Monday, 7 A. M., Holy Mass. All are invited.

The Boers Give Up The Fight.

London, September 20.—Lord Roberts cables in substance from Nelspruit: "There is nothing left of the Boer army. They have destroyed their long toms and field guns and have dispersed. A general tumult seems to have occurred when they saw their cause was hopeless."

Electric fans are disappearing, but the baseball fan is still with us.

Some men never think of marriage until they begin to lose their hair.

The trouble with the unsuccessful actor is that it's all work and no play.

A card from Rev. J. N. Booth, who is assisting in a meeting at Mt Olive, says he will not be back to fill his pulpit in the Baptist church tomorrow. There will be no service in that church except Sunday school.

WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Sept., 22nd.

Liberal inducements will be offered any worthy enterprise desiring suitable location in a prosperous and well surrounded country. These inducements hold good only to those that are worthy. No others will be given consideration.

Now is the time to sell your cotton seed. A. G. Cox is paying the highest cash prices. Bring them along. He will buy all you have for sale.

Small farms and town lots desirably located for sale on reasonable terms by A. G. Cox. If you wish to make a good investment see him at once.

Our town seems to have a deserted appearance for the last few days owing to the absence of many of our male population, who are in attendance upon court at Greenville. Some of us are still here, however. And thank goodness the girls are here too! So it's all right. We are satisfied.

Simon Moye has added a nice assortment of shoes to his line of merchandise. He does a nice business.

Everything here is so busy there is no time for dying or getting married but the courting list is never forsaken. We are indeed a prosperous and happy people. If you don't believe it come down and live among us and see.

R. H. Hunsucker went to Kinston yesterday. That is a mighty nice place for some folks. Folks who don't take honey in their's either.

Prof. John Duckett, of Lumberton, was here yesterday.

Messrs Menon Patrick and Will Murphy, of Snow Hill, were here yesterday and made several purchases of buggies and wagons.

Work has commenced on the Winterville High School building. Lumber has nearly all been placed on the grounds, the brick laid for its foundation and right much of the framing work completed. It will be very handsome in appearance and our people feel a deep interest in its success.

Elder W. I. Bilbro will hold regular services in the Missionary Baptist church today and tomorrow, both morning and evening.

Rev. A. D. Batts, of Ayden preached here in the Academy last Sunday evening. He is of the Methodist church.

Mrs. C. A. Fair has received her fall stock of millinery and the ladies are invited to call and examine. Mrs. Fair is an experienced milliner and has reason to believe she can suit all who may honor her with their patronage. If you wish to see something nice and pretty call before her goods have been picked over.

Smile in Each.

Scrapple will soon be in our midst once more.

Straw hats are no longer being talked through.

Conscience and dentists make cowards of us all.

The man who is blind to his own faults doesn't need a magnifying glass to see the faults of others.

What is imperialism? Well, every time you lick a stamp to put on a check or a telegram, imperialism comes forcibly home to you. Do you like its taste?

In both Michigan and Maryland, the peach crop has been enormous but in neither state have the growers reaped the benefit, as the canning trust, which buys three-fourths of the output, refused to pay more than a bare starvation price for the fruit.

Thousands of negro voters are being colonized in West Virginia and Kentucky, in preparation for the election this fall. If either state permits its vote to be stolen by this means, it will deserve the sort of rulership that it will assuredly get.

It is hard to satisfy some people. Mr. Bryan spoke on imperialism first and the Republicans charged him with abandoning free silver and other issues. Then he spoke on silver and they said that he was afraid to tackle the trusts. Now he has spoken on trusts, and they are saying he is so diffusive in his loves that he cannot be devoted to any one of them.

One of the meanest tricks on record has been perpetrated by the Census Office. Recently, Director Merriam promises promotion to all clerks who should do a certain amount of work daily. Now hundreds of these clerks have attained the required proficiency only to find that they will get no promotion unless they also bring "influence" to bear upon Director Merriam.

Bryan's Magnetism.

"With the possible exception of James G. Blaine," said Mr. Lucas M. Perry, of Springfield, Ill., who is at the Arlington, "Bryan has the most wonderful personal magnetism of any man who has been in public life in the present generation. I heard him in Chicago on Labor day, and the least observing man could not help seeing that he has a wonderful hold on the affections of the people. The crowds cheered Roosevelt, it is true, but they did it in a perfunctory sort of a way, much as you thank a man who passes you the salt at the dinner table—because it is expected of you, and not because you feel under any great obligation to him. The way the crowds cheered Bryan might be compared to the manner in which you would thank a man who had rescued you from drowning. They waved their hats and handkerchiefs in the air, and long after the obligations of courtesy had been discharged they kept up the shouting.

"If every voter in the United States could see and hear Bryan, he would be elected by an overwhelming majority. The trouble with Bryan is that it is not what he says, but the way in which he says it that constitutes his strength. A man can hear him speak and grow wild with enthusiasm, and when he reads the speech in his paper next morning, wonder what he lost his head about. He has a way of making the merest commonplace sound like the acme of wisdom. Hear him speak, and you are convinced that he not only believes what he says is true, but you find your self believing it, despite your firm convictions that it is false. Read his speeches in the newspapers, and you wonder how any man can expect you to palm such rubbish off on the people."—Washington Post.

Big Money In Pugilism.

Some estimates of what prize fighting meant to the promoters of this kind of sport under the Horton law in New York may be made from the statement by a special correspondent of The Chicago Times-Herald that the profits of the promoters aggregated $1,600,000 and those of the fighters $900,000 during the carnival just closed. There were 3,350 fights during the existence of the law, the public admission fees in that time footing up $2,500,000. The law repealing the Horton statute is known as section 458 of the amendment to the penal code, and is so framed that it will be utterly impossible for the police to construe it so as to admit of any "boxing" exhibitions. It forbids even the sending of a challenge by one fighter to another for a contest at sparring, either in a public or a private exhibition, and renders liable to punishment any one who within the State, "engages in, instigates, aids or encourages or does any act to further a contention or fight without weapons two or more persons, or a fight commonly called a ring or prize fight." This provision, it will be noticed, forbids especially the perpetration of any act to instigate a "contention" between two or more persons, which will, perhaps, place the law on the level of a greater blessing to suffering mankind than was at first supposed. The suppression not only of the prize fight and the sparring exhibition, but of all contentions between two or more parties to such contests, means that the bruisers will not even be permitted to "jaw" one another or to appear as controversialists in yellow journal interviews.—Baltimore News.

A Minister's Wife's Duties.

"The duty of a minister's wife, it might properly be considered, is to keep herself informed concerning the work of the mission boards of her denomination," writes "A Minister's Wife," in the September Ladies' Home Journal. "The wife of the minister may be a valuable and yet not an overburdened member of the missionary societies if she quietly hold her societies in league with denominational work. No one else can do this so well, because the minister will supply the needed information. On occasions where it is necessary for the church to be represented in the women's councils it is fitting that the minister's wife should go, she feels inclined. If she is timid and shrinking, such publicity is torture, and there is no reason why she should force herself to submit to it. She can, in the society, suggest, and, if need be, insist upon delegates to do this work. If she has a wise head and a kind heart she will do whatever is necessary; but the parish must realize that there are many demands socially, and that her life is to be planned out in accordance with her own ideas of right. She needs her strength, her brightness, her responsible home. She should give to the church only such service as every other Christian woman ought to give, and no more, for we are saying today, with a new and sensible emphasis: The church engaged my husband—not me!"

WINE OF CARDUI THE LINK THAT BINDS.

JACKSON, TENN., Nov. 23.
I was subject to miscarriage for three years, and suffered constantly with backache. I wrote to you for advice, and after using three bottles of Wine of Cardui, according to your directions, I am strong and well, and the mother of a fine girl baby.
Mrs. E. N. JOWERS.

WINE OF CARDUI
There is no use talking—a baby in the house is the link that binds husband and wife together. Nothing is sadder than fruitless wedlock. The prattling and cooing of the little ones offset a thousand times the occasional worries and trials of life. When a wife is barren, there is a derangement somewhere in the genital organs, caused by one or more of those common disorders known as "female troubles". Wine of Cardui is the remedy. It puts the organs of generation in a strong and healthy condition, fitting the wife for the sacred duty of reproducing her kind. During the period of gestation the entire system of the expectant mother is built up to withstand the ordeal of labor, and when the little one makes its advent it is lusty and strong, well-fitted to grow to maturity in perfect health. The mother, too, passes through the trial with little pain and no dread. Wine of Cardui is truly a wonderful medicine for women.

Kansas boasts of a potato field forty miles long, from which is produced an average crop of two hundred bushels to the acre. It is estimated that this year's harvest will come close to four thousand carloads.

The Houston Post notes that a strange feature of the Galveston calamity is the absolute disappearance of the natural scavenger of the country—the buzzard—just when he is most needed. Not one is to be seen anywhere, though it would be natural to suppose that the bodies of so many dead animals and human beings would attract thousands of buzzards from distant parts.

Keep Pumping.

Sometimes we get hold of a pump which you must work at a long while before the water comes. It's only by continual pumping that you make the water come forth. If you stop to rest you lose the effect of all your labor. The water is certain to run back into the well.

Now it's the same way with advertising. If you start it you can not well afford to turn loose. It's the continual talking into the ears of the buyers which makes them loosen their purse strings. Give them a rest and the purse will close up like a clam and go back into the pocket. If it does—well then, your advertising efforts lose their effects. A good many advertisers let up just when the fruits of their labors are about to be realized. It pays to keep pumping. —Charlotte News.

When it comes to paying bills, a great many people seem to dwell in the land of promise.

The coal merchant now realizes that things are coming his weigh. "The men who are always talking about getting out of politics," says the Manayunk Philosopher, "still continue to get all they can out of it."

Notice.

My father, Moses Sutton, colored, who is not of good mind, wandered away from my home at Ayden, where he stayed, on Tuesday afternoon, September 18th, and I have been unable to learn his whereabouts. He is about 60 years old, has grey chin whiskers, dark complexion, and had on a Prince Albert coat when he left. I will appreciate anyone detaining him and sending me word, or giving me any information that will lead to finding him.

BARGAIN FINDING,

And These Bargains Are Yours For The Asking.

The great markets like New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore have been searched for Bargains and we have them. We are going to sell for less money than anybody else. Why? Because we buy more goods than any other store in town and get larger discounts; and we sell for the smallest possible margin of profit, depending on a large volume of business and no rents to pay.
