STOP THE TRAFFIC.

MR. EDITOR:

For quite a while I have seen articles in various papers in regard to the liquor traffic of this and other sections of the State, and if you will be so kind as to allow me a few lines in your paper I will state just a few of my experiences in regard to this great question.

First it has been the great pleasure of the writer to spend a few months in a section of the State where the manufacture and sale of liquor is prohibited and there what do we find? I will answer, we find in the small villages lady store keepers, lady postmasters, lady railroad agents, in fact the small towns are run by the ladies. The men do the farm work. They are not needed at the store, post-office or depot, why? Because everybody is sober and every man that is human prefers dealing with a lady to a man. Therefore the ladies can attend to the indoor work the man the hard and laborious, the kind the lady cannot do, thereby bringing prosperity to a home that might be one of want and need.

I want to say right here that I am not in favor of the dispensary law, as that is only taking the liberty of our free people away from them and places it in the hands of government, which is still worse, but I do want to ask my liquor friends if they do not think it would be best to have none at all. And may I ask you to tell me where I can find in a small village where liquor is sold, with a lady merchant, a lady postmaster, a lady telegraph operator and railroad agent? I don't believe there is one, why? Because the language they would hear, the actions they would see, would disgust a mule, and they stay at home with all doors locked and windows fastened down to protect themselves from the disgrace of those upon the outside.

Mr. Editor I was passing through your town a few days ago and I saw something that touched a tender spot in me. I was standing near the passenger depot and saw a young man with his mother cross the railroad, driving at a break neck speed, so fast that he could hardly sit in the buggy. I expected to see him fall out before he crossed both tracks, but luckily he did not. Now what a picture! An old gray haired lady being carried home by a drunken son, can any one imagine how this old lady felt? Too old and feeble to guide the horse, and with her own son and he too drunk to guide him, Oh! how my sympathy went out to her. A mother, a boy's best friend, and he so forgetful of her as to do such an act that he knew would give her so much trouble.

My liquor friends, some day your son may be taking his mother home in the same condition. Do you want her taken home by a drunken son? Then if you do not, lend a helping hand to those who are trying to get clear of this great evil. Some of your readers no doubt will say that I am a prohibitionist, perhaps some of them will say that I am working for my own personal benefit. To those I would like to say that I am in one sense of the word a prohibitionist, but no interest of my own is at stake. I am a young man, single and expect will always be, but I have lots of young friends who I feel an interest in and as a friend to them I feel that it is my duty to work for their future welfare and their homes. P.

Not Pleasant News.

With the Legislature out of the way with its attendant expenses, the Impeachment trial past with its extras for the tax payers to meet, and the people facing very liberal State appropriations to be met by tax assessments, it would seem that a period of rest might be given to those who bear the burdens.

But scarcely has the dust cleared away, caused by the departure of the Legislature, when the report comes from Raleigh, that the State Penitentiary is behind in its accounts, and that money is needed for this State institution.

This would hardly prove of more than passing remark, if it was not remembered that the late Executive Board of the Penitentiary had made the boast that this institution's accounts were some twenty thousand dollars to the good, and that during the next two years it would need no appropriations.

The fact is since Superintendent Leazer made the memorable record of making the penitentiary self supporting followed by such managers as John R. Smith et al, the people of North Carolina have not looked for anything except to make good Penitentiary account deficits.

But the boast above mentioned created the impression that the good old days had returned, hence the report that financial aid is needed, is decidedly unpleasant news.

It is to be hoped that the Penitentiary's accounts will be made public, and also that the deficit if true, will not prove a large one.

The people of North Carolina are not in the mood at present, to be told that more money is wanted from them to meet State expenses, especially when it was thought that no more burdens were to be laid on the tax payers.

Let it be hoped that the report will not prove anything more serious than a report.—New Bern Journal.

No! Pros. Of Election Cases.

Greensboro, April 9.—Just before the adjournment of Federal Court, this afternoon, the cases against the Democratic registrars, which were set for trial at the present term, were not prossed. In making the motion District Attorney Holton made the following statement, which was concurred in by Assistant District Attorney Price:

"In view of the situation in this State and the general desire for peace and quiet, and in consideration of what we conceive to be for the best interest of the State, we respectfully recommend to the court that, in these cases, a nolle prosequi be entered upon the terms and conditions following; that is to say:

"First, that the United States attorney reserves the right to reinstate if in his opinion, the public good requires it.

"Second, we are prompted to pursue this course in consideration of the recommendations to us by leading conservative men of the State, of all political parties, as that course would, in their opinion, best subserve the public welfare, regardless of the guilt or innocence of the parties.

"Third, That this course is recommended without passing upon the question of the guilt of the parties inasmuch as, according to the testimony in the possession of the government, the defendants, in our opinion, might properly be convicted; but with the sole desire to further what is conceived to be promotive of peace and quiet in the State and with the firm belief on our part that it is the desire of the lawabiding citizens of the State to secure and enforce the constitutional right of every citizen and fully protect him in the exercise of his elective franchise and privileges.

"If these commendable purposes can be accomplished or subserved we consider to be for the best interest of the State, in the present state of affairs, to discontinue the further prosecution of these cases, with the understanding that conditions here are to be such that there will be no necessity for the prosecution of such cases."

In ordering the cases not prossed Judge Boyd said:

"The court approves the course taken by the district attorney, because I believe it will better subserve the future peace and good order of the State than would a further prosecution of the indictments. I am not oblivious of the conditions which surround me, and I am satisfied that those who represent the best classes of citizens desire to uphold the good name of the State, and preserve our people which ought to prevail for the best interest of all. I have confidence in the integrity of those who have suggested the action taken to-day in these cases and commend the district attorney that he has responded to a request which seems to come to him as a command from representatives of the best social and business element of the State. The cessation of the turmoil which has afflicted us, the restoration of peaceful and cordial relations among our people are considerations far above those which may enter into any individual prosecutions.

"Believing that the discontinuance of these cases is a long step toward the realization of conditions so material to the future welfare of the community, I desire to express my hearty approval of the action which has been taken, and I am sure that all citizens will join me in the hope what has been done here today will have the effect to cement together our people in closer bonds of friendship and inure to the inestimable blessings of peace and good order among us."

For at least two years there have been hints and rumors of theft in the commissary department of the army at Manila. Some months ago Editor Rice, the owner of a newspaper there, made specific charges of fraud. For this and his refusal to promise to be silent on the subject the newspaper man was expelled from the Philippines, and was not even allowed to dispose of his plant before he was shipped to San Francisco. Now that the government at Washington has official knowledge of the truth of the charges, the question is raised as to whether Editor Rice should not be sent back and his property restored to him—not only as an act of justice, but also, as a safeguard against future frauds. There is nothing like an enterprising newspaper to run down public rascals and expose public theft.—Philadelphia Record.

Tar and Turpentine for Diphtheria.

The Scientific American gives this recipe as one which the world ought to know: At the first indication of diphtheria in the throat of a child make the room close and then take a metal cup and pour into it a quantity of tar and turpentine, equal parts. Hold the cup over the fire so as to fill the room with fumes. The patient on inhaling the fumes will cough up and spit out all membranous matter and the diphtheria will pass out. The fumes of tar and turpentine loosen the throat and afford a relief that has baffled the skill of physicians. Great care must be exercised to prevent the tar and turpentine, which are highly inflammable, from taking fire.

An Effective Advertisement.

All successful business men agree that good advertising means interesting announcements placed in newspapers which reach a large proportion of the people. Probably most experienced advertisers would say that to make the merits of a single commodity the feature of an "ad" is the most direct and effective way of getting people's attention fixed on an establishment.—Philadelphia Record.

Three Big "Coppers."

This afternoon just across the corner in front of THE REFLECTOR office we noticed three fine specimens of manhood that in size are hard to beat. Another remarkable thing about them is that all of them were policemen. They were Chief of Police J. T. Smith an Assistant E. B. Dudley, of Greenville, and Policeman Smith, of Sumter, S. C. We don't know if the two Smiths are any kin, but the South Carolinian has somewhat the advantage of his North Carolina brother officer in size. Neither are we advised if the salutation "What the Governor of North Carolina said to the Governor of South Carolina" was passed.

Notice.

In pursuance of an Act of the General Assembly of North Carolina, entitled, "An Act to authorize the Town of Greenville to issue Bonds for purposes of making improvements in said Town," ratified February 20th, 1901, the Board of Aldermen for the town of Greenville met in the Mayor's office at 8 o'clock p. m. this day, all the members being present, for the purpose of opening and counting the returns of an election held in said town on the 9th day of April, 1901, under said Act and after an examination of the Poll and Registration books and tabulating said returns, do find and declare.

1. That the number of qualified voters of said town to be four hundred and fifteen (415).

2. That at said election there was cast two hundred and forty-eight (248) votes "For Bonds" and ninety-three (93) votes "Against Bonds."

That a majority of the voters of said town had voted in favor of the issuance of bonds under said act.

It was then ordered by the Board that the result of said election as above declared be published in the DAILY REFLECTOR and King's Weekly and that the said returns be filed.

By order of the Board of Aldermen of the town of Greenville made this the 10th day of April, 1901.

Convicted of Manslaughter.

The jury in the case against John and Edith Hargett, for murder, returned a verdict of guilty of manslaughter. Sentence has not been passed upon them. They beat their child to death at Ayden.

Attention Co. B, 2nd Reg't.

You are hereby ordered to report at your Armory in Greenville on Friday April 12, 1901 (2nd Fri-

A Methodist Preacher Resigns His Charge.

Rev. R. L. Ownbey announced last Sunday from the pulpit of the Methodist church his withdrawal from the ministry and later surrendered his credentials to the presiding elder, severing his claims to the ministry and membership in the church. He gave no reason for the action, and of course rumor is very busy. Mr. Ownbey was respected by the people of Murphy and it was with regret they received his announcement.

Rev. Geo. F. Kirby, who has been president of the Weaverville Female College, has been appointed to succeed him.—Murphy (Cherokee Co.)Scout.

R. H. Brady, a merchant of Salisbury and Treasurer of the Odd Fellows lodge in that town, has absconded. He took the funds belonging to the lodge.
