Session Closed--Testimonials for Teachers and Refreshments for Pupils.

The session of Masonic Hall School closed today. The regular work of the school was completed yesterday, but the pupils all met there this morning to receive their reports and to say good-bye to the teachers.

The trustees of the school and quite a number of Masons took advantage of the occasion to show their appreciation of the work done in the school and to make a pleasant hour for the teachers and pupils. Mr. F. C. Harding, in behalf of the trustees and of Greenville Lodge A. F. & A. M., made an appropriate speech expressing appreciation of the work of the teachers and thanking them for their faithfulness.

The teachers, Miss Lizzie Parker and Miss Lelia Thornton, of the literary department and Miss Lina Sheppard, of the music department, were each presented with a testimonial signed by the trustees and having the endorsement and seal of the lodge. Miss Parker responded for the teachers and thanked the trustees and Masons for the interest they had taken in the school and for their commendation of the teachers.

Col. I. A. Sugg stated at the beginning of the session he had offered a prize of $5 in gold to the pupil who would solve this problem: All the hands on a calendar clock were exactly together at noon January 1st, when would they all be together again. Miss Lena Smith handed in an answer showing they would all be together again Jan. 9th at 17 minutes 49 and a fraction seconds past 3 o'clock a. m.

After distributing reports to the pupils all were invited to partake of refreshments provided by the lodge and served by Ed. H. Shelburn. There was abundance for all and to spare.

Masonic Hall School has been an enterprise of which the Masons and the town might well be proud. The Masons started the school last fall because they wanted to see the town have a good school for girls. No school the town has had done better work for the pupils than this school.

Now that the town has voted to establish a graded school, and the Masons have decided to sell their lot and building and put the proceeds in their temple soon to be built, they will not carry on their school longer.

Gets Sick Every Year From the Same Spider Bite.

During the month of May, in 1897, Mr. Allen Brown was bitten on the arm by a spider, from the effects of which he has suffered at intervals ever since. Along about the first of the present month his hands began to swell and the flesh in tender places turned purple and then blue. For a week Mr. Brown was sick and generally depressed, but the sickness and swelling has passed off and he is gaining in strength daily. He says he gets spotted and is subject to these attacks during the month of May each year, and has experienced this peculiar affliction ever since he was bitten by the spider.—Mooresville Enterprise.

FRIDAY, MAY 24, 1901.

We are told of something of an uncommon freak of nature. About ten days ago a heifer calf was born to a cow belonging to Mr Jacob F. Parrott. The calf is perfectly blind, without eyeballs. Other-wise the calf is perfectly sound and well. Mr. Parrott informs us that the mother and young calf seem uncommonly affectionate toward each other.—Kinston Free Press.

What the police believe was a daring attempt to rob the Cambridgeport National Bank of Cambridge Mass., by the use of dynamite in broad daylight, was revealed Tuesday by an explosion in the bank which blew out the side of the office, damaged other parts of the building and in which Cashier William F. Roaf sustained a bad wound on the head. If the explosion was a part of a plot to rob the bank, the plan failed as far as booty was concerned, for nothing of value was taken from the place. The shock of the explosion was felt for several blocks, no damage was done outside of the bank building.

Fatalities from lightning are of alarming frequency. Although summer has not yet come, yet already there have been very many deaths from lightning. In every paper is published the death of somebody, caused by a flash of lightning, and many buildings have been struck and destroyed. It is no wonder that many persons are frightened at the approach of an electric storm and quake with fear at flashes of lightning and roar of thunder. Death from lightning comes so suddenly, and, nobody can tell where lightning may strike, it is not surprising that a thunder storm causes great alarm, and from its fury no human protection seems adequate.—Pitts-boro Record.

There are in the State 5,422 white school districts and 2,488 colored districts, a total of 7,910. The receipts from taxes for public schools, and expended on them last year, were $1,031,387.94, as shown by the report of the superintendent of public instruction. The school census showed 489,421 white and 220,198 colored, a total of 659,629 children of school age. The enrollment in the schools amounted to 270,447 white, 130,005 colored, total, 400,452. But the average attendance, which accurately indicates the number of those who are receiving the rudiments of an education, shows that only 142,413 white and 64,506 negroes, a total of 206,919 attended the schools regularly.

Eaten By a Bear.

Pittsburg, May 22.—A Job, W. Va., special says: To be crushed to death in the embrace of a monstrous black bear and their little bodies afterward mangled and partly devoured was the frightful fate that befell the three young children of E. P. Porterfield, a mountaineer about 12 miles south-east of this place.

The remains were found by a searching party which had been out since last Sunday evening.

The party included John Weldon, a Maryland hunter, who within a few minutes after the discovery of the bodies, shot and killed the bear in a neighboring thicket. The children were Mary, aged 3; Willie, aged 5, and Henry, aged 7. Shortly after noon Sunday they left home to gather flowers in a clearing near their home. Nothing more is known, but it is supposed that they wandered into the woods and becoming lost continued on their way until they were overtaken by the bear in the dense forest three miles from their parent's home.

The bear feasted off all three of the bodies. The bones of the children had been crushed like straws and the flesh stripped off with teeth and claws. The party divided and began a search. Within a few minutes Weldon discovered it in a thick clump of hemlock saplings near a small stream. A single shot ended its life. It was declared to be the largest bear ever seen in this neighborhood.

Cycling "Don'ts"

Don't overdo things at the start. Cycling is a good thing, but, like many another, can be done to death.

Don't rely on the other fellow having an oil can or a wrench. Better take one along; he may have forgotten his, too.

Don't be always taking your wheel apart; keep it clean and see that the nuts are tight. A good wheel needs little else.

Don't race on the Park roads simply because the trotter ahead is going just as fast. This explanation is of very little use next day if you are the one caught.

Don't forget that it is just as far home as it is going out.

On the Menu in Chile.

For several days I noticed the word "panqueque" upon the bill of fare at the hotel and did not know what it was. There is a brand of wine from one of the Chilean vineyards with that name, and I supposed it was perhaps the same thing referred to, although it was difficult to understand why it should appear among the desserts on the menu at the dinner table and on the bills of fare for breakfast. The best way to find out about such things is to try them, and the next morning, being in an experimental mood, I ordered a "panqueque," which, to our amazement, was an ordinary griddle-cake. Then it dawned upon my dull perceptions that "panqueque" spelled pancake. I called the attention of the head waiter to the discovery, and he seemed quite astonished. He could speak English well and claimed to be familiar with the cuisine of America. Therefore he did not see anything unusual in my discovery, and I rather think he wrote the bill of fare himself. For he remarked in a surprised tone: "What do you call a pancake?"

As to Roses.

Says Sunday's Charlotte Observer: "A Charlotte man was showing some beautiful Marechal Neil roses to friends yesterday. They were a gift of Mrs. Sarah C. Burton, of Lincolnton, who has the finest bush of flowers in this section of the State. It will yield over 350 this season." There is nothing wrong with the above, except when compared with the rose bush of Mrs. W. G. Boshamer. The vine is of the Marechal Neil variety and is five years old. Two years ago, however, the vine was killed to the root, so that it can be considered only two years old. Mrs. Boshamer counted the other day 793 roses on the vine and for the past two weeks they have been cutting them off. The vine has had this season near 1,000 roses and is now a mass of beauty—being as fine a growth as is rare seen.—Concord Tribune.

And Thanks Too.

A phone message a day or two ago had something to say like this: "I hear your Greenville market is pretty low of something to eat and the last time I saw you you looked so thin I'm getting uneasy about you. Lookout for a couple of hams on the way." We looked out promptly enough, the hams came all right, and now they are going the way of the good.

Snails in Wells.

Some of our citizens complain of being unable to rid their wells of snails. This reptile is a great nuisance and when once it has gotten ahold about a well is hard to exterminate. The owner of a well on East Market street says he has found the remedy. He tried salt and lime, which worked all right for awhile, but the snails would return. Then he removed the wooden platform and put a rock cover on the well, closely cemented, and has not been troubled since.—Reidsville Weekly.

The up country water has not had much effect on the river yet.

Going!
Going!
Gone!!

Going!

to advertise sometime in the future will not bring business to you today.

Going!!

to wait until times get better means the missing of many dollars that would come to you now for the asking.

Gone!!!

will be your opportunities if you neglect this important matter and let your more enterprising competitor get ahead of you and stay ahead. Don't wait.

The easiest, quickest and best way to sell anything is to advertise it in THE REFLECTOR. Such an advertisement goes straight to the people, they learn what you have to sell and you reap the benefit.

We have just purchased a large supply of bright and attractive cuts to illustrate REFLECTOR advertisements, and you are at liberty to use them. If you don't know just what you want to say, we will help you get your advertisement. That is our business, to help you talk to the people.

The cost of an advertisement in THE REFLECTOR is the easiest part.
