

We Beg Your Pardon

We have an apology to make in connection with our goods but its on the score of prices. They are so low we feel almost ashamed to quote them. Come let us whisper the prices in your ear. They are so low you cannot hear them from the outside. Few pieces of New White Goods just arrived.

Yours to please,

The Handicap of Ability.

There is no such thing as ordinary ability. All ability is extraordinary. Hence, when it discloses itself, mediocrity—always in the majority—combines against it. This is ability's most mortifying handicap. Mediocrity does not detest ability. It simply has no use for it. There is the same natural antipathy between mediocrity and ability that there is between truth and vested interests or between a dog and a cat.

Bourget keenly remarks that when several suitors woo a maid, he who loves her most will lose her. The very excess of true love throws the unfortunate into a fever. He loses his self-command in the crisis of the game. A cooler rival, without sentiment, controls his faculties and wins. The same phenomenon is witnessed when ability competes for favor with mediocrity. Ability loves to work and is excited by a prospect. Mediocrity regards all prospects coldly. Ability perfects itself in seclusion. Mediocrity pulls wires. Ability breaks its heart in the pride of conscious capacity and is even asked to the wedding when mediocrity marries the only child of the head of the family. Ability is compelled to create its own environment. This means a long obscurity of hunger and humiliation. Think of Columbus, obliged to pass a decade in teaching that the earth is round before he could begin his life work!

There is one sweet that mediocrity never tastes. Soon or late, ability comes by its own. Columbus climbs to the deck in the grey dawn and his heart leaps at the cry of "Land!" If mediocrity be without tragedies it is also without ecstasies.

Certainly, ability is too often a handicap. The only consolation we can suggest is that it handicaps very, very few of us.—New York Journal.

Old Age Pensions.

Several of the most prominent railroad corporations in this country and in other countries as well have established, or are preparing to establish, pension systems which will be of inestimable benefit to faithful and devoted employes who have been many years in service. The disposition to benevolence in arrangements to lessen the hardships of old age for veteran workers is gaining ground in every enlightened nation.

The old fashioned custom of merciless consignment to destitution and the almshouse of the bent and broken who have toiled diligently for unsympathetic masters for scores of years does not find so many admirers as it did in the earlier generations. The ruthless logic of the survival of the fittest and the long agony of the aged and feeble who are trampled under foot as unfit are tempered in these days by impulses of compassion and good will.—New York Tribune.

Matrimonially speaking, a bridle for the tongue is more valuable than a rein for the heart or blinkers.

There are countless women who really enjoy a comfortable session of tears.

Philosophical Happiness.

Stanly county has few politicians and no office-seekers. Hence she is not disturbed over the appointments made by this administration among the members of the Legislature. The last Legislature created several new offices, and in many cases men have been appointed to them who were largely influential in securing the action of the Legislature. In this case, as an exchange suggested, silence is golden, and as we have no disappointed office seekers in our midst, we will let the matter stand just as it is.—Stanly Enterprise.

Base Ball.

Wednesday's games put Wilmington well in the leads of the league and dropped Raleigh back to third place, Newport News now standing second. Following are the games:

VIRGINIA AND CAROLINA LEAGUE.

At Wilmington: Richmond 2, Wilmington 4.

At Raleigh: Portsmouth 7, Raleigh 4.

At Norfolk: Newport News 7, Norfolk 3.

Standing of the Clubs:

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Wilmington	19	12	613
Newport News	16	12	571
Raleigh	17	14	548
Portsmouth	15	16	484
Norfolk	14	16	466
Richmond	9	22	290

NATIONAL LEAGUE GAMES.

At New York: Pittsburg 1, New York 2.

At Brooklyn: St. Louis 4, Brooklyn 5.

At Boston: Cincinnati 4, Boston 3

At Philadelphia: Chicago 1, Philadelphia 3.

The commencement of Carolina Christian College at Ayden, takes place today and tomorrow.

The Flood.

The rains up the country for the last few days have been terrific. Rivers and streams were flooded to overflowing and much damage done. In the mountain sections of West Virginia, Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee and Georgia the floods are worst. On the western railroad between Asheville and Salisbury trains were not running today nor could they run on the road between Durham and Henderson. At Weldon the Roanoke river is thirty feet high and still rising.

The water from up the country has not had much effect on Neuse and Tar rivers yet. Here the Tar rose only about 6 inches today, but a more rapid rise is looked for tonight and tomorrow. Rocky Mount reported today that the river there was 25 feet high and still rising fast. It is also rising at Tarboro.

Don't Count This Year.

The Goldsboro Argus says: "Now that the 20th of May is at hand, is in order so the old time weather sages say, for the weather to settle down to reasonable temperature; consequently we may look for a cessation of hail storms and cold rains, and for summer weather in earnest, with ripening fruits and—water melons a little later."

But you cannot put any dependence in what the old time weather sages say this time. This is distinctly an off year with the seasons sporting along anywhere a month behind time, and May is showing no disposition toward a reasonable settling down. We used to look for the first home raised water melons to be ready for thumping by the 4th of July, but it will be a lucky fellow who gets one this year by August.

THURSDAY, MAY 23, 1901.

The Youth's Companion every year stimulates much interest in amateur photography by having an exhibition of amateur photographs and offering valuable prizes for the best specimens of photographs sent in.

The failure of Mr. S. H. Loftin, banker, yesterday was totally unexpected by nearly all of the Kinston people. Yet our business men—even those who had considerable amounts on deposit with him—received the news with remarkable calmness and good sense.

The failure is a calamity. It hurts—is bound to—but the injury has been made much less by the wise conservatism of our people.

The Free Press feels greater pride and confidence in Kinston and Kinston people than ever before—and nobody can accuse us of not having great admiration for this community heretofore.

Most any community can stand up well when there is continuous prosperity—as has been in Kinston for a number of years—but when a large bank failure like that of Mr. S. H. Loftin's takes place, then is shown the material composing our citizenship—and there is no spurious ring to it.

Kinston is all right. There may be temporary checks to the progress of this community, but it is going to forge steadily ahead.—Kinston Free Press.

The above is commendable. It often takes adversity to show what a man or a community is made of. The people of Kinston taking this calm, common sense view of a large failure that effects so many of them speaks volumes to their credit. We hope none of the business men of that progressive town will be caused to suffer embarrassment by this calamity, and there should be a disposition on the part of those else here who do business with them to help them avoid it.

WHAT STATES ARE DOING.

Splendid Exhibits and Buildings at the Pan-American.

The States of the Union generally show a deep interest in the Pan-American Exposition. Liberal appropriations have been made for exhibits.

New York's appropriation is $300,000. A magnificent permanent building has been erected, and an exhibit highly creditable to the Empire State is installed.

Illinois appropriated $75,000 for a building and exhibit. Michigan's appropriation for a building and exhibit is $40,000.

Ohio's appropriation is $30,000. The State has erected a handsome building. Missouri appropriated $50,000 for a building and exhibit.

Washington has appropriated $25,000 and has a building constructed of native timbers used as State Headquarters.

Wisconsin appropriated $25,000 for a building and exhibit.

The New England States joined together for the erection of a building and display of their resources and industries. Massachusetts appropriated $15,000, Rhode Island $30,000, and Connecticut, Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire have expended sums sufficient for suitable exhibits.

Georgia appropriated a sum sufficient to pay the expenses of a fine exhibit. Idaho appropriated $15,000 for an exhibit.

Pennsylvania's appropriation for representation is $35,000.

Minnesota appropriated $20,000 for an exhibit.

New Jersey's appropriation for representation is $25,000.

North Dakota expends its appropriation of $10,000 for an exhibit.

Oregon expends $25,000 for an exhibit.

Maryland appropriated $25,000 and appointed a commission to prepare an exhibit.

Delaware made an appropriation for an exhibit.

Washington, Montana, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and other States are suitably represented.

In addition to the exhibits made under the auspices of the different State governments, there are numerous displays of the industrial and natural resources of the States by individual exhibitors.

Notice.

In pursuance of an Act of the General Assembly of North Carolina entitled "An Act to Establish Graded Schools in the Town of Greenville, N. C.," ratified March 9th, 1901, the Board of Aldermen of the town of Greenville met in the Mayor's office at 8 o'clock, p. m. this day, for the purpose of opening and counting the returns of an election held in the district constituted in said Act as "Greenville Graded School District No. 1," on the 21st day of May, 1901, under said Act, and after an examination of the Poll and Registration books and tabulating said returns, do find and declare:

1. That the number of qualified voters of said district was two hundred and fifty-eight (258).

2. That at said election there was cast one hundred and fifty-nine (159) votes "For School" and fifteen (15) votes "Against School."

3. That a majority of the voters of said district had voted in favor of the school under said Act.

It was then ordered by the Board that the result of said election as above declared be published and that said returns be filed.

By order of the Board of Aldermen of the town of Greenville made this the 21st day of May, 1901. J. G. MOYE, Mayor.

D. J. WHICHARD, Clerk.

In vain have we sought through the years for one fair, humane article in a nothern newspaper as to lynchings in the south. The sentimentalists always shed tears over a hanging of a fiendish rapist and murderer, but have never a word of sorrow or sympathy for the poor, helpless, cruelly outraged victims of hellish lust. It is pitiful. The mobs will never cease in the south until the black beasts and some infernal white devils cease to dispoil and victimize helpless virtuous women and even children. If the nothern communities generally could be set upon by hungry beastly rapist it would not be over-descriptive to say that "hell would break loose." The fools weep over the devils and have no pity for the wronged and even destroyed.—Wilmington Messenger.

On the Side of Right.

The newspaper can generally be found on the side of right and progress. In the recent contests for graded schools in various North Carolina towns the newspapers led the fight, and were victorious in most cases. The people kick at their newspapers but in nine cases out of ten the newspaper is several years ahead of the town.—Raleigh Times.

An exchange rightly says that the local newspaper reflects the business interests of the town in its advertising columns. A business man elsewhere looking for a location nearly always examines newspapers to see how his particular line is represented. If he is a druggist and sees no druggists advertising he concludes there are no druggists or only dead ones in that town. If he is a doctor or a lawyer, he looks over the professional cards to see if his profession is represented. Among the farmer subscribers the home paper has a similar mission. The prospective buyers like an invitation to come and trade with the merchants. A card of the professional man is just as essential as the sign in front of his door. It is not a question of being able to get along without it. A hardware man need not heat his store to keep things from freezing. He might have a booth out in the street or at a skating rink, instead of paying rent at his store and buying fuel to heat it with, but it would not be economy to do so. Advertising is not a luxury, but rather an economic proposition recognized by all the best and most successful business men the world over.

Greenville voted Tuesday in favor of graded schools by a good majority. We congratulate Greenville on this evidence of progress.—Kinston Free Press.

First-Class Investment.

The money spent by a city in educational facilities is a first-class investment, when the schools are wisely managed for we cannot think of anything that would tend to harm a city more than for it to be known abroad that its school facilities are inadequate or a very poor quality.—Nortolk Ledger.

Going!

to advertise sometime in the future will not bring business to you today.

Going!!

to wait until times get better means the missing of many dollars that would come to you now for the asking.

Gone!!!

will be your opportunities if you neglect this important matter and let your more enterprising competitor get ahead of you and stay ahead. Don't wait.

The easiest, quickest and best way to sell anything is to advertise it in THE REFLECTOR. Such an advertisement goes straight to the people, they learn what you have to sell and you reap the benefit.

We have just purchased a large supply of bright and attractive cuts to illustrate REFLECTOR advertisements, and you are at liberty to use them. If you don't know just what you want to say, we will help you get up your advertisement. That is our business, to help you talk to the people.
