is going on in the United States. The drift is toward the largest cities and the largest companies. It is a movement which renders the political social, and business importance of great centers of trade and industry steadily more and more decisive in national affairs. It promises to make the problem a satisfactory government of American cities quite as momentous as the most venturesome special students of urban questions have asserted that they must become.

Fortunately, the suburban street railroad, the automobile and the bicycle have done much to bring city and country nearer together, and they will have still more effect in the future. But the problem of the great city remains a very serious one, from every point of view.—Cleveland Leader.

The question is asked what will become of the poor white boys after 1908, when all persons coming of age must know how to read and write before they can vote? They will be educated, thereby becoming more useful citizens, better able to support themselves and better qualified for the duties of life. The Legislature of 1899 passed a bill introduced and engineered by Senator McIntyre, of this county, appropriating $100,000 from the State treasury for the years 1900 and 1901 to the public schools of the State. This was done without increasing taxes one cent. The $100,000 appropriated for this year has already been apportioned and Robeson county gets of it $2,021. This money, added to the amount collected in the county for public school purposes, makes a sum sufficiently large, we understand, to give a four months term of school in every district in the county. The same appropriation will be made next year and another term of four months insured. But this is not the end. An increased appropriation from the State is already being agitated and the figures set for 1902 and 1903 are $200,000. This will give us longer schools and better schools, in which the poor white boys can be taught to qualify themselves for good citizenship.

Some Freaks of Nature.

Mr. J. W. Lee, of Light, was in to see us one day last week, and, after paying a couple of years subscription, informed us that he has a mare which gave birth to twin mule colts about two weeks ago. The colts are exactly alike in size and color and Mr. Lee says many people have visited his home during the past few days to see them. Twin mules are rather a departure from the natural course of events and hence deserve notice in these columns.

Another "freak of nature," if it might be so termed, is a cow belonging to Mr. Alex. Evans. The aforesaid cow gave birth to a calf three years ago. Last summer she "went dry," and, of course, was not milked. Recently a calf from another cow began suckling the supposed dry animal and now Mr. Evans is getting three gallons of milk each day from his "dry" cow. Mr. Evans is unable to account for the phenomenon.—Davidson Dispatch.

Ex-Governor Thomas J. Jarvis is in the city. He comes here by invitation of State Chairman Simmons to help in the preparation of campaign literature—a task that will detain him in Raleigh for two or three weeks.

This is a work for which Governor Jarvis is well fitted. No man in the State understands the people better. Besides he has made a thorough study of the situation and its needs.

"It is necessary," he said at the Yarboro last night, "that our people should remember the battle is not yet over. It is never won—such a contest—until the votes are counted. Hence until the election in August our people must work. There's plenty to do. The prospects are daily growing brighter but that must cause no man cease his efforts."

Governor Jarvis also urges the importance of putting out good county tickets—especially strong men for the legislature. He realizes that not only will the supreme effort of the opposition be to capture that body, but on the work done in the county canvass depends to a very great extent, the success of the amendment.

Representative Grosvenor, of Ohio, has given out a table of estimates as to the next presidential election. He claims for McKinley 259 electoral votes and concedes to Bryan 174. To elect there is necessary 224. In connection with this The New York World gives as the forecast of a prominent Democrat in Washington, 196 for Bryan 168 for McKinley, and 83 doubtful. He figures 24 sure Democratic States, 17 sure Republican, and four doubtful. The doubtful are New York, Indiana, Ohio and Minnesota. Gen. Grosvenor's estimates concedes the solid South to Bryan and in addition Colorado, Idaho, Montana Nebraska and Utah. The Washington calculator claims for Bryan the solid South and in addition Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, Utah, West Virginia and Wyoming. You pays your money and takes your choice. The point of interest is as to the doubtful States, and as the case stands no candid man thinks that New York and Ohio are doubtful at all. However much if not all depends upon the Kansas City platform.—Charlotte Observer.

Northern Methodists Abolish the Time Limit to Pastoral Charges.

Chicago, May 23.—By a vote of 433 to 238 the General Conference of the Methodists today decided to abolish the pastoral time limit by which a minister has been able to remain in one charge not longer than five successive years. Thus one of the fundamental laws of the denomination and one of the principal features of the itinerant ministry is laid aside and preachers may remain in places as long as the bishops appoint them.

IT WILL PAY YOU TO INVESTIGATE the new policies of the Bankers. The Life, Limited Payment Life and Endowment policies contain all the up-to-date features, many of which are original.

Good Things.

Did you ever look for the "good things" in your life insurance policy? Unless it was in the Bankers Life Insurance Company of the City of New York, you probably found side issues labelled "Grace" "Incontestability," "Loans," and the like, made prominent as "good things." Of course we have these features, too, for the "Bankers" is nothing if not progressive; but—

Did you ever see a policy with which the Company keeps an Individual Account?

Or one in which all earnings are guaranteed to the policy-holder?
Or one which guaranteed both reserve and surplus if surrendered?
Or one which gives all withdrawable surplus at death, in addition to face of policy?

Or one, in fact, which treats the policy-holder with absolute equity, confiscating no portion of the net premiums, and allowing a policy-holder to control his own money at all times, as far as is consistent with a conservative system which embraces the best points of banking and insurance?

If you have never seen any of these "good things," investigate the new policies of the Bankers Life Insurance Company of the City of New York.

Who are its officers and directors? Among them are many of the best known men in New York financial circles.

The Company's record has been unequalled for economical management, safe investments, equitable dealings with its policy-holders and low cost of Insurance Protection.

Miss Olive Daniel left this morning for Hobgood.

Rev. F. A. Bishop went to Elm City this morning.

L. I. Moore returned Thursday from Henderson.

Miss Louise Latham left this morning for Goldsboro.

W. S. Atkins returned Thursday evening from Scotland Neck.

Mrs. W. E. Garrett and children returned Thursday from a trip in Virginia.

James M. Moore came Thursday from Darlington, S. C. to spend a few days here.

Little Miss Ethel Williams came Thursday from Scotland Neck to visit at F. Powell's.

Rev. A. D. Betts took the train here this morning for Louisville, Ky., where he will attend the Annual Reunion of Confederate Veterans there next week.

Military Company.

Some effort is being made to organize a military company in Greenville. Already the names of several of the best men of the town have been secured. This is a good move and we hope that a sufficient number of the best men will join, to organize the company.

Mafeking has been relieved. For long months the little band fought back and held at bay, the eager and enthusiastic Boer forces. This being the last place about which the British had especial concern, it may be said now that the lion is easy and that he will devour the poor Boers in short order. The Africans seem to be on the run and the Britons seem full of cheer. The end may be in sight. It may cost the British a few thousand lives. It will ruin the Boers and will be the end of the rule of Kruger, Steyn & Co., and the South African republics will be stricken from the map of the world.—Lexington Dispatch.

Big Strawberry Crop.

It is expected that this week will mark practically the close of the strawberry season in this section, at least so far as profitable shipment in large quantities to northern and eastern markets is concerned.

It is safe to estimate that an average price of certainly not less than 10 cents per quart has been received for the crop thus far. So that the amount of money which has been distributed along this section of the Wilmington and Weldon and the Atlantic and Yadkin railroads assumes enormous proportions, when the authoritative statement is made that about 1,000 car loads or 9,280,000 quarts of berries have been moved by the Fruit Growers' Express Company alone. Then the Southern Express Company has moved about 60,000 crates, or 1,920,000 quarts. This gives a grand total of 11,200,000 quarts of strawberries.

Estimating that an average price of 10 cents per quart has been received it will give a total of $1,120,000, which has been received for the berries marketed thus far.

It will be of interest to note that the heaviest shipment of berries by refrigerator car was made on Saturday, May 5th, the number being 110 solid car loads. The shipments on Friday of this week were 43 cars, and about the same number were handled yesterday.—Wilmington Messenger.
