OUR RALEIGH LETTER

Special Correspondent of Reflector.

RALEIGH N. C., Feb. 18, 1901.
FEWER GROUNDS FOR DIVORCE.

The divorce bill was argued in the Senate for hours on Friday and Saturday—the contention being the amendment of the Senate committee adding abandonment for three causes for divorce allowed by the House bill. The bill was finally the special order again—this time for next Wednesday.

NOT AN EASILY "INFLUENCED" LEGISLATURE.

I was talking with Senator Brown of Columbus the other night and we were discussing the passage of the Aycock school-book bill by a unanimous vote in the Senate and with less than a score of votes in the House against it, and the efforts now making in some quarters to exempt graded schools in the cities and towns from its provision—a plan which would deprive the school children and their parents of cheaper books.

Senator Brown, who worked hard with Senator Aycock for the passage of the bill, said: "I think the vote was a high compliment to this Legislature, and shows how devoted it is to the people's interests. I don't mean to say that any undue influences were attempted by any one in this matter, but the fact that the big book publishing firms were against it and had such a large array of learned and shrewd attorneys and agents at work here, would have led to the development of a much stronger opposition had the Legislature been less devoted to the State and the people it represents, and 'influences' that so often are brought to bear such cases had been attempted."

COMPULSORY EDUCATION OR NOT.

There is now pending in the Legislature a bill (by Mr. Whitaker of Guilford) relating to compulsory education that is an important one. It provides as follows:

Section 1. That the Board of County Commissioners when petitioned by one-third of the qualified voters of the county, or any town city or townships of said county, shall cause an election to be held under the general provisions of the Election Law.

Sec. 2. That if at said election a majority of the votes cast be

"For Compulsory Attendance," any child living in the said county, town, city, township or townships, who shall have reached the age of eighteen years, without being able to read and write any section of the Constitution in the English language, shall attend the public schools unless educated by other means, until he shall be able to comply with the provision of this act: Provided, that said attendance shall not exceed sixteen months: Provided, further, this act shall not apply to any child who is physically or mentally unable to attend school.

Sec. 3. That the parent or guardian of any child willfully violating the provisions of this act shall, upon conviction, be fined not exceeding $5.00 for each offense.

Sec. 4. This act shall not be operative in any school district where there are not sufficient accommodations in the public schools to seat children compelled to attend the public schools under the provisions of this act.

THE CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICTS.

During the past week the joint committee on Congressional Districts held several meetings, at two of which party leaders from several districts appeared and argued for and against the proposition to apportion ten new districts at this session. The majority were against it, arguing it would be best to put it off two years and elect Congressman-at-large next year. Strong arguments were made by some in favor of action now.

The committee has reached no decision yet, and until it does neither of the three bills that have been prepared so far, mapping out the districts, will be considered in detail. A conclusion will be reached this week probably.

INTERESTING ANNIVERSARY.

February 17th, in the Methodist church in Bethel, the ladies held a meeting in memory of Miss Frances E. Willard. Mr. Everett, one of the teachers in the Academy, delivered a well prepared address and Miss Grimes read a fine selection. Appropriate songs were well sung. A large number of men, women and children stood to say they would practice total abstinence, to encourage others in the way of safety. Our little town rejoices in being "dry."

A. D. BETTS.

GETTING NEARER.

Supposed Smallpox in Ayden.

If all reports are true smallpox is getting nearer to us, a supposed case having been discovered at Ayden. The local physicians have pronounced it smallpox and the State inspector has been advised to go there to investigate it.

With the disease getting so near to Greenville our people should not be indifferent about it. There is no occasion for anyone to get needlessly alarmed, nor is it worth while for anyone to get foolish about it. The best safeguard is vaccination. All who have not been successfully vaccinated in recent years should go to their physician and be vaccinated and then go along about their business. The medical authorities pronounce this the best preventative and those desiring to be safe from the disease should avail themselves of it.

Showing That Cotton Must Go Up.

A copy of a cotton letter which has just been issued by R. Des Jardins, of Memphis, Tenn., in which are presented some interesting arguments going to show why cotton must go higher, has been handed to The Observer by a Charlotte cotton-buyer. Mr. Des Jardins thinks that a much larger proportion of the present crop has been marketed than usual. The fall and winter have been unprecedented for picking and moving the crop and the fields are now bare of cotton. The weather has been the finest ever known against the worst ever known in 1898-'99, the year of the largest crop on record—11,274,840 bales—yet from February 1, to September 1, 1899, there came into sight only 2,379,308 bales, and it is not reasonable to suppose that as much is held back now as was then; yet admitting that there is, this amount last quoted, added to the current crop already come into sight, would make the present crop 9,960,323 bales. Upon this basis the writer of the letter advises farmers to hold for better prices, saying:

The Southern holders are in a much better position today to hold their staple than ever before. The rate of interest is about one-half what it was ten years ago, and most of them do not need to borrow. Every bale will be needed and wanted before September 1, no matter what the prospect for the next crop will be, as it is well known that spinners have no stock on hand. My advice to holders of spots is to not sacrifice another bale at present low prices. Pay no attention whatever to the self-interested and biased utterances of some cotton buyers. The demand for spots will increase as the price goes up, which is always the case, and you will witness an unprecedented rush to cover their short sales.

We never advise farmers to either hold or sell cotton, for we never have any means of knowing what the cotton market, which is so largely the subject of manipulation, is going to do; but Mr. Des Jardins certainly makes out a good case and writes an interesting letter.—Charlotte Observer.

The anchor may have a good grip, but it gets it by a fluke.

SPRING NECKWEAR BEAUTY.

IS IN FULL BLOOM.

The great trans-atlantic liners that came across the water last week brought to us neckwear fresh from the sunny shores of the old country.

SPRING NECKWEAR

in profusion may be seen almost anywhere, but the quality we show today cannot be found anywhere else at the price

Even we never saw such elegance for so little money. Designs and colorings entirely new. Get a look at the new styles. No other store ever offered qualities as good as these for less than one dollar and we could probably get that for these neckties too if we should ask it, but the price is 50c.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 18th.

The administration is determined that there shall be an extra session of the next Congress. That is now as plain as the nose on your face. Mr. McKinley is talking up a settlement of the Cuban question as the reason but if the Ship Subsidy job had been allowed to go through he would have probably discovered that an extra session would not be necessary to deal with Cuba.

Senator Teller destroyed the last hope of the looters in their ability to push the Ship Subsidy bill through at this session, when he said: "In the interests of public business, I desire to give notice that this Ship Subsidy bill cannot pass."

Murdered a Whole Family.

New Orleans, Feb. 17.—A negro named Thies Jackson was lynched today at St. Peter, a station on the Texas & Pacific road, about 20 miles above this city. Jackson's crime was particularly fiendish. About 9 o'clock this morning he visited the home of Alex Burgoise, the engineer of the drainage machine on Belle Point plantation, some distance from the plantation quarters, going there on a tricycle. He told Burgoise the manager wanted him, and the engineer mounted the tricycle with him.

A little way further on Jackson stabbed the engineer in the back and then threw the body into a ditch. He then returned to the house and butchered Mrs. Burgoise and the two babies and ransacked the house. Two boys were visiting the family and when they caught the first glimpse of the negro they hid in the woods. After the negro's departure they gave the alarm and returned with a mob of several hundred. The negro was traced to his home, fully identified by the boys, and was hung and his body riddled with bullets before the sheriff arrived.

The House branch of our Legislature consists of 120 members.

The present House is composed of 101 Democrats and nineteen opposition. A majority of the whole House is sixty-one; of the Democratic majority, fifty one.

The vote yesterday on the resolution to impeach the Chief Justice and Associate Justice was 62 for impeachment and 33 against impeachment.

There were eight pairs, which indicates the vote as recorded in full as 70 for to 41 against impeachment.

Out of 101 Democrats, only seventy-nine more than a bare majority, and nineteen more than the party majority—appear in favor of the resolution, white out of the whole House—"all the people," it is claimed—the ratio for is as 70 to 120, or 70 for to 50 against.

This division in the party on so important and far-reaching a movement of 70 to 41 is a most dangerous augury of the future effect of the movement.—Raleigh Post.

Fire Alarm.

There was a fire alarm about 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. It came from the Bountree house on Pitt St., occupied by two families, and sparks from this fell on the roof and ignited the shingles. It was put out before any damage was done beyond a small hole in the roof.

Concerning Drinking.

"Whiskey drinking has decreased very much in this city, as elsewhere," said a Charlotte man yesterday. "There is nothing like the drinking that there was a few years ago, and the young men especially, drink far less than ever before. The truth of the matter is that in this business age a young man who drinks is handicapped at the start, is not in demand, and this is being realized fully. This principle will operate more than anything else for temperance. Another great factor is the fact that drinking is being rather tabooed by society."—Charlotte Observer.
