The Proclamation for Good Roads Convention.

Governor Aycock has issued the call for the great State Good-Roads Convention to be held February 12 and 13, and in his proclamation points out some of the imperative necessities for general public road improvements. It follows:

State of North Carolina,
Executive Department,
Raleigh.

Whereas, the people of the State of North Carolina have pledged their best endeavors to the cause of education, the upbuilding of our State and the development and utilization of her natural resources; and

Whereas, the farmers need better roads both for their children to travel over daily on their way to the school house, and for themselves and their families to use to reach their churches to worship Almighty God, as well as for the prompt and early delivery of their mail by the carriers of the United States government, and the transportation of their products and purchases; and the citizens living in towns and cities need good streets for the same purposes; and

Whereas, in those counties of our State where the greatest progress has been made in substantial good road building there has been the greatest industrial advancement as well as the largest increase in the value of farm lands, due to being thereby placed nearer to the towns and cities; and

Whereas, the National Good-Roads Association of America will, during the week of February 10 to 15, 1902, in the city of Raleigh, give an exhibition of modern and approved road-building, to which all citizens who are interested in that commendable work are invited to come;

Now, therefore, I, Charles B. Aycock, Governor of the State of North Carolina, do hereby issue my proclamation calling a good roads convention to be held in the city of Raleigh on Wednesday, February 12, and Thursday, February 13, 1902, to which are appointed delegates from the various sections of the State, requesting them and all other good citizens, whose convenience will permit, to attend said convention.

Done at our city of Raleigh, this the twenty-second day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and two, and in the one hundred and twenty-sixth year of our American Independence.

CHARLES B. AYCOCK,
By the Governor.
P. M. PEARSALL,
Private Secretary.

Mr. SLIM MAN.

This way gentlemen, here's your winter Clothing. Many stout men, slim men and men who require different clothes from the average man give up "ready-made" clothing in despair. We bring them hope. We promise to fit every one directly from our clothing tables—with perhaps a little alteration in some particularly severe cases. We'll surprise you with the clothes; possibly more with the prices—for, being abnormal in shape, you've had to pay a penalty to your tailor, so to speak. We do away with that and charge you no more than we do the ordinary man. Never mind how peculiar your shape may be, bring it in here and we may surprise you by fitting you, as well as by saving you quite a sum of money. Come, see at any rate.

MONDAY, JANUARY 27, 1901.

The governors of each State in the union have been asked to serve on a national committee to bring about a change in the date of the presidential inauguration. So far a large number have answered, all of them in favor of the proposed change and most of them designating the 30th of April as their choice. Historically, this date, is more appropriate than the fourth of March, because the first president was inaugurated on the last day of April. Meteorologically, those who know Washington weather at both seasons favor only the later date.

The Board of County Commissioners at their next meeting might well consider the matter of having better roads in Pitt county. Our county ought to have its own road force so that convicts could be put at work here, instead of having the courts to sentence them to work the roads in other counties. No doubt it would also be profitable if the Board would send one of its members to the good roads convention which meets in Raleigh next month. Information can be had there that will prove of value in the construction of roads. All counties are getting interested in the matter of better roads, and Pitt should not be behind.

Encouragement for Mothers.

Many a discouraged mother folds her hands at night and feels as if she had after all, done nothing, although she has not spent an idle moment since she rose. Is it nothing that your helpless children have had some one to come to with all their childish griefs and joys? Is it nothing that your husband feels safe when he is away at business, because your careful hand directs everything at home? Is it nothing, when his business is over, that he has the blessed refuge at home which you have that day done your best to brighten and refine? Oh, weary and faithful mother, you little know your power when you say, "I have done nothing." There is a book in which a fairer record than this is written over against your name.—Exchange.

Eternal indigestion is the price of pie.
You often find a five cent heart in a million dollar body.
A pretty girl is a poem in which every line rhymes.
Bread cast upon the waters often comes back all dough.

OUR RALEIGH LETTER.

Special Correspondent of Reflector.
RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 27.
Our new revenue law is in trouble again, and there are two kicks coming to interested parties. The liquor dealers, having consulted a prominent attorney, have been advised by him that the State has no legal authority to exact the tax of two per cent. on purchases made outside of the State; also, that it is unlawful to collect that tax on the tax levied by the United States Government on the liquid goods in which they deal, viz., the $1.10 on distilled liquors, etc. In other words, that the revenue tax should be deducted from the "value" of a barrel of North Carolina "corn liquor," for instance, before the amount of the State tax of two per cent. is levied and collected. As the contention is very important and involves a great deal of money the matter will be taken into the courts, of course.

The other kick comes from the State officials up at the Capitol, where it was learned Friday, upon the completion of the calculations in the Auditor's office, that there has been a large falling of in receipts under Schedule B. (merchants' purchase tax, circus business, etc.). The high circus license tax has kept most of the shows out of the State.

IMPORTANT TO FARMERS.

United States Weather Bureau Inspector Conger, who was here Friday interesting himself in the furnishing to farmers living along the line of the free rural mail delivery routes of weather forecasts, at least two days ahead, told me that the service wherever inaugurated was proving of great value to farmers—who by means of these weather predictions are enabled to protect their fruit and vegetables and other growing crops. "Over $500,000 was saved in Florida a month ago," said Mr. Conger, "by a timely warning through this system." Mr. Von Herrmann, in charge of the Raleigh Weather Bureau, tells me that $300,000 was saved in the strawberry section of North Carolina a short time ago by these advance warnings.

These forecasts are sent over only seven rural delivery routes in North Carolina at present, but it is hoped to make the service more general, if the postmasters will properly interest themselves in the matter. There is no special or regular appropriation and the service is largely dependent on the courtesy and patriotism of the postmasters. Get your postmasters interested.

VARIOUS MATTERS OF INTEREST.

The State Superintendent of Public Instruction is determined that the boys who prefer to go to school in "shirt waists" (or "shirt sleeves," as you prefer) shall be allowed to do so, despite the objections of some teachers and county boards. He has just decided another one of these cases, appealed from the County Superintendent, in the boys' favor.

Our Circus.

There's going to be a circus
In our town today.
You'd better come and see the fun
And watch the monkeys play.

There's going to be an elephant
And great big kangaroo,
A lion that roars—well, just like mad—
And a striped zebra too.

There's going to be a feller
Found standing on his head
And a fierce old growling tiger
Just waiting to be fed.

There's going to be a great big tent
And a mighty fine parade;
There's going to be some gingerbread
And perhaps some lemonade.

There's going to be an orchestra,
With a flute and drum and horn;
I'll bet you never heard the like
Since ever you were born.

We want all of us to be the best;
This is the day of us, you see;
There's going to be a circus in the town,
And you'd better come and see.

ARE YOU DEAF? ANY HEAD NOISES?

ALL CASES OF DEAFNESS OR HARD HEARING ARE NOW CURABLE

by our new invention. Only those born deaf are incurable.
HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY.
F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:

Gentlemen:—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion.
About five years ago my right ear began to ring, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely.
I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.
I then saw your advertisement accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and today, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain
Very truly yours,
F. A. WERMAN, 730 S. Broadway, Baltimore, Md.

Our treatment does not interfere with your usual occupation.
Examination and advice free.
YOU CAN CURE YOURSELF AT HOME at a nominal cost.

WOMAN IN THE KLONDIKE.

Just at dark we made a landing on the banks of the Yukon, directly in front of the little town of Dawson, and, pitching our tents in the snow, we camped for the night under our first shelter—even of a tent—for ten days. All were so pleased and happy that good fortune had enabled us to escape the perils which threatened, as well as the danger of an ice block in the river, that the men proposed a celebration of their good fortune. They were going up town, but I told them it was not right to leave me alone the first night in a strange place and that if they would remain in camp I would pay for enough for them to drink and have their celebration in their tents. To this they agreed, and one of them went to the town and shortly returned, stating that whisky, Canadian case goods, was $10 a quart. I sent him back and purchased a couple of bottles, which the men drank without becoming boisterous. I then went to my war sack, and, taking out my guitar, which I had carried over the summit, we sat on the ground around the little tent stove and all joined in singing the songs of home.—Emma L. Kelly in Lippincott's Magazine.

Got a Big Pearl With His Oysters.

Morgan H. Morgan, file clerk in the office of the clerk of the circuit court, in company with several friends, lunched in a restaurant at Clark and Randolph streets, and, among other things, the entire party partook of fried oysters. Morgan picked out a large, juicy one and was beginning to eat it with a relish when his teeth grated on a hard substance.

He removed the object from his mouth and was about to tell the waiter that he had not ordered the oysters to be seasoned with gravel when his attention was attracted by the reflection of the light upon the object he had thrown on the table. Investigation showed that it was a pearl of good size.

Morgan put the pearl in his pocket and after leaving the restaurant went to the office of a lapidary in the Champlain building, where he was offered $14 for the gem. He took the money.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Our Excess of Men.

Whatever differences Dame Nature may have intended between the spheres of influence of men and women, she evidently intended that numerically at least the two sexes should stand on nearly the same footing. The world over, except where recognizable and what might be called artificial causes interfere, the male and female elements of the population are about equal.

Curiosity, not to say astonishment, is excited, therefore, by a recent announcement of the census bureau. The enumeration of 1900 shows that there are more men and boys than women and girls in this country and that the difference exceeds 1,800,000 in a population of 76,303,387. The excess appears more distinctly perhaps when it is said that there are 512 males and only 488 females in every thousand people in the United States.—Chicago Tribune.

Sixty Dollar Overcoats For Soldiers.

Just at present a buffalo overcoat is a very scarce article, and yet the humblest of Uncle Sam's soldier boys may have one of these highly prized garments for the asking. All he has to do is to include the item

The coats in the possession of the war department are relics of the days when no man living in the northwest was thought to be properly equipped without a buffalo coat. #### End of the Century Club.

Mrs. R. W. King, renowned for her ingenious manner of entertaining, pleasantly entertained the Club Tuesday, Jan. 21st.

The subject discussed during the evening was the article, in January Mursey, on "Barbara Freitchie." Mrs. Cherry delighted the Club with a repetition of "Uncle Remus' Revival Hymn."

The hostess had quite a novel entertainment for her guests, transforming into a medium she called up the deceased spirits of Shakespeare, Caesar, Elliott, Scott, Burns, Byron, Dickens, Gray, Bunyan and Jean Isgelow, having them to appear in the room in the form of a ghost. In the guessing contest connected with the spirits Mrs. Grimes and Mrs. Quinerly tied, the latter drawing the prize. An elaborate menu was served.

As the guests departed they were served with a hot beverage, each drinking to the health of the hostess with best wishes for many happy returns of the day.

The Club will meet with Mrs. F. G. James Tuesday, Feb. 4th.
