WHY SO MANY WOMEN ARE INVALIDS

The insane desire of fond parents that their children shall "shine" in their studies and accomplishments is one topic vigorously dealt with by Edward Bok in his editorial in the Ladies' Home Journal for September. Regarding the girls' side of this widespread evil he says: "There are parents who, not content with the studies which their daughters have to grapple with at school, load them down with a few special studies in the finer arts. I have in mind now several young girls between the precarious ages of twelve and seventeen, who, after they return from school, have an extra dose of painting, music or languages. 'But my daughter must know something of these things,' is the protest of the fond mother. 'She must be able to hold her own with other girls of her set.' Of course, the girl at this tender age, with such a mental load, soon goes to pieces. She becomes anemic, listless and nervous, and then the mother wonders why! To build her up everything under the sun is tried except a lessening of mental work and the unnatural strain upon the nervous system. The girl develops into what? A bundle of nerves encased in the most fragile frame, her physical vitality sapped almost to the last drop. And in this condition she enters the marriage state! And yet we wonder why there are so few women absolutely free from organic troubles. Is it so inexplicable?"

A professor in Colorado recently performed a unique operation on two snakes and welded them together. He cut a rattlesnake in two, an adder ditto, and grafted the last half of the adder to the front half of the rattler. Now the rattler can't rattle and the adder can't add. How long it may take the head and tail to get on friendly terms is not stated.—Wilmington Star.

ORIGINAL OBSERVATIONS.

Made By The Orange, Virginia, Observer

It is a great deal easier to find fault than it is to find perfection. There's many a truth spoken in jest—'tis often better so expressed.

It doesn't require a cent of capital to carry on the business of a critic.

If some people took back what they gave, they would not be heavily loaded.

The man who paints the town red at night generally feels blue in the morning.

When a girl is in love she always thinks the young man is perfect—and he agrees with her.

Some people would think they were cheated if they had smallpox in a milder form than their neighbors.

A man's love for his daughter should not be measured by the foot with which he lifts an unwelcome suitor out of the house.

It's easier to put up with the prodigal son than to put up for him.

MONDAY, AUGUST 26, 1901.

It strikes us there has been much gush over the Flagler-Kenan marriage that took place at Kenansville Saturday, when such an alliance ought to have been dis-

Newspaper reporters took a trip to the nearest railroad station and drove ten miles in the country to see and write up the Flagler-Kenan wedding on Saturday, and when they got there were refused admission into the house. So we suppose they hung around the gate and picked up what they could.

Special Correspondent of Reflector. RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 26.

At last we are to have a creditable school history of North Carolina it appears; and moreover it is to be adopted for use in the public schools of the State. The Text-book Commission is now reviewing the work from the original manuscript, and after its approval and some possible alterations or additions, the book will be published and added to the list recently adopted. The fact that this work was in course of preparation actuated the commission in leaving open the adoption of a State history when the other school textbooks were adopted—there really being none fit for use in existence. Captain S. A. Ashe of Raleigh, one of the ablest, best posted and most patriotic gentlemen in the State, is the author of the work, which he has prepared chiefly during the present year more as a "labor of love" than for pecuniary gain, and North Carolina owes him a debt of gratitude.

MONUMENTS TO MACON AND MURPHY.

Within the past steps have been taken looking to the purchase of the ground where the grave (now marked only by "a pile of native stones") of Nathaniel Macon, the great commoner of North Carolina, is located in Warren county, and the erection of a suitable monument thereon to his memory. General J. S. Carr has headed a subscription for that purpose and the Morning Post of Raleigh supplements it with a like amount and will receive and announce further contributions from the general public. Dr. Macon and Mr. T. M. Pitman of Henderson have also interested themselves in the movement, and this long neglected duty of properly marking the last resting place of him who has come to be generally regarded as "the greatest North Carolinian," it is to be hoped, will now be performed without further unnecessary delay. If you want to help in the good work send a contribution to the Post.

It is also proposed to raise a fund to erect a monument at Hillsboro over the neglected grave of Judge Murphy of Orange, the "founder of the public school system of North Carolina." It is suggested that if each child now enjoying the fruits of Judge Murphy's foresight and patriotism will contribute one cent the work can be easily accomplished. Each county school superintendent could look after the collection. Will they?

A HORRIBLE RECORD. The epidemic of crime against white women by black brutes which has shocked all North Carolina during the past week or two is as horrifying as unexpected, if not inexplicable. Three assaults in Mecklenburg county alone, followed by the awful affair in Anson county last Wednesday, when a highly respected young lady, Miss Lena Keith, was practically murdered (for she cannot recover) by the devil incarnate who assaulted her in her own home, is a record unparalleled in this State within a like space of time.

The prompt trial within two days and sentence to death within thirty days of one of the Mecklenburg negroes, was in strong contrast to the summary execution by a mob of the Anson county culprit, within a few hours of the commission of the awful deed.

Three negroes who attempted assault have not been captured at this writing, and the negroes generally are very properly being advised by some of the daily papers that they must cease to shield criminals of this character and not only not place impediments in the way

When Larkin, the rich soap man of Buffalo, started business by making soap in his kitchen, carrying the materials in a wheelbarrow, he used his first profits to advertise in the newspapers. If you put a sign on the fence or tree or side of the house people must go to it to read it, hence few read it.

SEND YOUR SIGN TO

the people by putting it in

and you will see the difference. THE REFLECTOR goes to the people and carries your sign with it, and they all read it.

Advertising

in THE REFLECTOR will bring you success. Don't lag behind in the race, but let the people know what you are here for.

The easiest, quickest and best way to sell anything is to advertise it in THE REFLECTOR. Such an advertisement goes straight to the people, they learn what you have to sell and you reap the benefit.

We have just purchased a large supply of bright and attractive cuts to illustrate REFLECTOR advertisements, and you are at liberty to use them. If you don't know just what you want to say, we will help you get up your advertisement. That is our business, to help you talk to the people.

The cost of an advertisement in THE REFLECTOR is the easiest part.
