Eastern Carolina Newspaper Prosperity.

"We are again unable to find room for all the advertisements offered us, and editorial matter crowded out."

The above from the Journal's esteemed weekly contemporary, the PERSIAN Roanoke-Chowan Times, published at Rich Square, Northampton county, is one of the most promis nent and significant signs that Eastern Carolina is being aroused, and that actual advancement and prosperity is at hand.

It can be said that the local newspaper is the barometer of its community, and that its columns will indicate the degree of lassitude or activity, social and commercial, that is to be found among its people and business inter-

And judging from this the people of Rich Square and Northampton county are marching ahead, and are in the progressive column.

Another Eastern Carolina newspaper, to reflect this local progress, is the Journal's nearby contomporary, the Evening Free Press.

The Free Press has entered upon its fifth year, and this when at its beginning it seemed a question of its being continued one year. But each year the Free Press has become n ore needed and its support certain, and its service for its community more effective.

At Scotland Neck The Commonwealth is another weekly which indicates advancement in Halifax, county, while Elizabeth City follows in the same line for its neighborhood.

Pitt county, with the DAILY REFLECTOR and King's Semi-Week ly, are showing full columns of advertisements, which would prove progress.

These are a few places and newspapers, which show that the newspaper busines of Eastern Carolina indicates progress of the people, and improved conditions of every

For itself, the Journal would say that its columns bear eloquent testimony of how business is going

And with all this improvement in the Eastern Carolina newspaper field, it is an agreeable circumstance, that politics are found pretty nearly eliminated from the columns ol these news-papers, and that the leading thought is, local building up.

This is good sign for continued advancement and prosperity, for communities and newspapers .-New Berne Journal.

121 Generations Since Adam's Time.

Alfred Judson Fisher, the Chicago historian, has woven the highly interesting results of a genealogical investigation into "A Daughter of Adam," a short story which he has written for The Ladies' Home Journal. He traces the heroine of his romance (in real life a well-known Philadelphia woman) directly back to Adam, establishing with corroborative detail every link in the long genealogical chain: He brings to light the fact that there have been one hundred and twenty-one generations of the human family, beginning Adam.

J. W. Alford, of Ayden Seminary, was the happy guest of Miss Lucy Linton Sunday. Charley Waters was also with Mr. Alford. They returned to Ayden Sunday evening.

Misses Lucy Linton and Jodie Dixon went to Greenville Saturday. Mrs. Sue Clark, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. S. W. Tyson, has returned to her home on Clay Root.

We were glad to have Josh Mills of Greenville, with us a while last Sanday.

George Cooper, of Logan county, Oklahoma, who was recently made the defendant in a laud suit |- Philadelphia Record. brought by the Guthrie and Western Railroad Company, asked that the case be tried by seven members of the Masonic order instead of by the usual jury. The railroad company's attorney, himself a Mason, case was so tried, both parties should be taken from the verdict. Cooper won.

Giving Attention to Small Grain

Is the acreage in cotton being decreased? Some of the farmers assert that it is and give two !reasons why it should be. Low prices are staring them in the face and as cotton mills increase and other inducements are being offered to the country people and especially the tenant class to forsake the farm and go to the towns labor is becoming more scarce and farm labor is being left to the negroes. Under these conditions farmers are turning their attention more to small grain because that can be cultivated to better advantage when labor is scarce and labor saving machinery can be called into service .--Gastonia News.

Must Keep It Up.

The time can never come when a business establishment having on sale a commodity which has a permanent value will have no further need of advertising. A. new public is always in process of being formed, and the enterprise of competitors is continually reaching out for the people's custom. To increase his patronage, or even to hold his own, the business man must keep himself before the publie, and must use at least as much newspaper space as do his rivals.

A subscriber to a neighboring paper in settling up his subscription account is reported to have remarked to the editor that it was agreed to the proposition, and the the last bill on earth that he owed. Just why a printer's bill should be further agreeing that no appeal the last bill on earth that a man thinks of paying is a puzzler .-Durham Sun.

THURSDAY, APRIL 25, 1901.

Two Charlotte boys were fooling with a pistol and, as is usually the case, one of them was shot.

In times when business gets dull people could help make the situa tion better by paying their debts promptly.

And now the plow manufacturers have formed a trust with capital stock of $50,000,000. No doubt they propose to turn up the earth.

The lower house of the Illinois Legislature has passed a bill prohibiting the sale, giving away or bringing into the State cigarettes, cigarette paper or any substitute therefor. It looks like the "coffin tacks" must go after awhile.

Mr. J. W. Lynch, president of the Great Eastern Railway company, which is laying a road bed from Fremont to Snow Hill, says every arrangement has now been perfected for the final completion of the road from Englehard to Raleigh.-Goldsboro Argus.

Dr. Gatling, the famous North Carolinian, who invented the dead ly Gatling gun, says the Asheville Gazette, is 83 years old but still inventing. His latest production in an automobile plow, which he has recently perfected. This may aid a revolution-in farming as effectually as a Gatling gun acts in the State auditor there were last revolutions of a sauguinary nature, and do as much for peace as the gun has done in war.

Country Editor's Duty.

If for every shiftless boy that hangs around the village store; if for every vagabond negro that skulks across the field; if for every man and woman with the inclination and the will there were opportunity to labor, so the energy and talent with which nature has endowed them could best be utilized for producing results of value to man-if these conditions prevailed in our State today its development in the next decade would be unparalleled. This is the work for the country editor; this is the work for the lawmaker; this is the work for every active, thinking, progressive man in the State. If the country editors would study their respective towns and counties with the earnestness they study politics, and if they would apply the same ference lasting several days the attention in discovering in what plow manufacturers of the United these towns and counties excel, themselves as statesmen and benefactors of the race,-Ex.

The New Pension Law.

In answer to many inquires made to the editor of the Record By Wire to Daily Reflector.) for information concerning the pension act passed by the Legislature at its recent session, we write the following: In the first place all persons desiring a pension must make application to their county board on the first Monday in next July. This includes not only those who have Strict Middling 8 5-16 not heretofore received a pension, Delivered in town by carriers but also all those who have been receiving pensions. This is required because it is alleged that there are some persons drawing pensions who are not entitled to them. Blank applications can be Low Grades obtained from the clerks of the Superior Court and should be filled up before July. If the applicant is unable to appear before the coun ty board on the first Monday in July he or she must send a certificate from a practicing physician stating that the applicant cannot personally appear, as no doubt may be the case with many.

Heretofore no soldier could receive a pension in the fourth class unless his disability was caused by a wound received while in the Confederate service. The new law changes this and gives a pension of the fourth class ($30 a year) to soldiers who are now disabled from any cause to perform manual labor. In the fourth-class pensioners are included the widows of Confederate soldiers who were married before April 1st, 1861, and have not married again. According to the old law the only widows entitled to a pension were the widows of soldiers who had died during the war or after the war, from wounds 20 Tons Hay, or disease contracted in the service. The new law gives a pension to the widow of a soldier who has died 10 Tons Cotton Seed Meal, pension who owns over $500 worth 500 Barrels Rock Lime of property. The old law has not been changed in this respect.

The new law will place on the pension roll many needy and deserving veterans and widows, who were excluded by the old law. And the new examination, required by the new law, may take ' irom the having claims against us will present them pension roll the names of some persons who are not entitled to a pension. Every county board ought to be very careful and scrutinize closely every application, remembering that every unworthy pensioner will diminish the small pittance that is given to the needy and deserving.

According to the last report of year 6,129 Confederate pensioners in this State, of whom 2,558 were widows. The total amount paid these pensioners last year were $119,070. The amount appropriated by the new pension law is $200, 000 a year. But while this amount is so much larger than heretofore, each pensioner will not get much more than heretofore because there will be so many more persons entitled to pensions. The fourthclass pensioners (of whom there were 4,784) received last year only $14.50 apiece. The new law allows them $30 apiece, but it is not probable that they will get over $20. We so much wish that our State was able to pay every poor old pensioner as large an amount as he needs and deserves .- Chatham Record.
