Now Is The Time

To buy Christmas goods, whether of us or not, it is time. All stocks of Holiday goods are about complete and as surely and as quickly as evening follows morn, broken stocks will follow. Besides the unpleasant rush of the last few days before Christmas, you may miss the very thing you wanted if you wait. We have faith in our stock and our prices and invite your inspection.

ORIGINAL OBSERVATIONS

Made by the Orange Va. Observer.

The cream of experience cometh only from spilled milk.

Even the man with the whiskers is some times a bare faced liar.

Very often church choir singers are experts in games of chants.

Many people throw us bouquets whose flowers have no fragrance.

If you'd escape an old maid's wrath, lead her along love's bridal path.

It is a great deal better to stand for the right than to lie for the wrong.

Congress is determined to "go it blind" this session, as the chaplains of both houses are blind men.

If we would live up to the law of love, the hearts of all the people would be filled with peace.

Every girl has a certain look with which she can squeeze a man—and she is generally successful, too.

There are thousands of people who live on the cold, dark side of life.—What they need is light and love.

Every man believes that if the woman who is a man-hater knew him, she would be a man hater no longer.

What is man but a mixture of microbes? His heart is filled with hatred and his soul overfloweth with selfishness.

There is trial and trouble along the pathway of every life, but only those who succeed win the plaudits of the people.

Smiles are the sunbeams from the soul, which fill your heart with a wondrous happiness when seen on the face of one you love.

Marriage Licenses.

For the first week in December Register of Deeds T. R. Moore issued marriage licenses to the following couples:

WHITE.

B. A. Highsmith and Margaret Overton.

David Jackson and Sallie Kennedy.

J. S. Jackson and Mattie Stokes.

George Knox and Ida L. Bryant

J. F. Godley and Lydia Jones.

Charlie Vaughan and Annie Brown.

COLORED.

Calvin Hardy and Maniza Frizzle.

Dennis Bardin and Clara White.

Allen Tyson and Lucinda Dunn.

Ellis Dixon and Mattie Hazleton.

Dave Williams and Martha May

Robert Barnum and George Ann Atkinson.

Eli Moore and Emma Walston.

William Lewis and Laura Gorham.

Joyner Freeman and Lula Johnson.

Harry Jones and Lucy Ellis.

Variety used to be the spice of life, but now it's vaudeville.

The naked truth may still be clothed in its own righteousness.

The people who pay compliments are not always so ready to pay bills.

A woman doesn't have to know much about art in order to paint her face.

When you see a woman adding up a long column of figures you may be pretty sure that she is a bargain counter.

Have Your Eyes Examined.

Dr. H. Mayer, the celebrated oculist from the Imperial and Royal University of Vienna, Austria, is stopping for several days at Hotel Macon, where he examines all defects of the eyes free of charge. Dr Mayer gives consultation in six languages. The Norfolk Virginian says:

"Dr. H. Mayer, the oculist, has during his twelve month's stay in our city successfully treated the eyes of hundreds of our best people and his practice is continually increasing."

The Washington, N. C. Gazette-Messenger says:

"Dr. H. Meyer, Oculist, who has been here for the past month left for Greenville yesterday. While here the Doctor did a fine business and made many friends. He is an expert in his profession. We commend him to the eye sufferers of our sister town."

Bad For Tobacco Men.

That is bad news to the tobacco men of North Carolina, both growers and manufacturers, which comes from Winston that the Hanes companies there have joined in with the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company. It looks like the plug industry of the state will be absorbed by one company, as has the cigarette industry. The smaller factories will be forced to sell out, or go out of business. When this is accomplished the tobacco farmers will be forced to sell all their tobacco to one concern, and their experience with cigarette tobacco teaches them what that means. The future of the tobacco industry in North Carolina is gloomy indeed.

Mayor's Court.

Mayor J. G. Moye has disposed of the following cases in his court since last report:

Sam Coward, drunk and disorderly, fined one penny and costs, $2.21.

William Moye, drunk and disorderly and using profane and vulgar language, fined $5 and costs, $7.30.

Sam Coward, drunk and disorderly and using profane and vulgar language, fined $5 and costs, $7.30.

William Hanrahan, drunk and disorderly, fined $1 and costs, $3.30.

Will Edwards, assault, fined $2.50 and costs, $7.15.

Demas Morris, disorderly conduct and using vulgar and profane language fined $1 and costs $3.45.

Just two weeks to pop cracker and stocking hanging time.

We have taken great care in growing the most improved bright tobacco seed—the White Stem Orinoco, the Broad Leaf Orinoco are the most reliable tobacco ever grown in any section. Every man in the east, who cultivated this kind will average from 2 to 5 per cent more than any other kind. Mr. Sam Mumford, at Ayden, says that his Orinoco will bring fifty dollars more per acre than any other kind grown on same land. Martin county people are growing Orinoco and coining money. You will find these seed for sale at Dr. Wooten's and Dr. Bryan's Drug stores and at some store in each section of the county at 25 cents per package.

The Well Dressed Man

Attracts your attention wherever you meet him. He is numerous in Greenville this fall, and we take considerable of the credit for this condition of affairs. Ask the man if we are not entitled to this honor. Never before in the history of this establishment have we carried such a complete assortment of

"The Real Thing."

as we have this fall. Our customers tell us this, and they are certainly competent to judge. We have everything that is the rage in New York, and a visit to our establishment will give you a complete knowledge of all that is new and "Chic" in the fashionable world. In regard to our prices: We know that you will not utter a word of complaint. Drop in when you have a little time, we want to see you.

The Vitality of Values.

The first question in the minds of intelligent people now-a-days, who have money to spend is: "If I trade at such and such a store can I feel assured that for every dollar spent I shall receive in exchange a full round honest dollar's worth of merchandise?" To this question this store answers emphatically YES.

One of The Vital Principles of this business is and will be VALUE GIVING.

We Bank on the honesty of our merchandise. You may bank on receiving an honest equivalent for your money every time. If wrongs creep in will right them for you.

Our Store Claims

your attention this time. We have some plain talk for you on DRESS GOODS, CLOTHING, SHOES, WHITE AND FANCY GOODS. Your inspection is cordially invited. We have many new things to show you that were bought in the late season at low prices.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

One month .25
One week .10

Delivered in town by carriers without extra cost.

We desire a live correspondent at every Postoffice in the county who will send in brief items of news as it occurs in each neighborhood. Write plainly and only on one side of the paper.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1900.

We are glad to see it announced that Mr. W. F. Marshall, former editor of the Gastonia Gazette, will again take charge of that paper and return to the editorial field. He is a man who can do the State much good with his pen.

At the Court House Thursday night, the time set for the special meeting of the Board of Aldermen, is the place for every man in Greenville who wants to see the town have electric lights, water works, better streets and sewerage. The town needs these, and it is the duty of every citizen to do his part toward securing them. The Board of Aldermen want the co-operation and counsel of every business man in this matter and all should be at the meeting. Let no one stay away thinking there will be enough present without him. Show your interest in the future of the town by your attendance upon the meeting.

SIX YEARS OLD.

How fast time does fly! This is another anniversary of the existence of THE DAILY REFLECTOR. It seems now but a short while when we look backward, yet it was six years ago today that the first copy of the then little three column sheet was given to the public. The announcement was made at the time that the publication of a daily edition was only an experimental venture. But the people took hold of it, and notwithstanding the oft made remark that Greenville could not support a daily paper, they have shown to the contrary, and through these six years the paper has gone right on with its daily visits to the public. THE REFLECTOR has had faith in Greenville, and the people have had faith in the paper. We have endeavored to hold their confidence by being faithful to every duty and dealing honorably with all. The paper has found profit in adhering to the old policy of attending to its own business, and even when those envious of its success would sneer at or belittle it, no attention whatever was paid thereto. The mission of THE REFLECTOR has been to serve its patrons the best it could and do all in its power to advance and upbuild the community. Honest effort has its reward, hence the success that the paper has met with. It has not pleased everybody, to be sure, and could not if it tried to do so, but it has made friends whose confidence and good will are esteemed above price.

THE REFLECTOR has never achieved what it desires and hopes to, yet we have faith that the future holds brighter days. We realize that there is plenty of room for improvement, and as fast as opportunity and ability are met the progress of the paper will go onward. To this end we ask the continued co-operation and support of the people and believe this will be given.

Love Your Business.

A man can no more be successful in a business he does not like than can a man be happy with a wife he does not love.

Enthusiasm is the power which impels men onward in any and every vocation. Without it men are lethargic. They will drift. But to pull against the tide they are as unable as they are unwilling.

Drifting, however, does not win the race, either in business or aquatic events.

There must be the long pull, the strong pull and the pull with vigor.

Men in business today have no easy task. There is a great deal to discourage and very little to encourage. There are foes within and foes without to contend against.

Under such conditions it is no wonder so many fail altogether or eke out a mere existence.

The antidote for despair is enthusiasm and the germ of enthusiasm is love for or pleasure in that business or vocation in which you are embarked.

Therefore, if you would succeed, get in love with your business.—Exchange.

About the Size of It.

The Gattis-Kilgo trial is all the talk you hear on the streets, and the friends of Trinity college are against Mr. Gattis and the friends of Judge Clark are against Dr. Kilgo—in fact it seems to be considering a rehearing of the Clark-Kilgo trial and an unbiased opinion is hard to find. There has been so much prejudice connected with this whole affair that it cannot be considered on its merits by the courts. For bitterness and genuine meanness there is nothing that equals a family quarrel or a fuss in a church.—Durham Herald.

A Battle Royal.

Young Cornelius Vanderbilt is determined to be recognized as the head of the family, and unless all signs fail he has the Vanderbilt grit and stubbornness to warrant the belief that he will never be second in the family procession. Lively scenes may be expected when Mrs. Cornelius, Sr., and Mrs. Alfred Gwynn begin the fight for supremacy. Two such pretty young matrons will change the face of society and give it lots to think about, but it is hoped their rivalry is not going to split Newport into any more sets. There are enough now.—Boston Herald.

We find this rather remarkable item in a recent issue of the Greensboro Telegram:

Mr. Chas. G. Harrison, connected with the Keely Institute at this place for some time, left this morning for Littleton, where he will reside in future. He will engage in the wholesale wine business with his father, Mr. H. S. Harrison.

Mr. Harrison has been connected with the Keely Institute, a place where they are said to cure drunkards. He will now engage in the wholesale wine business. What for? To make some more business for Keely!—Statesville Landmark.

The successful playwright soon discovers that actions speak louder than words.

Sheriff Edwards, of Greene county, has taken Albert Barrett to the penitentiary to serve five years for assaulting Mr. R. R. Carr, tax lister, last summer, for declining to list his brother's poll, he being only 18 years old but wanting to list in order to register and vote. The jury found Albert Barrett and his brother Tom both guilty of assault with intent to kill. The judge sentenced the older negro, who actually committed the assault to the penitentiary for five years, and set aside the verdict as to the younger negro who will have another trial.—Kinston Free Press.

Good Manners.

Thirty years ago children were taught to be polite in school and out of it, and when one notes a gray-haired man arising in a street car to give his seat to a woman, while a great hulking boy remains seated, he recalls the early teachings of long ago and is thankful for them.—Kansas City Times.

A correspondent of Printers' Ink gives this advice to merchants: Write a letter to some distant friend, telling him about your store your goods, prices, etc. After writing this letter, change your mind and have it printed as a newspaper advertisement instead. You will be surprised at the result.

New Yorkers consumed 750,000 turkeys Thanksgiving day, and a doctor who is not overrun with patients has figured out that if all these were built up into one turkey he would be larger than the Waldorf-Astoria hotel. And if it could gobble what a gobble that would be.—Wilmington Star.
