Come South For Prosperity.

The real estate investor should not lose sight of the fact that the Southern States present to the inviting public the most favorable opportunities. No section offers as desirable and at the same time as cheap lands and lots; values in the South are below their intrinsic worth. The South has too much unused real property. This condition will not last many years. The outside world is finding out that the Southern country possesses numerous attractions for the homeseeker and the number of people looking into the subject marvel at the ultra conservative and pessimist who in the past scorned the idea of immigration even moving from the North to the South. The Southern Railway Company has been carrying on a most active educational campaign and through its efforts thousand of Northern people are being informed regarding the South. Some of our readers do not fully comprehend why they are being so earnestly and persistently solicited to move South. Let us tell it again—we have a grand country, it is capable of sustaining a much greater population; when the lands are all properly utilized, we will do a larger business and this will naturally follow the success of our patrons. Hence we do not suggest that homeseekers come South for other reasons than to meet with the greatest prosperity.—Southern Field.

Your rail fence takes a large fence row that is worth something each year and your fence is subject to be thrown down by stock, blown down in storm, or burned when fire gets to it.

Your plank fence is a strong fence, but is subject to be burned and when your posts decay some the force of wind against the plank will break the posts off before entirely rotten. The wire fence is fire and storm proof and stock cannot throw it down as they do a rail fence. The posts will last longer because the storm has no power on the wire, and will last 15 years instead of 10 years with repairing of posts.

This wire fencing can be had by applying to the Winterville Wire Fence Co., Winterville, N. C.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY

What The Law Makers are Doing.

MONDAY, 28.

SENATE.

The Senate met at noon and in a short while cleared up all the work before it. The only bill of general interest that was introduced was one by Senator Warren to amend sections of the code in relation to the deposit of State funds by the State Treasurer, requiring the Treasurer to use only State banks and not National banks in depositing State funds.

Senator James introduced a bill to authorize the town of Greenville to issue bonds.

Senator Glenn introduced a bill to increase barroom license tax in Greensboro, but providing that it shall not exceed $1,000.

HOUSE.

The House began the week by meeting at 7:30 o'clock, a. m. and doing an hour's work before breakfast. The body met again at 10:30 and by noon had cleared up everything on the calendar.

Among the new bills introduced were these:

By Winston, to authorize the governor to employ counsel to defend certain persons under indictment in the Federal courts in the State.

By Gaither, to confer public power on deputy sheriffs.

By Willard, an act to secure a proper assessment of property for taxation.

By Mason, for the better protection of mechanics, laborers and owners of buildings.

By Moore, to protect owners of timber.

Be Loyal.

We notice a number of editorials in other papers on the line frequently written about in the Sun. We refer to the imperative duty of the residents of a community to be loyal to that community. We believe that all of our people, not only in this city, but in this section, ought to do everything possible to maintain business and enterprise of this city and section. The people should always buy from our merchants rather than send away for what they can get here and thereby help to sustain and maintain some other city. It is untrue to say that our merchants cannot and do not sell as cheaply as any others. It is admitted that our merchants sell just as good articles at lower prices than anywhere else, and as a number of our merchants have gone into the wholesale trade, our country merchants can rest assured that they can buy here at wholesale cheaper and quicker at less cost of freightage than away from here. Our country merchants are more interested in building up and keeping up a good home market here for their products than anywhere else. Hence they should encourage our wholesale merchants. So we say to all, stand by and stand up for this locality and it will bring you good returns.—Durham Sun.

With a bill pending to tax dogs, and another bill introduced to tax cats, we may expect to see the far fly in the Legislature pretty soon.—Durham Sun.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 30, 1901.

The folks down this way wish they could have had a finger in the high price of cotton in New York the last few days. But the speculators had the situation in their hands, and the man who makes cotton was out of it.

The long litigation between the State and the railroads over the question of taxation has at last been settled, an agreement having been reached by which the railroads are to be assessed at a figure satisfactory to both sides. Governor Aycock will send a message to the Legislature giving the facts in the matter. It is stated that the assessment will add about one hundred thousand dollars per year to the State's revenue.

It looks now like the Legislature will abolish the criminal courts of the State and increase the number of Superior court districts and Judges. We believe the change will be a good one and give a more rapid dispatch to the clearing of court dockets. The Solicitors of the several districts are gathered at Raleigh opposing the change, but it is easily seen that they are looking at their personal interest in the matter and not the interest of the public.

The credentials of Senator elect F. M. Simmons, of North Carolina, were presented to the United States Senate on Monday and were placed on file until time for him to take his seat on the 4th of March. When the credentials were presented Senator McComas, Republican, of Maryland, moved that they be referred to the committee on privileges and elections, signifying by this that he wanted a fight made against Mr. Simmons taking his seat. Such men as Senator Hoar, also Republican, of Massachusetts, objected to such proceedings, and the motion to refer was for the time withdrawn and Mr. Simmons' credentials placed on file. It may mean that a fight will be made when Mr. Simmons presents himself to be sworn in, as threats to that effect have been heard. We believe, however, it will be only a waste of time for the Republicans to antagonize him for, as Senator Hoar says, "the people have the right to change the complexion of their representatives."

The Charlotte News had a small fire in its office Monday morning. The new press was considerably damaged. We are glad the News came out of the smoke without much loss.

Growth of Public Expenditures.

The Louisville Courier-Journal takes as its text the fact that the pending river and harbor bill carries an appropriation of $60,000,000, and produces an editorial on the growth of public expenditures. It refers to the fact that comparatively a few years ago $10,000,000 was considered an extravagant sum for river and harbor, and it might have mentioned that the present pension budget, thirty-six years after the close of the civil war, is the largest in the history of the country. This increase in public expenditures in one of the curious and impressive manifestations of the times. It runs through national, State, county and municipal governments. We recently had somewhat to say of the enormous growth in the expense of the North Carolina State government in twenty-five years, pointing out that it was out of all proportion to the growth in population or wealth and this, too, when it was not apparent that there had been great extravagance in any one particular direction. Doubtless a comparative statement would show the same relative increase of expenses in the county and municipal governments in the State, with no apparent reason, and in most cases, with nothing especial to show for it. The subject affords interesting matter for study. The theory that suggests itself is that indicated when the subject was under consideration in these columns before, viz: that as a people become better off and as civilization advances, public as well as private wants multiply and must be gratified, and undoubtedly the people of North Carolina are better off than they were twenty-five years ago. This theory harmonizes with that axiomatic fact that the luxury of today is the necessity of tomorrow, and if the theory is sound then this increase in public burdens is not an unmixed evil; but we apply it in this discussion only to State conditions, for the reckless extravagance in the national government is open and manifest, and a finger could not be placed on the items in which it is most flagrant—two are mentioned above: rivers and harbors and pensions. We believe that a party having for its presidential candidate a conservative man who commanded the confidence of the country, could, at the next election, dislodge from power the present profligate regime upon this one issue alone. In the last campaign, however, this vital issue, affecting the pocket of every voter in the country, was given over, rainbow-chasing being the only thing on the cards.—Charlotte Observer.

Gowns are made long on the houlder, yokes and collarettes are un down long on the shoulders or the shoulders are trimmed.

Tucks will be very much in evidence the coming spring and summer.

It is really too early to tell whether the furor for gold will run over into another season. We must wait and see if we feel gold when the summer days come. Cravats are seen on the new cloth gowns.

Cashmeres will be popular the coming spring, and all the women at Nice and Monte Carlo are wearing the light pastel shades in cloth and the pale pinks, blues and beiges, as usual.

Mixed cloths are very much seen—that is to say, black with a liberal peppering of white, gray with white, and pastel blue.

For slender women nothing can be prettier for the spring than the boleros with basque backs consisting of three little pieces on each side, one over the other and rounded at the ends. Above these pieces is a belt.—Katharine de Forest's Paris Letter in the February Ladies' Home Journal.

MUNFORD'S BIG NEW STORE.

Well may the good people of Greenville and surrounding country be thankful and proud of their Big Store and the wonderful bargains that come from that great institution. For the third time this season has the buyer been north, picking and scouring the New York, Boston and Philadelphia markets and quickly snapped up all the "Juicy Plums." This was securing a leading manufacturer's fall shipment of fine clothing for men and boys intended for a clothier in Galveston, Tex., but which was countermanded on account of the flood. The result is, we can offer mens and boys highest grade clothing at just one-half the old time clothier's price. They will be ready and placed on the tables

OUR STORE GROWING.

What has made our store such a busy place? What we advertise we do. The throngs that daily fill the store is the very best evidence that we rather understate than otherwise the remarkable value we have to sell.

Our Popular Store.

We leave it to you if there is not a snap, vim or go, about this business not perceptible in any other business in Greenville. It is no secret. The "old fogy" dry goods and clothiers are sleeping, waiting for you to come in and pay them their 50 per cent. profit. Will you do it? Or will you trade with a live, hustling, progressive concern that is working like a Trojan and making your dollar buy two dollars worth. We have doubled the business since we are in our new building already, and now want to tripple it.

Fire At Plymouth.

About 4 o'clock this morning Plymouth was visited by a big fire. Five buildings were destroyed, including the postoffice and the Bank of Plymouth. Hornthall & Sons, the largest merchants of the town, were among those burned out. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Held Sacred.

As is usual at the session of every Legislature a bill has been introduced to tax dogs, and, as usual, this bill will probably meet the fate of all of its predecessors. While sheep and hogs, and even goats are taxed, yet dogs seem to be held sacred as to be above taxation.—Caatham Record.

Didn't Please Him.

Some of the Legislators were not at all pleased with the section of Dr. Curry's speech in which he said that any man who would cheat a negro out of his vote would steal from his neighbor, and then remarked that he didn't expect that sentiment to be endorsed by the Legislature. They liked most of the speech, but that remark didn't "set well."—Raleigh Times.

A Crusade Against Negroes.

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 28.—Cities and towns along the Ohio river have begun a crusade against the negroes. The entire trouble dates back to the lynchings of the negroes at Rockport and Boonville for the murder of the white barber Simmons at Rockport last month. The board of safety of this city has ordered the police to arrest all strange negroes and bring them before the city police judge. If they cannot give any reason for being here they will be sentenced to the rock pile.

It is estimated that there are 2,000 colored men in this city who absolutely refuse to work. They spend their time in the low saloons and dives of the city and live the best way they can. On election day they are in the market for the highest bidder. Other towns in Indiana along the river are taking steps to drive the worst element of negroes away. In some towns no negro is permitted to remain. Vigilance committees have been appointed at Grand View, Enterprise, Tell City and Leavenworth. Since the recent trouble at Newburg, many of the colored people have left that town.

A TIP FROM A SHARK.

THE REWARD THAT IT BROUGHT TO A PAIR OF SHARK MEN.

How a Grateful Wool Bearer Became a Millionaire and an Intelligent Immigrant Became a Tavern Keeper—A Story of New South Wales.

One of the most interesting spots in Sydney is the point in the famous harbor known as "Mrs. Macquarie's chair." It is the eastern point of the domain, and the great natural seat in the rock facing down the harbor is said to have been a favorite resting place of the wife of Governor Macquarie, who represented the British government—also as governor general of Australia—in Sydney in the early days of the nineteenth century. "Mrs. Macquarie's chair" has long been the favorite resort of suicides and sweethearts, and many murders have been committed near the spot. It was also the main resort of shark fishers in the days when a reward was given for each shark fin delivered at the water police station, the object, of course, being to thin out the dread man eaters from the harbor, where they became plentiful and dangerous as the city of Sydney grew in size.

It was there one night that a broken down immigrant came to a strange turn in his fortunes. Not able to obtain employment, he spent his last shilling in a fishing line and shark hook and cast off from "Mrs. Macquarie's chair." After patiently waiting for some time, another tramp joined him, and this changed the luck, for he immediately got a fine "bite." It took the two all their time to haul the shark ashore, but when they got him in he proved a beauty—25 feet 10 inches long. They cut off his fin—15 shillings' worth in the morning—and, being anxious to make all they could out of the haul, proceeded to "rob" the monster. They had often read of diamond rings, gold watches and pocketfuls of sovereigns being found inside sharks, for, while these fish can digest a man, they are not able to negotiate metal.

Inside, among other things, they found the body of a German, and from the papers in his pocketbook it was apparent that he must have been in London about three weeks before. Indeed, in his overcoat pocket there was a copy of a London newspaper dated 20 days previously. It was in 1870, before the cable was laid between Europe and Australia, and the steamships took over six weeks on the voyage between London and Sydney. The paper contained news of the outbreak of the war between France and Germany, and it was apparent that the German, living in London, had been recalled home to serve in the army of the fatherland, had either jumped or fallen overboard in the channel and had been picked up by this great shark, which belonged to the fastest of his species.

In the morning the immigrant had a good wash and brush up and a full feed on his 10 shillings, having given 5 to his companion and sent him about his business. He had conceived a great idea and wished to have as few confederates as possible. Asking a policeman who was the greatest wool broker in Sydney and getting the address, he went straight down to the office, where his peculiar earnestness soon got him an audience with the busy broker. No one in Sydney at that moment dreamed of war between France and Germany, and wool was being sold merrily at ninepence a pound.

"Well, my man, what can I do for you?" asked the broker.

"I want you to tell me," said the poor immigrant, "what the price of wool would be in Sydney should war break out between France and Germany. It is ninepence now."

"About 3 to 4 shillings," said the broker.

"Very well," replied the visitor. "Now, the French troops are marching on Berlin, and what promises to be a long and bloody war has actually begun."

"Nonsense," said the broker. "The mail from London came in yesterday, bringing news up to six weeks ago, and there is no news of that wild sort."

The immigrant thereupon unfolded the London paper, dated three weeks previously. There was no humbug over that. There could be no humbug about it, for such a paper could not be produced in Sydney, and besides its matter gave abundant proof of its genuineness. Wool was already 4 shillings a pound on the London market.

On the Wool Exchange people thought that broker mad when they saw him buying up all the wool on the market and wiring offers all over the colonies. He made a "corner," at any rate, purchased all the wool in Australia and looked happy. Sure enough, in a few weeks' time out came the news by the mail steamer, and up went prices. The broker sold out for 3 shillings and more a pound and realized some £4,000,000 on the deal.

He gave the intelligent immigrant an old suit of clothes and a £5 note for his "tip," and this set the poor chap up in the world. He has got along so well through the lucky stroke that he is now keeping a public house in Woolloomooloo.—London Free Lance.

The driest of all fishes is perhaps the river eel. Yet, according to an analysis by a German chemist, 60 per cent of its substance is water. Salmon comes next, with 61.4 per cent.

Women Who Work

Nine out of ten women are afflicted with some of the common ailments known as female diseases. Among women whose employment requires them to stand on their feet or sit in the same position all day, not one in twenty-five escapes these troubles. The average feminine constitution cannot, unaided, withstand the strain to which steady, trying work subjects them. The organs of womanhood are so delicate and finely adjusted that the inevitable result of constant standing, lifting, stooping or straining is displacement of vital parts. The disorder is usually slight at first, but soon develops into irregular or painful menstruation, leucorrhoea or falling of the womb. Wine of Cardui is the right remedy for female weakness. As such it is offered to you. Wine of Cardui will not perform miracles, but it will, if taken as directed, insure painless and regular operation of the menstrual function. It will drive out every trace of leucorrhoea, and will so strengthen the ligaments that falling of the womb will be an impossibility. Don't you think it would pay you to try a medicine with such a record as that? You can get a $1 bottle of Wine of Cardui at any drug store and use it in the privacy of your home.

WINE OF CARDUI

Townsend, Ga., May 18, 1899.

I have been in bad health with falling of the womb, weak back, nervousness and heart palpitation. At monthly periods I would be in bed suffering great pain. Lately I have been taking Wine of Cardui and Theodor's Black-Draught, and they have brought me wonderful relief. I have no pain, and do not stop work at the monthly period.
