OUR RALEIGH LETTER.

Special Correspondent of Reflector.

RALEIGH, N. C., March 17.

On this "Saint Patrick's day in the morning" I would like to ask you if you intend to vote at the State election in November—and, if so; whether you have taken the necessary initial step to do so.

This is the year our new franchise law, under the provisions of the Constitutional Amendment adopted two years ago, goes into effect, and one of the first requirements to qualify you to become an elector is the payment of your poll tax on or before May 1st. Unless you can show your poll-tax receipt you will not be legally entitled to vote, no matter how white you are.

It has been announced that this is one of the "questions" the Democratic State and Central Committees will take up when they meet in joint session here a week hence. But there really seems to be no interrogation point attached to it. It is not a "question" but a fact, the law, and the law must be obeyed. So, see your tax collector at once.

THE NEGRO VOTE.

There will be more negroes qualified to vote, so far as the educational qualification affects them, than most people are counting on. This will be found to be true especially with the city and town negroes, who so generally take advantage of the good school facilities afforded them.

Indeed, a very sensible and observant and widely travelled man declared to me today that "it is a great deal easier for negro youths to secure an education, even a higher education, in North Carolina today than the poor class of white boys, especially in the towns and cities, and a larger proportion of them are obtaining it than most white people are aware."

When one takes into consideration the well-equipped public and graded schools for blacks, and especially the colleges (like Shaw University at Raleigh, Livingstone University at Salisbury and the number of other colleges at Charlotte, Greensboro and other places open to them almost without cost, on account of the liberality of Northern patrons), and the means of earning their board at the occupations open to darkies and closed to white boys, the observation does not sound so improbable.

Apres of all this, we are now hearing much of the possible alienation of the negro votes from the Republican party, and a conference of negro leaders is called to meet here soon, one of the declared purposes of which is to align the negro vote with the Democratic party—or at least to pretty evenly distribute it hereafter between the political parties.

And it is a little interesting, too, to note that some of the leading white supremacy newspapers of the last campaign are "featuring" this purpose, and apparently welcoming it, in their columns. What if the great bulk of the negro vote should come over bodily to the Democratic party? Are we prepared to welcome it?

I have asked a number of our "leaders" the above question. Some say yes, while others object very stoutly. But even the latter admit that they would find it as difficult to keep them out as they would to prevent the white vote from splitting at the same time, and very much for the same reason.

The boast of some of the Republican leaders that their party is now strongest in the whitest counties is also causing our politicians to look into the "whyness" and the "whereforeness" of that statement—if true. On the whole, the political developments of 1902 promise to be interesting and something out of the usual order, possibly—if the present current continues to flow uninterruptedly on.

Governor Aycock has commuted the sentences of Lawyer Gorham, the Southern Railway attorney convicted at Statesville court, so as to make the punishment a fine of $50 only. The imprisonment feature has been stricken out because the defendant has since been acquitted of the charge of embezzlement.

Senator Carmack, of Tennessee, one of the most eloquent of public men, has accepted the invitation to deliver the literary address, May 27, at the State Normal and Industrial College at Greensboro, on the occasion of its decennial celebration. It will be a notable event.

The State Normal and Industrial College Alumnae Association offers a prize of $25 for the best historical paper written by a former student of that college. The award will be made by competent judges "after careful consideration of the originality, research and literary merit shown by each paper." The paper must treat of some phase of North Carolina life. LLEWELLYN.

Was 104 Years Old.

A negro woman died in Cedar Creek Wednesday 104 years of age. She was owned by Jonathan Evans, Esq., grandfather of the present Jonathan Evans, and has been a retainer of that family all her life. The family records show that she was 14 years of age in 1812. But more remarkable, still, she was the mother of 25 children, 10 of whom are living, the youngest being now 58 years of age. Nine of these children have 78 children living. The old woman was in the full possession of all her faculties up to a few days before her death. It is one of the most remarkable cases we have ever heard of.—Fayetteville Observer.

TUESDAY, MARCH 18, 1902.

Two more of the President's cabinet are slated for early retirement. In a short while Teddy will have around him a crowd after his own notion and who will not do any talking except when he gives out the word. "Hoch der Kaiser!"

Governor Aycock is bringing himself some unpopularity by the too free use of the pardoning power. Really the matter of granting pardon to criminals ought to be taken out of the hands of one man, and a pardoning board should be created to deal with measures of clemency. It would no doubt save the Governor much anxiety and annoyance, as well as be safer for the public.

What a great country we have when you look all over it, and such contrasts! While we have been indulging in spring weather in this quarter, out in the North-West they were having the worst snow storm and blizzard for several years. We hope the tail end of that blizzard will not switch around this way to knock out the spring weather and bite the peach blossoms. At the same time the blizzard holds the North-West in its grasp, further to the South there are floods and cyclones that are wrecking much property.

It will be recalled that we published about three weeks ago the marriage of Mr. George H. Lilly of Hunters Bridge, to a woman he met for the first time on Monday and married her the following Thursday. Now it turns out that the woman is a Mrs. Phelps, of Plymouth, and her husband is still living. We are told that as soon as the above facts were known at Hunters Bridge, Lilly and his bride concluded to take a bridal tour of indefinite duration, and both have disappeared and no one knows where they have gone.—Washington Messenger.

This department is being added to all the time. Nearly every day there is something new. We will only call your attention to a few specialties.

Nickle Plated Ware.

This is the most serviceable ware you can get. It is a heavy nickle plate on a copper body, so it is almost indestructable. We have this ware in coffee and tea pots, different sizes, butter and sugar dishes, milk and water pitchers serving dishes, syrup pots, cuspidors, waiters, &c. If you use this ware once you will never want any other kind for it is the best.

Crockery and China Ware.

It is no use to say anything about this department for everybody knows we are the crockery people in this part of the world. We always carry a large stock and you can select the pieces for a

Dinner and Tea Set

to suit yourself, which is much better than having to buy what you do not want. Did you ever use any of these new goods in

An-ti Rust Ware.

It is guaranteed never to rust. Come in and ask for it. In fact we carry almost everything needed to fit up your kitchen, bedroom, sitting-room, or parlor. All we want you to do is to come in and call for what you want. We try to keep the very best in each of our departments and think we can please you both in price and quality. All we ask is a trial.

THE WASHINGTON POISONING.

Victims Improving—The Prisoners Spirited Away for Fear of Violence.

News from Washington today gives a better report of the condition of Dr. D. T. Tayloe, who with his family was poisoned Monday morning. The doctor was a very sick man all night but showed improvement this morning. He seemed to get more of the poison than the others. The other members of the family were soon recovered from the effects of the poison.

The negro man who put the poison in the coffee is named James Walker. He stated Monday evening that he poisoned the food to kill the nurse with whom all the negroes are at odds. He professed to be a believer in signs and conjuring and said the nurse had been off two miles in the country to get a conjurer to put a bad spell on him.

Feeling at Washington was very strong against the negro. It is said that a crowd went to the jail Monday night to get him, but that he had been spirited away for safe keeping.

T. W. McBryde, foreman of THE REFLECTOR, who lost both his father and mother last week, expected to return to Greenville this evening, but a letter received from him today states that his sister is now very sick with pneumonia and chances of recovery very much against her. It seems that his sorrows deepen.
