THE KISS AT THE DOOR.

In the days of the lance and the spur,
When the hero went forth to the fight,
Oft he carried a token from her,
Whom he worshiped as lover and knight.
And when fierce surged the battle around,
And when close pressed the merciless
foe,
Twas that token that drove off despair
And gave victory's strength to his blow.

Not a hero of knighthood am I,
But a warrior in industry's strife,
Where the lance that I wield is my pen.
And the lady I serve is my wife,
Yet a token I carry each day,
Full as precious as any of yore,
And 't stoutens my heart for the fray—
'Tis my love's morning kiss at the door.

For his faith will the martyr endure,
By the sunset artist's inspir'd,
At the blast of the bugle and fife
Is the soldier to gallantry fired.
But whatever may others exalt,
For myself I shall ask nothing more
As a prompter to worthiest deeds
Than the kiss that I get at the door.
E. W. GRAY.

LICENSE REVOKED.

Another Barkeeper Caught Violating Sunday Laws.

This morning Joe Forbes, a Fifth Street bar keeper, was before Mayor J. G. Moye charged with violating the law against selling or giving away liquor on Sunday. Chief of Police J. T. Smith caught a crowd in Forbes' bar last Sunday, hence the warrant against him.

There was a crowd at the trial and a number of witnesses were examined. These were young men who admitted that they were in an adjoining room to the saloon Sunday morning playing "set back," and while all of them said they drank some liquor out of a bottle one of them had along in his pocket, it took much pointed questioning by the Mayor to get one of them to admit that he got a drink in the barroom. Forbes was represented by counsel, H. Skinner and F. G. James appearing for him, but all they could do was try to take advantage of some technicalities. The Mayor fined Forbes $50 and revoked his license. The defendant took an appeal to the Superior Court and was required to give a verified bond in the sum of $250.

To Reach the people.

The number of persons who pass a store, an office or other business place may be large, but there will always be many who will never see its sign. If the establishment be off the most frequented thoroughfare a great proportion of the people will not know of its existence. However, if a business be persistently advertised in the newspapers it will become known in time to virtually everybody in the community. A newspaper "ad," published regularly, gives the advertisers advantages more than equivalent those possessed by the most conspicuously located non-advertiser in the city.—Philadelphia Record.

44 Mills Shut Down.

Fall River Mass., Sept. 1.—Forty-four cotton mills, operated by 24 corporations, shut down today until September 30. These mills employ 17,500 hands. About three-quarters of the corporations will have completed a month's curtailment on that date in accordance with a general agreement.

No matter how unscrupulous a woman may be, when it comes to a question of pencils you could scarcely call her a sharper.

Virginia is now in the midst of a campaign like that through which North Carolina recently passed. They are to vote on a constitutional amendment and Republican speakers from New England are being imported into the State by the opponents of the measure. We hope they will carry the amendment by a large majority.

An important step taken by the North Carolina Press Association at its recent meeting in Asheville, was the adoption of a resolution asking the next General Assembly to establish a State Reformatory. It has been to the shame of the State that such an institution was not established long ago. Now that the Press has championed it, such interest will be aroused in the matter as to carry it to success.

An institution every citizen of the State, and especially every Baptist, might well be proud of is the Baptist University at Raleigh. Returning home last week we spent an evening very pleasantly there, and Dr. Vann, President of the University, showed us all through the different departments of the great building. There is not a school for girls in the State better equipped than this. Notwithstanding a large additional building has recently been purchased, we found the president and faculty puzzling their brains as to how to take care of the large number of girls who had sent in their names for the session that begins the middle of this week. More buildings are needed to provide for all who want to attend. The University will do a great work for the girls of North Carolina.

WASHINGTON LETTER

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 3 1900.

Mr. McKinley's attempt to play politics with the Chinese embroilment by making it appear that this government was acting in concert with Russia, gave him a good scare. His idea was that as Russia was regarded by the American public as England's traditional enemy, it would serve to lessen the public belief in the existence of a secret understanding between this government and England, if this government appeared to be acting in partnership with Russia, in China. The reception of the reply of this government to Russia's proposal for the withdrawal of troops from China, by the press of this country and of Europe, frightened him so badly that he hastened to have it given out officially in Washington, that this government had not agreed to act with Russia, but had informed Russia that the United States troops would be withdrawn from Peking, if the Russian troops were. The public was also further informed that if our troops should be withdrawn at the same time those of Russia were, it would not be because we would act with Russia, but because we would act independently, all of which is as clear as mud.

Secretary Hay's continued absence from Washington, in the face of his having telegraphed to a friend within forty-eight hours that he was enjoying his usual good health, caused the circulation of a story that he and Mr. McKinley were not of the same mind on the Chinese policy of this government, and that he would probably leave the Cabinet. Assistant Secretary Adee, who has been signing the official communications sent out by this government, as Acting Secretary of State, since Mr. Hay went away—Secretary Root has hastened to inform the public, through a newspaper interview, that he could vouch for Mr. Hay and Mr. McKinley being in perfect accord in everything that had been done relating to China. Now, if Mr. McKinley would vouch for Mr. Adee that story might be more generally accepted.

A new York member of the House who was at Democratic Congressional Headquarters, said of the campaign in his State: "Mr. Croker has effectually answered all the stories alleging that he was not loyal for the election of Bryan and Stevenson, by wagering $20,000 that Col. Bryan would be elected President. Even if I had entertained doubts of Croker's loyalty, which I did not, that wager would have removed them all. He got odds, and if Col. Bryan is elected he will win $50,000. The man who will not do his utmost when that much money is personally at stake is hard to find. You may be sure that Croker will do his utmost to give the electoral votes of New York to the democrats."

Gen. Otis, who was in Washington Saturday, and who will succeed Gen. Joe Wheeler, who will be retired next Monday under the age limit law, as Commander of the Military Department of the Lakes, seems to have a very short memory. He declared before leaving Manila, and again after his arrival in the United States, in the most positive terms that the war in the Philippines was over; now he says it will be over by the close of the present rainy season. Perhaps that is why Mr. McKinley has failed to keep his promise to send the volunteers home. There has been a wholesale lot of official lying about the war in the Philippines and it is still being indulged in.

When it comes to banner-raising the Washington Democrats are a long ways ahead of the Republicans. Four large and handsome Bryan and Stevenson banners swing over Washington streets, but no McKinley and Roosevelt banner has yet made its appearance.

The star route speculators must have been refusing to contribute to Hanna's campaign fund, as it is announced that the coming letting of six thousand star routes, no bid will be accepted by the Post Office Department, unless the bidder lives near enough to the route to personally superintend the work. The speculators heretofore monopolize these contracts, subletting them to local men who did the work. It remains to be ascertained whether the proposed change is intended for a bluff or for a real reform.

Hester's Cotton Report.

New Orleans, Sept. 1.—The totals of Secretary Hester's annual report of the cotton crop of the United States were promulgated today. They show receipts of cotton at all United States ports for the year of 6,743,764 bales against 8,575,426 last year; overland to Northern mills 1,161,186 against 1,345,623; Southern consumption taken direct from interior of the cotton belt 1,540,863 against 1,353,791, making the crop of the United States for 1899-1900 amount to 9,436,416 bales against 11,274,840 last year and 11,199,994 the year before.

Mr. Hester has made unusual investigation into the consumption of every cotton mill in the South, including woollen mills that have used cotton, and the results show a total of 1,597,112 bales, but of this 56,249 bales were taken from ports including in port receipts. This total shows that the mills of the South have used up 197,713 bales more than during 1898-'99, against a consumption by the North of 2,300,000. He makes the actual cotton crop of Texas, including Indian Territory, 2,598,512, or say 964,597 bales less than last year. His report on the cotton crop for the different States show that in thousands of bales:

North Carolina raised 561; South Carolina 921; Georgia 1,309; Alabama 1,044; Florida 50; Mississippi 1,230; Louisiana 615; Arkansas 750; Tennessee 358, and Texas 2,591.

South Carolina in this instance, includes Kentucky and Virginia; Tennessee includes Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas and Utah; Texas includes Indian Territory.

Mr. Hester's full report, which will be issued tomorrow, will contain interesting facts in relation to the enormous increase in the spindles of Southern mills, and to new mills now building. He will also show that while the past crop was 1,836,424 bales less than that of last year, it produced in money $61,012,000 more.

The Salisbury Sun has started an agitation in the hope of securing the enactment of better laws for the collection of debts. There are two sides to the question—the debtor's and the creditors—but when it comes to a question of paying what thou owest there should be only one side. The man who wants to pay his debts and cannot is to be pitied. The man who can pay his debts and will not is to be condemned. The man who would take advantage of the confidence of a friend or stranger in order to get something for nothing deserves a provision that will compel him to pay up or take the consequences.—Asheville Citizen.

Ball Player Bleeding to Death.

As the result of being struck upon the nose with a base ball, Robert Wilson, of Wakeling street near Frankford avenue, Frankford, lies in precarious condition at his home. The injury was received during a game at Wister Park, on Oxford pike, last Wednesday. Wilson tried to stop a speedy ball which crashed against his nose and caused the blood to flow. Applying a handkerchief he tried to stop the bleeding and went on with the game. The blood continued to flow at an alarming rate and soon Wilson was prostrate with the loss of blood. He was taken home, and Drs. Hanna and Boyer have been in constant attendance upon him. One of the arteries is ruptured, and because of the constant bleeding it is impossible to give him any food.

He lies on the stretcher which he was brought from the field, and the slightest movement causes the most intense pain. His clothing was cut from him on Thursday in order to afford some relief. Wilson is a son of Charles H. Wilson, and recently graduated from the Philadelphia School of Pedagogy. Until a short time ago Wilson was a pitcher for the Norwich, Conn., team.

Paris has gone into ecstasies over a new flower recently produced at the horticultural section of the Exposition. The flower is called "La Geneuse," and is a species of the China aster, or Reine Marguerite, resembling a small chrysanthemum, but shaped like an ostrich feather. It has great variety of color, some of the flowers being white, others rich purple, delicate mauve, old rose, pale blue and golden yellow. It yields no scent, but has become the fashionable fad of the hour.

Kansas City is to hold its usual fall "Karnival" this year, and the "Karnival Krewe" has decided to introduce a novel feature in connection with the event—a parade of men on stilts. Upward of 1,000 stilt walkers are expected to participate in the parade, and as all are to be gorgeously costumed the effect will be extremely grotesque.

An Address to Democrats.

Raleigh, N. C., August 31.—Today an address to the North Carolina Democrats was issued, signed by State Chairman Simmons, National Chairman Daniels, Julian S. Carr, president of the State association of Democratic clubs, and E. C. Smith, vice president of the national association of Democratic clubs, calling a State convention of clubs at Raleigh September 26th. The address says that on account of the recent election and shortness of time they deem it advisable to begin the organization of clubs before September 15th and recommend that clubs be formed in cities on the night of September 14th and in the country September 15. It is recommended that White Supremacy clubs now existing be organized for the present national campaign into Bryan and Stevenson clubs, and also that there be a county club composed of chairmen of precinct clubs.

Every experienced advertiser understands that an immense number of people never know that they want things until they read that the things are for sale. Therefore merchants construct their advertisements so that what they want to sell will be conspicuous. It is a mistake to hide the essential part of an announcement in a mass of verbiage as a lure to reluctant readers. People like to read advertisements that are plain and straightforward. They do not need to be tricked.—Philadelphia Record.

Goods Selling Like Wild Fire!

The great markets like New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore have been searched for Bargains and we have them. We are going to sell for less money than anybody else. Why? Because we buy more goods than any other store in town and get larger discounts; and we sell for the smallest possible margin of profit, depending on a large volume of business and no rents to pay.

HIGGS & TAFT.

Messrs. Higgs & Taft,
Greenville, N. C.

Gentlemen:

We wish to thank you for your order of a complete carload of our Stoves and Ranges. The "Great White Enamel Line" is evidently in favor with the Greenville people and if the demand increases, as it has in the past, we may expect to send you a train load in the near future.

A good cook is the best judge of a stove or range and we must believe that from the intelligence shown in selecting their cooking and heating apparatus, the housewives of Pitt County know that Buck's Stoves and Ranges are best for every purpose, and we believe that they cannot be fooled into buying "Cheap John" goods that have only the recommendation of cheap first cost.

Don't forget to impress upon your customers that our 5 year and 15 year guarantee is made in good faith and you may back it with your own reputation. Wishing you an abundant fall and winter trade, we remain, Yours truly,
BUCK STOVE & RANGE CO.

Tobacco Department.

BY O. J. JOYNER.

CROP ESTIMATED TOO HIGH.

The July bulletin of the State Board of Agriculture placed the tobacco crop at 88 per cent. as compared with last year and as could have been expected there was a universal kick from nearly every tobacco section, for as those interested justly concluded those who knew nothing about the tobacco crop placed more reliance on the official bulletin reports than from information obtained from outside sources.

The August Bulletin has just been received and the evil effect that might possibly have resulted from the July number has been to a large extent mitigated. I judge that the report of the July bulletin dwelt mainly with the condition of the crop at that time in the field, for after summarizing the reports from different sections of the State it places the condition at far below the July report and then comments that after taking into consideration the shortage in acreage especially in the eastern part of the State the crop of 1900 will not exceed 65 or 70 per cent of a crop at the best, as compared with last year.

Now this sounds more like it, and I suspect that if the officials of the agricultural department will go a little further in their investigation they will find the shortage even below its latest estimate. I know it is a difficult matter to get at a true understanding of the crop condition especially a year like this when there have been such extreme seasons.

In some sections of Pitt county their have been plenty of rain to make a good crop, while probably not ten miles distant in the same county rain enough to wet the ground thoroughly has not fallen since the spring, hence reports have been conflicting and necessarily so. Our State Board of Agriculture shows that their reports are approximately the same as the United States reports from this State, yet I am inclined to believe that their reports have been rather optimistic if we are to rely on information obtained from other sources. From the very last information obtained from private sources in the counties lying east of the W. & W. R. R. the crop this year will not exceed 60 per cent. as compared with last year. The writer does not claim to have a better bureau of information than the Board of Agriculture, but mark this prediction, that when the eastern markets close their year's work next May it will have been shown that 60 per cent of a crop was a very conservative estimate, and I should not be at all surprised if it does not fall even below this figure.

A Smile in Each.

Some men kick because they have nothing to kick about.

Some men give their wives wraps and others give them raps.

Seeing is believing until you look at yourself in one of those convex mirrors.

It is not until they get into a tight squeeze that some men become sponges.

When a man's food doesn't agree with him he usually makes things disagreeable for his wife.

When it comes to board, every man should expect to plank down.

The marriage tie sometimes connects a man with his wife's apron strings.

The faith cure would be all right if it would only cure people of their faith in it.
