WEATHER BULLETIN.

Occasional rains probably to-night and Thursday.

Go, Boys.

The State Guard will be invited to attend the inauguration of Gov. Aycock. A railroad rate of one cent per mile has been secured for the military. The Greenville Light Infantry headed by the Osceola Band could cut a figure at the inauguration.

No Recount.

A late census bulletin gives the number of animals "in barns and inclosures (in cities and towns) as distinguished from animals found on farms and ranges," and it shows that in all the North Carolina cities and towns there are only 88 asses.

There is some comfort in this. We shall not ask for a recount.—Raleigh Post.

"Let Us All Pull Together."

The Greensboro Record starts the new year with the excellent advice to its community, "Let us all pull together." It is good advice, and applicable to every community. "Let us all pull together" for our towns and counties and State. North Carolina has just begun to catch the breezes which build up a people industrially and prosperously. Let each and every citizen lend a helping hand, and a cheerful, confident voice to keeping the sails so spread that a fair share of every passing breeze will be utilized.—Raleigh Post.

Needn't Keep Fire Inventory

Washington, D. C., Jan. 7.—The Supreme Court today decided the case of the Liverpool, London and Globe Insurance Company vs. Kearney & Wyse, involving the validity of the clause in a fire insurance policy requiring the assured to keep an inventory of his effects in a fireproof compartment, and holding the policy void if this were not done.

Kearney & Wyse were hardware dealers in Ardmore, I. T., and lost their inventory. The Circuit Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit decided that this occurrence did not invalidate the policy, and the Supreme Court affirmed this opinion.

The optimist always believes that the best years of his life are those he has yet to live.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina.

Durham has voted to issue $200,000 for sewerage and street improvements.

The Secretary of State has chartered a $100,000 tobacco company at Mt. Airy.

There are now 68 inmates of the Soldiers' Home at Raleigh. The death rate the past three years has been about twelve a year.

Charles A. Cook has been appointed a member of the Supreme Court to fill the vacancy caused by the elevation of Judge Furches.

The recent report of the board of directors of the Greensboro dispensary shows that about $16,000 has been paid by it into the city and county treasury since its establishment eighteen months ago. This is considerably more than double the amount of tax derived under the former barroom system.

Our Raleigh correspondent in yesterday's paper gave currency to a rumor in circulation in that city that Mr. Aycock, during his term as Governor, may not live in the executive mansion but at a hotel. If this shall prove true it will be, we suppose, for reasons of economy. We hope that under the circumstances it is not a transgression of the rules of delicacy to say that Mr. Aycock is a poor man with a large family. He cannot live becomingly in the executive mansion and entertain as is expected on the salary of $3,000. The State has very properly built a mansion, and beautified the grounds around it, for the residence of its Governor, and it is but reasonable that it should pay to its chief executive officer a salary sufficient to enable him to live in it in a manner befitting the office. Governor Russell is a man of independent fortune, and his predecessor, Governor Carr, was also a man of means. They could afford to draw upon their private means to supplement the salary; Mr. Aycock cannot do this. We trust that the Legislature will, in its wisdom, increase the governor's salary.—Charlotte Observer.

North Carolina cannot afford to act picayunish towards her children. There are too many boys and girls unable to read and write, already.—Charlotte News.

WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C. Jan. 9. The Board of Directors of the Winterville High School held a meeting yesterday in the new college building and much business of importance was transacted. Several members of the Board from a distance were in attendance.

In spite of Christmas and the holiday stir we still have a large lot of wire fence on hand. Winterville Wire Fence Co.

Miss Annie Lee Staley, after spending a delightful holiday season at her home, Staley, N. C., returned Friday evening and has resumed her duties as assistant principal in the Winterville High School. Her brother, Hubert Staley, came with her and will attend the spring term of the school.

When you arrange your garden you had best get our chicken and rabbit proof wire fence, 5 feet high at 12½ cents per yard. Winterville Wire Fence Co.

Miss Nannie D. Wood, who expresses herself as spending a most pleasant Xmas at her home in Charlottesville, Va., has returned, and the delightful strains of music one now hears in passing the rooms of the music department of the Winterville High School is fully convincing that a master hand is behind the throne.

Best grade farm fence with barbed wire at bottom, 10 cents per yard. Winterville Wire Fence Co.

Prof. G. E. Lineberry is in most excellent spirits, and well he may be, for the first day's session of his spring term opened with twenty-two new pupils, and there are quite a large number still to come. There isn't the slightest doubt that the enrollment for the present session will far exceed one hundred pupils. When the college is duly furnished and everything in place, we will have the finest school east of the Wilmington and Weldon railroad. Our teachers cannot be excelled, and the facilities naturally surrounding us are very encouraging, indeed, that every advantage will be taken to make this school of the highest grade, admits of no question.

To make a cheap stock fence get our two foot hog fence at 6 cents per yard and put two strands of barbed wire at top. We can supply you with barbed wire. Winterville Wire Fence Co.

Edward Hamilton, of Grangers, has moved his family here so his children may have the benefit of a good school.

1,000 good lightwood cart hubs wanted by the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co.

J. A. Jarrell left yesterday for Rocky Mount to accept a position in the machine shops.

A. G. Cox is still paying the highest cash prices for cotton seed.

Reasonable and Right

If our prices are reasonable then they are bound to be right. If our merchandise is right then it is bound to be reasonably priced. Fair pricing is a basic principle in this store. To buy the right thing at the reasonable price is better, far better and more economical than the wrong thing at most any old price. The poorly priced is meanly made, got a wrong twist in it somewhere, you can't depend upon it.

When you want good dry goods you don't want to be shown makeshifts apologies for good dry goods. We cannot too strongly emphasize the goodness, the reasonableness of the following items:

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 9, 1901.

What has become of the old boyhood tastes? Where is the palate that used to be tickled at the thought of persimmons and wild locusts; of black haws and muscadines? What is the matter with a man when he forgets the old days of cracklings and roasted sweet potatoes coming smoking hot from the ashes of a hickory wood fire.—Charlotte News.

Oh you are in too "cited" a place to be in touch with old time things. Just come down this way and sit around THE REFLECTOR office some evening when Joe Evans comes in with a jug of persimmon beer, and you will find out that some of the old boyhood tastes are still in evidence. Down this way we have not lost the tastes of crackling bread, either.

Insurance Commissioner Young tells our Raleigh correspondent that he investigated last year the origin of twenty-five fires and found that ten of them were incendiary. All of these except two occurred in stores and "it is very significant that in almost every case there was over-insurance." It is not a violent presumption nor a reflection upon the vigilance of the commissioner to say that ten of these fires were found to be incendiary, there were others likewise incendiary, the origin of which was not discovered. People speak of the subject under their breath but it is well known that there are a good many insurance fires in North Carolina.—Charlotte Observer.

A Curious Case.

High Point correspondent of the Greensboro Telegram: There lives in High Point a woman who is known as "Little" Daisy Beal. She is 22 years of age, and never walked in her life, being confined to a cradle all these years. She is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Beal, of this place. When three days old the unfortunate child suffered a severe stroke of paralysis of the left arm and side. She is one of a pair of twins, the other, a boy, dying soon after birth. When three weeks old her head began to enlarge, resulting in the opening of the fissures of the skull and assumed the enormous size of 32 inches in circumference. Soon after she was thrown into spasms from which she has since suffered daily. Physicians of reputation have seen her, some of them coming from a long distance to study the case, which is said to be unparalleled in the history of medical science. At present the invalid is being treated by Prof. Mac Knight, of the Hamner School of Science and Healing, who, it is claimed, is effecting a change for the better in her condition.

A Close Season For Birds.

Quite a number of the best element of sportsmen in this State are declaring that it would be wise for the next Legislature to pass a law which will prevent the killing of partridges for the next five years. If this is not done the chances are that practically all the birds in North Carolina will be killed inside of ten years at the outside. In the last four or five years partridges have been shot and trapped in the most reckless, wasteful fashion; and, despite the law forbidding the shipment of birds from the State, North Carolina is at present furnishing a good proportion of the birds sold in the Northern markets. This statement is made advisedly. It is no trouble to conceal partridges for shipment—a fact that many dealers know to their advantage.

The entire system of killing birds in this State for market is on an extravagant, inconsiderable basis. The farmer or the trapper sells for about 8 cents a bird that, at the last sale, retails for treble that amount. If he doesn't do this he leases the shooting rights on his place to Northern sportsmen for a nominal price. In neither case does he make a profit.

In spite of this wholesale slaughter it is probable that there are more partridges in North Carolina than in any other State in the Union. This fact or advantage should be maintained, and, with that end in view, the birds should be protected for a few years at least.

Americans—no matter in what State they live—should realize the penalty of inadequate game laws. Look at the mad, foolish slaughter and practical extinction of the bison—in a few years. Other big game in the West has suffered from a similar murderous spirit.

This subject, as applied to quail, should be seriously considered by North Carolinians. The partridge is peculiarly at home in this State. It furnishes the best of sport and as a matter of food has been, hitherto a luxury within the reach of almost every one. But this condition will not last if some restriction is not placed on unreasonable killing. The bird should be protected by a close season for five years. This protection would be of incalculable benefit to the vendor, the sportsman and the consumer.—Charlotte Observer.

Give the rank and file a chance after you have had all you can get yourself.—Grover Cleveland.—Chicago Times-Herald.

AN EASY GOING BEAR.

Photographing a Big Grizzly in the Yellowstone Park.

I said to my cowboy friend, "Do you know this bear?"
 He replied: "Waal, I reckon I do. That's the old grizzly. He's the biggest 'n'r in the park. He generally minds his own business, but he ain't scared o' nothin, an' today, you see, he's been scrappin, so he's liable to be ugly."

"I would like to take his picture," said I, "and if you will help me I am willing to take some chances on it."

"All right," said he, with a grin. "I'll stand by on the horse, an' if he charges you I'll charge him, an' I'll knock him down once, but I can't do it twice. You better have your tree picked out."

The grizzly came on, and I snapped him at 40 yards, then again at 20 yards, and still he came quietly toward me. I sat down on the garbage and made ready—18 yards—16 yards—12 yards—8 yards, and still he came, while the pitch of Johnny's protests kept rising proportionately. Finally at five yards he stopped and swung his huge bearded head to one side to see what was making that aggravating row in the tree top, giving me a profile view, and I snapped the camera. At the click he turned on me with a thunderous g-r-o-w-l, and I sat still and trembling, wondering if my last moment had come. For a second he glared at me, and I could note the little green electric lamp in each of his eyes. Then he slowly turned and picked up a large tomato can.

"Goodness," I thought, "is he going to throw that at me?" But he deliberately lickered it out, dropped it and took another, paying therefor no heed whatever either to me or to Johnny, evidently considering us equally beneath his notice.—E. Seton-Thompson in Scribner's.

TOOK CENTURIES TO BUILD.

Cologne Cathedral Was in Process of Erection 632 Years.

While the first stone of Cologne cathedral was laid on Aug. 15, 1248, and the body of the edifice was not opened until Aug. 15, 1848, 600 years later to the very day, it was not, however, until Aug. 15, 1880, that the splendid structure was finally reported completed, having thus occupied in building the record time of exactly 632 years.

The castle of Kingsberg, which stands at the southern extremity of Jutland, took 204 years from the laying of the foundation stone to the rigging of its master's banner on its highest flagstaff. Its foundation stone was the skull of its builder's bitterest enemy. Three months after its laying Count Jhorsing, the builder of the castle, was killed. His son was then in swaddling clothes. He did not continue his father's work until aged 24.

On his twenty-fifth birthday he was thrown into prison by the son of the man whose skull lay in the earth of Kingsberg's foundation stone. In this manner master after master of Kingsberg was stopped putting another stone toward the completion of the founder's work till civilization intervened.

Restormel castle, in Cornwall, took 90 years to build, of which period exactly one-third was occupied in excavating the foundations. The solid rock upon which it stands is almost as hard as iron. Indeed Restormel means, in Cornish "the palace of the iron rock."

Milan cathedral was begun in 1386 and finished under Napoleon in 1805, 419 years.

The Duomo, at Florence, was commenced by Arnulfo in the year 1294, the last block of marble being placed in position in the facade in presence of the king on May 12, 1887, a period of 593 years.—Stray Stories.

WINE OF CARDUI

THE LINK THAT BINDS.

JACKSON, TENN., NOV. 23.

I was subject to miscarriage for three years, and suffered constantly with backache. I wrote to you for advice, and after using three bottles of Wine of Cardui, according to your directions, I am strong and well, and the mother of a fine girl baby.

Mrs. E. N. JOWERS.

Wine of Cardui

There is no use talking—a baby in the house is the link that binds husband and wife together. Nothing is sadder than fruitless wedlock. The prattling and cooing of the little ones offset a thousand times the occasional worries and trials of life. When a wife is barren, there is a derangement somewhere in the genital organs, caused by one or more of those common disorders known as "female troubles". Wine of Cardui is the remedy. It puts the organs of generation in a strong and healthy condition, fitting the wife for the sacred duty of reproducing her kind. During the period of gestation the entire system of the expectant mother is built up to withstand the ordeal of labor, and when the little one makes its advent it is lusty and strong, well-fitted to grow to maturity in perfect health. The mother, too, passes through the trial with little pain and no dread. Wine of Cardui is truly a wonderful medicine for women.

A case unique in the annals of Virginia courts was decided in the Corporation Court, of Norfolk last week, when a jury in the case of "Nellie," a pet dog belonging to Mrs. D. Winn, was adjudged not vicious. The dog was on trail for its life for biting 10-year old Martha Bakish. Much evidence was introduced by the defense showing that the dog was not vicious, and the jury, composed of prominent citizens, rendered the above verdict. Four lawyers, including the City Attorney appeared in the case.—Exchange.

It will probably be a new one to many people to know that, under the law of Virginia, if a dog bites you you can have him arrested, put on trial before a jury, of his peers, no, that won't do, say before a jury of his countrymen, and have him hung, shot, imprisoned, fined or discharged. Who can say that the dog has not his day in Virginia.—Durham Sun.

There is not a town in this state but would have a dozen more factories if purchasers would give home-made goods the preference. Many of us who advocate the policy of patronizing home industries never think of it when making purchases.—Durham Herald.

MUNFORD'S BIG NEW STORE.

Well may the good people of Greenville and surrounding country be thankful and proud of their Big Store and the wonderful bargains that come from that great institution. For the third time this season has the buyer been north, picking and scouring the New York, Boston and Philadelphia markets and quickly snapped up all the "Juicy Plums." This was securing a leading manufacturer's fall shipment of fine clothing for men and boys intended for a clothier in Galveston, Tex., but which was countermanded on account of the flood. The result is, we can offer mens and boys highest grade clothing at just one-half the old time clothier's price. They will be ready and placed on the tables on

OUR STORE GROWING.

What has made our store such a busy place? What we advertise we do. The throngs that daily fill the store is the very best evidence that we rather understate than otherwise the remarkable value we have to sell.

Our Popular Store.

We leave it to you if there is not a snap, vim or go, about this business not perceptible in any other business in Greenville. It is no secret. The "old foggy" dry goods and clothiers are sleeping, waiting for you to come in and pay them their 50 per cent. profit. Will you do it? Or will you trade with a live, hustling, progressive concern that is working like a Trojan and making your dollar buy two dollars worth. We have doubled the business since we are in our new building already, and now want to triple it.

Commissioner Cannon.

On the first Monday in December when the Board of County Commissioners qualified for the new term, Commissioner-elect C. J. Tucker was in a hospital at Baltimore being operated upon for injuries he had received in a boiler explosion at his gin during the fall. At the January meeting on Monday of this week he was present but notified the other members of the Board that circumstances were such that he could not qualify. This left a vacancy on the Board and Superior Court Clerk D. C. Moore appointed Mr. Jesse Cannon of Contentnea township to fill the office.

Mr. Tucker made an excellent Commissioner the term he served the county and his re-nomination for the office by the county convention was unanimous. Mr. Cannon is one of the best men we have in the county and the Clerk could not have appointed a better man to fill the position. He has accepted and qualified.

Whistling For Cash.

J. Kuner Westbrook, of Wilmington, who has gained quite a reputation as a whistler, recently went to New York and made engagements at $150 per week for the display of his unusual talent. He will whistle for the Edison Phonograph Company in the forenoons, while in the evenings he will whistle at theatres. Mr. Westbrook lived a season in Greenville some years ago, and is especially remembered for his clever acting of the negro role when "The Deacon" was so excellently played in the opera house. His friends here congratulate him that he is now whistling up so much cash.
