A Tall Family.

There are now in Asheville two Texas twins, visiting relatives. They stand six feet three inches in height, are built in proportion and are still growing as they are only 19 years old. There are thirteen children in the family and the dwarf of the family measures six feet. Their parents are North Carolinians who moved to Texas, where all the children were born. This shows what North Carolina stock can do when it has plenty of room to elongate.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

The divorce system is love's bankrupt court.

Every man is bilious when he is a pessimist, and every woman is a pessimist when she is bilious.

The women will now all strike for dresses, because they don't want to wear the styles of the last century.

Diogenes probably preferred to live in a tub because there wasn't enough room in it for him and any of his wife's relations.

The pen is mightier than the sword. A man who couldn't make a woman marry him by skinning her alive can do it by writing her a dozen fool love letters.—New York Press.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY

What The Law makers are Doing.

TUESDAY, 22.

SENATE.

The following were among the new bills introduced:

By Henderson: To collect and arrange a display of North Carolina products for the Pan-American Exposition.

By Broughton: For the relief and government of the North Carolina institutions for the deaf and dumb and blind.

By James: To authorize Pitt commissioners to elect cotton weigher for Greenville.

By Vann: To protect owners of timber.

The election of United States Senator was gone into when Simmons received 33 votes and Pearson 8. All the Democrats voted for Simmons and the seven Republicans and one Populist voted for Pearson.

HOUSE.

Some of the new bills introduced were:

By Nicholson: To incorporate the chamber of commerce of Washington.

By Willard: To provide home rule for North Carolina cities.

By Hood: To punish the offense of assault with deadly weapon with intent to kill.

A joint resolution to extend an invitation to Dr. Curry, agent of the Peabody fund, to address the Legislature provoked lengthy discussion, opposition arising from the statement that Dr. Curry had used his influence for Pearson and against Crawford in the contest for the seat in Congress from the ninth district.

WEDNESDAY, 23rd.

SENATE.

The following were some of the new measures introduced:

By Long, Joint Resolution of respect to the memory of Queen Victoria of Great Britain, ordering flag on capital building placed at half mast for three days.

By Marshal, to amend the Constitution of N. C. Judiciary Committee. This bill is designed to reapportion the membership of the General Assembly on a purely white basis.

By Foushee to amend the charter of the Methodist Orphanage.

By Henderson, providing for alimony in certain cases of divorce.

By James, to exempt Bryan

Buck from peddler's tax.

By Lindsay to enforce the collection of rents.

HOUSE.

In the election of United States Senator in the House the vote was Simmons 88, Pearson 18. This made the vote on joint ballot, Simmons 121, Pearson 26.

Representative Connor, of Wilson, offered a resolution expressing sympathy upon the death of Queen Victoria, and extending best wishes to the new king, Edward VII, which was adopted by a rising vote.

The resolution is entitled "Resolution of Sorrow and Sympathy at the Death of Her Majesty, Victoria, Queen of Great Britain and Ireland, Empress of India."

"Resolved by the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of North Carolina, the Senate concurring:

"(1) That the sympathy of the people of North Carolina is with the family of her late majesty and with the people of the British Empire, in their sorrow at the death of the great and good Queen Victoria.

"(2) That the people of this State extend to His Majesty Edward VII. their good wishes. They hope for him a long and happy reign, and they hope that during his reign the ties of friendship long existing between the people of this republic and of the mother country may be multiplied and strengthened; and that peace, happiness and prosperity may ever bless the great empire over which it is his high duty to reign.

"(3) That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to His Majesty's plenipotentiary at Washington."

The following were among the new bills introduced:

By Nichols: An act to allow the county commissioners to appoint cotton weighers in all townships in Pitt county.

By Rountree: An act to regulate the return of property seized under attachments.

Most of the bills at this session were of local character.

Special Meeting.

The Board of Aldermen will hold a special meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the office of Messrs. Jarvis & Blow to consider the bill to be presented to the General Assembly to permit the town to vote on the question of issuing $75,000 in bonds for the purpose of putting in water works, electric light, street improvements and building a market house and graded school building. Every Alderman should be present.

A Charlotte lawyer turned over to the court the other day some funds which had been paid him—about $175—which on reflection the lawyer had concluded his client did not come by honestly and which under the circumstances his conscience would not allow him to retain. THURSDAY, JANUARY 24, 1901.

In Congress a few days ago when the river and harbor appropriation bill was under discussion, Congressman John H. Small, of this district, addressed the House on the subject of establishing an inland waterway along the Atlantic coast. Mr. Small's plan is feasible and would result in national benefit if it is carried out. Such a waterway through North Carolina would enable vessels to pass through inland and avoid the dangers of Hatteras where so many wrecks and so much loss of life and property occur every year. Mr. Small showed where establishing a few canals here and there an inland waterway could be had from Cape Cod to the Gulf of Mexico. The imagination can hardly grasp the immense benefit it would be to all shipping and business interests.

Joseph Geskie of Trenton, N. J., wanted to be a soldier, but was rejected because he weighed only 128 pounds. Thereupon he went home and lay in bed two days, meanwhile stuffing himself with an incredible number of cinnamon buns. Returning to the recruiting office in due course he "struck the 152 pound notch" and was accepted. Now the physicians are puzzled and Joseph is happy. Dime museum managers who are engaged in the manufacture of fat women will find in this incident a valuable suggestion.

There is no question but that there is need for a better law for collecting debts in North Carolina. Almost every man, if indeed not every one, we have spoken to on the subject agree that the State needs a new law along this line. The business men especially are highly favorable to it. All classes of our citizens need it. The morals of the people demand it. The law is urgent if we are to be a progressive people. — Salisbury Sun.

The Delaware legislature is discussing the question of abolishing the state's antiquated pillory system, but it is proposed to widen the sphere of the whipping so that wife beaters may receive a proper number of lashes upon the bare back. This would at any rate provide punishment that fits the crime. — Macon, Ga., Telegraph.

Elizabeth City had the worst fire in its history Sunday night. Several stores were burned, the loss going over $100,000.

THE HOTEL BELLBOY.

He Plans to Have One Day of Fun and Revenge.

"Some day when I have accumulated a stake," said one of the bright bellboys at the Blossom House the other day. "I am going to have some fun." "What are you going to do?" a bystander asked. "I am simply going to some big hotel in Chicago or St. Louis and live for a day," and the boy paused to let the remark soak in. "And that's your idea of a good time, is it?" queried the curious listener.

"Hold on! I am not through yet. I am going to a big hotel with three big grips, and I am going to make the bellboy carry all of them up to the room for me. I won't carry even the smallest one. Then as soon as I am in my room I am going to have some ice water. I will not ring for ice water, but for a bellboy, and after he has climbed to the fifth floor—bellboys are not permitted to use the elevator, you know, and I shall not take a room lower than the fifth floor—when he has climbed up there I will tell him I want some ice water.

"I will drink all the ice water I can and pour the rest in a cuspidor. Then I will ring for more ice water. After that I shall order a cocktail served in my room. I don't drink, but there must be variety in my scheme. Then I will decide to take a Turkish bath and will call a boy to carry my grip down to the bathroom. When I return, I will ring for more ice water.

"I will insist on having the same bellboy serve me all the time, and I'll keep him chasing around until he will curse me at every step. Then when I get ready to leave and he is happy to think he shall never see my cursed face again I will give him a dollar. You know I couldn't think of putting a boy to all that trouble without rewarding him, because I have been through the mill myself. What I have just described happens to a bellboy every day of his life—all except getting the dollar when it is over."—Kansas City Times.

New Subjects Of Taxation.

If the chairman of the finance committee of the lower house of the Legislature could have forseen his appointment to that position, he might have gotten from the tax books of other States a good deal of valuable information as to subjects of taxation which it is probably too late for him to accumulate now. There must be in North Carolina a good many things, of one kind and another, which could justly stand taxation, which are not on the tax books now. It would seem that if a good financier had before him the revenue act of every State in the Union he would find them an interesting subject of study and could gather from them a great many ideas which, if applied in this State, would largely augment the public revenues without working hardship to any individual or interest. An able State Treasurer, who made the duties of his office a subject of study, could do the work and incorporate the result of his investigations in his report to the Legislature, in the form of recommendations. Of course we speak now for the future, for, as above suggested, if this has not been already done it is too late to do it for the present session. Perhaps, even, it has been done, though we cannot think so, for it is certain that other States tax a great many things which North Carolina does not. With the system of tax dodging which is open and flagrant in this State—though perhaps not more so than in others—it is not to be wondered at that the visible property is put on the tax books at an average of half to three-fourths of its actual value. There seems to be scant prospect of an improvement in this state of things, and unless new subjects of taxation are found the demands upon the public Treasury for legitimate needs are likely to continue to out-run the cash in it. — Charlotte Observer.

The Christian church prayer meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock, at the home of Mr. H. L. Coward, in South Greenville, instead of at 7 o'clock as published yesterday.

South Greenville people enjoyed a delightful open air concert by the Osceola Band Wednesday night. The band was out in honor of Mr. J. S. Munday and family, of Newark, and Mr. Samuel Streit, of New York, who are the guests of Leader Ola Forbes.

The Raleigh correspondent of the 21st to the Charlotte Observer says: "Newspaper people will be interested in this bit of information: One of the rural mail carriers here tells me that when he began his route last August only one farmer took a daily paper; now 40 are subscribers. Then only ten took pecky papers; now 100 take them. The fact is that a man in the country off a railway, five miles from here, was out of the world. Now he is in touch with the procession."

Right here is a pointer on the subject of popular education. Get the people to read and you have much of the problem solved. A non reading people can hardly be educated. A reading people are unconsciously being educated all the while. A patron some time ago told the writer that his county paper was worth more than all the schooling his children gets and that he has two brothers that grew up without learning to read after he began to take the paper they soon learned to read it.

Several others whom we have tried to get as readers have told us that they would gladly have a paper but the post office is five miles away and no passing except for the mail, therefore no paper is taken and the intellectual growth in the family is nothing. Good mail facilities will bring to the doors of our people the winsome handmaiden of the great educational movement.—Concord Standard.

There is always a lot of advise being offered to boys, when frequently if the same advise adopted by their elders would banish the necessity of sticking it at the boy.—Charlotte News.

MUNFORD'S BIG NEW STORE.

Well may the good people of Greenville and surrounding country be thankful and proud of their Big Store and the wonderful bargains that come from that great institution. For the third time this season has the buyer been north, picking and scouring the New York, Boston and Philadelphia markets and quickly snapped up all the "Juicy Plums." This was securing a leading manufacturer's fall shipment of fine clothing for men and boys intended for a clothier in Galveston, Tex., but which was countermanded on account of the flood. The result is, we can offer mens and boys highest grade clothing at just one-half the old time clothier's price. They will be ready and placed on the tables

OUR STORE GROWING.
What has made our store such a busy place? What we advertise we do. The throngs that daily fill the store is the very best evidence that we rather understate than otherwise the remarkable value we have to sell.

Our Popular Store.

We leave it to you if there is not a snap, vim or go, about this business not perceptible in any other business in Greenville. It is no secret. The "old foggy" dry goods and clothiers are sleeping, waiting for you to come in and pay them their 50 per cent. profit. Will you do it? Or will you trade with a live, hustling, progressive concern that is working like a Trojan and making your dollar buy two dollars worth. We have doubled the business since we are in our new building already, and now want to tripple it.

Holiday Goods.

Over 2 car loads of fancy goods suitable for Christmas presents. The entire store presents a big Bazaar. Everything you can think of is right here. And the

He Has Tried It.

The manager of a St. Louis manufacturing company, Mr. M. V. Kelly, has given the results of his experience in these words: "In advertising, as in everything else, persistency will win. I've tried it. I know it. There is not an article of any merit whatever that cannot be sold through advertising and take the field over products that are not advertised."—Philadelphia Record.
