New White Goods Welcome.

Color is eliminated from the card today. White goods first in store displays as they will be in your thoughts, we trust. Ten years ago—yes, four or five years, even—who would have dreamed of the beauty to be brought out in fabric art without a touch from rainbow tints? Pure white, but so varied have been the dreams of designers, so cleverly have loom wizards wrought, that there is hardly a limit to variety. White has only been thought of as a repellent for summer's heat. The sheerest effects have been sought, but now however white fabrics—cheviots madras and piques are brought out in rich style assortment. White has overstepped the limits of summer months and hereafter will be an all the year round factor

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., April, 16.

That candidates for political honors, in ye ante-bellum days, were not lacking and did not hesitate to make their aspirations known before assembling of conventions, is verified from the fact that John D. Cox, Esq., handed us on Monday last an old parchment of date June 21st 1807 where one — Green announced his readiness to serve his people to the best of his understanding and ability subject of course to the ratification of the convention then soon to assemble. This piece of parchment bears the imprint of age and is truly a relic of the old times and quite interesting in its way.

Co.—To any person purchasing one of our make of tobacco trucks or a pair of cart wheels or a wagon we will sell them our best grade of tobacco flues at 4½ cents per lb. We will also sell flues at same price to those who have purchased trucks, carts or wagons from us during the past year.

Misses Beaman and Cox, of Greene county, were visiting friends at the dormitory Sunday.

Mrs. W. B. Ricks was visiting friends in Greenville Wednesday and Thursday.

Mrs. Lizzie Bryan and little daughter, of the dormitory, went to Ayden Friday and returned Sunday.

F. C. Topleman, of Henderson, superintendent Henderson Telephone Co., was here Monday.

A Special Offer—We will give as a special present one of our patent back bands for plow harness to any person buying a set of flues from us at regular price—A. G. Cox Mfg. Co.

A large crowd from here attended religious services at Ayden Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Griffith, of Kinston, was in town Wednesday making preparation for the erection of an Episcopal church here.

J. D. Cox and wife, Dr. and Mrs. B. T. Cox, Misses Bessie Chapman, Mollie Bryan and A. G. Cox have returned from the Charleston exposition.

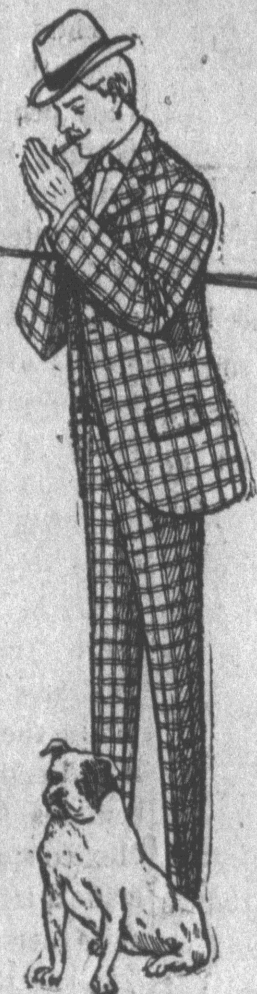

Misses Kate Chapman, Helen and Mamie Galloway, Sim Chapman and Jimmie Galloway were visiting friends in Greenville, Saturday.

Captain of the Ship.

It is not often that a lady rises to the command of one of Uncle Sam's war ships, but a Greenville young lady enjoyed that distinction for a short while last week. At Charleston our party visited the cruiser Cincinnati that was anchored in the harbor in honor of the President's trip to the city and exposition. While on board one of the young ladies captured the captain and he turned over the ship to her command. She wore the "red tape" all right, but did not make the jackies do any extra saluting.

SPRING SUIT STYLES

Any particularly nice thing to wear that you want you will find right here. There will be just the correct number of buttons on your coat—just the right roll to the lapels—just the correct curve on your trousers.

They will be just the right width and shape. It will be a hard matter for you to find fault with your Spring Suit if you get it here, for we believe that our suits are just right in every way—as well as being just right in price.

Not a link is missing in our chain of Attractive Suits.

An Essay on the Editor.

A little boy was requested to write an essay, the other day, and "The Newspaper" was his subject. Here is the result: "I don't know how newspapers come to be in the world. The Lord hain't got nothin' to say 'bout them, and the editor ain't in the Bible. I think the editor is one of the missing links you hear about, and stayed into the brush until after the flood, then stepped out and wrote it up, and has been here ever since. I don't think he ever dies. I never saw a dead one, and never heard of one gettin' licked. Our paper is a mighty poor 'un. The editor goes without underclothes all winter, don't wear no sox, and paw hain't paid his subscription in five years."—Exchange.

Mutual Admiration.

One of the most pleasing incidents of the president's visit to Charleston to North Carolinians, was the strong attachment the chief executive of the nation formed for our governor. It looked as if he was partial to Governor Aycock on all occasions. If he was in speaking distance of the governor, he was conversing with him. If the governor was not in sight, the president would ask for him and make some pleasing remark concerning him. It was the talk of Charleston how the president fell in love with North Carolina's governor. It may be added that Governor Aycock too was greatly impressed with strenuous Teddy. —Charleston correspondence Charlotte Observer.

Like Daisies Before the Scythe,

Baby lives are destroyed in summer by cholera infantum. The attack of the disease is sudden, its progress is sometimes terribly rapid. Mothers who have given their children Perry Davis' Painkiller in water with a few drops of brandy added can tell how this treatment has checked the diarrhoea and vomiting, and put the little patient out of danger. 25 and 50 cts.

"Resolved, By the Ladies' Confederate Memorial Association of New Orleans, La., that June 3, the anniversary of the birth of Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederate States of America, be adopted a Southern Memorial Day, said resolution to go into effect on June 3, 1903, and furthermore, be it.
