NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., April 13.

A SUGGESTION TO FARMERS.

Owing to the extreme scarcity of labor we would advise all farmers to arrange their tobacco rows so every eighth row will be five feet wide, and by so doing you can use a tobacco truck and thus house your tobacco with much less labor and cost. There were some trucks used in certain sections last season for housing tobacco, and we find in every section where the truck was used there will be a great demand for them this season, and orders for several hundred trucks have already been placed and many more will doubtless come in yet. If you will lay out your rows as stated above it will take no extra manure and but little more land, and if you do not use the truck you can tote your tobacco along the wide row much better, and if you are scarce of help you can use a truck. We are going to be headquarters for tobacco trucks of best style. A. G. Cox Mfg Co.

The Hunsucker Carriage Co. are remodeling and enlarging their factory. The building when completed will be twice as large as formerly and will afford them better opportunity for conducting their business and making room for the employment of more hands. The building will be one of the largest, if not the largest, structures of its kind in Pitt county and speaks well for the thrift and energy displayed by this firm. That they merit the patronage of the public their work is a strong evidence, and their success makes it most conclusive.

Misses Effie and Hattie Kittrell spent yesterday in Greenville visiting friends and shopping.

Thursday there was an alarm of fire and upon investigation we learned the kitchen of Mrs. John Elks had caught from the sparks of a defective flue. Owing to the prompt action of our most efficient fire department little damage was done. Too much cannot be said of valuable services rendered by our most excellent chief, B. F. Manning, and his brave foreman,

John W. Harper. There was no insurance on the building.

Simon Moye has moved his goods and chattels on the west side of the railroad where he will be pleased to have all his friends and former customers call and see him.

Miss Sadie Little, from the country, was here a short while yesterday.

Barnes Summerell and family, formerly of Ayden, have moved here and will make this their future home.

J. J. Mason, of Washington, was here yesterday.

Miss Rosa Cox is visiting in Kinston.

Rudolph Groom, who attends school here, left on last night's train to spend Saturday and Sunday with relatives in Kinston.

Quite a large crowd of colored people went down on the train last night to Littlefield for the purpose of attending some meeting that was in progress there.

A. G. Cox still pays the highest cash price for cotton seed.

The Heart Doth Never Grow Old.

DEDICATED TO ONE WHOSE HEART CAN NEVER GROW OLD.

In 1860 Rev. A. D. Betts met a very old woman in Bladen county, N. C., whose aged husband had lately died. In her grief she said: "The heart don't grow old." March 31, 1901 he told, the faculty and students of Littleton Female College of the incident, and said he had for 40 years wanted some one to write a poem on that thought. Next day one of the teachers, Miss Lillia Lynn Morton, daughter of Rev. J. B. Morton, of Tarboro, read to "Uncle Betts" and his wife the following:

Though the pitcher be broke at the fountain
And the years their tale have told,
And the golden bowl be broken
Yet the heart doth never grow old.

Though the locks are turning whiter
As the silver tints the gold,
Yet the hope of life grows brighter
In the heart that never grows old.

And when some old faded rose leaf,
In a booklet's dusty fold,
Calls to mind a little romance
Of the heart that never grows old,

Then tender recollections
And old love dreams unfold,
And the whispered words are breathed
In the heart that never grows old.

When the scroll of loving memories
Has slowly been unrolled
'Tis a little tear that tells the tale
Of the heart that never grows old.

As we think of these Angel beings
Now called to another fold
As a sweet and hopeful longing
Fills the heart that never grows old.

But ah! when the years are ended
And the tale of life is told,
Then eternal Youth bears her new born child
Where the heart can never grow old.

SATURDAY APRIL 13, 1901.

The middle of April marks the beginning of cotton planting and the farmers are turning their minds in that direction.

This has been a tedious term of court, and while there has been much hard work done but little was accomplished.

We understand that there has been some suggestion to railroad officials about having the passenger and mail train pass Greenville about 7 o'clock a. m. going north, and return here at 8 o'clock at night.

Over here we have but one daily mail train each way, while on the main lines there are several, so it looks to THE REFLECTOR like it would be better to give us a convenient schedule and let one train on the main line connect with it.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 12.

Did Aguinaldo bargain for his own capture, for a price, and have the American people been made the victims of a colossal official blunder? That is a startling question, but circumstances have caused it to be asked in Washington, since the cable news reported Aguinaldo to be buying diamonds and jewelry, and it is decidedly pertinent, too.

If it be possible to get a square deal with the administration, in rivalry with the Morgan steel trust, the latter may find itself knocked out of several million dollars of government money.

A Washington man who has just returned from the Philippines, where he spent a year, doesn't enthuse over the islands as a place for Americans to go.

sick there is no bracing or recuperative quality in the air, and recovery to health is exceedingly slow. My belief is that the capture of Aguinaldo will not put an end to our troubles in the Philippines; there will be plenty of revolutionary leaders to keep up a desultory warfare, and the chances are that the fighting will go on for the next ten years."

Gov. Allen, of Porto Rico, probably under orders from Mr. McKinley, has issued a general denial of the recent stories alleging suffering among the poorer natives of the island because they have no work, and charges that of the stories have all been investigated by one native editor, who is disgruntled because he was not given an office. It is a little odd how that one Porto Rican editor should have been able to influence a score or more of reputable American correspondents to send misrepresentations to their papers.

The historic Burt mansion, in Abbeville, S. C., which has been offered for sale, was once the scene of a Confederate Cabinet meeting, which was called by Jefferson Davis while a guest of Mr. Burt. At that meeting the career of the Confederacy was virtually ended, and there the great seal of the Confederate Government was seen for the last time.

FARMVILLE RIPPLES.

FARMVILLE N. C. April 12, 1901

Mr. Editor, we scarcely know how to begin this week on the "ripples," because of the scarcity of news in our midst.

The new railroad leading from Tarboro to Farmville is within two miles of us. We look for the completion by the middle of May.

Miss Etta Smith is the guest of Mayor C. E. Burch's family. Her many friends are delighted to have her in their midst.

Mrs. Effie Gillespie is suffering from an attack of nervousness, and has been unable to attend her school for several days. She is convalescing at this writing.

Quite an improvement has been made around the postoffice, and the entire home of Mrs. Lucy Moore, our Post Mistress. Things look gay after a nice coat of paint has been applied.

W. G. Lang, who has been very sick with chills and fever is out again. We are glad to note his recovery.

A. M. Hill will soon erect a fine residence on Church street. This will make three new dwellings erected in this part of the town this year. Church street leads to the new depot.

Virgil Rountree, of Kinston, and W. F. Harrell, of Washington, were on our streets yesterday. Both are hustling drummers.

The joint debate between the Beaver Dam Debating Club and the Farmville Debating Club was held at Farmville 11th inst. The speakers on both sides made noble speeches and handled the subject well. The town hall was crowded to the utmost capacity with both ladies and gentlemen. The decision of the judges was rendered in favor of the negative.

Happy old age

Many women who have enjoyed good health all their life begin to fade when they reach the age of forty-four. They grow nervous and irritable and suffer with sick-headaches. Their livers are torpid, their digestion is impaired and their bowels are irregular. They are experiencing the "change of life." And it is not strange that the cessation of the menstrual habit after thirty years operation should disturb the system and tax the strongest constitution. This trying period has no terror for a woman who uses Wine of Cardui. It builds up her strength and prepares her for the ordeal. When the change of life is not safely passed, a woman quickly becomes an invalid. Stomaching disease germs are given increased activity and they appear in aggravated form. If you take Wine of Cardui regularly when approaching the change of life you will be assured better health than you have ever enjoyed before. A happy old age and restful calm will be your reward. Mrs. Campbell was cured after suffering three years with "change of life." Theford's Black-Draught, the companion medicine of Wine of Cardui, assimilates with it perfectly, curing digestive liver and kidney affections, and throwing impurities and disease germs out of the system. Both working together make a well and happy woman.

WINE OF CARDUI

YOUNG, Laurens Co., S. C., Sept. 23, 1896.

I have recommended your Wine of Cardui and Theford's Black-Draught to several of my lady friends, and I can say they are what you recommend them to be. I have been suffering three years with the "change of life," and I did not get anything that would do me any good until I tried your medicine. I give thanks to Wine of Cardui and you, for it relieved me. Mrs. E. H. CAMPBELL.

What is Advertising?

It is simply a matter of multiplication.

The self-made man starts with little or nothing.

He has visions and schemes and hobbies, just like all the rest of us.

He makes an experiment and loses a little money and gets the blues and then gets over the blues and makes more experiments.

Sooner or later he gets on the right track.

He starts some business on a small scale and begins to make a little money.

Then he looks for a way to multiply the business by two or three.

In about ninety-nine cases out of the hundred the growth of the business hinges upon selling more goods—upon interesting more people, upon publicity, upon newspaper advertising.

Because he has but little money he begins carefully, and because he begins carefully—on such a small scale that he can keep at it and wait a reasonable time for results—he finds his advertising profitable.

As the business expands his ideas of the possibilities before him expand. He figures on some more multiplying. More newspaper advertising—because he is persistent and patient and careful about the preparation of his copy—again doubles or trebles the business. —Hollis Corbin, in Mansfield (O.) News.

Death at Winterville.

A telephone message from Winterville announces the death of Mrs. Bessie Wingate, wife of Mr. W. B. Wingate, a member of the A. G. Cox Manufacturing Company, which occurred at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Mrs. Wingate was recognized by all as one of the best women in the community. She was a consecrated Christian and even in her dying hours sang praises to her Savior. She was a member of the Missionary Baptist church, and a sister of Rev. J. W. Nobles, a minister of that denomination. Mrs. Wingate was in her 31st year and leaves a husband, six children and a host of sorrowing friends.

The funeral will take place Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.
