

ANOTHER ROBBERY.

This Time at Farmville.

There are entirely too many robberies occurring in Pitt county, and somebody's neck ought to be broken if it is not stopped.

Another is reported from Farmville, Friday night, the store of R. L. Davis & Bros., at that place, being broken into. The thief or thieves made an entrance by removing the transom over the back door, exactly in the same manner that the store of King & Morrill, at Falkland, was entered Thursday night, and then went out through a window. Messrs. Frank and John Davis both sleep in a room together in the store, and the thief actually went into their room and searched their pockets, neither of them being awakened. The gold watch and pocket knife of one of them was taken. Possibly it is best that neither of them was awakened, as there was evidence that the robber had taken a large grass blade into the room with him, no doubt intending to use it in case the sleepers were aroused.

From the store some cutlery out of the show case, some umbrellas and some other goods of a light nature were taken. It is believed the same parties did this robbery that went into the stores at Falkland. Bloodhounds were taken out to see if they could be found.

What People Expect.

A leading Chicago newspaper says: "Whoever wants customer in these days of smart trade habits invite them persistent newspaper announcement of what he has to sell." It is so obviously easy to communicate with the public through the daily newspapers that the people expect even enterprising establishment to do so, and thus save them the time and trouble of hunting about for what they need. Eventually not only merchants, manufacturers, real estate agents, etc., will advertise regularly, but also bankers, insurance companies, street railways, lawyers, doctors and all who have dealings with the people.—Philadelphia Record.

Public Speaking.

Mr. G. B. King will address the voters of Pitt county on the issues pertinent to the pending national campaign, at the following places on the date mentioned:

Farmville, Saturday, October 20th.

Grimesland, Tuesday, October 23rd

Falkland, Saturday, October 27th.

Speaking begins at 2 o'clock, P. M.

Hon. Thos. G. Skinner will speak at Farmville, Oct. 24th, and at Robersonville Thursday Oct. 25th.

According to an exchange, a good woman in an Arkansas town claimed that it showed a lack of proper faith in mankind to mark the spoons loaned at a church social, and refused to mark hers lately. She put in a dozen, and got out three.

Wanted To Kill Holton.

Parties who have been attending the Federal Court in Greensboro say that an old man from Wilkes county made an effort to shoot District Attorney Holton in the courtroom Saturday of last week.

It appears that the old man's son had been tried and convicted of blockading. Besides imposing a heavy fine, Judge Boyd sentenced him to the penitentiary for two years. The boy was under bond and was standing in the court house door when the sentence was pronounced. He heard his "doom" and immediately skipped to "parts unknown" to the court officials.

This is said to have "riled" the father of the boy, who blamed District Attorney Holton for convicting the son. The father went to his boarding place, got his big pistol, came back to the court house and said: "Show me the man Holton: I want to kill him." It is claimed that the old man would have shot, had not some friends grabbed him.—Winston Sentinel.

He Tried to Swindle and Lost.

New York, Oct. 11.—Gustave Eckstein, a New York representative of a Savannah, Ga., wholesale cotton house, and one of the partners in it, is trying to find out what has become of $5,000 which he claims was in an envelope sent by express marked $5,000, but said to have contained double that sum when it was dispatched. On being opened at its destination, only $5,000, it is declared, was forthcoming.

One day last week Mr. Eckstein went to the Central National Bank where he is a depositor and drew a check for $10,000, asking the cashier, Mr. Young, for bills of large denomination. He was given nine $1,000 bills and two $500 bills. Then he asked the cashier to have them put in a large envelope as he wanted to send them by express. This was done and the parcel was handed to him.

Then, according to the story told by the cashier, the cotton merchant took a pen and marked the envelope $5,000. That done, he returned it to the cashier and requested him to forward it to Savannah along with the rest of the bank business. The envelope was directed to Eckstein's brother, who is at the head of the Savannah house. Mr. Young took it and Mr. Eckstein left the bank. At the close of business, Eckstein's package, marked $5,000, was taken to an office of the Adams Express Company by a messenger of the bank, a receipt was issued for it as marked and it was forwarded together with the other packages of money that had come from the same bank.

Nothing was heard of the matter until late Tuesday night and then Gustave Eckstein got a telegram from his brother in Savannah saying that the envelope had been received, but it contained only $5,000. It is said that Gustave Eckstein had written his brother of the transaction and that the envelope would contain $10,000. Mr. Eckstein has put the matter into hands of his attorney.

The first copy of the Exponent a religious paper published at Kinston by Rev. O. W. Blanchard, in the interest of the Missionary Baptist church made its appearance here Monday. It is a neat little sheet and the subscription price is ten cents per year.

Very unfortunately on account of urgent business affairs we were deprived the privilege of attending the party in honor of the birthday of Miss Effie Kittrell, given by her parents on the evening of the 11th. Every one speaks in the most glowing terms of an occasion delightfully spent. How could it have been otherwise at so hospitable a home and in the presence of so many sweet and winning smiles. We congratulate Miss Effie on this happy event, and sincerely wish that her succeeding birthdays may each be happier than the last and that her cup of joy may ever be overflowing.

We were agreeably surprised last Wednesday to receive a visit from Misses Lillie Baker, Annie Lawrence and Lizzie Blow, of Greenville. We had not seen the young ladies in quite a long while. It is always pleasant to meet young as well as old friends and particularly as on this occasion as there were some of "our own folks." Come down again please.

The Hunsucker Carriage Co's. new supply of harness is just what every class of the public, who owns a driving turnout, needs. Call and see them. This firm can suit you both in quality and price, and if you will give them your patronage you must and will be pleased.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1900.

Hanna says there are no trusts because the law forbids them. Will he say there are no thieves for instance, because the laws forbids them?

Ohio cast 76,000 more votes in 1896, than the census figures for the present year show her to contain voters. Where did these votes come from, Mr. Hanna?

Hanna says that the only trust is trust in McKinley. Well, it seems cruel to attack the dying but if Hanna will wait until November Bryan will swat that along with the other trusts.

Of course, the war is over in the Philippines, in spite of the average weekly casualty list of about fifty and the army of 65,000 still maintained there. "The devil is dead" but who carries on his business so well?

In 1896, according to Indiana law, the ballots were destroyed before the judges left the polling booth. This year, the law provides that they must be retained for a while. The Republicans therefore, will not dare to steal the state as deliberately as they did four years ago.

Every time a great Democrat who stood outside in 1896 comes out and declares for Bryan, the Republican papers declare that he wants to be President in 1904. The democracy will have a surplusage of candidates if all these men compete for the honors it can bestow. The list now includes Olney, Hill, Wilson, Gorman and many more.

It must be a forlorn hope that Mr. I. M. Meekins, who is canvassing as the opponent of Congressman Small, is leading. We asked him Friday night what he was going to do about coming down now since the Republicans have just held another convention and brought out another man, ignoring him entirely. His reply was "Well, I don't know," and he spoke it like he meant it.

S. Otho Wilson, of Gideon's Band notoriety, and formerly a good Populist, is now a storekeeper and gauger in the internal revenue service.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 12th.

Those whose votes cannot be bought must be coerced into voting for McKinley. That is the motto under which the republican managers are working now. How it works in some cases may be judged by what a prominent drummer said to a Washington friend: "Ninety-five per cent of the commercial travelers in the United States and about 100 per cent of those who were commercial travelers until the on-rush of trusts drove them from the road, will vote for Bryan and Stevenson. This is in confidence, so far as my name is concerned. I have to appear as a McKinley man. I am one of the few of the once large army of traveling salesman whose services were considered valuable enough to be retained by the assimilating combine that wiped out our old firm. And I've got a wife and babies to support. I want to hold my job. So I say 'McKinley' and appear to like it before the trust spies. Wait until I get into the voting booth. Wait until the thousands of 'has been' commercial travelers and the hundreds of those who still are, get behind the curtain in the voting places. Won't we 'swat 'em' at the polls." The secret ballot makes it possible for the coercion scheme to prove a boomerang to the republican managers, and it may do so. There are probably many who are like this drummer.

Mr. McKinley has given himself almost entirely up to politics since his return to Washington, just as he has been doing in Canton, although the newspaper men who go to the White House have been told that he and the members of the cabinet have been very busy studying the French proposals as to China and preparing a reply thereto. That is all moonshine. There was nothing in the French proposals that required a half hour's consideration as to what the reply of this country should be. Mr. McKinley and his advisers are and have been studying up schemes to save him from defeat which he dreads, and fears because of his knowledge that he has done things to deserve it. The coercion republican tactics of '96 are being repeated upon an even more extensive scale this year. In addition to the big trusts, banks and corporations, the officers of saving banks, life insurance companies and building and loan associations are having pressure put upon them not only to use their personal influence to make votes for McKinley but to use the influence of their companies or organizations to compel their patrons to vote for him.

WINE OF CARDUI

A SURE MEDICINE.

HANDSON, VA., Dec. 21.

I have been suffering from female weakness for four years, and have taken many medicines, but Wine of Cardui and Black-Draught have done more for me than anything else.

MRS. CAROLINE EVANS.

Wine of Cardui

It is a mistake to take any and every kind of medicine when you are sick. There is danger in it. Most of the so-called cures for "female weakness" do nothing more than deaden the pain temporarily, and when the effect wears away the patient is weaker and sicker than before. It is never wise to take chances. You have only one life, and that is dear and precious. If you have any pain, ache, disorder or weakness in the feminine organs, nothing will help you like Wine of Cardui. It helps do away with morning sickness during the early stages of pregnancy, and modifies the pains of childbirth; recovery is rapid and future health is assured. The Wine is purely vegetable, being made of herbs whose medicinal properties act directly upon the organs of womanhood. It is a long-tried remedy, and has many years of success behind it. It is sure. Why take a chance medicine when you can get a sure medicine?
