TUESDAY, JUNE 26, 1900.

A colored Primitive Baptist church near Tarboro adopted resolutions expressive of their opinion that if the Constitutional Amendment passes it would be better for them to leave the State. The resolution further advised that in such event Georgia would be a good State for them to emigrate to. The colored people need not think they are alarming anybody by making a threat to leave. They would suffer far more by such a step than the State would suffer. No State does more to educate, help and take care of the colored people than does North Carolina, and the adoption of the amendment itself would be a benefit to them in that it would prove the greatest stimulus to education they have ever known. But if they want to leave, the State can find a way to get along without them.

The resolution adopted by a colored church in Edgecombe county advising the colored people to leave the State if the Constitutional Amendment is adopted, gives another strong argument why the Amendment should be adopted. They say if they are denied the right to vote here they want to go to some State like Georgia where they still have the right to vote. Now what will be the result in North Carolina if we fail to carry the Amendment? Why, this State would become the Mecca for the negroes of all the States which have an educational qualification to the ballot. South Carolina, Louisiana and Mississippi already have such a law, Virginia will soon have it, and if North Carolina fails there will be such an influx of ignorant negroes into this State as to make it intolerable. White men, this concerns you. For your own safety you cannot vote against the Amendment.

CONDITION ELSEWHERE

Gov. Jarvis Writes Encouragingly on the Outlook—Pitt Must Do Her Duty.

Gov. Jarvis is as usual taking an active part in the campaign, and even though quite busy making speeches in various parts of the State, he finds time to send home a word of encouragement. Under date of 22nd he writes the editor an interesting letter from Granville county, and while it is addressed personally we are going to take the liberty of giving most of it to REFLECTOR readers.

The Governor says:

I find conditions decidedly improved in the middle section of the State and growing better every day. I feel confident that by the day of election the people will fully understand the amendment, that the misrepresentation put out by those who look to the negro vote for office, will be cleared up and that the white people will be nearly solid for the amendment and the Democratic ticket.

The amendment when properly understood must convince thoughtful, unprejudiced, fair minded people that its ratification will be for the good of all classes.

It will not hurt the white man because it does not disfranchise him. It recognizes his fitness to vote whether he can read and write or not and provides that no white man shall ever be disfranchised; and I do not care what those who oppose the amendment may say. I assert that no white man need fear to vote for it for fear it will disfranchise him.

It will not hurt the negro because there is nothing in politics for him and it takes him out of politics and holds out an inducement to him to go to work and fit himself and his children to become better citizens and qualified to discharge its duties and to understand what he is doing when he votes.

It secures, in my opinion, the education of the coming generations. When this amendment becomes a law, fathers will send their sons to school and if the father does not send them they will find a way themselves to learn to read and write before they become twenty-one years old.

It is only the fellow who has been relying on the negro vote for office that will be hurt and for him we need waste no tears.

I am anxious that Pitt shall come up to the full measure of her duty in this great crisis and that she shall give the amendment and the Democratic ticket a great big majority. It can be done if everybody will do their full duty. It must be done. Press this upon the people day after day in your paper.

Truly Yours,
THOMAS J. JARVIS.

OUR RALEIGH LETTER

A Great Host of Republicans and Populists Declaring for the Amendment.

Special Correspondent of Reflector.
RALEIGH, N. C., June 25th, 1900.

The most prominent and impressive development of the State campaign during the past week has been the avalanche of "announcements,"—in print and by word of mouth—on the part of self-respecting white men who have been aligned with the opposition for years that they now intend to support and vote for the Constitutional Amendment. Many of these are old-line Republicans and a larger number are former fusion Populists who have followed Butler blindly for years—but not so blindly that they cannot tell a white boy from a mulatto—and, not being so careless and unmindful of the present and future of their race, have at last cut loose from that selfish, self-seeking demagogue.

PRESIDENTIAL POLITICS.

The office holders who went to Philadelphia last week to go through the form of nominating "Marse Mack" for a second term, and Teddy Roosevelt, have returned home—including Duncan (revenue collector), Bailey (postmaster) Milliken (U. S. marshal), Abbott (railroad commissioner), Martin (postmaster), Adams (gubernatorial candidate and secretary N. C. Railroad), Pritchard (senator), Boyd (U. S. Assistant Attorney General), negro White (Congressman), negro Hagans (White's secretary), negro Russell (revenue doodle under Duncan), and several others, including more negroes and office holders, who constitute the delegation. Nearly every one a pie eater and dependent on "Marse Mack" for his job.

A week hence the Democrats will be journeying to Kansas City, where on July 4 Mr. Bryan will be again nominated also. As in the case with the republicans, it is impossible to tell in advance, even a week in advance who the vice presidential candidate will be, or is likely to be, even. It can be pretty safely counted on, however, that Butler's man Towne (a "free silver Republican") will not be the nominee by a large majority. But Butler will not grieve for that. It is his secret desire to have two vice-presidential candidates in the field if he can possibly persuade Towne to stick. 'Twould give him the chance to "trade" he seeks.

TRICK TO VOTE YOUNG NEGROES.

Tax listers are warned against listing negro boys, apparently seventeen to twenty years who have appeared in numbers in some counties and demanded to have their poll tax listed—owning no property that is all they can ask. It has been learned that this is a part of the anti-amendment "fusion" scheme to get the names of these negro boys on the tax lists, so that if when they attempt to vote, they are challenged for being under age they can point to the tax lists as proof that they are twenty one. Of course they will not, and do not intend, to pay the poll tax. Make them prove their age to your satisfaction, or else refuse to place their names on the tax roll.

LLEWIS.

WASHINGTON LETTER

From Our Regular Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25 1900.

The Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee will make a specialty of circulating literature showing up republican extravagance in public expenditures. Notable in this class of literature is the speech of Representative Livingston, of Georgia, in which he said: "And I call attention also to the constant and gradual increase in the appropriations for Pensions, and likewise to the legislative, executive, and judicial appropriations. These items could not have been affected to any great extent by the Spanish American war. It shows, indeed, an increase all along the line, despite the fact that the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds have held back all matters before them, and the Committee on Rivers and Harbors all matters before them, with two or three exceptions, and all accounts and claims have been practically barred from consideration at this session. It should be borne in mind that in the case of the appropriations for the Navy, the authorization of the eight new warships, two battle-ships, three armored cruisers and three protected cruisers, involves an ultimate expenditure for construction, armor and armament, of something like $56,000,000, not one dollar of which is now appropriated. The dominant party attempted to commit this Congress at this session, and will doubtless renew their efforts at the coming session to so commit the government to what is known as the ship-subsidy scheme, which involves the sum of $120,000,000 to be expended throughout a term of years."

Senator Harris, of Kansas, said of the political outlook just before leaving Washington, for his home: "The people are not to be deluded into the idea that the existing prosperity is the product of the republican administration. We are having prosperity in the West, but it is due to good seasons, hard work, rigid economy and self-denial. Unfavorable conditions elsewhere, even now, are advancing the price of wheat, which will greatly benefit the farmers of Kansas and the West, but these unfavorable conditions were not brought around by republican administration. The people understand the reasons for these things. Further than this, the people recognize that the late session of Congress gave to the trusts of all kinds all that they asked for. They also recognize that Congress absolutely refused to do for the country those things which were demanded irrespective of party, such as an amended Interstate Commerce law, Anti-Trust Legislation a reduction of the War Taxes, providing for the Nicaraguan Canal, and other things." Senator Harris says the Bryan ticket will carry Kansas easily, and if the right candidate for Vice President is nominated at Kansas City several other middle western states.

Republicans are condemning their own management of Cuban affairs by widely advertising the fact that since the exposure of the wholesale stealing of Cuban funds by republican officials, there have been reductions in the salary list in Havana alone which will result in a saving of $1,200,000 a year. Such an open acknowledgement of extravagance and incompetency, has seldom if ever been made by an American administration.

How Advertising Pays.

Two farmers were once discussing their local paper. One thought it had too many advertisements in it. The other replied: "In my opinion the advertisements are far from being the least valuable part of it. I look them over carefully and save at least five times the cost of the paper each week through the business advantages I get from them."

Said the other: "I believe you are right—I know that they pay me well and rather think that it is not good taste to find fault after all."

It pays any man to take a good local paper for the sake of the advertisements if nothing more. And if business men fail to give farmers a chance to read advertisements in the local paper, they are all blind to their interests, to say the least of it.

"You never trade with me," said a business man to a prosperous farmer. "You never ask me and I never go where I am not invited; I might not be welcome," was his reply.

It doesn't take an acrobatic bookkeeper to strike a trial balance.

No, Maude, dear, the quack doctor does not always wear duck trousers.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

Show me a girl's bureau and I'll tell you her favorite actor.

Ananias probably made most of his reputation while he was courting.

Lots of men who won't ever be arrested for bigamy have got one wife too many.

The woman who refuses to tell their age to the census man are generally old enough to know better.

You can always tell an old bachelor by the way he makes the baby cry trying to make it laugh.—The New York Press.

Some wives object to being called the better half—they think they are the whole thing.

To the man who has a cold in his head a rose by any other name would smell as wheat.

TIMELY DISCOVERY PREVENTS FIRE.

W. A. Bright Charged With Firing a Building and Bound Over to Court.

An attempt was made Monday night about 8:30 o'clock, to burn the brick building belonging to Mr. W. H. Harrington, on Fourth street, just back of the brick building owned by Mr. J. A. Brady.

Some one passing saw smoke pouring out of the windows and cracks of the building and gave the alarm. A crowd of men ran there with buckets, but at first could not locate the fire. The building was filled with smoke but no one could tell where the fire was. Finally it was located between the partition ceiling of W. A. Bright's bar and the adjoining room. It was soon put out by the building being flooded with water from both the steamer and hand engine.

When the doors were broken open the smell of oil was strong and two or three persons got oil on their hands from the partition where it had been poured.

After the fire in the partition was put out the floor was so hot that Chief Police Smith thought there must be fire under the floor. Seizing an axe he began cutting a hole in the floor when he discovered a trap door in the back room of Bright's bar about four feet from where the fire in the partition was. Mr. Smith went down through it and discovered a quantity of charred coals and paper and grass soaked in oil, about four feet from the trap door and under the partition. The trap door in the floor was cut so smooth and covered with saw dust that it was not noticed until he began to cut the floor with the axe. There was no way in which the splinters, paper and grass could have been put where it was found except through the trap door from inside the building.

Mr. Bright was suspected of having set fire to the building and a warrant charging him with arson was sworn out against him. He was arrested by Chief of Police Smith and taken before Justice of the Peace W. H. Long for trial. Mr. Bright refused to be tried before Mr. Long on the ground that he did not believe he could get justice and asked that he be given an immediate hearing before some other Magistrates. This being refused him, he tried to give bail but it being a capital offense this was also refused him. He was put in jail to await trial this morning at ten o'clock.

The trial this morning was before justices of the Peace A. A. Forbes and Ola Forbes. F. G. James appeared for the State and Skinner & Whedbee and M. R. Eure for the defense.

From the evidence it was shown that Mr. Bright was in his bar about twenty or thirty minutes before the fire occurred and came out and went to his home. He had had a load of goods hauled from his place of business that afternoon to his home, in South Greenville, and that Mr. Bright was the only person who had a key to the bar. He also admitted to one of the witnesses that his stock of goods would not exceed one hundred dollars in value and the bar-room fixtures twenty dollars; and it was shown that he had insurance amounting to nine hundred dollars.

The judgment of the court was that the defendant be bound over to the September term of Superior court under a six hundred dollar justified bond, which he gave.

Mr. Bright's license to retail liquor were revoked by the Mayor two weeks ago upon his being convicted of selling on Sunday, and his bar had not since been kept open.

Happenings in North Carolina.

There are several cases of small-pox among white people in Charlotte.

The Atlantic Coast Line railroad shops at Rocky Mount are to be doubled in size.

The Southerner says that while Rev. Mr. Yearby was preaching his first sermon in the Methodist church at Tarboro, Sunday night he was seized with vertigo and had to leave the church in the midst of the discourse. The attack was due to weakness from poor health.

Major Wm. M. Robbins, one of the commissioners of the Gettysburg National Military Park, has been invited as an ex-Confederate soldier, by General Albert D. Shaw, chief of the G. A. R., to deliver an address at Silver Lake Assembly, Wyoming county, New York, on Grand Army Day, July 26th, and he has accepted the invitation.

A strange negro appeared in Oxford one day last week and was very insolent to all classes of citizens. Among other things he did was to deliberately shove a young lady off the sidewalk just because she happened to be in his way. Next morning the body of the negro was found on the street with six bullet holes in it.

While Mr. Chasen, manager of the farm of Capt. A. B. Williams, at Hampton, Bladen county, was sitting at supper Saturday night, surrounded by his family, he fell from his chair, his head blown to pieces by a shot fired from the darkness outside. A private feud is supposed to have provoked the assassination.
