More Protection.

The town is having a fire well dug on Fifth street near the Greene & Hooker gin building. It will afford protection of that portion of the town. The street sprinkler also to be filled from that well.

Melon Egg

Sam Flake is good on finding curiosities, and gave THE REFLECTOR another one this morning. This time it is an egg about three inches long and an inch and a quarter in diameter, having very much the shape of a watermelon.

Sometime Maybe

There will soon be some more moonlight nights that would afford a lovely time to stroll out to the academy grove and hear the Osceola Band play. But the band stand for them to play on is not there yet.

Rucus in Jail

There was a general "free for all" fight between some of the prisoners confined in jail Monday. Deputy Sheriff Leon Tucker went in the jail to stop the fight when some of the prisoners attacked him. With the help of the Chief Police and one or two others the prisoners were soon tied and put back into the cells.

Found The Watch

Another evidence of how advertising pays. Saturday there appeared in THE DAILY REFLECTOR a 10-line notice of a watch lost by Miss Mollie Parham. The paper went to Kinston that night and the notice was read by persons who heard later of a negro having a watch which upon being questioned he said he had found. The matter was investigated with the result that the watch came back to the owner Monday morning. The watch was lost on the street in Greenville and the finder had carried it to Kinston. But for that notice in THE REFLECTOR the young lady might never have seen her watch again.

WASHINGTON LETTER

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 20 1900.

Republican audacity has done some very nery things in the claiming line in the past, but the claim of the Administration shouters that the rescue of the foreigners in Pekin by the allied army was a triumph for Mr. McKinley's Chinese policy is about the weakest ever put out. In the first place, it is necessary for a man to have a policy before that policy can triumph, and in the second place, the foreigners at Pekin were rescued by an army composed of soldiers from half a dozen nations, less than one-tenth of whom were Americans. Everybody rejoices that the Americans and other foreigners who have been shut up in Pekin have been rescued, but that rescue was no triumph for Mr. McKinley's policy, if his drifting along can be dignified by the name of policy. It was rather a piece of luck for Mr. McKinley, inasmuch as it relieved the strain on the public, and opened up another drifting period for him, in which he need not take any chances of going wrong by doing something.

It is significant that friends of the administration are beginning to talk about the probability of the administration being compelled to take Chinese territory in lieu of cash indemnity. This is believed to be a feeler of the public pulse.

Henry Clay was the only man defeated when nominated for President again after being defeated when first nominated. That and other important political facts were recalled by Col. E. McC. Ford, a well-known Georgia lawyer, now in Washington, when he said: "With one exception every man who has received a second nomination for the presidency, after having been defeated the first time has been elected. In 1796 Thomas Jefferson was defeated by John Adams. In 1800 Jefferson was nominated again and elected. In 1824 Andrew Jackson was defeated by John Quincy Adams but four years later, when he was nominated for the second time, he defeated Adams. In 1836 William Henry Harrison was defeated by Martin Van Buren, but in 1840 Harrison turned the tables and was elected. The case of Bryan is like that of Jefferson, Jackson and William Henry Harrison. He was defeated in his first canvaas and four years later is again the candidate of his party. If precedent is followed, he will be elected."

There is no dispositon to brag or talk for effect at the headquarters of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee. Chairman Richardson and his fellow members believe that the democrats can carry the next House and they are leaving nothing undone that will in their judgment help to do it. The work of the committee is in a more advanced condition than it was ever known to be at this stage of a campaign. Inquiries which come to the committee shew that the republican Porto Rican Legislation of the last Congress is likely to be a factor in a number of Congressional districts. The voters are asking for the speeches against the Porto Rican tariff, especially those made by republicans; they are also showing by the tone of their letters that they fully realize the importance and danger of imperialism and its twin evil, militarism. The apathy about which republican managers are becoming so badly frightened has not been discovered in the democratic ranks. On the contrary, reports from almost every section of the country say that the democrats are in the notion to put up a strong aggressive fight, believing that it is on the cards for them to win both Presidential and Congressional elections.

OUR RALEIGH LETTER.

Work for the Next Legislature

Special Correspondent of Reflector.
Raleigh, N. C., August 21.

Some of the radical Northern newspapers have been printing editorial comments on the "methods" used by the Democrats, and white people generally of North Carolina to carry the recent election and overthrow negro domination which are calculated and probably designed to injure the State with capitalists and intended investors. That these editorials have been based upon false and hearsay premises and rumors we all know. But that detracts little or nothing from their ability to injure us among those who know no better. But we can ourselves disprove the charges and offset any bad effects by our own conduct in the future—and we must take care to do that.

Within five months the newly elected General Assembly will convene. It will be composed of a fine body of patriotic and sensible men who love their State—men largely selected for their fitness and ability. They will have to face a most important crisis in our history. A number of extremely important questions will be presented to them, and if decided wisely and discretely a great tidal wave of industrial prosperity will set in, such as North Carolinians have never enjoyed or witnessed before. An opposite policy will just as certainly produce a contrary result.

Talking with one of the best men in the State to-day—a strong Democrat and a man of influence in every relation of life, church, State and industry—he said, among other things, to me:

"We must, the legislature must, through its disposition of these questions, disabuse prospective investors from without our State of two erroneous impressions which have largely taken hold of Northern and Western people, the one following close on the heels of the other, viz.: That we are not a set of wild-eyed, populistic cranks down in the State of Marich Butler, who hate a man because he is rich or has been able to accumulate wealth by his industry and wisdom, and disposed to throw him down and take his wealth from him and divide it out pro rata among us all: that we are not the enemies of capitalists or corporations and disposed to deal justice to them by the half measure and to enact or keep upon the statute books laws which impose hardships upon all such, while we feed others with another spoon.

Equal and exact justice to all, and special privileges to none should and I doubt not will be our motto hereafter; individuals, firms companies and corporations, all, should be governed by the same laws, without opposing or favoring either.

I happened to know of more than $1000,000 which would have been invested in North Carolina several years ago had it not been for the transfer of the reins of State government into the hands of the populistic "fusion" crowd, with leaders who largely were bent on making war on capital and corporations' indiscriminately, solely for demagogic reasons. Probably millions have been diverted elsewhere for the self-same reason. We must get out of that now! We must renounce, disclaim, throw overboard any and all such would-be 'leaders' who, for selfish purposes, desire to do aught to commit the politically newly born and freed grand old State longer to any such suicidal policy. Away with them! Let them stand from under! For a new life of industrial and political freedom is marching to the front and is bound to crush under its victorious chariot all such human impediments and would-be 'leaders,' to their own undoing. The demagogue, in my opinion, will have less show in North Carolina hereafter than at any period

BARBERS.

CENTRAL BARBER SHOP.
I have moved my Barber Shop to the shop in front of Munford's new big store. I have also associated with me Julius Fleming, who has been working with me for a long time. We have fitted up for the handsomest shop in the town, and offer the public the best service ever offered here. We appreciate highly the liberal patronage we have received in the past. We cordially invite all of our past customers and all others who desire first-class service to come to see us in our new shop. We intend to please you and will do so regardless of expense or labor. We are ready at all times to accommodate you with first-class shave or hair cut.

of our history—and it is the most encouraging fact I see in the bright future upon which the sun of political and industrial freedom and prosperity is now rising so brightly and encouragingly. Let our legislators, as the duly selected representatives of their State, bear in mind these words:
"To thine own self be true,
And it must follow, as the night the day—
Thou canst not then be false to any man."

HIGHSMITH-KEEL

OAKLEY N. C. Aug, 20 1900.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

I ask space to correct an error in your paper of Aug. 17th in regard to the marriage of J. M. Highsmith and Magnolia Keel, as in my opinion your itemizer wilfully misstated certain things in regard to said marriage. In the first place neither of the parties were of Stokes, N. C. And in the next place I am no "Rev." as this critic knows, I am nothing more than an humble J. P., made so by a Democratic Legislature 30 years ago, and this your scribe knew also. I write this to let your itemizer know there is one man in Carolina township that will resent his insults and bickerings.

On the 12th of Aug. 1900, at the home of her brother, Mr. J. I. Teel, Miss Magnolia Keel was happily married to Mr. J. M. Highsmith. Only a few of their friends being invited. The attendants were: Miss Lollie Highsmith with Leonard Taylor, Miss Eunice Highsmith with T. W. Whitehurst.

I trust that peace and happiness will attend their pathway through life. W. H. WILLIAMS.

It's easy for a man to believe in charity and the brotherhood of man after he has gotten even with his enemies.

"Whats in a name?" Well, all the property of many a business man is in his wife's name; and most of them are very sorry for it.

MUNFORD'S

Big New Store.

The great markets like New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore have been searched for Bargains and we have them. We are going to sell for less money than anybody else. Why? Because we buy more goods than any other store in town and get larger discounts; and we sell for the smallest possible margin of profit, depending on a large volume of business and no rents to pay.

The weather bureau reports have become so uncertain that for some cause they are not now being sent by wire to the station here.

So much shooting around town at night is really a nuisance. We fail to see where it affords amusement to anybody.

Two more subscriptions added to the band stand list today. It will be large enough after a while if a few more people will just speak out.

We heard a cotton expert say that the cotton acreage in Pitt county this year was 14 per cent. larger than last year, yet the crop would be 20 per cent. smaller.

How He Knew

Sir Robert Finlay, the new attorney-general of England, was once engaged on a case of warranty of a horse, the age of the animal being the chief matter in dispute. Sir Robert was examining a hostler, who had every appearance of rustic simplicity.

"Upon what authority do you swear to the age of the mare?" Sir Robert asked.

"I am sure of it," was the reply. Half a dozen more questions failed to elicit from the witness any more specific answer.

"But how do you know it?" thundered Sir Robert, at last.

"I had it from the mare's own mouth," replied the hostler.—The Youth's Companion.

The Alabama Ready For Trial

The new battleship Alabama will leave Cramps' shipyard this afternoon for her official trial trip, off the New England coast. She will proceed part way down the river during the afternoon and will get underway early on Tuesday morning and pass to sea before dark that day. She will stay at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, where she is to be docked in order that her bottom may be cleaned and painted.

It is likely that the trial will be made on August 23. The Alabama must develop 17 knots speed, otherwise she will not be accepted. She is one of the most formidable war vessels afloat. The Board of Officers detailed several weeks ago by the Secretary of the Navy will have charge of the trial, which will be run on the Government course between Cape Ann and Cape Porpoise.

A lamp may not drink, but it frequently smokes and goes out o' nights.

"As a rule," says the Manayunk Philosopher, "people who think too little talk too much."

There would probably be more "love at first sight" if it were possible to determine the girl's wealth that quickly.

Organize for the Campaign

Chicago, August 18.—The following was issued tonight: "To the Democrats of the United States: "In order that the fight for the rescue of the country from Republican policies may be carried on everywhere with vigor and earnestness we urge all citizens throughout the United States who are willing to support the Kansas City platform to meet in their respective communities on Saturday afternoon or evening, September 1st, 1900, for the purpose of organizing city or precinct Democratic clubs, where such clubs have not already been organized. These organizations being Democratic should avoid ostentation and extravagance. The fight must be carried on by American citizens in behalf of American principles, and there should be no delay in perfecting club organization. When a club is organized the secretary should at once send to W. R. Hearst, President of the National Association of Democratic Clubs, No. 1730 Broadway, New York City, the name of the club, list of officers, date of organization and number of members."

- "WILLIAM J. BRYAN.
- "ADLAI E. STEVENSON.
- "JAMES K. JONES.
- "Chairman Democratic National Committee.
- "W. R. HEARST,
- "President National Association of Democratic Clubs."
