A. G. Cox goes over to Greene county today.

J. R. Smith and W. L. Bilbro, of Ayden, were here Monday afternoon.

The furniture factory of this place is not dead but sleepy. See if you don't see signs of breath in it before long.

When the weather is hottest our drinks are coldest.

MOYE & KITTRELL.

Misses Laura Cox and Mollie Bryan went to Greenville Tuesday afternoon.

A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. has been shipping quantities of meal and hominy but are able to fill more orders still.

Winterville has a photographer of its own. J. J. Sutton has made photographs of several groups, also buggies, wagons, &c., and is now able to do very good work.

We want your patronage. Can show you what we do better than we can tell you.

HUNSUCKER CCGE. CO

Rev. John T. Albritton, of Mount Olive, who is well known over the State as one of our oldest preachers and educators, stopped here Saturday morning, preaching for us Saturday and twice Sunday. He was reared just over in Greene county, and taught school at Hookerton. The people of Ayden enjoyed the privilege of hearing him Monday night. Hope his stay among us was as pleasant to him as it was profitable to us, and that he will come again.

Quite a crowd boarded the train here for Ayden last night but a larger crowd will go tonight.

Those needing tobacco flues this year can get them of us as usual. Our grade of work is well known.

A. G. COX, MFG. CO.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wingate have our sympathy in the loss of their baby. It died Monday morning. Rev. J. T. Albritton conducted funeral exercises.

Large drug firms both in Baltimore and Richmond are now ordering Winterville cheroots in big lots.

STATE NEWS.

The postoffice at Marshall was robbed Saturday night. The safe was blown open and $4,000 taken. Part of the money belonged to the county. Two men have been arrested.

A Mecklenburg county negro killed his step-father because the latter beat his mother.

The board of aldermen of High Point have elected a lady, Mrs. L. Flagler, clerk and treasurer of the town.

News has just been received here of the burning of Hotel Ponder at Ocracoke on last Friday. Mr. Credle, the proprietor, only saved a few beds. We have been unable to ascertain the origin at this writing. The sympathy of our community goes out to Mr. Credle in his heavy loss.—Washington Messenger.

The London Mail tells of a man who has found a microbe which will wipe a rat out of existence. He has tried the effect of his microbe in warehouses, farms and other places, and in 50 per cent. of cases the rats completely disappeared. If that fellow wants to make a fortune let him bring the microbe over on this side the big water.

OUR RALEIGH LETTER

Late News Notes.

Special Correspondent of Reflector.

RALEIGH, N. C., May 28, 1900.

Most time for the legislator to pack his grip and start for Raleigh.

Chapel Hill Baptist have extended a "call" to Rev. J. William Jones the well known Confederate parson.

Some of the Rep-Pob. "machinists" have been begging your Uncle Dan'l to keep quiet, and probably with success, judging by the Governor's silence lately.

It is stated that the case of Judge Ewart, who will now necessarily have to retire from the U. S. bench, has occupied more time in the U. S. Senate and in communities at Washington than any similar case in the history of Congress. The President's implied promise (made through a Senator to the committee on the judiciary) not to again re-appoint Ewart saved the Judge from a unanimously unfavorable report. It is believed that Linney will be the next appointee. Can he be confirmed.

It looks as though Roanoke Island will get a Raleigh monument (to cost $5,000) at last, through the efforts, chiefly, of Congressman Small. And that's right, for Sir Walter's visit to that spot had considerable to do with the presence of Mr. Small and the balance of Congress in Washington today—if you will permit the observation. President McNamee of the State Fair hopes to secure the presence of a troop of United States Cavalry at the next Fair. Their maneuvers will be well worth your time to witness.

Hon. Richard H Battle of Raleigh, who has accepted the invitation of the Vance Monument Committee to deliver the address on the occasion of the unveiling of the bronze statue of the eminent North Carolinian, in Capitol Park (probably July 4), was the private secretary of Governor Vance during his first term as the State's Chief Magistrate, during the war, and is familiar with his subject as any living man. Mr. Battle is, moreover, one of the most polished orators and interesting speakers in the State, having few equals as such. It is an admirable selection and the address alone will be worth coming miles to hear.

Rev. W. C. Tyree, of Durham, has been offered the presidency of the Baptist Female College here, and may accept.

The cotton mill men are said to be pleased with the drop in the price of cotton. As the staple is nearly all out of the hands of the growers, the farmers will not suffer much loss. It is the speculators who are on the "mourners' bench" now.

President J. Bryan Grimes of the Tobacco Growers' Association, Secretary T. B. Parker and others of a committee met here a few days ago and consulted with regard to the work of complete organization now going on. Favorable progress was reported, and the "Jordan plan" is still believed to be the best submitted for accomplishing the objects desired.

Asheville is again fortunate: A dispatch from Montreal, Canada, states that "the supreme Council, Royal Arcanum, has selected Asheville, N. C., as the meeting place for 1901."

The State University Commencement exercises begins next Sunday June 3, and closes June 6. Notable addresses by prominent men. The "Carr Building," donated by Gen. J. S. Carr, will be formally presented on Wednesday, the closing day by Col. W. H. S. Burgwyn.

The unveiling of the statue of Governor Vance will probably be deferred two weeks and not take place July 4. A number of good reasons for this have been advanced to the committee, one of which is the absence from the State (at Democratic National Convention) of a number of prominent gentlemen who would like to be present, etc.

LLEWISAM.

Women using Back to Their Needles

There seems to be a revival of interest in needlework as an art. The Ladies' Home Journal asked for photographs of sofa-pillows, and the response to the request was almost overwhelming—pictures literally pouring in. The judges who awarded the prizes for the best examples of this variety of needlework were greatly surprised at the artistic excellence of most of the specimens offered. Better work, and apparently very much more work, is being done with the needle than ever before. The Journal will have several pages showing fifty of the best of these sofa-pillows.

Why So Many Young Men Fail.

"One trouble with many young men who start out in business is they try to do too many things at once," says Hetty Green, "The Richest Woman in America," in the June Ladies' Home Journal. "The result is that they don't know as much as they ought to about any one thing, and they naturally fail. The trouble with young men who work on salaries is that they're always afraid of doing more than they're paid for. They don't enter into their work with the right spirit. To get on and be appreciated a young man must do more than he's paid to do. When he does something that his employer has not thought of he shows that he is valuable. Men are always willing to pay good salaries to people who will think of things for them. The man who only carries out the thoughts and ideas of another is nothing more than a mere tool. Men who can be relied upon are always in demand. The scarest thing in the world to-day is a thoroughly reliable man."

Origin of the Months' Names.

"January was named after the Roman god, Janus; the deity with two faces, one looking into the past and the other gazing forward to the future," writes Clifford Howard, in the June Ladies' Home Journal. "February comes from the Latin word februo, to purify. It was customary for the Romans to observe festivals of purification during that month. March owes its name to the old God of War. Among the Saxons this month was known as Lenct, meaning spring; and this is the origin of our word Lent. April was named from the Latin aperio, to open, in signification of the opening of flowers. The Saxons called the month Eastre, in honor of their Goddess of Spring from which comes our word Easter. May was named after the Roman goddess Maia, and June was so-called in honor of Juno. July was named in honor of Julius Caesar, and August gets its name from Augustus Caesar. September is from the Latin septem, seven, this being the seventh month according to the old Roman calendar. October, November and December also retain the names by which they were known under the old calendar, when there were but ten months in the year—octo, novem and decem, meaning eight, nine and ten."

Census Enumerators can find the pens needed for their work at the Reflector Book store.

A girl should be brought up so as to be able to make her own living, whether or not she's going to inherit a fortune. But a woman's place is in the home, though some women do better in business than men. A girl ought to be careful about the man she marries, too, especially if she has money. She oughtn't to marry until she's old enough to know what she's doing, anyway.—Hetty Green, in the June Ladies' Home Journal.

WINE OF CARDUI

Woman Knows Woman.

ZURICH, KAN., Jan. 31.

I used Wine of Cardui for nervousness and weakness in the womb. After taking one bottle I was well again. I am a midwife and always recommend Wine of Cardui to my lady friends during pregnancy and after birth as a tonic. Every lady who takes it finds that it does even more than is claimed for it.

MRS. V. M. BOISVERT.

WINE OF CARDUI

Nobody knows woman like woman. Men go to medical colleges, study books and listen to lectures. They learn indirectly of the diseases of women, but they are men and can never fully understand the ailments, the sufferings, the agonies of mothers, wives and sisters. A woman knows. Mrs. Boisvert knows. She has passed through the trials and tribulations of her sex. She has been near by when her sisters suffered. She has seen them relieved and cured with Wine of Cardui. Is it any wonder that thousands of other women recommend it. They know. They have actual experience to prompt them. They spread the tidings from mouth to mouth, telling how Wine of Cardui helps young girls, helps the weak of all ages, helps and cures all womanly ills.

Jury's Verdict.

The Coroner's jury after an all-night's session until seven o'clock this morning rendered a verdict in the case of Nora Vines, who was supposed to have been murdered Saturday night. The verdict was "That she came to her death by some violent cause unknown to the jury." Two of the jurors recommended that Marion Perkins, who was arrested upon suspicion, be confined in the jail, where he now is until the September term of court.

There are in the Kansas penitentiary fifty-three convicts under sentence of death for murder. They have been accumulating for twenty-five years because the law puts the responsibility for their execution on the Governors, and within that time no Governor has signed a death warrant. They have all refused to do it. Of these fifty-three only one is anxious to be hanged, and he has petitioned three Governors to sign his death warrant so he can swing out of Kansas and the penitentiary. In his chagrin at their refusal he has tried several times to execute himself, but failed. He is troubled with remorse of conscience because in a moment of passion he brained his wife with an axe, and didn't know how well he loved her until he had killed her.—Wilmington Star.

Small Fire.

There came near being a serious fire up at Col. Harry Skinner's residence Tuesday evening. The kitchen roof caught on fire by sparks falling from the chimney, a small hole was burned in the roof but was put out before any alarm was given to the fire department.

They Do Not Think

It is to be regretted that some of the nicest boys of Greenville gather at the church doors at night while people are going in church, and sit on the steps, stand around the doors, and strike matches, and smoke, and talk loud, and laugh. There is an unthoughtfulness in this, that surely they have not considered. If any boys were thoughtless enough to gather around the front door of any citizen of the town in such manner they would be asked to desist, and still the church is the house of God and should be regarded as sacred. Boys don't do this again, it does not do you credit.

GOING FORWARD.

The Development of Greenville.

To those who have lived and observed the town of Greenville for twenty years, there is much cause to congratulate the town upon its progress. Steady and sure it has grown. Eighteen years ago the old coach shop of John Flanagan, the only shop in the county where high grade buggies and carriages were made, turned out fifty buggies per annum. Then the town was in the same proportion. One who will now visit the large establishment of the John Flanagan Buggy Company under the management and ownership of O. Hooker and Robt. Greene, who are putting up six hundred buggies and phaetons yearly, and walk around and see the improved machinery that does much of the work formerly done by hand, with their new addition recently built, can form some idea of how the town is developing, and how the country surrounding is also going forward in a like proportion.

There is no county in the State more susceptible of a high development than Pitt county. A ride in the country for a day or two demonstrates the fact to a pleasing degree. What will twenty five years of the new century reveal? White supremacy, many improved methods and more thorough economics. There are good times a head for the people of old Pitt.

Three hundred of the leading attorneys in this State publish a signed statement of their belief that the Constitutional Amendment disfranchising illiterate negroes is constitutional and that it must stand or fall as a whole.
