MASONIC HALL SCHOOL. All Ready For The Opening.

The Board of Trustees of Masonic Hall School were in session Friday afternoon making the final arrangements for opening the school on Monday, Sept. 3rd. The large number of pupils promised, and the general public enthusiasm and approval of the work begun, make it necessary to add another teacher to the force, and Miss Lina Sheppard was unanimously elected to take charge of the music department. With this faculty: Miss Lizzie Parker, an honor graduate of the Greensboro Female College; Miss Leila Thornton, a full graduate of the Peabody Normal College, of Nashville, Tenn; and Miss Lina Sheppard, a graduate of the music department of one of the oldest and best schools of the South, the public are assured of the best school for girls that Greenville has ever had.

Now, then, if you want your girl to get the advantages of this school have her ready to enter promptly. Those in charge hope to accommodate all who apply for admission, but the capacity of the school building make it necessary to limit the number of pupils to sixty or sixty-five, therefore to insure matriculation the pupil should be present on the very first day.

Mr. L. H. Pender was elected Secretary and Treasurer of the Board. He will collect all bills and pay all accounts, and have the immediate oversight of the buildings and grounds.

The Masonic fraternity is enthusiastic and harmonious in this work and will spare neither time nor money to make this the best school possible.

RURAL FREE DELIVERY.

Meeting to be Held Monday Night.

THE REFLECTOR is in receipt of a telegram from Congressman John H. Small, stating that he will be in Greenville Monday night to confer with the people here relative to the establishment of rural free delivery mail service in Pitt county. The meeting will be held in the Court House at 8:30 o'clock. This is a matter that every one should be interested in and the meeting Monday night should have a large attendance. The establishment of the rural free delivery service will be of untold advantage to both town and country. If you want it in Pitt county, be at the meeting Monday night. Don't let your Congressman come here to help secure this benefit and you show no interest by failing to attend the meeting. You should be there.

The North Carolina Press Association meets at Asheville on Wednesday, 29th. The Association was invited to meet at Hendersonville, but just a few days before the time set for the meeting the Secretary was informed that the town could not entertain the body. The idea of meeting there was abandoned and steps were taken to arrange for meeting elsewhere, which occasioned a week delay. We hope this will learn the Association to accept no more such invitations. The members are able to entertain themselves.

WASHINGTON LETTER

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 24 1900.

Although members of the Administration admit that the situation in China has grown more critical since the taking of Peking and rescue of the foreigners by the allied army, Mr. McKinley would not forego his vote-hunting junket to the G. A. R. encampment in Chicago. Reports from Gen. Chaffee and Minister Conger on the continued fighting in and around Peking were received this week, but were not made public. One reason for the suppression of these reports is that they show that it is the Chinese government, and not a mob, which has been and is making war on the foreigners, and for some reason of his own Mr. McKinley insists upon acting on the theory that the Chinese government is friendly, although in refusing Li Hung Chang's request for the appointment of a commissioner to negotiate terms of peace he practically said that he doubted whether China had a government. The pretence of regret on the part of officials that circumstances—continued fighting—have made it impossible to withdraw the American troops from China is farcical. The War Department has been forwarding supplies from the first on the understanding that the troops would be in China all winter.

Capt. Patrick O'Farrell, who stumped for McKinley in 1896 and who is now vigorously opposing him because of his imperial policy, made a red-hot speech before the Central Bryan and Stevenson Club, in which he said of the Philippine war: "Who authorized this war? Theoretically and virtually, we are at war with no one. Congress alone has the right to declare war. Who gave the President such authority? And why are ships, loaded with volunteers, being sent to the Philippines to shoot the natives and in turn to be shot by them? What will happen if you elect McKinley and a republican Congress next November? There will be a call issued for a regular army of 150,000 men, backed by 100,000 volunteers. Every workingman will have to hoist a soldier on his back, not for freedom, but to fight a lot of men against whom we have no grudge."

A letter received in Washington from ex-Senator J. B. Henderson, who was prevented by sickness from attending the Liberty Congress at Indianapolis, over which it had been expected he would preside, contains food for careful thought. For instance, the following quotation therefrom: "Our government is rapidly changing its form. The United States is no longer a republic. Two wars—one against the Philippines, the other against China—are being waged by the President without any constitutional sanction. The Russian Emperor claims no greater power than that which is exercised, almost without protest, by an American president. The war with the Philippines is worse than useless. It is wholly without any purpose less criminal than the pampering of army contractors and the enrichment of hungry officials from the toil of labor. The islands cannot be colonized or occupied by Americans. And American law, equally with American prejudice, already forbids American citizenship to their inhabitants. If they are not to be incorporated as States, they must be governed as colonies, and this reduces them to slavery and ourselves to forms of despotism. In the case of China, American troops, without pretence of law, are to be placed under the command of the German Emperor, who openly proclaims against the Chinese the war of Israel against the Amalekite."

Representative T. J. Bradley, of New York City, was among the visitors to the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee Headquarters this week. He said: "Both New York and New Jersey will give Bryan their electoral votes this fall. In Presidential years New Jersey generally goes as New York does. Did you ever notice that? They will both go democratic this time."

Representative Wheeler, of Kentucky, said of the outlook in that State: "Bryan and Stevenson will carry the State of course, by an old time majority, and our State ticket will pull through safely. We will not only hold our own in the Congressional districts, but I think we will gain one and maybe two districts. When the republicans talk about carrying Kentucky they base their hopes upon the narrow margin between Goebel and Taylor. They overlook the important fact that in that contest the vote was not brought out in the heavy democratic section of the State."

The man who is given to self-praise owes an apology to his acquaintances.

COLORED FARMERS MEET.

The colored farmers of Mecklenburg county held a conference in Charlotte last Thursday, and discussed matters relating to the welfare and advancement of their race.

The following is the expression of opinion formulated by the committee and adopted by the conference:

"We, the colored farmers of Mecklenburg county in conference assembled, brought together for the purpose of considering matters pertaining to our mutual welfare, rejoice that the time has arrived when our thoughts can be turned to those interests which concern us most deeply, with a view to improving our material and moral condition. The large number of earnest and intelligent men present, evince that an awakening is taking place which influence can but be helpful and far-reaching.

"This conference makes the following expression:

"1. Ownership in the soil is essential to a realization of the best citizenship. To own a small farm and a home should be the ambition of every man among us. It is well understood that once one become the possessor of a home, however humble, then he feels himself to be somebody. He becomes self-respecting and commands the respect of others. In the light of the comforts and privileges of that home he considers all questions pertaining to his daily life and the rights and immunities of his neighbors. What is true of him must be affirmed of his family and household. In his private life and public duties as a citizen, therefore, he acts for the highest good of all. It is urged that our people use their best endeavors to secure homes. We believe it to be a mistaken idea that colored men cannot buy farm lands and homes. The fact is, any man who can pay for it can obtain a home. Let our people economize, save their hard earnings and put the money into homes. A people who devote their earnings to excursions and harmful expenditures will always be homeless.

"2. Debt is a mill stone about the neck. He who is bound by it must sink to the bottom of the sea unless a way of escape is made. Once in debt unless one makes an intelligent, systematic effort to get out he only gets in deeper every day, every year. Unfortunately, this is the situation of many of our farmers. Their condition does not improve as the years go on. We would urge that greater care be exercised in making contracts and that the people make greater sacrifices to get out and keep out of debt. We urge, also, that our people restrain from buying articles on the installment plan from the commission agents who traverse the country and are more to be dreaded than smallpox.

"3. We also note that many try to make progress by cultivating large farms. It is a great mistake to suppose that one is advancing his interests as a farmer when he is half cultivating a large farm. A small farm well cultivated will insure good returns and prosperity. An intelligent landlord appreciates this fact and will prefer to have his land cultivated well. It is to the interest of both that a less number of acres be cultivated and in this connection we would advise that crops be diversified as much as possible.

"4. That our people do all they can to improve their home life. A homeless people can't be an ideally moral people. Morality can't flourish in a one room cabin. A whole family living in one room is an unsafe family in all respects, and the whole community must share in some degree the evil consequences of such a condition. We would, therefore, urge both our landlord class and tenant class to consider this matter seriously. The former can at least give the latter an opportunity to improve their surroundings in this respect. We would suggest in this connection that our people refrain from following the bad example of spending so much time in idleness about the city of Charlotte when they might be at home working to better their condition. This conference deplores the fact that so many women of the race resort to the Criminal Court room, where the details of crime are heard. This is disgraceful to the race and unfavorable to its moral welfare. We also commend the establishment of a reformatory for boys and young criminals.

"5. We rejoice in any evidence of harmonious feeling now existing between the races in our section of the country and urge our people to continue to use their best endeavors to promote this harmony."

Wages and Salary.

"Pa."

"Well."

"What's the difference between wages and salary?"

"If a man is working for $5 a day running a machine of some kind, or laying brick or doing something else that makes a white collar and cuffs uncomfortable, he gets wages. Do you understand what I mean?"

"Yes, sir."

"But if he sits at a desk and uses a pen and gets $11 a week and has soft hands, he receives a salary. Now do you see the difference?"
