Also True in Other Things.

A butcher called our attention the other day to a strange fact about dealing in food animals. He said it was considered stealing to get a cow or sheep or hog without paying for it, but that when the animal was cut up and sold in the market it was considered no crime to get it pound by pound from the butcher and not pay for it. The butcher must pay for the whole cow or be branded as dishonest; his customer could buy a piece of that cow and not pay for it and pass as a "gentleman" in the community. But really where is the difference? There is none in essence. It is just as much a crime for the meat eater to beat the meat dealer as it is for the meat dealer to beat the meat raiser. Stealing does not admit of comparison. The comparison comes about in the opportunity a man has. Stealing steak is as much the result of a sinful and criminal heart as stealing a cow.—North Carolina Baptist.

A Grandmother at 26.

It is reported by reliable authority that there is a woman living in the mountains of O once county, this State, who is 26 years old and has 14 children and one grandchild. The woman married when only 11 years old and has enjoyed remarkable health ever since. It is wonderful how these mountain people ignore the law, yet they attach very little importance to any of the laws. They do just as they feel inclined to do regardless of the results, and it is very seldom that when any one violates the law it is ever known outside of their mountain settlement, and while this woman has been married for 15 years it has very recently reached the outside world. It is doubtful if there is a similar case anywhere on record.—The Graphic.

The Prize Drill.

Capt. J. J. Bernarn, of the Raleigh Light Infantry, is meeting with marked success in the plan for a prize drill here on May 10th. The various companies of the State Guard have been invited to send two men each to compete in this drill. They come on invitation of the Raleigh company so the latter will, of course, not enter the contest. The judges have not been announced.

Thus far nine companies have accepted the invitation and it is more than probable that at least two others will do so. The nine companies which will send representatives are:

- Asheville Light Infantry.
- Wilson Light Infantry.
- Wilmington Light Infantry.
- Washington Light Infantry.
- Home Guard of Durham.
- Durham Light Infantry.
- Franklin Guards of Franklington
- Greenville Light Infantry.
- Edgecombe Guards of Tarboro.

The two additional companies that are expected to send representatives are:

- Vance Guards of Henderson.
- Edenton Light Infantry.

It has not been announced whether this prize drill will be held in the afternoon or evening of May tenth.—Raleigh Times.

Big Fire At Danville Va.

Danville, Va., April 24.—Fire today destroyed five buildings and burned out six business houses with an aggregate loss of $67,500; insurance, $44,000. It started in the paint and oil department of the Dan Valley Hardware Company; at 3:30 p. m., and cleared out the entire corner bounded by that firm whose stores on Main and Union streets join at the rear. The departments at Greensboro and Lynchburg were called on, but were not needed. Thick black smoke, lying like a pall on the streets in all the buildings made the department's work very difficult, but the firemen did excellent work. One man was injured by a fall from a ladder, but not seriously.

FRIDAY, APRIL 26, 1901.

Tarboro butchers have combined to put up the price of beef steak to 12½ cents a pound. The Southern-er says "if the quality were improved with the price we could all be happy."

This year Quartermaster General Macon will issue 2,000 summer uniforms of khaki to the State Guard. He will also call in the 2,000 Springfield rifles now held by the troops and will replace these with new ones, probably the Krag-Jorgensen magazine rifle. It is found that Congress enacted the law authorizing the Secretary of War to make such exchange. The quartermaster general will also equip three bands, one for each regiment of the State Guard, not only with uniforms but with the best patterns of band instruments.

Messrs. J. E. Lipscomb, Jr., & Co., have under course of constructing a large stemmery on the Greenville, N. C., market which they will occupy during the coming year. Their place will be fitted up with all the modern appliances for the handling of leaf tobacco, strips, scrap &c., and having a floor space of 60x150 feet, three stories high, they will be in a position to handle all orders in the best manner possible, and being under the direct supervision of Mr. Jas. E. Lipscomb, Jr., is sufficient to guarantee all business entrusted in their hands to receive prompt and careful attention.—Danville Tobacco Journal.

Some of the western newspapers are commenting very unfavorably upon the number of members of the legislature who have received appointments to positions. They say that two of the judges, Messrs. Justice and Winston; F. M. Shannonhouse, recorder for the city of Charlotte; J. M. Gudger, solicitor for the Asheville district; E. L. Travis, chairman of the board of directors of the State prison; Joseph A. Brown, a director, not to speak of many directors of State institutions, were members of the legislature which created some of these offices. The friends of Governor Aycock point to the fact that the legislature was composed of the most prominent and able men from many sections, and that the Governor appointed them without reference to their service in the legislature, but simply on account of their ability and fitness for the positions which they occupy. They say that to appoint the men most fit for the positions he was compelled to go to the Legislature. This is certainly saying a great deal.

Northerners Impressed With Our Educational Spirit.

The prominent Northern men who are interested in educational matters and who have been visiting Southern schools were particularly impressed by the conditions at the State Normal Industrial College for Young Women at Greensboro, North Carolina. The Old North State appropriates $40,000 a year for the support of this school, and the training is as thorough as that in any normal school in the country. Among the visitors were Bishop Doane, the Rev. Lyman Abbott and Dr. Peabody, of Harvard. At Greensboro the party visited the Agricultural and Mechanical College for Negroes, and later attended the Conference for Education in the South. The enthusiasm with which the people of the Southern States have entered into educational matters surprised the Northern men, especially in view of the fact that no men of wealth have donated millions to Southern white schools, as they have to institutions in the North.—Philadelphia Record.

John E. Massey, of Virginia, Dead.

Richmond, April 24.—Hon. John E. Massey, ex-State Auditor, ex-Lieutenant Governor and Superintendent of Public Instruction of Virginia, died at his home in Albemarle county, this evening, aged 82 years. He was one of the fathers of the re-adjustment movement in the State, subsequently one of the chief factors in wresting the State from the rule of General Mahone.

Two Lepers at Large in Baltimore.

Two lepers are at large in Baltimore city. Both are women, and their cases were only yesterday reported to the health commissioners. As soon as the lepers learned that the health officers were after them they sought other quarters and are now in hiding. Commissioner Bosley says that he expects to find them in a day or two.

Women Who Ride Astride.

The smart women of Boston have taken to riding astride and the custom is causing no end of discussion. But it is by no means a new thing in this part of the county. Not only is the custom practiced in the gay set at Aiken and Asheville, but some conservative and very sensible women of Charleston have followed it for several years past at their summer homes in the mountains of North Carolina. It is a very wholesome practice and is generally endorsed by physicians as being far preferable to the unnatural side seated method of riding—Charleston, S. C., Post.

Horse Races Yesterday.

In the race yesterday between the horses of C. S. Forbes and E. G. Flanagan, Flanagan's horse won the race with his heat time 2:37 which is a fine record for an untrained drive horse. In the race between the horses of Ed Patrick and Starkey Bros, Starkey was an easy winner at a 2-50 clip.

The races was very good and quite exciting, spectators many and all enjoyed the evening and was very much enthused over the races.

Death of Mr. B. S. Sheppard.

We learned by telephone message this morning from Ayden of the death of Mr. B. S. Sheppard, which occurred at that place this morning about 10 o'clock. Mr. Sheppard was in his 47th year and leaves one son, Mr. Ben Sheppard. He was also brother to our townsman, Mr. Henry Sheppard. The funeral service will take place tomorrow evening and the enternment made at the Sheppard burying ground near Ballards Xroads.

Assailed by Dogs.

Mrs. T. A. Thigpen near Hill yesterday, in walking along the road came upon two dogs fighting. Thinking she could run them out of her way she struck at them with a small stick which she had in her hand. The dogs stopped their fighting and dashed at her. Fortunately she was able to hold them at bay with the stick till a colored man, who was opportunely near, came to her rescue with a shovel.

It is a pleasure to note that soon after the canines were killed.

This circumstance which caused this lady so much fright and might have been serious for her, is another convincing argument for muzzling dogs running at large.—Tarboro Southerner.
