MORE NEGRO INSOLENC

Attempts Assault and is Knocked Down.

We learn today of another attempted assault, which occurred at Mr. John Forbes' home, about three miles from Greenville, Saturday evening.

John Braswell, a negro, went into Mr. Forbes' yard and began to sharpen his knife on the grindstone when Mrs. James Pollard, a niece of Mr. Forbes, ordered the negro out of the yard. The negro refused to leave and began cursing and abusing those on the premises. After he had finished sharpening his knife he started in the house, but before he could get in he was met and deliberately knocked out of the door by Mr. Manassas Forbes. A warrant was sworn out against the negro and he was brought here this afternoon for trial.

He was sentenced to thirty days in jail and taxed with the cost in the case.

No reason can be assigned for the negro's conduct unless from the fact that he came here Saturday and tried to register, but being unable to prove to the Registrar that he was a qualified voter he refused to register him. The negro left town Saturday afternoon mad and it is supposed he wanted to do some one harm and went to Mr. Forbes' with that intent.

Mayor's Court.

Mayor Moyer has disposed of nine cases during the past week as follows:

James A. Sutton, drunk and disorderly conduct, guilty, fined one dollar and cost, amounting to $3.20.

Noah Hardy, disorderly conduct, guilty, fined $2.50 and cost, amounting to $5.20.

George Taylor, disorderly conduct, guilty, fined $2.50 and cost, amounting to $5.75.

William Moyer, drunk and disorderly conduct, guilty, fined $2.50 and cost, amounting to $4.70.

Tom Gatlin and William Hanrahan, drunk and disorderly conduct, guilty, fined one dollar and cost, amounting to $4.40 each.

Dock Clark, drunk and disorderly conduct, guilty, fined $5 and cost, amounting to $8.20.

William Lewis, disorderly conduct, guilty, fined $5 and cost, amounting to $8.15.

Sam Bryant, allowing his stock to run at large, guilty, fined one dollar and cost, amounting to $2.95.

Charlie Barrett, disorderly conduct, guilty, fined $10 and cost, amounting to $12.50.

Wait until First Monday

It has been suggested that instead of the tobacco market opening for the new season on the first day of August (Wednesday) that it would be better to wait until after election which falls on the next day and begin the market on the first Monday in the month. We believe this is a good suggestion. A few days delay would not effect the market, while it would give some mighty good workers a chance to put in some good efforts for white supremacy at the election. The tobacco men might take this under consideration.

The only time the average man is glad to take a back seat is when he goes to church.

They Stand The Test.

That is what Every Pair of

Dutchess Pants

Is guaranteed to do. Can you imagine a severer test than to tie one leg of a pair of pants to the ceiling and swing a keg of nails weighing 110 pounds to the other leg? That is the test seen in our window and hundreds of people have looked in wonder.

Dutchess Pants

are built to stand any kind of service and a guarantee goes with every pair—10 cents if a button pulls off or $1 if they rip. Get the best when you buy and be sure you get the Dutchess! None genuine without the name on the button.

MONDAY, JULY 16, 1900.

Isaac A. Meekins, the Republican nominee for Congress in this district, is boasting that he will be elected by 2,000 majority. We will show Isaac a thing or two about that when the November election comes.

It was a fine speech F. I. Osborn, of Charlotte, made in the Court House here Saturday afternoon. The "Dakota Steer" (Congressman Kelly) would not give a division of time with Osborn, but the latter spoke later in the day and had a big crowd to hear him. His speech was full of good reasoning on the amendment and did much good.

Next Governor Aycock says the Amendment will be carried in North Carolina by 50,000 majority. And he is guessing pretty close around the correct figure. The Amendment is sure to be carried and the question now remaining is only as to the size of the majority. However, there is yet plenty of work for Democrats to be doing and they must watch every point.

Philadelphia and Kansas City have exemplified to all other communities the pleasant duty and profound wisdom of caring solicitously for delegates and visitors in a great convention season. Floods of congratulations are still pouring in on both cities, and the reward of public gratitude thus earned is by no means the least important of the accruing advantages. The records of the convention cities of 1900 will serve as perpetual bars to future neglect, extortion or parsimony in the treatment of future similar gatherings. As with men, so with cities—it pays to be honest, courteous and generous.—Philadelphia Record.

If the scalawags who pretend to be white men were informed that they would be held responsible for the incendiary advice they are giving the negroes in different parts of the State, all this talk of what will be done to Democrats would be hushed up. If the negroes had any sense they would know that their white allies will be missing when danger comes, and they (the negroes) only will suffer. Over here in Wilson county we hold both the negroes and their advisors responsible in case of trouble. Our people have their eyes on the fellows who are inclined to stir up mischief.—Wilson Times.

The Postoffice Department has ordered the establishment of rural free delivery service at Smithfield, N. C., beginning July 23rd.

Democrats Should Keep Working.

There should not be any relaxation at all by a single Democrat in the campaign for the amendment. This is a life and death struggle for North Carolina, and lovers of the Old North State should not take repose while the fight is being waged. The amendment must be carried by so overwhelming a majority that no quibbling shall ever afterwards be heard.

The desperation of the fusionists is beginning to know no bounds. With the failure to disrupt the Democratic party by every falsehood known, they were enraged, and their rage increased as they saw the Democrats in solid line when the campaign had gotten under way good and the mists had been cleared away. But this was nothing compared with their chagrin and disappointment when they beheld the beginning of a large exodus from their ranks of the best and most honorable men of their party. The Populists as a party have deserted them, and many of the best Republicans are doing so every day. Let Democrats keep up the work of persuasion, so that by August the second, there will be few white men in line on the side of negro corruption.—Greensboro Telegram.

North Carolina Leads.

The American Wool and Cotton Reporter of Boston, the leading textile paper of the United States, has summed up all the new cotton and other textile mills built, projected and enlarged during the first six months of 1900. In publishing the list the Reporter states that "as usual North Carolina leads" every State in the Union, with South Carolina second. The Southern cotton manufacturers are now endeavoring to eliminate the middle-men, known as the "commission merchant," who handle at their Northern houses all the products of Southern mills sold to jobbers, wholesale merchants, etc., and charge a stiff commission for doing so. A committee has just been to Philadelphia, representing the Southern Cotton Spinners' Association, with this object in view, the purpose being to establish houses of their own. This has raised a great rucus with the Northern commission men, naturally, who dislike to lose a fat thing like this. New mill companies continue to spring up in North Carolina, the latest one being the Barnhardt, at Charlotte, where a dozen fine mills are now in operation, and where at least two and probably three new ones will be erected within six months.

A Word of Counsel

It had better be said now than after it is too late: There is reason for believing that the political situation in North Carolina is ominous—matters are getting near the danger line. The Winston registrar incident is significant. Even more so the assault upon the chairman of the Democratic executive committee of Pitt county; that upon a democratic registrar in Cumberland; the attempt to kill a registrar in Montgomery and other like occurrences which have been noted within the past week. Meantime Butler and others of that kidney are going over the State making inflammatory speeches, and H. F. Seawell, the populist candidate for Attorney General, was moved on when he appeared at Laurinburg some days ago to make a speech, the reason being that in a recent speech at Pittsboro he had characterize as "a cowardly murder" the killing of "an inoffensive negro" at Laurinburg in 1898, whereas the negro was a fugitive from South Carolina justice and had made himself as obnoxious in Laurinburg as he knew how to be. The people of Laurinburg would scarcely have denied this man Seawell liberty of speech without good reason, and we readily accept the statement of The Laurinburg Exchange that this was done for reasons having reference to "a proper regard for the public good."

It is not intended by what is here said to threaten anybody; the people of North Carolina are a tolerant folk; but when it is sought to bully them, or when one goes about among them arousing the worst passions of the ignorant and vicious, they are apt to call a halt and when they do so they call it peremptorily. No, this is not a threat but a word of friendly advice which needs to be read, marked and inwardly digested.—Charlotte Observer.

Peaches Among Pine Trees.

Two years ago Mr. Dukes put out six acres in peach trees among the living pines. People would come by his orchard and tell him that his trees would never live among the pines. Mr. Dukes is original, if anything, and he advanced the theory that the pines would protect his fruit trees from the scorching sun in summer and the severity of the winter's blight. It was left for time to tell the story—Mr. Dukes being the originator of this new scheme of having a peach orchard right out in the piney woods. This year two-year-old trees are laden with some of the largest and most luscious peaches that ever grew on a tree. Now people who, two years ago, attempted to gey Mr. Dukes about his new ideas of fruit growing, are going to follow in his path and do likewise. It is said that not a dead tree can be found among the pines, while further up, where the timber has been removed, some of the trees have died, while others do not look nearly so well.—Moultrie (Ga.) Observer.

First Bale of Cotton Crop Sold at Austin.

The first bale of cotton to be raised and gathered in the United States this season passed through here today consigned to a New Orleans firm. It was grown in San Patricio county, Tex., by S. G. Borden and neighboring planters.

It weighs 564 pounds and sold for 12½ cents a pound in addition to the premium of $120 paid by the buyers. It will be auctioned off in New Orleans and then shipped to New York and Boston, where it will be auctioned off a second and third time.

The proceeds from these auctions go to some charitable purpose. The first bale of cotton last year was also grown in Patricio county, and was presented to Governor Sayers for the benefit of the Brazos Valley sufferers.

It was resold several times in New Orleans and several Eastern cities, and over $1,200 was realized from that source for the flood sufferers.—Austin, Tex., Dispatch, 12th.

There are several white men in the county who feel that they are in the "wrong pew" in the course they are taking in politics, but who are ashamed to acknowledge it. They now have a fine opportunity to show their manhood, but it will be too late after the 2nd day of August.—Louisburg Times.

The Chatham Record makes the excellent point that there have been two Populist candidates for Governor of North Carolina—Dr. W. P. Exum and Maj. W. A. It is noted in an Atchison (Kan.) paper that a woman left a pocket book containing $186 on a chair in front of a hotel in that city, and on returning three hours later found it safe and sound. The Kansas City Journal explains thrt "as a rule people pass along the streets of Atchison oftener than this. It really isn't so bad as the story might indicate."

Ask Your Wife.

A few days ago a Democrat asked a lady in Kinston if her husband would vote for the amendment. Her reply was that he would; if he didn't she would not let him live with her. Another lady was asked if her husband would support the measure. She replied that she didn't know, but wished he would.

In the great issue between the supremacy of the white race and domination of the blacks, if any white man has any doubt as to how he should vote, let him ask his wife. He will never be confronted with a more important question, a question that will more affect his and his children's future welfare. It is his duty to ask his wife, if he has any doubt in the matter.

If the carrying of the amendment were left to the women of North Carolina it would be carried by 100,000 majority.

Ask your wife how you shall vote as to the amendment.—Kinston Free Press.

Is it worse to do things without thinking than it is to think without doing things?

Woman in her summer robes of spotless white is earth's only angel of pure delight.

The high walls of environment can never fetter the child of genius, for the world is his field.

'Tis worry that makes women whimper and makes men whine. 'Tis work that makes us happy on the way.

Love needs no lexicon—the eye is the heliograph which sends the thrilling message that fills the soul with angelic music.

The humble mechanic who is a past grand master in his line of labor is as much an artist as he who paints a great picture.

Though the future may darkly frown, look up to the halo of hope, and ere long it will cast aside every cloud with a resplendent radiance.

The storm-clouds of trouble may wildly surge, but there will a glorious triumph at last if only one loving heart sends out a signal of sympathy to strengthen your soul.

We never look at an infant—the ideal of innocence—without a pang of pain, for we wish it could never know the worries of a world which is ever wayward, and whose polluting touch in after years will poison the purity of its snow-white soul.
