Happy Greeting.

To my friends and customers of Pitt and adjoining counties. Wishing each and every one a happy and prosperous

New Year.

Thanking each one for their patronage and kindness and ask a continuance of the same.

We wish to Say

We are still knocking out high prices. Our motto always will be Down with high prices.

W. T. LEE & CO.

IS THE CASH WHAT YOU ARE LOOKING FOR?

Then you want the attention of the people who have cash to spend. They are the people who read and you can attract their attention and their cash in no better way than by putting your advertisement in this paper.

Advertising

in THE REFLECTOR will bring you success. Don't lag behind in the race, but let the people know what you are here for.

The easiest, quickest and best way to sell anything is to advertise it in THE REFLECTOR. Such an advertisement goes straight to the people, they learn what you have to sell and you reap the benefit.

We have just purchased a large supply of bright and attractive cuts to illustrate REFLECTOR advertisements, and you are at liberty to use them. If you don't know just what you want to say, we will help you get up your advertisement. That is our business, to help you talk to the people.

The cost of an advertisement in THE REFLECTOR is the least part.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Jan. 4.

Land Sale—A Bargain—One farm containing 87½ acres more or less. Nice tobacco, cotton or corn land, 50 acres cleared. Two good tenant house and other buildings. Adjoins the lands of Henry Cory, Lewis Worthington and others and may be known as the James B. McGowan land. Apply to A. G. Cox.

A sociable complimentary to Miss Laura Cox, who left Thursday for Raleigh Baptist Female College, was given by Mrs. J. D. Cox last Tuesday evening. Only a few, special number of old maids and old bachelors, were invited, and if the whole universe had been there we could not have had a nicer time. For good old fun and a fine time generally, old maids and we other fellows just take the cake for we are old enough to know a good thing when we see it, and by no means too old to enjoy it. When Miss Laura comes home we are going to invite Mrs. Cox to invite us again, and we'll be there.

For Rent—Anyone desiring to rent a first class three or four horse farm, in fine condition for the cultivation of cotton, tobacco &c., who have team, can do so on reasonable terms by applying to W. B. Wingate, of this place.

F. T. Carr, of Willow Green, was here Tuesday and before leaving purchased one of those excellent buggies put up by the Hunsucker Carriage Co. While here Mr. Carr took occasion to say that where one of the Tyndall Tobacco Trucks was sold last year, five would be sold in the same neighborhood the coming season. He has a high opinion of them.

F. F. Frye, of Raleigh, and Miss Lucy Wyatt, of Durham, after spending the holidays with the family of W. J. Wyatt, left for their respective homes Tuesday.

Miss Esther Cannon, of Ayden, who has been on a visit to Miss Minnie Clinard, returned to her home Thursday.

Mrs. S. R. Dawson, of Littlefield, spent Wednesday and Thursday with relatives here.

W. E. Cox, of Seven Springs, was here a short while during the week. He left Friday for New York.

Miss Uzzelle, of Lenoir, is spending sometime visiting friends in town.

Mrs. Wm. Carroll, of Kinston, spent the holidays with her parents near here and returned home Wednesday evening.

Mr. Edwards, of Vanceboro, and Mr. Dixon, of same place, have moved their families here and will make this their future home.

House Catches on Fire.

Just before noon today the dwelling house occupied by Mr. J. T. Mathews, on the corner of Greene and Fourth streets, caught fire from sparks on the roof. It was quickly put out with a few buckets of water and the damage was nothing to speak of. In responding to the alarm Hope Fire company had their engine steamed up and a line of hose run in quick time that would have done credit to professional fireman.

The New Year.

has been a great one for this store. Prosperity has thrived on merit. Thousands of new patrons have been added to our list. Our business has more than doubled, and a grand start made to begin the New Year. Thanks and best wishes to you—our patrons. But we are not content with the battle already won, we have other worlds to conquer, and renewed efforts will be put forth to merit your increased patronage. Wishing our friends—one and all

A Happy New Year

with a full measure of health and happiness, we are, very truly yours,

FRANK WILSON,

THE KING CLOTHIER.

THE BEST OF ALL.

The Children's Entertainment a Great Success.

Those who were at the opera house Friday night were charmed and delighted with the entertainment given by the children under the management of Miss Minnie Quinn. The program consisted of a child's play, "Naughty Joe," drills, choruses, songs, and tableaux. No one who took a part was more than 12 or 15 years old and a large majority of them were very small children. To say that they all did well does not tell half. It is positively true that they could not have done better. Such familiarity with their parts and the ability to act them well have rarely been seen in children. We would like to call each by name and give each credit for the exhibition of special talent and training, but there were so many that it would consume our entire space in today's issue to do them justice, and we must therefore content ourselves with general mention.

The drill, "Stars and Stripes," had been gone through with the night before, but all agreed that it was even more beautiful to them than at the first presentation. You never saw pretty little girls do prettier than they did.

Then came the chorus, "When the Harvest Days are Over." In this the children showed that Greenville will some day have cause to be proud of her talent for vocal music.

The next chorus, "Mamie," was so delightfully rendered that the audience gave a hearty encore which was responded to even more happily than at first.

The next on the program was the play, "Naughty Joe." Tact had been displayed in assigning the parts, each one appearing specially adapted for the part taken. Every one knew perfectly his or her part and the presentation of it would have done credit to persons double their ages. It was wonderful how well some of them did, and the audience showed its appreciation by frequent applause, especially at the tent scene.

Between the two acts of the play came a song and chorus that were so beautifully given that the audience would not let the curtain remain when it was lowered. "The Sentinel Asleep," was sung at the conclusion of the play, and several in the audience requested us to say that it had been a long time since they had heard any thing more beautiful than this song.

The entertainment was concluded with tableaux, "Death of Virginia," and "Good Night." They were as lovely as we ever saw, and the eyes of all loved to linger upon such pretty girls, so artfully arranged and shown to such advantage by the beautiful calcium lights.

Miss Clara Bruce Forbes was piano accompanist for the entertainment and added much to its pleasure.

The entire credit for the preparation and presentation of this entertainment is due to Miss Minnie Quinn. She has tact and talent for such things as is always shown when she has given anything to the public. We know of no young woman who can take children and do so much with them as Miss Minnie can, and it is hoped that she will often favor the public with some kind of exercises by the children.

The gross receipts of the entertainment were about $12.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Something About Rugs, Which Have Displaced Carpets.

Rugs have largely displaced carpets in American homes of recent years.

The modern hygienic housewife insists upon having movable floor coverings because they can be kept so much cleaner.

For people who rent, too, rugs are found in the long run to be cheaper, because with a change of residence they can be more easily fitted than a carpet to the new floors.

There are a few facts which the woman who buys rugs for her house needs to know. Persian rugs lead all the rest in artistic design as well as coloring. Ten dollars is what a square foot of the best Persian rug is worth, and it took a single weaver twenty-three days to complete that portion.

The Turkish rugs from Siwas are made of wool and are woven in almost every hamlet and home. Every poor family has as a part of their house furnishings rugs which are very valuable, but which they will not part with except in time of the direst need.

The Smyrna rugs are comparatively inferior in quality. Their name is derived from the mart to which they are brought for sale. They are made in the interior from the Angora goat's coarse hair.

Yuruk rugs are made by a band of nomads in the mountains of Anatolia. These are rugs of firm, even texture woven from the wool of the fine flocks of sheep.

A Nut Pudding.

A rich and delicious dessert and one easily served, which is a great consideration, is a nut pudding. To make it beat separately the yolks and whites of six eggs. To the yolks add one and a half cups of granulated sugar, and to the whites, beaten to the stiffest possible froth, add three cups of finely chopped or pounded nuts. Hazelnuts, pecans or almonds are equally good. Mix all together lightly and stir in one teaspoonful of vanilla. Then, last of all, sift in one teaspoonful of baking powder well mixed in one tablespoonful of flour.

This is to be baked quickly in jelly cake tins and when ready to serve is to be put together like layer cake with whipped cream. A pint of this thoroughly chilled and seasoned with flavoring or brandy will be sufficient to put between layers and over the top and sides.

Fruit For Rheumatism.

The use of fruit diminishes acidity and antagonizes rheumatism. The acids in fruits undergo changes which diminish the acidity of the blood and aid in the elimination of rheumatic acid.

The most digestible fruits are ripe grapes, peaches, strawberries, apricots, oranges, very ripe pears, figs, dates, baked apples and stewed fruits.

A dietary consisting wholly of fruits is a valuable means of overcoming biliousness.

Such a dietary may be maintained for one or two days a week.

A modified fruit dietary is highly beneficial.

The most laxative fruits are apples, figs, prunes and peaches.

Family Doctor.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 2.

The beautiful garment of unanimity which clothed the republican majority at the opening of Congress is being rent asunder during the holiday recess and there is reason to believe that when Congress reconvenes the republican brethren will dwell together in a harmony very similar to that attributed to the famous cats of Kilkenny. Already there are the high protection wing and the modified protection wing in the near future. The members who composed the first named faction are, from conviction or the persuasion of their favored proteges, committed to the most extreme protection.

The second faction believes in some modifications of the House Philippine tariff bill because they consider that such concessions will further the efforts of General Chaffee and the Taft Commission. They are in favor of granting some measure of reciprocity to Cuba, notwithstanding the protests of Mr. Oxnard and the blandishments of the beet sugar lobby.

If a third faction develops it will be in support of the President's views in regard to Cuban reciprocity, but still more to sustain Mr. Roosevelt in the stand he has taken in regard to the Schley controversy and his efforts to uphold Secretary Long. There are many members of Congress who believe that the President has been guilty of "bad politics" in not heeding the wishes of the people in this matter and it is anticipated that when those congressmen who have spent the holidays in their districts return to Washington the sentiment will take definite form. Any effort to prove the affairs of the Navy Department will be bitterly opposed by the President who well knows that were a Congressional investigation undertaken, nothing could save from ignominious defeat the Secretary of the Navy and the entire clique which has so assiduously persecuted Admiral Schley.

There is little doubt but that the large majority of the people would be glad to see Congress go to almost any length to vindicate Admiral Schley and expose those who have been responsible for his humiliation. On the other hand Mr. Roosevelt will lend his influence to prevent even the implied vindication of Schley which would result from Congress passing a bill giving him full pay, instead of the retired pay which he would otherwise draw.

The people of the United States will learn with relief that there is little chance for Senators Frye and Hanna's ship subsidy bill. Had the Senator from Ohio retained the influence he had during the last administration, there is little doubt that the bill in its present form would have become a law, but the clever side-tracking of the Ohio dictator has robbed him of his power to such an extent that, in spite of the fact that Senator Frye reorganized the Senate Commerce Committee with the express purpose of assuring the favorable reporting of this measure, there is still a majority of the committee against it.

It takes a touching sermon to raise a church fund.

Keep Off the Hose.

People ought to know by now that it is a violation of the law to drive across a line of fire hose stretched on the street. In the short time the fire department was out today the police made three arrests for this offense.

Another Horse Needed.

The fire at the American Tobacco Co's factory Thursday night and the time consumed in getting the hose wagon to the scene—it having to remain at the engine house until the horses could return for it after taking the engine out—makes patent the fact that the town should have another horse. There are two splendid horses to pull the engine when going to a fire, but there should be another to carry the hose wagon. It is just a physical impossibility for the men who belong to the fire company to pull the wagon loaded with several hundred feet of hose any considerable distance over such streets as we have, and they should not be expected to do so. It would be money well invested by the town to purchase another good horse.

Comrades were Once About to Bury Col. Cowles.

Colonel W. H. H. Cowles was once saved from death by the sacrifice of a friend and was once prepared for burial during the war between the States. Col. D. Cardwell, of Columbia, S. C., said he passed the litter on which Col. Cowles was stretched out for dead, an oilcloth thrown over his body and the soldiers digging the grave to bury Cowles and several other dead soldiers. But the colonel revived and did not occupy the grave that had been prepared for him, though he carried all his life a hole in his head as a mark of the terrible wound. He and Colonel Cardwell met 20 years after the war and the latter said it was as if the dead of a generation before had suddenly come to life.

It is told that years after the war Colonel Cowles sought out the grave of the man who had received the wound that he would have borne and erected a monument over his grave with this inscription: "Greater love hath no man than this—that he give his life for his friend."—Baltimore Sun.

A MEAN LOOKING LETTER-HEAD

Has lost many a dollar for business men. If a man is judged by the coat he wears, he is also judged by the letter-head he uses. An artistic, nicely printed letter head may be looked on as a good investment.

It will be done right.
The price for doing it will be right, too.

THE ALDERMEN.

Met Last Night to Complete Their Session.

The Board of Aldermen met Friday night to complete the business of the monthly meeting in which they were interrupted by fire alarm Thursday night.

The discussion of the petition to open a retail fresh fish and oyster house somewhere on Fifth street near Five Points was resumed. The matter was disposed of by referring it to the market committee. This will probably be the end of it, for if it ever comes back from the committee an adverse recommendation will likely accompany it.

We overlooked stating that on the first night of the meeting the special committee previously appointed to look into the advisability of making a photographic exhibit at the Charleston exposition, reported that they found space so high the project had been abandoned.

The street committee also reported that they had yet been unable to do anything relative to the straightening and opening side walks on Dickinson avenue, and further time was granted in which to look into the matter.

A few matters of minor importance were disposed of.

Accounts amounting to $ were allowed and ordered paid. Among the accounts presented was one from J. A. Brady for damage to his store front by Christmas fireworks, and one from Mrs. R. H. Horne for damage to furniture and clothing caused by a tree the town was having cut down near her residence falling on and crushing a portion of the house. These bills were referred to committees for investigation.

The local prophets have gone way back and set down today, and given the score to the weather bureau. There wasn't any snow, but the day has been fair as a bell and cold as blazes.

A Happy New Year

I desire to thank all of my friends and customers for their liberal patronage during the year of 1901, and at the same time wish them a happy and a prosperous New Year. During the coming year I will, as heretofore, carry the most attractive line of goods to be found anywhere and ask for a continuance of your patronage.

Yours to serve,

C. S. Jones
