Baby Face Reforms Burglar.

A sweet baby face, photographed on the interior of a watch case, caused remorse in a burglar's heart and led to his returning stolen booty and making a determination to reform.

One night last week the residence of Sylvanus Ashley, near Chipman's Corners, was robbed of several articles, including a gold watch. On the interior of the case a photograph of Ashley's infant daughter, Gladys. All efforts to apprehend the burglar or recover the property having proved unavailing, Ashley had abandoned hope, when he discovered a package containing the stolen articles on his porch yesterday morning.
Inclosed in the parcel was the following note:

"Dear Sir: I stole this property from your house recently while you slept. When I saw baby's face on the watch case it reminded me of my own little one, long since dead. Then I thought of the innocence of childhood and the happy day when I was engaged in an honest and lucrative business.
This retrospect caused indescrib-le anguish of heart, and I resolved to return the stolen property and hereafter lead an honest life, God helping me.

"REFORMED SINNER."

Ashley declares that he is now even more anxious than ever before to meet the stranger, as he wants to help him in his work of reformation.—Middletown, N. Y.,

THURSDAY, JANUARY 9, 1901.

It is a matter of surprise that people are so easily taken in by strangers and street peddlers on the sale of articles that could be obtained from the home merchant and regular business man at so much less price. Instances where in the purchaser pays dearly for such experience are frequent. If you want an article and cannot find it carried by your home dealer, it would at least be good policy to consult him before giving any kind of price to the peddler. It will pay to do business with your home business men whom you know and have confidence in.

The holidays are over and most of our progressive and money making farmers will be seen very busy. They will be manure making. The amount of money it takes to buy all of their manures is found to be too great. A large part of the crop is spent before the crop is made when commercial fertilizers are relied on entirely. Many see that they can save more money to send their sons and daughters off to college by setting apart much of January and February in making fertilizers at home. It is all clear gain. This is to a large extent all that could be done any way. Frittering away the whole of the winter months comes dear. So the intelligent and wide awake and money making farmer talks. We like to hear such talk because it comes from the class whose prosperity is felt and shared by all other classes. The farmers are our most important folks.—Lumber Bridge News.

Our Population 84,233,069.

Washington, Jan. 7.—The Census Bureau today issued a report announcing that the population of the entire United States, including all outlying possessions, was 84,333,069 in the census year 1900. This is itemized as follows: Continental United States or United States proper, 75,994,575 (heretofore announced); Philippines, 6,961,339, being the estimate of the statistician to the Philippine commission; Porto Rico, 953,243; Hawaii, 154,601; Alaska, 63,592; Guam, 9,000; American Samoa, 6,100; persons in the military and naval service of the United States outside of the territory of the United States proper, 91,219. The report announces that the twelfth Census only extended to Alaska and Hawaii outside of "Continental United States," but the figures for the rest of the United States domain are taken from the best available resources.

NOT SO, BUT SHOULD BE.

There was recently set afloat a report that the Third Assistant Postmaster General had made a ruling that no newspaper going to a subscriber should be entitled to the second class rate of postage unless the subscription was paid in advance. The report was denied promptly, no such ruling having been made, but it caused great perturbation among the newspapers while it lasted. Yet why should it? Wouldn't that be a pretty good regulation after all? It would save the newspapers the loss of a great deal of subscription money and protect the people from having forced upon them papers which they do not want. There are some papers which, a man having subscribed for once he can never get stopped, all orders for discontinuance being disregarded, it being known at the office of publication that the subscriber (1) is both honest and "good" and that as long as he receives it he will pay for it. On the other hand, there are people who ask legitimate newspapers for credit which it is hard to refuse, and if there were made such a ruling as that about which there was such a scream a week ago it would operate to the advantage both of the people and of self respecting publishers who are trying to do a legitimate business.—Charlotte Observer.

Connecticut and Tobacco.

Tobacco growers in several states are now interested in the plans for the introduction of the culture of Sumatra tobacco. A new corporation chartered at $115,000 with capital paid in, has been organized at Hartford for the planting of 100 acres in Connecticut and it will experiment in the raising of shade-grown tobacco. Congressman Henry, of the same state, also had a consultation last week with Secretary Wilson and Professor Whitney of the United States department of agriculture regarding the supply and distribution of Sumatra seed. The department proposes to distribute a limited amount of the seed in some 20 districts in Connecticut, New York, Ohio, Wisconsin and Texas.

It is announced that each applicant for the seed will be granted only sufficient for the planting of a single acre, and while no great results are to be expected next year, the 1903 crop will be considerable and the growing of Sumatra tobacco may be expected to increase rapidly in the next few years.

Congressman Henry is of the opinion that the end of Sumatra importation is unquestionably at hand and the entire $5,000,000 to $6,000,000 worth of Sumatra wrappers annually imported will shortly be grown on American soil.—Asheville Citizen.

A MEAN LOOKING LETTER-HEAD

Has lost many a dollar for business men. If a man is judged by the coat he wears, he is also judged by the letter-head he uses. An artistic, nicely printed letter head may be looked on as a good investment.

It will be done right.
The price for doing it will be right, too.
