Good Morning!

JOB PRINTING is one of our hobbies. Two decades of practical experience makes our personal attention always given to orders, worth money. Whole racksful of type avail not without a medium of brains for its blending. Our handsome work costs no more than much inferior product. We "know the case," both as to the types desirable for the many classes of work, and the needs of the customer in the way of printing. "And lastly," as the preacher says, let us impress upon you the importance of getting the right kind of printing, at the right price, just as you want it, when you want it.

NORTH AND WEST SIDES OF PLAZA, PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION.

Copyright, 1900, by the Pan-American Exposition Co.

Standing at the great Electric Tower and looking north, the visitor to the Pan-American Exposition, to be held in Buffalo from May 1 to Nov. 1, 1901, will have before him the Plaza, or square, a beautiful open space 350 by 500 feet. On the opposite, or north, side of the Plaza will be the Propylaea, or monumental entrances, connected by a curved colonnade 280 feet long. A large building at the left, 341 feet long and 52 feet wide, with towers 164 feet high, will be used for restaurant purposes. This forms also the eastern entrance to the Midway, or pleasure ground, where the visitor may find a collection of novel entertainments that will astonish the most cosmopolitan traveler. Directly across the Plaza from the Restaurant building is a companion structure, forming the entrance to the Stadium, or athletic field, where 25,000 people may be seated to enjoy the high class athletic sports.

Killed Under a Lumber Pile.

Greensboro, July 30.—The 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Woodard met a horrible death today while at play on a lumber yard in this city. He was on a pile of lumber by the side of a railroad track, when he fell down an embankment and against one of the wheels of a box car. A part of the lumber fell on him, breaking and bruising his body and crushing the life out of him. His young sister was playing on the opposite side of the car, but did not hear the noise made by the falling lumber, nor did she hear any outcry her brother may have made. The body probably lay under the lumber an hour before it was recovered.

North Carolina's Gain.

If the census now being prepared for publication proves correct North Carolina will certainly gain one and probably two representatives in Congress and one or two votes in the electoral college, says the Washington correspondent of the Raleigh News-Observer. The State has been entitled to ten representatives in Congress for ten years. It had 1,750,000 people instead of 1,618,000, as reported in 1890, and a continuation of the gain would give 2,187,500 at the present time. Even with an apportionment requiring 200,000 people to the representative this would give eleven representatives, a gain of two. If McKinley and a Republican House are elected, the danger is that our present representation will be cut down, instead of increased as it should be.

According to The Kansas City Journal one recent day's rainfall was worth $35,000,000 to the Sunflower State. Says the newspaper referred to: "The rainfall was general over the corn belt, and was sufficient to break the price over 4 cents a bushel on the Chicago market. Speculation as to Kansas corn prospects changed materially within a few hours, and there were yesterday plenty of men who said there would be 80 or 75 per cent. of a crop of corn in Kansas, while Sunday the man who predicted half a crop was regarded as an enthusiast. This means nearly 100,000,000 more bushels, or probably $35,000,000, to Kansas."

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 1, 1900.

Judge H. G. Ewart, and old line Republican, refers to Marion Butler as "the infamous and damnable scoundrel who misrepresents the people of North Carolina in the United States Senate." We thought Butler's character would be discovered some day.

King Humbert, of Italy, was assassinated while riding in his carriage Sunday evening. He was shot by an Italian named Bressi who for some years has been living in this country at Patterson, N. J. He says he went from America to Italy to kill the king because of his hatred to monarchies. His is characterized the greatest crime of the century.

Advertising the Bible in Japan.

The American Bible Society has received from its agent in Japan, the Rev. Henry Loomis, his annual report, in which he states that an experiment was made in the early part of the year to increase the circulation of the Bible by inserting advertisements in the leading papers. It was found to be a means of arousing attention and interest in the Bible throughout the whole country. Letters of inquiry were received from more than five hundred persons in different parts of the land, and many orders followed. In every important city in Japan, where any Christian work is carried on, the Scriptures are on sale in the most prominent places.—Christian Intelligencer.

WASHINGTON LETTER

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 31, 1900.

For the first time prominent officials are willing to admit the probability of an extra session of Congress having to be called to deal with the Chinese situation. With all his assumptions of imperial authority, McKinley will not dare to declare war, and a declaration of war upon China by the other powers whose citizens have been killed may be expected any day. It has been hinted that Mr. McKinley would withdraw American troops if the other powers declare war against China and let the foreigners do all the fighting, but the American people will have something to say about that. The murder of a number of American missionaries has been fully authenticated, and the people are only waiting for authentic news of the fate of the American minister and other Americans in Peking who are believed also to have been murdered. When they know that the people will let Mr. McKinley know their will as they did about the war with Spain, and he and Congress will obey, as they did then.

"One of the results of Hanna's survey of the situation" said one republican to another, "has been an urgent request from him to the trust magnates and other large employers of labor who are under obligations to him for legislative favors, to keep down labor troubles and to prevent strikes at any cost, until after the election." The war taxes are still piling money up in the Treasury. The annual report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, shows receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30, to have been $295,316,107, an increase over the previous year of $21,831,534. More than $100,000,000 ought to be in the pockets of those who paid it into the Treasury.

The tendency of this administration to follow the imperialistic policy of government without Congressional authority, was again emphasized by the announcement cabled from Madrid getting news of what our government is doing for foreign capitals, it is not pleasing to the average American, although it has become quite prominent under the McKinley regime, that this government had offered Spain $100,000 for the two islands of the Philippine group which were not covered by the boundary line named in the treaty of peace with Spain. It is the theory of this government that the Executive branch can pay out no money that has not been specifically appropriated by Congress for a particular purpose, but that theory has been departed from several times under the present administration, beginning with the lump sum of $50,000,000 placed at Mr. McKinley's disposal to prepare for the war with Spain. That departure was justifiable under the circumstances and was authorized by the unanimous vote of Congress, but there have been other departures which were neither justifiable nor authorized, and this offer to purchase more islands is one of them. It was known last winter that Spain had laid claim to those two islands, but instead of referring the matter to Congress, the administration announced that Spain had been notified that its claim would not be recognized. That was supposed to have ended the matter, until the Spanish government informed the world that this government had offered to pay $100,000 for the islands. If Congress was not republican in both branches and thoroughly dominated by the imperial administration, it would call down this unconstitutional usurpation of authority, and demand to know from what fund this $100,000 is to be taken. There is an Emergency fund at the disposal of the administration, but it is certain that those who voted to appropriate it never contemplated the use of any portion of it for the purchase of islands. If this republic is to be preserved as established, a government must be put in power that will follow the precepts laid down by the Constitution, which the Democratic platform pledges Bryan and Stevenson to do. Senator Vest was right when he declared that the great issue of this campaign was republic or empire, with the democratic party standing for the republic and the republican party standing for the empire.

Remembered His Pets.

The will of William C. Royal of 6811 Germantown avenue, which was admitted to probate yesterday, disposes of an estate valued at over $50,000. Mr. Royal devises to his widow, Emily L. Royal, his "horses, dogs and other animals I may possess; but should my wife be so situated at any time as to make the care of said animals inconvenient or burdensome, then, and in that case, it is my wish that upon her request the care and custody of said animals shall devolve upon the Woman's Branch of the Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and I bespeak for my said wife and from the said society the same kind treatment for said animals as they have received from myself. They have been my faithful servants and amply repaid by their companionship and affection all the attention that they have received at my hands, and I desire, therefore, to make due provision for their comfort and support after I am gone. I am sure the society will carry out my wishes in this respect."

In codicil the testator directs that this shall only apply to his driving horses, to "Dick" and "Norman," two horses on his Maryland farm, and to his dog, "Ben."

He directs that the sum of $200 a month shall be paid to his widow during her life, the surplus to revert to the Woman's Branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Upon the death of the widow the principal, of the entire estate is to go to the same society.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Haunted Apple Tree.

"If it is probable that to the town of Douglass, Massachusetts, alone belongs the reputation of having a haunted apple tree," writes Samuel S. Kingdon, in the August Ladies' Home Journal. "The tradition of the town is that a foul murder was committed in the orchard many years ago, and that since then it has been haunted by the spirit of the victim. As the story goes, a pedler, whose custom it was to sell goods from house to house from a pack, laid down to rest at midday under a tree in the orchard, and before the day was ended he was found with a cruel gash in the neck from which his life blood had ebbed away. Suspicion rested on the owner of the orchard, and he was said to have been constantly followed by the spirit of the victim. In an attempt to escape from its dreaded presence he moved away. Then the apparition became a terror to all who had occasion to pass over the road at night. So potent was its influence—standing, as it had a habit of doing, under the apple tree with one hand at its throat and the other extended as though seeking aid, and utter shrill cries that could be heard half a mile away—that the location of the highway was changed and it is now a long distance from the orchard. The old trees still bear fruit, and the apples from the one beneath which the pedler was killed are said to be streaked with red, resembling blood, the streaks extending from skin to core."

Novel Wager on Bryan.

Charles W. Bridges & Co., real estate dealers of this city, have posted a novel proposition of the sale of farm and city property, which is practically a wager on Bryan's election. The firm announced that a farm of 240 acres a cottage and five lots in this city, and twenty lots in the gas belt towns have been placed with them to be sold upon the following conditions.

The farm property is priced at $5,000 for 240 acres, the gas belt town lots at $125 each, the Indianapolis lots at $300 each and the cottage at $2,200. The deeds to all the property are to be made out and deposited by the owners with the cash paid for them. If Bryan is elected the ownership of the property passes to the parties putting up the cash and the money goes to the owners of the property. If McKinley is elected both the deeds and the cash are passed over to the person or persons who put up the money. Thus the property is sold at what is claimed to be its fair cash value if Bryan is elected, and given away if McKinley wins. The real estate firm is a responsible one and declares that the offer is made in absolute good faith. The owners of the property are Bryan men, who are willing to back their judgment with their property.—Indianapolis Dispatch.

His Watch Melted in His Pocket.

Lightning this evening struck the home of William H. White, colored, and instantly killed White, who was closing a second story window. The house was set on fire, but the blaze was extinguished before serious damage was done. White's clothes were torn from his body and a silver watch was melted in his pocket.—Hagerstown, Md., Dispatch.

Place your advertisements in papers that are read and that go to people who have need of the goods you want to advertise.

Put in your best work and make old Pitt county roll up a big majority for the Amendment and the whole Democratic ticket.

There have been many visitors at Democratic headquarters today where the final work preparatory to the election has been going on.

If the colored people are wise they will behave themselves tomorrow. If any of them attempt to make trouble they will be sure to find it.

Today Mr. J. B. Little, of Pactolus, brought THE REFLECTOR an "amendment" watermelon. It weighed just forty pounds and was a fine one.

The boys were today calling O. W. Harrington Sheriff. Well, he will be elected all right enough tomorrow, they are getting used to calling him Sheriff.

Dress like a gentleman and act like one and you will be a gentleman. Advertise as successful houses do and you will be successful.—Press and Printer.

What is hell? asks a writer. Gen. Sherman said it was war, but the Henderson Gold Leaf says it sometimes thinks it is running a newspaper in a country town.—Charlotte News.

Information.

When the American people want to know a thing they want to know it right away. Hence their reliance upon good newspapers, which are ever at hand. Advertisers understand this, and they are right in assuming that a timely and inviting fact placarded in the advertising columns of a reliable journal will catch a thousand eyes.—Philadelphia Record.

Killed at a Wheat Threshing.

A disastrous accident happened near Staley, Guilford county, a few days ago. Wheat threshers were at the plantation of James Parks. During the afternoon his little daughter was around the place, but was careful to keep away from the machine. She wanted to reach a certain place, and in order to do so had to climb a fence. She had gotten up on top of it, but in some way lost her hold and fell, pulling a rail from the top of the structure down on her body, inflicting such a wound that she died very soon thereafter.

Had His Regrets.

Employer: Well, Pat, they tell me I made fool of myself last night.
 Pat: It not for the loikes o' me to be saying' yis or no to that, sor?
 Employer: But isn't it true that I was so loaded that you had to carry me home from the club?
 Pat: It is, sor.
 Employer: And I suppose you had a good deal of trouble doing it.
 Pat: Will, oi can't say about the trouble, but oi had me regrets.
 Employer: You regretted to see me in that condition, of course.
 Pat: Not igzactly that, sor, but oi regritted that ye didn't t'ink of it in toimeian' ax me to carry half yer load.
