The Great

Inventory is completed. Many things have been laid out and marked down. We are not crying out cost, but have reduced prices on all winter goods. It would be impossible to all profits and continue to be of service to ourselves and you. The store that is all the time crying cost and less than cost, must some day meet the inevitable. After the smash the store is of little service to any body. This knows when to begin sacrificing its profits, knows how long to continue and knows when to stop. Every department has suffered the severest cut in prices. Our object is to make room for Spring Goods.

We take occasion here to thank our many friends for their patronage in the past, and invite them to continue their visits to our store when they want bargains in up-to-date goods.

THRIFTLESSNESS IN CALDWELL.

The Denoir News of last week had this striking editorial:

"A few days since, in a short tramp in the country, we noticed a field of corn still standing un-gathered, going to waste while corn is selling readily at $1 a bushel. We noted at another place a good mowing machine, standing out in the weather, where it had evidently been left at the end of the haying season. Cattle are still in many instances, left out in the fields unprotected from storms and fed a little hay and bran on the ground to be trampled in the mud. If housed at all it is done in such an indifferent and careless manner that they are given very little protection and twice the amount of feed is required to keep them in condition that would be needed were they kept warm and dry. Hay and all kinds of forage is left standing in the field until needed for use. By that time more or less of it has been wasted by exposure to the weather and the depredation of the poorly fed cattle above referred to.

These and many other evidences of carelessness, thriftlessness or ignorance can be seen any day in a short trip through this country, and we must get out of these old ruts, take care of things and work with judgment, making an acre by good fertilization and tillage produce what two or four now produce by the careless cultivation.

With proper management and thrift, we believe farming offers better inducements in this country at this time than ever before, but many old ideas and habits must be abandoned.

It seems to us there is a fine opening for some one to make good money in this community, raising pigs and poultry. Pigs are in demand at high prices, and chickens and eggs have commanded higher prices during the last twelve months than ever before.

Spring chickens will bring 15 to 20 cents a pound by April or May."

Truly, this is a bad showing, and the worst of it is that our contemporary says that such evidences of thriftlessness, as it has pictured "can be seen any day in a short trip" through its country. The wonder is that people so careless and so wasteful can manage to make buckle and tongue meet—that they contrive to keep body and soul together. They could not elsewhere than in a country upon which God has bestowed His blessings with a bounteous hand. And even in such a country they could not do it in any other avocation except that of agriculture.—Charlotte Observer.

Look Out for Home Supplies.

Let the farmers go in for more diversified crops this year. Plant plenty of corn, peas, potatoes and the like and then put in as much cotton or tobacco—which ever the land is best adapted to—as can be manured well and cultivated thoroughly. The aim should be home supplies first, money crop afterward. It is better to cultivate few acres and cultivate those few acres well than plant too much land and not be able to give it proper attention.—Henderson Gold Leaf.

AT THE CLUB.

On the street, at social gatherings, anywhere, where ever a number of good dressers are gathered and the clothes question is the topic of conversation, you will learn, if you lend an attentive ear, that we are quoted as being the store that always has snappy toggery for the up-to-the-hour man. The store that he looks to for new things; the store to which he first turns for a new cut in a suit, a new shape in a hat or tie. In short, the store where the good dresser always finds the thing he wants without paying an extra price for style. If you are interested in Clothing and Haberdashery with character, come in.

A terrible explosion occurred Monday in the Rapid Transit tunnel in New York City. Six persons were instantly killed and a hundred injured.

Several people in this section have received from the Governor appointment as delegates to the good roads convention in Raleigh Feb. 12th and 13th. Let as many as can attend.

The schools of Wilson county have had to close on account of smallpox, only those schools where the teacher and all pupils had been successfully vaccinated being allowed to continue.

A daring train robbery was committed on the Southern railway, near Branchville, S. C., Monday night. Robbers held up the train, made the hands uncouple it and left the coaches standing on the track. They then made the engineer pull the express car further down the road where they went through the contents and took all money packages. The robbers got away with considerable booty.

The editor of the North Carolina Baptist at Fayetteville has been compiling figures on the liquor traffic for the temperance department of his paper. He finds that there are forty-eight counties under local option or prohibition; seven counties have dispensaries; forty-three have saloons, of which three have dispensaries as well as saloons. New Hanover leads off with fifty-seven bar-rooms; Wake comes next with twenty-seven; Mecklenburg has sixteen; New Bern has fourteen; Winston nine and Greenville eleven.

Senator Hanna, has secured through a clipping bureau, every thing that has been said in different editorial columns of the news-papers of the United States and England concerning the death of William McKinley. There are twelve thousand of these clippings, contained in four volumes and forming a most remarkable tribute to the love and esteem in which the late President was held by the English-speaking world.

Love is an itching of the heart, which you are unable to scratch. Tears of sympathy are the telephone messages from a heart full of tenderness.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 27.

The democrats of the House of Representatives held their long deferred caucus on Friday evening and, under the skilfull guidance of Mr. Richardson and other democratic leaders, determined upon a policy which it is believed will prove most effective, not alone in furthering the interests of the party but also in stemming the tide of plutocratic legislation which it is expected the republican majority will attempt to impose upon the country. Some of the members did not consider it within the province of the caucus to reverse any of the decisions of the last national convention but apart from their contention it was determined that there was no necessity at this time for so doing. It was further decided that it would be wiser for the members of the party to devote their whole attention to checkmating raids of the opposition on the Treasury and endeavoring to protect the whole people from legislation inspired by the great vested interests whose liberal campaign contributions secure for them such extensive influence in the councils of the opposition.

The Ways and Means Committee is still giving hearings to the representatives of the beet sugar and tobacco industries in this country and in Cuba. The beet sugar lobby is growing desperate and is contemplating a coalition of forces with the democrats in an effort to reduce the protection on refined sugar. The beet sugar men are, of course, inspired by animosity to the Sugar Trust but they frankly admit that they would be in a better position to develop their industry if the Trust were destroyed even if reciprocal privileges were granted to Cuba. The democrats are naturally and consistently opposed to a duty which puts immense profits into the hands of the trust at the expense of the vast body of consumers. Representative McCall, Republican member from Massachusetts, tells me that he will vote for reciprocity as he does not consider that a moderate concession would injure American interests and he believes the United States owes it to Cuba to at least start her on the road to prosperity.

Apropos of the beet sugar question there is a story going the rounds in inner circles of a very stormy Cabinet meeting at which the President alleged to have told his Secretary of Agriculture that he was "sick and tired" of having his expressions on the subject "thrown in his face." Mr. Wilson, I am told, expressed regret at having given utterance to his views and assured Mr. Roosevelt that nothing more would be heard from him on the subject. He has persistently refused to appear before the Ways and Means Committee, although it is well known that he is adverse to any reciprocal treaty which will lower the duty on beet sugar. Of course the above incident has given rise to renewed gossip in regard to Cabinet changes but no change in the Agricultural portfolio is contemplated at this time.

Senator Mason attempted on Friday to commit the Senate on the Schley matter, at least to the extent of thanking the Admiral "for his brave and able conduct while in command of the American fleet at the victorious battle of Santiago," and presenting him with a sword, but the opposition was on the alert and, despite Senator Mason's protests, Senator Hale insisted upon the reference of the resolution to the committee on Naval Affairs where there is every reason to believe it will be buried.

Mexican Mustang Liniment will readily overcome Loss of Hair, Diseased Hoofs and Scratches in horses mules and cattle. Farmers try it.

A toad under a harrow suffers no more than the faithful horse that is tortured with Spavins, Swinney, Harness Sores, Sprains, etc. Most horse owners know this and apply the kind of sympathy that heals, known far and wide as Mexican Mustang Liniment.

Never fails—not even in the most aggravated cases. Cures caked udder in cows quicker than any known remedy. Hardly a disease peculiar to muscle, skin or joints that cannot be cured by it.

Mexican Mustang Liniment is the best remedy on the market for Wind Galls, Sprains and Skin Diseases. It keeps horses and mules in condition.

The action of Superintendent of Public Instruction Butler for Iredell county in holding examinations for white and colored teachers at the same time and in the same room is one demanding the attention of every white voter of the State. That it caused great indignation among the teachers at the time is perfectly natural; but, that Butler has escaped the criticism of the entire State press is a pity.

There is no requirement for the examination of white and colored teachers being held together, and the un-Southern and unwhite precedent established by Butler calls for some prompt effort to rectify his mistake.

If the white people of Iredell are disposed to countenance such breaches of the ethics of the standards of social equality set by none lesser than allwise nature herself, then it were well that the teachers take the matter in hand and bring it to the attention of the State Board of Education for rectification.—Charlotte News.

A Kitten That Had a Jolly Good Time In the Snow.

Perhaps it will be interesting to our little folks to hear the story of Katura, a seven-month-old kitten that during the first snowfall of the winter was found collecting snow into heaps and then rolling it into balls. We supposed this to be a freak simply, and, though we watched her scuttling and scrambling in the soft drift, we supposed that the next snowfall would find her forgetful or indifferent. But, to our surprise, at the next storm of the kind we found her at a still more animated game. Standing near a fence, with gleaming eyes and waving tail, she watched the flakes fall. Finding that they fell from a height, she stood upon her toes and, holding up her paws eagerly, looked into them, tossing up the supposed contents. Her excitement increased each moment, and, hoping to bring herself nearer to the source of the fairy, feathery things, she mounted a flower box, and, rearing her little lithe body, she continued to catch and toss, catch and toss, until she grew wild with excitement. Then, leaping down to the walk, she once more gathered and rolled the woolly stuff into balls, scattering them hither and thither, every line of her body expressing the most perfect, gracious action. This is surely an exceptional case, knowing, as we do, that the feline race has a decided antipathy to getting its feet and paws wet. —Philadelphia Ledger.

Read Their Ad.

Ricks & Wilkinson have completed their inventory on which they have been busy since the new year came in, and today announce that prices have been marked down on all winter goods so as to make room for spring stock. They have a sensible talk as to how they do business and look after the interest of their customers.

The Proper Way to Introduce People.

In making an introduction the man is always taken to the lady to be presented, and the formula is, "Miss A, may present, Mr. B." Where two women or two men are presented the elder is addressed where the difference is marked. A girl presents her friends to her mother but the mother says, "Allow me to present my daughter, Mrs. B. A woman should rise when another woman is presented to her, unless she is much younger than herself. If a man is presented she retains her seat and bows and smiles cordially. Men always shake hands when introduced to each other. Women do so when desiring to show especial friendliness.—February Ladies' Home Journal.
