The managers of the National Republican Congressional Committee, on the other hand, claim to have elected 203 Representatives, as against 154 Democrats. This claim is based on gains alleged to have been made in California, Kentucky, Illinois, Kansas, and other doubtful States.

The next Senate, assuming that the State legislatures will fulfill their duty and choose senators to represent their States, will stand, on the basis of yesterday's election, 49 Republicans, 27 Democrats, and 9 Independents, with the Legislature in doubt in three States, with the privilege of electing five senators at this time.

The legislatures in doubt are Delaware and Nebraska, in each of which States two senators are to be chosen, and Idaho, with one senatorial chair to be filled. Among those classed in the Independent column are Senators Stewart, of Nevada, and Kyle, of South Dakota, who in the last Congress acted with the Republicans on all party matters; Turner, of Washington, and Harris, of Kansas, who acted with the Democrats, and Wellington, of Maryland.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1900.

As State Chairman Simmons is such a good manager of campaigns, how would it do to put him at the head of the National Committee next time and see if a Presidential contest could be pulled off with better success to the Democratic party than we have had of late.

Cost of Transporting the Mills

The annual report of Second Assistant Postmaster General Shallenberger was made public today. It shows that the cost of transporting the mails during the year ended June 30, 1900, was $57,160,597, of which sum $55,146,059 was expended for inland service and $2,014,537 for foreign mail service.

The star routes numbered 22,834, with an aggregate length of 269,857 miles and the service cost $5,133,378; the railroad routes numbered 2,668, were of 179,972 miles in length and cost $33,424,982. The total number of all classes of routes was 35,329, which were of 500,989 miles in length and aggregated 459,205,733 miles of travel. The increase over 1899 was 1,031 in the number of routes, 4,040 in miles of length, 13,460,927 in miles of travel and $2,069,645 in expenditures.

Mr. Shallenberger discusses at length the subject of speculative bidding for star route contracts and says that while the cost may be increased under the new system of letting contracts the service will be vastly improved. He proposes to institute rural free delivery or star routes and says that in South Carolina, where it has been installed, the cost is increased only about $6,000 and the service is very satisfactory.—Washington Dispatch.

Gen. Carr's Letter.

To the Democrats of North Carolina:
You have at the ballot box expressed your choice for United States Senator. Your will is my pleasure. I assure you my devotion to the welfare of North Carolina is unabated, and my loyalty to the great Democratic party unshaken. My defeat leaves no bitterness. In the future, as in the past, I will be found fighting the battle of Democracy. I am deeply grateful to my many friends throughout the State who have stood so loyally by me. Surely it is the privilege of few to be honored by the support and confidence of so many good and true men. I shall never forget their loyalty, and may heaven's richest blessings abide with them.
May the great Democratic party long triumph as the champion of the people's rights, and the salvation of the State I love. I remain in bonds of Democratic faith and principles.
Your obedient servant,
J. S. CARR.
Durham, N. C. Nov 7, 1900.

Gen Carr Sends Congratulations

The following telegram was yesterday afternoon received by Senator-elect Simmons from Gen. Julian S. Carr:
"Durham, N. C., Nov. 7, 1900.
"Hon. F. M. Simmons, Raleigh, N. C.
"Accept my heartiest congratulations. In all your efforts to promote the welfare of North Carolina and the Democratic party, I pledge my loyal support."
"J. S. CARR."

Mr. Simmons acknowledged the receipt of General Carr's telegram as follows:
"Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 7, 1900.
"General J. S. Carr Durham N. C.
"Accept my thanks for your wire of congratulation. It is my earnest desire that any dissensions in our party may be speedily healed. I trust that the spirit of your telegram may meet a universal response from our party friends and that we may all work together for the success of Democracy and the welfare of the State. Surely nothing shall be left undone on my part to accomplish this much to be desired result."
"F. M. SIMMONS."

Since early Tuesday afternoon, when it became apparent to those who were watching the progress of the election that Mr. Simmons was elected, telegrams and letters of congratulation have been pouring in from all parts of the State, and from people of all classes and callings. In addition to this, Mr. Simmons' office has been constantly crowded with admirers, anxious to shake the hand of the new Senator and congratulate him on his victory.

In the election returns, it is very gratifying to Mr. Simmons to note that in Jones county, where he was born and lived twenty-two years, only two votes were cast against him. Also that in Onslow county, where he practiced law for fifteen years, only thirty-seven votes were cast against him.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Shorter, But more Eloquent

In the public discussion between the two candidates the first speaker had made a masterly argument, and at the close of its efforts he sat down amid the enthusiastic applause of half the large audience.

But when the other candidate arose to speak he simply said:

"Will all youse fellies wot's goin' to vote for men jine me at the bar in the room below?"

And he was the man who carried the entire audience with him.

A Missouri former who received a package of garden seed in an official envelope with the usual warning printed on the corner that the penalty for private use was $300, sent them back at once with the information that he hadn't used a darned one of 'em.

It was a regular storm for a little while Thursday night.

Every man in the east, who cultivated this kind will average from 2 to 5 per cent more than any other kind. Mr. Sam Mumford, at Ayden, says that his Orinoco will bring fifty dollars more per acre than any other kind grown on same land. Martin county people are growing Orinoco and coining money.
