policy holders in other States. Being unwilling to jeopardize the interests of any of its patrons, the "Old Mutual Benefit" of Newark, N. J., was among those that withdrew, notwithstanding the fact that it was doing the biggest business of any company in North Carolina.

Mr. John C. Drewry, of Raleigh, the general agent, has now taken out license for the Mutual Benefit to resume business, and already many of his old local agents are returning to his company, preferring to represent it. This company paid annually several thousands of dollars tax on premiums up to two years ago, and its popularity with the insurable public in North Carolina will soon be above par again. Mr. Drewry, who is one of the most capable insurance men in the South, probably has as many personal friends as any business man in North Carolina, and with such a popular manager it is little wonder so excellent a company should reach the high-water mark of success here.

APPROPRIATIONS TO EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS.

The appropriations, regular and special, asked for by the educational and charitable institutions, were greatly in excess of those in former years, footing up over a million of dollars. Of course they had to be cut extensively. For the University, the increase to $40,000 recommended was approved; as was also $15,000 per annum for four years to discharge indebtedness of the State Normal at Greensboro and a special appropriation of $25,000 for the same College to build and equip a practice and observation school building; also $10,000 per annum for two years for a textile department, or annex, to the Agricultural and Mechanical College and the payment of $20,000 of the indebtedness of that institution.

$200,000 was the sum agreed on by the committee on Education for the public free schools—an increase of 100 per cent, over the appropriation of last year—and the bill finally passed Saturday afternoon.

LEGISLATURE STILL IN SESSION.

As stated in these letters last week, the Legislature could not adjourn Saturday (the end of the 60 days) and it is still in session. The House may remain in session nearly all this week. The Senate of course, can sit in Legislative session any time it desires during the session of the House although the impeachment progress is under way.

Little Girl Burned to Death.

We learned by telephone from Hookerton this morning that the seven-year old daughter of Mr. Thos. R. Tyndall was burned to death yesterday.

About 8 o'clock in the morning the little girl started down in the field to where her father was at work. The child was carrying some matches to Mr. Tyndall to start a fire with. When about 150 yards from the house the clothing of the little girl caught fire. She ran back to the house, but when she reached it her clothes were burned entirely off.

The little sufferer died at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, after terrible agony.—Kinston Free Press, 8th.

OUR RALEIGH LETTER

The Impeachment Trial of the Supreme Court Judges Now In Progress.

Special Correspondent of Reflector.

Raleigh, March 11.—The great impeachment trial began at noon today, in the Senate Chamber, and will continue throughout this week and a portion (if not all) of next week. The speeches of counsel are expected to consume fully one week's time.

On last Wednesday the accused Judges appeared in the Court for the first time, in propria persona, with their counsel, and filed their answer to the charges. The reading of this paper consumed nearly two hours, and makes sixteen columns of the average newspaper. It is an exhaustive document, in which a general denial of the main charges is made; states that the mandamus was against a special appropriation, and that the great majority of cases decided by these two Justices (and the late Chief Justice Furches) involving title to office were against the claims of those affiliating with the party to which the Judges belonged and in favor of the Democrats—including the attempts of the Fusionists to turn out the Democratic directors of the charitable institutions four years ago.

On Friday, 8th instant, the House managers filed their replication in the case, which brought the progress of the trial up to where it began today.

There is a wide difference of opinion hereabout, among public men and the general public, as to whether the Court will convict or acquit the defendants. You can meet men at every turn who are equally certain that it will or will not.

RETURN OF A POPULAR COMPANY.

Since the repeal of the "Craig law" (so far as it applied to insurance companies), most of the life insurance companies which withdrew from the State two years ago have returned, or given notice that they will do so.

Among the companies that withdrew were a half-dozen of the largest, oldest and most conservative and successful companies in the world—all because the new requirement of "domestication" might operate disadvantageously in the remote future, possibly, to

Dr. Abbott on Gambling.

An exchange says: "Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott strikes a true note when he calls attention to the death-dealing influence of the gambling spirit now so prevalent in our country. He holds that this evil is doing infinitely more harm than strong drink, and fearlessly points out the important fact that it makes no particular difference whether the gambling is done by cards or stocks. The great clergyman insists that he who seeks to get something for nothing is dishonest, whether he does it so as to render himself liable to the penitentiary or not. It is indeed a bright and hopeful sign of the advent of a higher moral consciousness when leading clergymen and editors have the manhood and courage thus boldly to strike the keynote of ethical progress. The 20th century must work for the realization of the ideal hinted at in the noble utterances of this distinguished divine."

And just here we rise to say that this gambling instinct is being materially promoted and encouraged by the guessing contests now being conducted under the auspices of so many otherwise reputable newspapers.

The principle governing them is exactly the same as that which controlled the Louisiana lottery. If the authorities found a way of stopping it, they should find some means to break up the nefarious and demoralizing guessing contests now being used to deceive the unwary and to encourage the all too prevalent spirit of gambling.

We trust that our post office authorities will give some attention to the matter.—Progressive Farmer.

MONDAY, MARCH 11, 1901.

The Orange, Va., Observer has a way of calling the moon new when it gets full. What's the matter with "Nick"?

It is reported that Capt. S. A. Ashe, of Raleigh will write a history of North Carolina. No man in the State is better qualified for the task, and the work is a greatly needed one. No history of the State has been written within the last 50 years, not since Wheeler's History was published in 1851 or 1852. Moore's work, published some twenty years ago, can hardly be said to be a "history," except in a modified and abridged sense.

ELECTION NOTICE.

To the Voters of the Town of Greenville.

Whereas, the General Assembly of North Carolina, at its present session, has passed an act entitled "An Act to Authorize the Town of Greenville to Issue Bonds for Works of Improvement" to the amount of Seventy Five Thousand Dollars, if the qualified voters of the town shall so vote at an election to be held on the second Tuesday of April, 1901.

And whereas, the Board of Aldermen of said town at a meeting held on the 7th day of March, 1901, in accordance with said act did designate the following places in the several wards in which said election should be held on the said second Tuesday in April, 1901 from 8 o'clock a. m. to 6 o'clock p. m., to wit:

First Ward—at the Colored Odd Fellows Hall on Front street.

Second Ward—at the Clark office on corner of Third and Greene streets.

Third Ward—at the Court House on Evans street.

Fourth Ward—at the Marcellus Moore store on Five Points.

Fifth Ward—at the Farmers Warehouse on Dickinson avenue.

At said meeting the said Board also appointed the following named persons as Registrars and Judges of Election to hold and conduct such election, to wit:

First Ward—R. B. Jarvis Registrar. W. J. Cowell and S. P. Humphrey Judges.

Second Ward—Chas. Jno. O'Hagan Registrar. J. L. Sugg and L. C. Arthur Judges.

Third Ward—L. W. Lawrence Registrar. H. C. Hooker and H. A. White Judges.

Fourth Ward—W. L. Brown Registrar. J. G. Bowling and T. E. Hooker Judges.

Fifth Ward—A. A. Forbes Registrar. J. C. Lanier and H. C. Ormond Judges.

And whereas by said act a new registration of the qualified voters is required to be had, notice is here by given that the registration books of the several wards will be opened for the registration of the qualified voters at the voting places herein before prescribed, from 2 o'clock P. M. to sunset on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday preceding said day of election, but such registration may be made on other days previous at any other place in said town.

At said election all persons whose names are found upon the registration books shall be entitled to vote for or against issuing the bonds. Those desiring to vote for it shall vote a written or printed ticket with the words "For Bonds" and those desiring to vote against it shall vote a written or printed ticket with the words "Against Bonds."

Now, therefore, I, Joseph G. Moye, Mayor of the town of Greenville, in accordance with said act, do hereby issue this notice or proclamation calling said election to be held and conducted on the second Tuesday in April, 1901 for the purpose and in the manner prescribed in the aforesaid Act of the General Assembly.

Given under my hand at Greenville on this the 8th day of March, A. D. 1901.

JOSEPH G. MOYE, Mayor.

Will Cost $5,000.

The impeachment trial of Judges Furches and Douglas will begin next Monday and there is no telling when it will end. Both sides are preparing for a hard fight and this will mean a long trial. A long trial will mean a heavy expense to the State.

Speaking of the expense attached to the trial the Raleigh Times gave some approximate figures on expenses of impeachment trials. That paper says:

"A gentleman who has been investigating impeachment trials was asked this morning if it was customary when the Senate sits as a court of impeachment for the Senators to receive pay. He said that when Governor Holden was tried there was no limit to the sessions of the legislature, and the body remained in session until the trial was completed, receiving pay as legislators. This trial was held in 1870-71, and was conducted under the constitution of 1868, which did not limit the sessions. The constitution of 1875 limits the session to sixty days; and the legislators do not receive pay if they are in session beyond that time. The members of the Senate cannot be expected to remain in session as a high court of impeachment without pay for their services. The bill to pay them has been favorably reported, and will doubtless pass.

"The trial is not expected to last more than ten days. At four dollars a day the pay of the Senators would be $200 a day, and the various officers would be about $30 a day extra. The fees of the six attorneys will doubtless amount to $2,000 or $3,000. So it will be seen that the total extra expense of the impeachment trial will approximate $4,300 to $5,000. It will probably be over these figures, rather than under them."

Prayer Did Not Cure Her.

Miss Zollie Rominger died at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Rominger, last Thursday evening, February 28th, after an illness of four weeks. The announcement of her death was a great surprise to the community.

We regret to say that there is a widespread feeling in Reidsville that this sweet young girl's life might have been saved had she received the attention of a physician. It is a matter of common report that her father, who is one of the State's leading dentists, believes in divine healing, i. e., that the prayer of faith will save the sick without the use of medicine, and so believing he did not call in a physician during her illness, but prayed for her restoration to health. Nor were any of the remedies prescribed by physicians for typhoid fever, the disease with which she was afflicted, used. She received the tenderest nursing at the hand of loved ones, and her father asked her if she wanted a doctor, and called over the names of the different ones in town, but she said she did not.

It would be idle to attempt to conceal the fact that our people feel that Dr. Rominger had no right to allow his child to suffer and die without giving her the benefit of medical attention. He owes it to the community to explain why he did so.

It pains us to say these things, but we believe the time has come for plain speaking. A man may have the right to jeopardize his own life by depending on the Creator to work a miracle for his benefit, but he has no right to endanger the lives of others over whom he may have control, however conscientious he may be about the matter.—Webster's Weekly, of Reidsville.

VACCINATION NOTICE.

At a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen of the town of Greenville, held on Monday night, March 4th, the following ordinance was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, it has been made to appear to the Board from representations by the members of the medical profession, and from other good and satisfactory sources that smallpox, a contagious or infectious disease is now prevailing in the neighboring county of Greene, and that it has made its appearance in several well developed cases in this county near the town of Farmville, and this Board being desirous to prevent its appearance in Greenville, and in order to protect the health and lives of its citizens and to protect the commercial interests of the town and believing that vaccination is one of the great means to prevent the spread of the disease,

It is therefore ordered by the Board that all residents of the town of Greenville who have not been vaccinated or who should be revaccinated shall appear before the Superintendent of Health for Pitt County on or before the 12th day of the present month and when deemed by him necessary shall have themselves and their families vaccinated or revaccinated as the case may be.

Any person failing to submit themselves and families to be vaccinated shall upon conviction before the Mayor be fined five dollars.

And to the end that this order may be fully complied with it shall be the duty of the Chief of Police in connection with the Superintendent of Health of Pitt County to visit each and every family in the town and see that this order is carried into effect.

I shall see that this ordinance is strictly enforced and carried out to the letter, and to this end all citizens of the town are asked to comply with its requirements.

J. G. MOYE, Mayor.
Greenville, N. C., March 5, 1901.

Pretty (?) Conduct.

We were told this morning that on Sunday three young chaps (cigarette smokers) who are beginning to feel themselves growing, were out driving, supposed to be on their way to Winterville as they were seen there a little later. As they passed by a country home, not far from town, they fired several shots at the house. We hear also that the owner of the house jumped on his bicycle and overtook the boys, so their names are known. Cigarettes, pistols, and having a horse to go where they please on Sundays, is a combination calculated to ruin any boy.

Mayor's Court.

Allen Harrington, drunk and disorderly, fined one penny and costs, $2.41.

Simon Wooten, drunk and disorderly, fined one penny and costs, $2.41.

An Anti-Christian Science Bill in Missouri.

The House medical bill, which has been so objectionable to Christian Scientists because it prohibited them from attempting to heal the sick without a license from the State board of health, passed the House of Representatives yesterday by a vote of 84 to 42. The bill got 77 votes on engrossment two weeks ago. The action yesterday was a great surprise to the Christian Scientists, who brought all their forces to bear to defeat the bill. The same bill, introduced in the Senate, was engrossed there on Tuesday, and the indications are that the Senate will pass it by a good vote.

The bill prohibits persons not now registered as physicians from practicing medicine or surgery in any of its departments or from professing to cure or attempt to treat the sick except when healers are examined as to their fitness to engage in such practice. The bill does not repeal the law allowing osteopaths to practice, but it applies to all others who heal the sick for pay. Examinations are conducted and licenses issued by the State board of health. The bill allows persons to treat cases of illness who have no licenses in case of emergency, but they can make no charges for such services.—Jefferson City, Mo., Dispatch.
