END OF CENTURY CLUB.

Charmingly Entertained by Mrs. Grimes.

At the home of Mrs. Grimes on Friday, Oct. 19th, the End of the Century Book Club spent a most delightful afternoon, the occasion being the first meeting of the Club since the election of new officers.

Pending the arrival of the President and Vice-President the Club was delightfully entertained by a charming song from the hostess.

After the regular business a motion was made and carried that the Club shall purchase a manual of parliamentary rules of procedure, which Mrs. Cotten kindly offered to present to the Club.

A committee composed of Mrs. Cotten, Mrs. Little and Mrs. Grimes, was appointed to look over and carefully revise the by-laws by the next meeting.

At the conclusion of the business meeting the hostess furnished a very unique and interesting guessing contest in which the prize a daintily bound copy of "Idle Thoughts of an Idle Fellow," was won by Mrs. Bowen.

The guests were then invited by the hostess into her beautiful dining room where in the softened glow of candlelight the "inner man" was most daintily ministered to.

The guests then dispersed to meet again on Tuesday, Oct. 30th with Mrs. Jarvis.

BLACK JACK ITEMS.

BLACK JACK, N. C., Oct. 19th. Little Miss Lucy White is on the sick list.

Mrs. C. S. Dixon, who has been visiting on Clay Root, returned home Sunday to the delight of her many friends.

Amos Clark took quite a stroll last Sunday through Beaufort and Craven.

Needham White, of Pollocks-ville, spent Tuesday night with his cousin, L. H. White.

Miss Maggie Simpson, who has been visiting friends and relatives in this place, returned last Sunday to her home in Vanceboro.

Mrs. Susan Richardsou, who has been visiting her brother, L. H. White, has returned to her home near Fort Barnwell.

Jordan Elks, one of our respected farmers, died at his home this morning about four o'clock. He had been sick of typhoid fever for some weeks. We extend our deepest sympathy to the many bereaved ones left to mourn his death. "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord."

A Kansas fellow got the consent of a man to marry his daughter on condition that he would vote for McKinley. That is a somewhat novel kind of bribery. Girls must be cheap out in that State when they can be bought with a vote.—Wilmington Star.

Best and Cheapest.

Many people have no idea what they are missing in not subscribing to The Saturday Evening Post at $1 per year. At that price it is the cheapest literary paper published. Subscriptions for it are taken at THE REFLECTOR office.

WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Oct. 20th.

The A. G. Cox Mfg. Co., yesterday made shipments of their wagons drays and carts to Mount Olive, Snow Hill, Greenville, and other points. There is such constant demand for their work that it is almost impossible for them to fill orders as rapidly as they receive them. Their business already very large, is still growing.

Neuse Association of the Missionary Baptist church will hold its first annual session here beginning Tuesday, 23rd inst., and will continue in session three days. A large crowd is expected. No doubt many fine sermons will be delivered during the meeting and the public are cordially invited to attend. Everyone anticipates a good time and ample provisions have been made.

We were sincerely grieved when we read in Thursday's REFLECTOR an account of the death of Mr. J. J. Dancy. He was our nearest neighbor and one of the best friends we had all through life. For him we had the highest regard, the greatest respect and the sincerest friendship. We shall miss him when we come home for it was always our pleasure to call and see him whenever we visited the old place.

J. A. Dupree and Capt. R. Williams, of Greenville, were here a very little while Wednesday. "Billie" (W. F.) Burch, of same town was here a very little while Thursday.

Misses Charlotte Dixon and Ophelia Parker spent Thursday in Greenville.

A. G. Cox is still paying highest cash price for cotton seed.

Mrs. C. A. Fair this week received a new supply of the finest and best millinery ever brought to this market. The ladies are invited to call and see her hats, patterns, silks, ribbons, in fact she has everything kept in a first-class millinery establishment, and in prices she will compete with the best.

GRIFTON ITEMS.

W. Thompson, of LaGrange, came down Saturday to sell cotton that was raised on the Carr place. J. Patrick and Mrs. Patrick went over to Fort Barnwell Tuesday.

Tobacco is going high. Gus Forbes, of Greenville, was here Friday.

Dr. Dawson and W. S. Freeman have been summoned to attend trial of W. B. Bland for the killing of his brother C. A. Bland about a four weeks ago at this place.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1900.

Bryan is not a calamity candidate. In fact, the shoe is on the other foot. The McKinley managers are trying to win by means of deliberate threats to throw the country into a panic and cause a business crisis if Bryan wins. Their whole campaign is based on terror, intimidation and corruption.

Washington is deserted at present, thousands of Republican government clerks having gone home to register in consequence of official intimations that such a course would be advisable. Later they will go again to vote. Democratic clerks, however, on applying for leave, find that their "services cannot be spared" at present.

"Tobacco Culture" is the title of a neat pamphlet just issued by the German Kali Works, 93 Nassau St., New York City. This publication treats quite fully about tobacco growing from the time of sowing seed to the marketing of the crop. It is a valuable publication and will be sent without charge to any planter who applies for it.

Mr. Marburg, one of the tobacco trust magnates, has announced in a public speech under Republican auspices, that the trusts have come to stay and that there will be no further use for the commercial traveler. Perhaps, Mr. Marburg may find himself mistaken if Bryan is elected. Of course, if McKinley wins, nothing else is to be expected.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 19th.

Echoes of the big Bryan meeting held in Madison Square Garden, in New York City, will reach the remotest section of the country, and the enthusiasm there aroused will spread until it takes on the quantities of the Democratic tidal wave, which may be great enough to sweep the trust-ridden administration out of power, or may just fall short of that much to be desired accomplishment. No man can say in advance what the result of it will be, or let it be what it will, it is admitted, even by McKinleyites, that no such outpouring of the masses as that which honored Mr. Bryan has ever before turned out in that city to hear any candidate; and old campaigners, who were there, declare that they were astonished at the intensity and amount of enthusiasm aroused by Mr. Bryan and the other speakers. It was a revelation to New Yorkers and it opened the eyes of many who have heretofore refused to believe that Bryan and Stevenson had a chance to carry the State of New York. One enthusiastic Washington Democrat who attended the big meeting said: "That meeting was worth a million democratic votes. It would have been an absolute impossibility in that town during the campaign of 1896."

Inasmuch as it has been well known in Washington that there has been no love lost between Mr. McKinley and ex-Senator Quay, who was kept out of his seat in the Senate by Boss Hanna, there was much curiosity aroused when Quay called at the White House and had an hour's talk with Mr. McKinley. It has leaked out that Quay sought to make a dicker whereby the administration's influence would be used to help him in his fight to control the Pennsylvania legislature and be returned to the senate, and that Mr. McKinley refused to help him, on the ground that he had troubles enough of his own just now without assuming those of Quay. It is said that Quay left in a pet, and made threats of getting even.

The tip has been passed in the McKinley inner circle that Hanna agents have got the things all fixed and that a majority of the electoral college is to be secured by the same methods that were successful four years ago—the wholesale use of money. As a consequence, the republicans have exchanged their fight for confidence. Democratic advices do not coincide with that tip. Hanna's agents are plentifully supplied with cash in all the doubtful state, and are trying hard but they haven't got things fixed yet, and they won't get them fixed, if vigilance on the part of democratic leaders can prevent. The Democrats know the game that the republicans are trying to play, and hope to spring some surprises on the McKinleyites before it is ended.

Thomas E. Watson, who was Bryan's running mate on the Populist ticket in 1896, has found that his occupations as politician, lawyer and author still leave him sufficient time to till the soil, and he has purchased a large farm in Georgia with the intention of conducting it as a business investment.

An undertaker's business is advertised for sale in an English newspaper in terms which are hardly such as to encourage any one to become a permanent resident of the locality. After stating that he is retiring from business altogether the advertiser praises the town thus: "Sanitary arrangements much neglected; mortality from fevers excessively high; total death rate 10.7 higher than any town within radius of fifty miles; one trade competitor (carpenter) only. Excellent opening for energetic man willing to put his heart into the business."

WINE OF CARDUI

Woman's Crowning Virtue.

For years I suffered terrible pains every month and my doctor told me I could not be cured except by an operation. I felt I could not submit to that and was so despondent I had given up all hopes of a cure. My husband insisted on my trying Wine of Cardui and at last thank God I did try it. Last month I did not have a pain, and did all my work, which I had not done in seven years.

MRS. MINNIE LITTLE.

WINE OF CARDUI

Modesty is the crowning virtue of American women. It is the trait that all mankind admires. A modest woman is the most pleasing of all created things. Because of this becoming virtue thousands of women prefer to suffer untold miseries rather than confide their troubles to a physician, and to even think of submitting to an examination is revolting. They can't get their own consent to an operation. Wine of Cardui permits sensitive women to retain their modesty. With it they can cure "female troubles" in the quiet of their own rooms. If special treatment is required they can write to the Advisory Department of the Chattanooga Medicine Co., and their letters will be promptly answered by women trained in the cure of womanly weaknesses and irregularities. There should be no hesitation. Delayed treatment means a chronic condition. The longer postponed the harder to cure.

Rev. T. W. Farries, D. D. who preaches at the Presbyterian church tomorrow morning and at the Methodist church tomorrow night, is a native of Ottawa, Canada, who came south six years ago seeking health, and under the influence of our Southern skies now gives promise of many years of efficient service to the Master.

Good Speech.

A large crowd was in the Court House, Friday night, to hear Mr. C. L. Abernethy, Presidential Elector for this district. He made an excellent speech, discussing clearly and strongly the issues of the campaign. Mr. Abernethy will speak again in this county on the 29th, at Ayden.

Bland Surrendered.

Mr. W. B. Bland, of Grifton, who a few weeks ago, in an altercation with his brother, Mr. C. A. Bland, cut the latter so severely that he died, came in today and surrendered himself to Sheriff Mooring. He was taken at once before Justice of Peace H. Harding for a preliminary hearing, but waived examination. He was placed under a $3,000 justified bond for his appearance at the January term of court. The bond was readily given.

Runaway on the Bridge.

Lat: Friday afternoon Mr. C. L. Wilkinson took Mr. Jesse Speight out for a drive behind his nice horse. As they were going across the river bridge the horse took a notion to run and Mr. Wilkinson lost control of the animal. Mr. J. B. Fleming was also on the bridge in a buggy and there was a collision. Mr. Wilkinson's buggy was turned completely over and he and Mr. Speight took a violent fall on the bridge. Mr. Wilkinson was badly bruised about the face and received a severe cut on the head. One heel string of the horse was cut and it is feared the animal is ruined. Mr. Speight was considerably bruised and shaken up. Mr. Fleming and his turnout escaped unharmed.
