FEMALES CHOO.

The Town Certainly Waking Up.

No spirit of progress has taken hold of Greenville that strikes a more popular chord, or meets a more urgent need than the step just taken by Greenville Lodge No 284 A. F. & A. M., to establish a female school here. For years there has been waiting and hoping that the town would get a good school of this kind, and as it failed to come otherwise the Masons resolved that they would establish a school and conduct it under the auspices of the Lodge, thus bringing to it the confidence and cooperation of the community.

Acting upon this idea the Lodge held a meeting Tuesday afternoon to consider the matter, and though it had but twenty-four hours notice there was a large attendance and all were enthusiastic for the enterprise. At this meeting it was decided to establish the school and begin with the opening of the fall schools. The Lodge owns a suitable building and lot on the corner of Pitt and Second streets for a school.

A Board of Trustees consisting of Worshipful Master R. L. Carr, Rev. N. M. Watson, J. R. Moore, Harry Skinner, R. W. King, L. H. Pender and D. J. Whichard was chosen to have the direction of the school, to employ teachers and make any necessary arrangements.

It is highly creditable to the Masons that they have taken this step. The community should honor them for it and should give their aid in making a school for girls of which Greenville may be proud.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 25, 1900.

Keep the fact well in mind that the election comes on Thursday, the 2nd day of August, and that the Constitutional Amendment, State officers and township officers are all to be voted for.

Major W. A. Guthrie, of Durham, spoke to a good audience in the Court House here Tuesday night. The speech was of a very high order and a little out of the ordinary line of political speeches. He made many strong points and the audience did not fail to catch them and chattered him to the echo, in fact it was one of the most enthusiastic crowds we have seen during this campaign. In his closing remarks Major Guthrie with great force and emphasis declared that he would support that sterling Democrat and Christian gentleman C. B. Aycock for Governor, the entire State Democratic ticket together with the county ticket down to township Constable, and these utterances were greeted with applause that was truly deafening. Greenville is glad that the Major came among us and his audience last night was delighted with his speech.

Is it not a bit strange that every negro fully understands the meaning of the Constitutional Amendment, and yet there are many white men who seem not to understand it? Every negro knows that it means to disfranchise all of his race who cannot read and write. Some negroes who can read and write have said that they would be in favor of the Amendment if it took both races alike and disfranchised the illiterate white man too. Don't you see that they know only the negroes will be disfranchised? And yet some white men talk like they would be in favor of it if they just knew it would not disfranchise any white man. The white man certainly ought to be able to understand the Amendment as well as the negro. We do not believe there is a single white man who is opposed to the Amendment because he does not understand it. If he votes against it about the only plausible reason is that he thinks the negro makes as good a citizen as the white man and he is willing to see him dominating the affairs of the State and menacing the peace and happiness of our homes.

There was a big Democratic rally at LaGrange on Monday at which Gov. Jarvis spoke. The LaGrange correspondent of the Kingston Free Press says:

Ex-Gov. T. J. Jarvis was in the best trim and for nearly two hours spoke to a crowd variously estimated at from 1,500 to 2,000, with increasing enthusiasm as his speech progressed, and doubtless he made many votes for the amendment. The governor knows how to hold the attention of the people—they have confidence in him.

A Woman Who Holds Her Tongue.

The other day I heard of a man of the name of George Gould living at New Rochelle, N. Y., whose wife has lived in the same house and sat at the same table with him without speaking to him for more than twenty years. They were married in 1863 and have four children who are grown and three of them are married. About 20 years ago husband and wife quarreled and the letter, becoming angry at one of his remarks, declared that she would never speak to him again until he apologized. He is too stubborn to apologize and she has become accustomed to silence. They sleep and eat and sit together like husbands and wives. They drive to town in the same buggy, occupy the same pew at church; she mends his stockings, sews the buttons on his shirts and fulfills all the other wifely duties in the ordinary commonplace way except that of conversation, and the husband has become accustomed to the situation by long experience. He talks to her without reserve, but when it is necessary for her to communicate with him she does so through her daughter, who lives with them and plays the part of a telephone for the old lady.—Chicago Record.

A Record Of Violence.

In the North the Democrats of the South are under the charge of visiting violence upon their political opponents, white and black. There was never a campaign in North Carolina attended by the same amount of personal violence that has characterized that now drawing to a close, and we do not recall that in a single instance has a Democrat been the aggressor. The Republicans have been on the offensive in every case. Two of the most recent and outrageous incidents of this kind are reported in The Sampson Democrat of this week, and in the staff correspondence of The Observer from Lumberton yesterday. In the first case, Mr. John D. Kerr, chairman of the Democratic executive committee of Sampson, was a quiet auditor of the speech of Congressman Kelly, of South Dakota, at Clinton, when he was approached and insulted by a party of three young men. To avoid a difficulty he moved his seat, but was followed and again insulted. Moving again he was again followed, insulted, assaulted and beaten—all without the slightest provocation on his part. The other story is that at Whiteville, Columbus county, a few days ago, J. A. Brown, Esq., Democratic Senator from Columbus and candidate for re-election, was invited to the office of D. J. Lewis, his fusion opponent, on pretence of arranging a joint debate, and going there was set upon by a party of thugs evidently assembled for the purpose, and cruelly beaten.

These recitals are calculated to stir the blood, but these are only two cases of a long list—our news columns have told, from time to time, within the past weeks, of insults heaped upon and assaults committed upon humble white men on the public highways, at their homes and at places of public assemblage, and in all cases it was on account of politics and the aggressors were Republicans or fusionists and the victims Democrats.

This has been the record in North Carolina this year; the Democratic party has shown itself to be the party of peace; the Republican party the party of violence. Under the taunts and insults to which their fellow party men have been subjected; under the system of persecution set on foot by the Republican managers and worked through United States commissioners; in the face of the stories of violence committed upon the persons offending Democrats, the high spirited men of this party have reason to congratulate themselves upon and to be astonished at their moderation.—Charlotte Observer.

For the Negroes Own Good

It is noted with interest that a colored minister of Winston, Rev. A. McLees, in a sermon to his people, advised them of get out of politics. It would have been better for the negroes, he said, if they had divided their votes, instead of being slaves to the Republican party. What he says derives additional value from the fact that he is a South Carolinian, in which State he says the negroes are better off and happier than in this State by reason of the fact that they do not meddle with politics. Thus we have from the mouth of a black man a repetition of the argument advanced in North Carolina in view of the vote soon to be taken upon the suffrage amendment, by the best friends the negroes have to wit: that the adoption of the amendment will be the greatest kindness possible to the negro himself. His white neighbor is altogether disposed to like him, but but cannot do so as long as he arrays himself solidly and consistently in every election against the white man's interest. It seems that by his nature and teachings he will do this as long as he is in politics, and hence the sooner he gets out of it the better for all concerned.

The best class of whites, in their support of the amendment, are not animated by a spirit of hate, but of friendliness to the negroes. The Winston colored divine has it right—the negro should get out of politics for his own good. It is to be regretted that he would not divide his vote while he yet had it; that he has shown no appreciation of the responsibilities of citizenship; that it has been found necessary to remove him forcibly from the political arena.—Charlotte Observer.

Hon. E. V. Cox in Moore.

Mr. Victor Cox, a lifelong Republican of Pitt county, spoke at the academy last Friday night on the amendment. It was one of the best speeches we have heard since the campaign opened, on this question. How any white man could go to the polls after hearing him picture the conditions in the eastern counties under negro rule and vote against the amendment is beyond our comprehension. The white man who will let pie and prejudice control him in a thing like this is to be pitied. Mr. Cox has made quite a number of speeches in favor of the amendment since the campaign opened. He is in favor of the measure because he wants to see the black incubus removed from the body politic.—Sanford Express.

It is said that the nut trees of the world alone could, if necessity should arise, provide food all the year 'round for a total population three times greater than the present. It has been pointed out to the Washington Department of Agriculture that Brazil nuts around Para grow in such profusion that thousands of tons of them are wasted every year; with coconuts it is the same in many centres. Nuts ground in various ways are rapidly coming into favor, and it is predicted that in the near future nut-flour will compete successfully with wheat flour.

In the general character of a newspaper it is easy to tell what kind of readers it has. In framing his advertisements the intelligent business man will conform to this that its circulation is mainly due. He knows that persons who are attracted by a particular newspaper will be most easily reached by advertising announcements of the same tone.—Philadelphia Record.

WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., July 25.

J. D. Cox, our candidate for surveyor, is suffering with rheumatism.

It was an oversight on the part of your correspondent last week not to note the arrival of Miss Charlotte Dixon, who had spent several weeks away from home at Scotland Neck, Halifax and other places.

We received a letter from a customer in another State last week reading like this—"Your buggies billed June 16th received and I am very much pleased with them. You can send me at once 4 top buggies just exactly like the one sent, also two open buggies." We hope to get more of such letters.

D. D. Stawls, a young man from Williamston, has accepted a position with A. G. Cox Mfg. Co.

A. G. Cox has begun work on his new residence.
 Miss Nina Cannon is visiting Misses Minnie and Dora Cox.

READERS & FRIENDS:—Have you ever in your life used one of our wagons, a pair of our cart wheels, or any of our economic back bands for plow or wagon harness? If you have, and will favor us with a letter or card telling us what you think of them in your own way, it will be very much appreciated. We mean business, and will publish your letter in THE REFLECTOR, also include in our circular letters, which we are accustomed to send out this fall. If you knew of how much value just a word from you might be in introducing our goods in new territory, we are sure you would respond. Awaiting prompt replies from all our customers who read this.

A. G. COX MFG. CO.
 Joseph Dixon, who has been visiting his father at this place, returned to his barge at Addenton's mill Monday morning. He brought the barge from Baltimore, and while it was being loaded with lumber at Addentons, he spent about three days here.

It's the hard rubs of the world that makes a man bright. All men are not homeless, but some are home less than others. The poet appears to have no writes that the editor is bound to respect. Linger too much before the bar is the surest way for a man to get behind them.
