WEATHER BULLETIN

Fair tonight, probably fair Sunday.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 4th.

How the roughly Senator Hanna dominates the republican steering committee of the Senate is shown by the threats of a cloture rule for the Senate, if there is any attempt to filibuster against the subsidy or the Army reorganization bill, that have come from that committee since Congress reconvened. Whether those threats can be made effective will depend largely upon the backbone exhibited by republican Senators who are opposed to both bills. It is expected that before the Army bill is voted upon a democratic substitute providing for a continuance of the present strength of the army for two years from the first of next July will be offered.

General expression of suspicion of the motive in delaying action on the Nicaragua Canal bill has brought out a statement from prominent republican Senators that action will not be taken for at least a month, because of the desire to show England the courtesy of allowing it that much time to act upon the amended Hay-Pauncefote treaty. According to the same authority, the bill will be called up early in February and passed. That, however, doesn't seem to be the opinion of the President of the Panama Canal Co., who is in Washington, as he has publicly said that he considers his company still has a chance to sell out to the U. S., which he pretends that it isn't at all anxious to do, as it can sell to England, France and Germany at any time. Whether this impudent Frenchman is bluffing or really has hold on any considerable number of Senators sufficiently strong to hold up the Nicaragua Canal bill will shortly become apparent.

There is an old-time row among Ohio republicans. Senator Foraker has accused several members of his party of fixing up a conspiracy to put Representative Dick in Foraker's seat at the close of his term, by a deal with the anti-saloon element and the use of the Ohio Republican Committee, of which Dick is chairman. Foraker is said to have given Dick a personal raking over that he will never forget and to have succeeded in getting Hanna to break with Dick who has been his confidential man ever since he started out to be a political boss. Whether Dick, deprived of Hanna's support, will be strong enough to put up anything like a winning fight against Foraker, is doubtful, out the rumpus isn't going to increase brotherly love among Ohio republicans.

Gen. Miles has a few facts in his possession about embalmed beef that have never been made public but which may be included in the answer that he will make in his own time to ex-Secretary Alger's new attack on him. Speaking of the matter, Gen. Miles said: "Mr. Alger, by publishing a book and by the use of the public press in dealing with facts connected with the Spanish war, has laid himself open to reply by any army officer who is in any way affected by the statements made. While I have not yet fully decided on the course I shall pursue in the matter, it is very likely I shall at some future time put on record a few facts which it will be impossible to whistle down. 'The administration has such a dread of what Gen. Miles may say that veiled threats of removing him from the command of the army if he replies to Alger have been made. Mr. McKinley, as all the world knows, would welcome an excuse to humiliate Gen. Miles, and since the Senate Military committee adopted the ideas of Gen. Miles on army reorganization, in place of what was known as the Root plan—prepared by Gen. Corbin—Secretary Root would gladly help. For that reason some of Gen. Miles friends are trying to get him to wait until after his retirement to have his final say."

Dr. Calvin J. Pollock, of Kirksville, Mo., was the inventive early bird in the wee sma' hours of the new century. He desired to present the first application of the century for a U. S. patent, and through the enterprise of his attorneys, C. A. Snow & Co., of Washington, D. C., accomplished his object.

The Treasury Bureau of Statistics is out in a nice little statement to the effect that the United States exceeds Great Britain in its exports of domestic produce. So it does strictly speaking, but the foreign trade of Britain is still nearly double that of the United States. Figures don't lie, of course, but they are awfully handy to lie with.

SEEN AND HEARD IN WASHINGTON.

Washington, N. C. Jan. 5, 1901. A party of R. R. & Lumber Co. officials were here on the 31st, looking over the situation, and opportunities for terminals, etc. Hope they maye ome.

Rumor has it that a young couple made good the adage "love laughs at locksmiths." The friends of the young lady had been keeping close watch on her for a time, and after watching all night, while her brother was gone to the depot to carry her trunk or make arrangements to take her to Norfolk she disappeared.

New Year's Day was quiet here, some places of business closed. Watch meetings were held in some of the churches, while others appeared to think "The Architect" would do about right, even if they did go to sleep and ring no bells in the wee sma' hours.

Mr. Fulford of Rocky Mount, the father of Mr. John Fulford, of our town, was buried on the 2d inst.

The Tribe No. 18 I. O. R. M. elected officers on the night of the 31st, as follows: Prophet, B. W. Taylor; Sachem, F. G. Paul; Senior Sagamere, F. Potts; Junior Sagamere, M. L. Jones; Keeper of Records, Geo. E. Buckman; Keeper of Wampum, A. N. Mitchell.

A meeting was called recently to organize a Board of Trade, and a second one on the 3rd inst. to effect a permanent organization. A. M. Dumway was elected President, and is ex officio chairman of the executive committee. 1st vice-President, W. B. Rodman; 2nd vice President, M. T. Archbell. Executive committee, G. J. Studert, Geo. T. Leach, W. P. Baugham and J. Havens. Hon. Geo. H. Brown, Jr. and W. B. Rodman were appointed a committee to draft a bill to have the "Chamber of Commerce" incorporated at the next session of the General Assembly. Thirty or forty were present, and some who are usually conspicuous in such meetings (by their absence) were there, and much earnestness seemed to pervade those present.

In my late communication, in speaking of the sale by Mr. Whiteley of his stock to Mr. Starling, (I should have written), but THE REFLECTOR made it Sterling, as did also The Messenger in the next issue after THE REFLECTOR.

The Eureka Lumber Co on the 3rd inst, sent their locomotive back to Falkland and will resume operations at that place. They have been using it at Aurora.

TRUE AMERICANISM.

Address By W P Edwards Before the Jr O U A M

Do we who have had the good fortune of being born in this land of the free and home of the brave realize as we should the high privileges of our birthright? Do we appreciate the unparalleled liberties and opportunities of our beloved America? Is there not cause for alarm in the signs and tendencies of our modern progressive, aggressive, rushing civilization? Are we not as Americans today bending almost our entire energies in quest of the almighty dollar? Are we not as a nation becoming too mercenary in our aims? I believe we are. It is well that we pause and contemplate our present privileges and our duties to posterity. While these are only a few of the dangers threatening our republic, let us pass on to see wherein our safety lies.

We have been accustomed to regard the free school system as the chief corner-stone of the republic, and popular education as the only safe and staple basis for popular liberty. So that our fathers before us, and the principles may be found interwoven in a thousand forms into the very thread and texture of our political institutions.

Children should be educated as those by whom the destinies of the nation are one day to be welded; and free schools should be cherished as places in which those destinies are even now to be moved. As each new generation starts up to the responsibilities of manhood, there is as it were a new launch of liberty and its voyage begins afresh. Sons and daughters devoted to education are the only sacrifice which God has prescribed to render the progress of free government safe and sound. Therefore let us resist every object of disunion, every encroachment upon our liberties, every attempt to fetter our conscience, to smother our public schools, or to extinguish our schools, or our system of public instruction, and let us encourage every intellectual power and moral force, every physical impulse, passion and desire, so that all the powers of both mind and body shall contribute to their maximum degree to the making of a noble man or woman, a self-reliant, self-possessed, self-governing citizen distinctly American, one whose mental, moral and spiritual training has been such as to teach not only how to die for, but the noble purpose how best to live for ones country.

The liberty of the press is the highest safeguard of all free government. Ours could not exist without it. It is like a great exulting and abounding river. It is fed by the dews of Heaven, which distills their sweetest drops to form it. It gushes from the rill as it breaks from the deep cavern of the earth. On its broad bosom it bears a thousand barks. There genius spreads its purpling soil; there poetry dips its silver oar, there art, invention, discourse, science morality and religion may safely float. It wanders through every land. It has a genial and cordial source of thought and inspiration wherever it touches, whatever it surrounds. On its borders there blooms every flower of truth and of grace.

Sometimes that river over-steps its bounds. Sometimes that stream becomes a dangerous torrent and destroys towns and cities upon its banks. But without it civilization humanity, all that makes society itself, would disappear and all the world return to its ancient barbarism.

Bereft of patriotism, the heart of a nation will be cold and cramped, the arts will have no enduring impulse, and commerce no invigorating soul, society will degenerate, the mean and vicious will triumph. Patriotism is not a wild and glittering passion, but a glorious reality. The virtue that gave to paganism its dazzling lustre, to barbarism its redeeming trait, to Christianity its heroic form, is not dead. It still lives to console and sanctify humanity. It has its altar in every clime, its worshipers and its festivities. On the heathered hills of Scotland the sword of Wallace is yet a bright tradition. The genius of France in the brilliant literature of the day pays homage to the piety and heroism of the young maid of Orleans.

By the soft blue waters of lake Lucerne stands the chapel of William Tell. At Sunspruck in the black isle of the old Cathedral, the peasant of Tyrol kneels before the statue of Andreas Hofer. In the defiles and rallies of the tyrol, who forgets the day when he fell within the walls of Mantua? It is a festive day throughout his quiet, noble land. In the old Cathedral his inspiring memory is recalled amid the pageantries of the altar; his image appears in every house, his victories and virtues are proclaimed in the songs of the people, and when the sun goes down a chain of fire in the deep red light of which the eagle spreads his wing and holds his giddy revelry, proclaims the glory of the chief whose blood has made his native land a sainted spot in Europe.

Shall not all join in this glorious worship? Shall not all have the faith, the duties, the festivities of patriotism? Therefore let us prove ourselves true-sons and daughters to our country. Let us lovingly uphold the symbol of our just authority—the glorious flag of the United States. Let us labor to make her, by her noble example, the peaceful propagandist of justice and freedom throughout the whole world. Let us serve her with all our might, and defend her, should occasion summon, with our mortal lives.

If that Omaha reward continues to grow, it won't be long until all police in the country lay aside their cravings for turkey and begin to hunt for Crowe.

BROKE IN JAIL.

And Took Two Prisoners Out.

When Sheriff Harrington went to the court house this morning he found two doors of the jail open and two prisoners gone. There were no signs of any force being used on the doors, so they must have been opened with keys from the outside.

The two prisoners missing were Charles Edwards, white, and Jim Patterson, colored. Patterson was a "trustee" who stayed in the corridor to keep the fires going. He went to the home of ex-Sheriff Mooring, nine miles from town, before day this morning, and told the latter that last night four men heavily armed went to the jail and unlocked the door, then went to the cell in which Charles Edwards was confined unlocked the door and took him out. He says that the men seeing him, (Patterson) in the corridor they also took him out, him on a buggy, drove across the bridge and told him to leave and not be seen about here again or he would be killed. Acting on this Patterson went on to the home of the ex-Sheriff and told the above story. The affair is all a mystery beyond what the negro told.

MUNFORD'S BIG NEW STORE.

Well may the good people of Greenville and surrounding country be thankful and proud of their Big Store and the wonderful bargains that come from that great institution. For the third time this season has the buyer been north, picking and scouring the New York, Boston and Philadelphia markets and quickly snapped up all the "Juicy Plums." This was securing a leading manufacturer's fall shipment of fine clothing for men and boys intended for a clothier in Galveston, Tex., but which was countermanded on account of the flood. The result is, we can offer mens and boys highest grade clothing at just one-half the old time clothier's price. They will be ready and placed on the tables on

OUR STORE GROWING.

What has made our store such a busy place? What we advertise we do. The throngs that daily fill the store is the very best evidence that we rather understate than otherwise the remarkable value we have to sell.

Our Popular Store.

We leave it to you if there is not a snap, vim or go, about this business not perceptible in any other business in Greenville. It is no secret. The "old foggy" dry goods and clothiers are sleeping, waiting for you to come in and pay them their 50 per cent. profit. Will you do it? Or will you trade with a live, hustling, progressive concern that is working like a Trojan and making your dollar buy two dollars worth. We have doubled the business since we are in our new building already, and now want to tripple it.

Holiday Goods.

Over 2 car loads of fancy goods suitable for Christmas presents. The entire store presents a big Bazaar. Everything you can think of is right here. And the
