SMALL FIRE

In Machine in A. T. Co's Factory.

About 8:30 o'clock Thursday night while the night force at the American Tobacco Co. factory were at work drying a lot of scrap tobacco and getting it ready for packing, flames were seen to burst through the top of the automatic drying machine. How the fire got in the machine is unaccountable, and any theory advanced is only supposition. The steam whistle gave an alarm and the factory force went to work on the fire. All the steam possible from the boilers was turned into the machine and this kept the flames confined until the fire department arrived.

The fireman responded promptly to the alarm and upon reaching the factory the Rough & Ready company with their hand engine soon had a good stream pouring into the machine. They did fine work and deserve much praise. Hope Fire company were also on hand promptly with their engine steamed up, but after taking the engine out the horses had to return down town for the hose wagon, and by the time they got back the hand engine had practically put the fire out, so the steamer did not turn on a steam.

Part of the time the factory was so full of smoke that it was hard for the firemen and others to stay in the building, but they all stuck to their places and a serious loss was averted.

An estimate of the loss sustained cannot be made yet, but it is covered by insurance. The only damage was to the machine and tobacco in it, and the damage by smoke to the tobacco hanging in the factory. It is cause for congratulation that the loss was no greater.

The Journal tells of a fraud practiced on the negroes of Newbern. A negro calling himself A. W. Rogers has been holding meetings in a colored church there, claiming that his mission is to "promote the interests of ex-slaves" and his official title, so he says, is the national general manager of the association formed for this purpose. The plan of operation is to petition congress to pay a bounty to all ex-slaves and pay them pensions. To attain this end a fund is being raised by National General Manager Rogers and the assessment is considered very moderate, being 10 cents a head.

About 400 of Newbern and 200 of James City gave up their dimes to the fakir, who aroused great enthusiasm, especially when he declared that "President Roosevelt held these black hands in his and promised to do something for these poor ex-slaves." The news of this affair reached the city officials and several went to hear the negro speak. When they heard the above and like remarks they decided that the fellow was obtaining money under false pretenses and told him that he would be waited on. The general manager disappeared thereupon and was not to be seen next day, having doubtless moved on to where another harvest of suckers and dimes may be garnered.—Kinston Free Press.

GO TO PRAYER MEETING.

And See What You Have Been Missing.

BRO WHICHARD:

It seems that you and Bro. Booth are determined that the public shall not know what we are doing in our prayer meetings, and I take this opportunity to give a little in cite to it. You know a large majority of our membership do not attend at these services, especially the female portion, and of course they know nothing of what is doing or being done unless we tell them. When Bro. Booth announces from the stand that such and such a brother will conduct the service the following Wednesday night, most people think the one so appointed is to do all the talking. Not so, for we have talks from a number of brethren, and we have all grades of oratory, too.

In the first place we have good singing—I sing, you know. Ed. Harris says I can't sing. Ed. says my voice, when singing, sounds like some one whetting an old cross-cut saw with a well worn file. But you know Ed. don't know. There is one thing I always notice, however, and that is, Ed. always sits close to me when he comes to our church, and that may be some evidence that he likes my singing. You know Shakespeare says something about "a man that hath no music in his soul and is void of concord of sweet sounds, is fit for stratagem," &c. Well, that is a cap made by old man Shakespeare to fit somebody. It does not fit me, for I can sing and am fond of music. It may fit Ed.

Well, singing is not all we have in our prayer meeting service. As I remarked before, we have all grades of oratory ranging from the Ragsdale and Allen and Bryan styles down to the Tom Dixon and the Talmage styles. We don't have sermons, no, no, we have sermonettes. A sermon, you know, is one of those long and dry discourses delivered from the pulpit when everybody gets tired and gapes, and "Uncle John Cherry" goes to sleep. A sermonette is a short, logical Bible talk full of rhetoric and good and sound common sense, when no one gets tired and something that all enjoy.

I talk sometimes, and I reckon if Ed. were to hear one of my speeches he would say I couldn't speak. I think Ed. envies me my singing talent, and were he to hear one of my speeches he would envy that talent, too.

When others are speaking, I sit still and listen, and then I begin to feel a bubbling and effervescent sensation, and the first thing I know I am up and bubbling out my eloquence. We are not only going to give a display of our eloquence next Wednesday night, but will continue it every Wednesday night. Tell everybody to attend these services and I will give you my word they will not regret it.

PRAYER MEETING ATTENDANT.

[Bro. Whichard accepts his part of the censure in the above with good grace. Perhaps he ought to have told his readers something of the interesting prayer meetings held in both the Baptist and Methodist churches every Wednesday night, and also the men's prayer meetings in the latter church Sunday mornings, but somehow he didn't do it. However, as the writer above tells it so well it is now useless to say more than to advise every one to attend the prayer meetings and see what they are missing.—Ed.]

Plowed Up a Watch.

Monday while a colored man was plowing a lot of Mr. Peter E. Smith's he turned up a watch with his plow. It looked a little rusty and weather worn, but when wound up it commenced to work all right. There was no telling how long it had been in the ground.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

Christmas day Mr. Titus Allen was shooting at a mark with a revolver, and a son of Mr. Joe Moyer passed by in time to receive the bullet in his abdomen. His case is considered very critical. The physicians say he is shot very near the same place of President McKinley. Mr. Allen is in the deepest grief from the accident.—Ayden Free Will Baptist.

WITH THE ALDERMEN.

Fire Alarm Breaks Up the Meeting.

The fire alarm broke into th meeting of the Board of Aldermen, Thursday night, and caused them to make a hasty adjournment.

The monthly reports of the tax collector, police officers and committees were made and accepted, and several petitions for retail liquor licenses were granted. Alderman J. L. Sugg voted against all liquor licenses.

An appropriation of $50 for the benefit of the Greenville Light Infantry was made. There was a spirited discussion over this appropriation, some of the members wanting to make it $125, but owing to the condition of the treasury those favoring the smaller appropriation were in the majority.

A petition to open a retail fish and oyster house near Five Points was being discussed when the alarm came.

The Board will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight to finish business before them.

The Play Tonight.

Just as the first drill was being concluded at the opera house last night the alarm of fire was given. It was found that it was not advisable to continue the entertainment. The play, drills, choruses, songs and tableaux will be had at the opera house tonight. Those who had tickets for last night will be admitted tonight. Others can get seats from Burch's during the day and at the door tonight.

Everybody present last night was delighted with the part of the entertainment had and we are sure that you will be pleased with the exercises tonight. Those who were not there last night ought to be there tonight.

Look for Anything.

The local prophets are making different predictions from the forecast the weather bureau gives for tomorrow, and say instead of fair weather there will more likely be snow. We don't remember to have ever seen much snow during dark nights, but as precedents never cut much figure in these days almost anything in the weather line may be expected, even if it doesn't come.

During the coming year I will, as heretofore, carry the most attractive line of goods to be found anywhere and ask for a continuance of your patronage.

Yours to serve,
