Spring Coming.

And you will soon want lighter clothing. How about that?

Last Spring Suit

You phoned away for another season? Get it out now, and bring it down for a cleaning and overhaul. Can't make it look like a new suit. Don't wait until warm weather brings on the rash but come while you can be served promptly. Any kind of tailor work done.

PAUL METTRICK,

FARMVILLE ITEMS.

FARMVILLE, N. C., April 29.

Misses Neta and Hannah Hardy and Blanche Patrick are visiting Mrs. John I. Barker.

James Bryant, John Felton and Ray West were in town Sunday to see their girls.

George Dail, of Snow Hill, is confined to his bed at Hotel Horton. He had a very bad spell of heart failure yesterday.

The Easter exercises at the Christian church Sunday morning were excellent. A small sum was given for state missions, which was greatly appreciated.

Miss Lottie Shackelford, from near Saratoga, is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Jesse Gay.

Miss Olga May spent Friday, Saturday and Sunday here visiting relatives and friends.

R. L. Davis and W. A. Lewis spent yesterday in Greenville on business.

Miss Lelia Wilkerson, is visiting Miss Carrie Vail who is visiting Miss Carrie Vail at George Freeman's.

W. B. and S. M. Pollard spent yesterday in Snow Hill on business.

J. F. King, of Greenville, was in town Sunday.

Be sure to attend the debate next Friday night. Query. Resolved, That married life is more enjoyable to the human family than single life. Those in the affirmative, W. B. Pollard, T. H. Bain, C. L. Barrett and Eugene F. Williams. The negative, W. E. Albritton, J. A. Mewborn, J. M. Windham and T. C. Turnage.

We are having some very cool weather now. March had a bad ending.

Names appearing on the Roll of Honor, of Farmville school for the month ending March 31, 1902:

Sue Mary Visconti,
Lillie Freeman,
Susan Joyner,
Harvey Turnage,

Every nation looks to its own interests and is governed far more by personal or national considerations than by a high sense of right and justice. The golden rule of God is rarely thought or acted upon—to do unto others as you would be done by. The imperial health commission of Germany issued a decree prohibiting the sale of American meats preserved with boracic acid. This has caused the pharmacologists of that great kingdom to protest against this action because of injury both to German and American interests. The Philadelphia Record says "that investigations by eminent scientists prove that boracic acid is harmless to health as a preservative. Numerous German meats, besides milk, cream, vegetables and fruits, are preserved in Germany with this acid. In consequence of this decree the government in consistency will have to prohibit the preservation of domestic products with this substance. The imperial sanitary commission has raised a storm at home that is likely to exceed any demonstration from abroad."—Wilmington Messenger.

When doctors cannot, otherwise agree they call it heart failure.

It may seem strange but in a theatre the highest seats are the lowest.

GO WAY BACK AND SIT DOWN!

Or sit down anywhere you want to—you don't have to stand up, if you are wearing a pair of our kind of Trousers. Some men would rather stand up all day than run the risk of making their Trousers bag at the knees by sitting down. Here's a chance for these men to have rest. Our Trousers are cut by expert Trouser cutters—well made—and sure to fit, in any position. If you have had try a pair of our kind and sit down and take a rest. All late patterns and every pair cut to fit.

TROUSER TROUBLES,

THE AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS

THE AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS is commended by Statesmen, Professional men and thousands of others prominent in the world's activities, for its fine discrimination in sifting the actual news from conflicting reports and the presentation of current events in their just proportion. They comment on its freedom from daily-paper sensationalism. All men and women who want to know what the world is doing find it an intellectual necessity, to judge from the letters received from hundreds of its editorial are comprehensive, and labor saving to the busy man or woman. Its timely contributions on important topics are by the best informed writers. Its reviews of other magazines give the best of their best work. It is profusely illustrated.

Its readers will enable all thoughtful men and women to judge of its value to them.

PRESIDENT
I am a constant reader of the Review of Reviews, and appreciate it very highly indeed. I think it a very important part of my library, and practically a necessity for one in public life.—J. B. Foraker, U. S. Senator, Ohio.

EX-PRESIDENT
It is one of the best and most satisfactory publications of the day.—Charles W. Fairbanks, U. S. Senator, Indiana.

—Grover Cleveland.
It is a publication of very great value. I have sometimes found there very important matter indeed which I should not otherwise have discovered.—George F. Hoar, U. S. Senator, Massachusetts.

Send for particulars as to how it can be had with an invaluable set of books for 50 cents a month.

THURSDAY, APRIL 3, 1902.

BLACK JACK ITEMS.

BLACK JACK, N. C., April 2, 1902

We had quite an exciting run-away in town Saturday. Joe Haddock's horse became frightened and tore down Tyson's lemonade stand, then proceeded up the street and splintered some posts around the church and smashed the street lamp.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Mills, of Illinois, who have been visiting relatives here, left for home Tuesday.

Mrs. Mary Ann Haddock is visiting Mrs. M. A. White.

Jerry and Miss Lucy White returned from Dover this morning.

Miss Ludie Haddock spent a short while with us yesterday.

One of our school teachers has formed a habit of spending his Sunday afternoons sitting upon the fence. His best girl has soured on him, and it isn't Mr. Evans either.

Frank Sugg, of Washington, spent a while with us today.

A certain young man of our vicinity, enroute for Providence last Saturday, had proceeded as far as Washington, when he learned that she had just been married. He made a flying trip home.

Abram Dixon is suffering from heart trouble.

Miss Maggie Smith, who has been visiting in Ayden, returned home Sunday.

Our literary society had its regular meeting Friday night. The query—"Which deserves the most credit—Columbus for discovering America, or Washington for defending," was debated. Miss Annie White and W. F. Evans spoke for Columbus, and A. O. Clark and W. H. Wynne for Washington. Washington won.

Ex-Senator Matt Ransom sold his last year's crop of cotton—over 1,200 bales—few days ago to an exporter, receiving therefor a smooth, nicely printed and duly autographed check for over $50,000.

And this was the "enemy of the farmers" whom the farmers turned out of the Senate a few years ago giving his chair to that eminent and self-sacrificing "friend of the farmer" Mr. Marion Butler.

Farmer Ransom has gotten rich as a farmer, while those who clamored for his defeat are still poverty-stricken with experience—a great many of them mixing disgust with their experience and disappointment.

But such is life; when the sweet-singing, air-screaming and office-seeking demagogue gets abroad in the land.—Raleigh Post.

The Best Prescription for Malaria Chills and Fever is a bottle of Grove's Tasteless Chills Tonic. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. No cure, no pay. Price 50c.

to settle the question whether food is fuel or merely the conductor of so much necessary electricity. What you are after is the right food—clean, pure, inviting and wholesome at the right price, with as little annoyance of service as may be. We propose to meet you half way on this proposition.

HEARNE & COMPANY, GROCERS.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

Tender Hearted Little Lucy and the Dolls' Dresses.

"I think a white dress is the very prettiest kind of dress a dolly can have, don't you, Mamie?" Then Lucy added quickly, before giving Mamie a chance to answer: "Unless it is a brown dress. I think brown is a beautiful color. I hardly know which I do like the best—a white dress or a brown dress."

There was a happy look on the face of little Jenny Jones, whose plain china doll wore a dress of dark brown print. She stroked it gently, hugged her dear dolly closer and for a moment almost forgot how much she had envied the dainty white garments of the two handsome dolls of her companions.

But this was not all. Lucy's loving little heart was still beating fast as she thought of the mistake she had so nearly made, and she hastened to make further amends: "Why, your dolly is just about the size of mine, and its dress unbuttons, I see, and mine does too. Suppose we exchange dresses a little while. My doll has worn this one so long I am almost tired of it."

"Really? Do you truly want to change dresses?" The brown eyes opened wide, and the cheeks flushed in joyous anticipation. Her beloved Bessie wearing that embroidered dress with its sash of real silk ribbon! It seemed too good to be true. "Of course I do," said Lucy simply, beginning to unbutton the tiny buttons.

When the exchange had been made, Mamie entered into the spirit of the occasion and said sweetly: "Why, Lucy, that brown is very becoming to your dolly's complexion! I should make her wear brown a good deal if I were you."—Young

How He Knew Him.

A prominent New York business man was recently treated by Dr. Cyrus Edson for a peculiar growth in his throat.

"Dr. Edson seemed very much preoccupied at times," said the patient. "I was much surprised when I called upon him one day without being recognized. I thought it rather odd, having paid him a small fortune in fees, that I had to explain that I wished him to look at my throat."

"Open your mouth," said the doctor.

"I did so, and the doctor seized my hand cordially. 'My dear Mr. X,' he exclaimed, 'really I didn't recognize you at first!'"

Sulzer and His Pipe.

"I got called down in the new Willard hotel the other night," said Representative Sulzer in Washington the other day. "I absentmindedly took a pipe out of my pocket and stuck it in my mouth without thinking. I was promptly informed by an attendant that I'd have to put it away."

"Why didn't you explain that you were an Englishman?" asked Representative Fitzgerald.

"I would have done so," said Sulzer ruefully, "only the man who called me down was an Irishman."

A South African Incident.

The other day in South Africa a subaltern drew a caricature of Lord Kitchener as Rip Van Winkle leading a centenarian soldier up a kopje. A staff officer is said to have showed it to Kitchener, and the chief gave one of his grim smiles and said: "It is an ugly prophecy; but, if necessary, we will hang on here until we are that age. Our duty is to win, and we will."

The subaltern was paralyzed with terror until assured that Kitchener had not asked for the artist's name.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina.

One of the rural free delivery routes just established at Fayetteville has a woman carrier.

The Gaston Gazette has changed from weekly to semi-weekly and put on a brand new dress. It is a handsome paper, and good, too.

The negro Early who committed rape on a white girl in Gates county has been captured and taken to jail at Edenton. It is reported that a large crowd are on their way to Edenton to lynch him.

How rapidly time is passing. Only a few years since, when Mr. Thomas Settle was elected to Congress from the Fifth District of North Carolina, he was the first man to occupy a seat there since the Civil War who was born after that struggle terminated. Now we believe five of the North Carolina Representatives were born since the war. The ranks of the Confederate soldiers are being rapidly thinned and the burden of government is falling upon the shoulders of men who know nothing personally of that struggle.—Raleigh Times.

Sowing Wild Oats.

Said a young man: "That will do well enough for a grown up man, but a young fellow like me must sow his wild oats." This is Bob Burdette's answer. "No, young man, it does not hurt you a particle to sow your wild oats. Go ahead, and sow as you like. But it's the gathering in of the crop that will make you howl. And you have to gather it, too. If you don't, it gathers you in, and one is a great deal worse than the other." Christian Observer.

Mr. Alex Warren and Miss Mabe Saunders were married at the home of the bride's parents, in Onslow county, Monday afternoon. They came to Kinston yesterday, and will visit relatives here a few days, after which they will leave for Pitt county, the home of the groom.—Kinston Free Press, 2nd.

Large Crowd Present and a Big Time.

The public school taught by Miss Maggie Nelson in what is known as the Brown school house, near S. M. Jones', in Bethel township, closed Tuesday night. The closing exercises consisted of recitations, a spelling match, and an address by County Superintendent W. H. Ragsdale. The school house was crowded and a number of people stood around the door and windows.

The spelling match proved a spirited contest, and after continuing for an hour without either side being able to outspell the other it had to be declared a tie.

Prof. Ragsdale spoke on "Obligations of the Present," and was given closest attention by the large audience. He brings back a fine report of the school, which has continued for six months and had a large attendance all through the session.

More Rural Delivery Routes.

General Agent Burke, of the postal department, is here looking after laying out another rural free delivery route from Greenville. The new route, which will be No. 5, will go down the river road on the north side of the river nearly to Pactolus, then cross over to and return by the creek road.

While in this section Mr. Burke will also lay out two routes from Bethel.

We are glad that more routes are being established and hope they will continue to come until every section of the county is supplied. People along the routes are finding them a great convenience.

Pointed Paragraphs.

A society woman's ideal musician is one who plays good accompaniments for conversation.

A painful silence is unknown to men—but it's different with women.

Wings of riches may enable a man to fly from his poor relations. There are two sides to every story—and a lot of them should be turned.

Judge a man by the depth of his knowledge rather than by his waist measure.

It sometimes happens that education unfits a man for earning an honest living.

Sock Party.

The ladies of the Baptist church, under the direction of Mrs. M. A. Jarvis, are preparing to have a "sock party" in the opera house about the 15th of this month. Rehearsals of a very interesting program are already in progress.
