Ricks & Wilkinson

This is Greenville's

Fastest Growing Store.

WHY?

BECAUSE no other store Anywhere is so diligent in the interests of the buying public to which it looks for support.

BECAUSE nothing but absolutely reliable merchandise is admitted here at any price--that point is of vital import.

BECAUSE the prices we ask are the lowest known to the merchandise world for goods of the quality we sell.

BECAUSE every sale that we make is backed by an absolute personal guarantee of satisfaction to the smallest detail.

BECAUSE every thing is done to promote your personal comfort while shopping, and to fulfill the most exacting requirements.

And so we might continue to name reason after reason almost without end. No really careful buyer will pass the offers we make without investigating them. Look at this double column full of Economy opportunities for this week:

Battery—Arnheim, Powell and Fenner. Forbes, Smith, Sheppard and Whitney.

Summary—Struck out, by Arnheim 7, Powell 3, Forbes 4. Smith 2, Sheppard 0. Base on balls, off Arnheim 1, Powell 0, Forbes 3, Smith 4, Sheppard 0. Two base hits, Staton, Fenner. Stolen bases, Staton, Pennington, G, Fenner, Spratt, Arnheim, Pennington J., Sledge, Smith, Forbes, Timberlake, Duke. Left on bases, Tarboro 4, Greenville 8. Umpire, Farrar. Time of game 2 hours and 15 minutes. It was a slow and tiresome game.

Arnheim pitched his usual good game allowing but six hits up to the time he was relieved by Powell in the seventh inning.

Although sick Timberlake played a good game for the visitors and made four hits out of four times up, two of which netted runs.

Staton did good stick work for the locals, making five hits and five runs out of six times up.

In the first inning there was "nothing doin'."

Arnheim led off in second at the bat with a single. Powell reached first via error route, and likewise did Pennington. Arnheim was soon retired, however, and the two runners scored on Sledge's hit. Taylor was retired and Staton fanned.

In the third Pennington, G., was hit, stole second and scored on a wild pitch. Fenner, Spratt and Arnheim retired at first.

Errors free and continuous hitting netted the locals six runs in the fourth, five in the fifth, and seven in the sixth innings.

A free pass, a hit and a passed ball resulted in a run for the visitors in the fourth. Two hits and three errors sent two others of the locals across in the seventh.

In the eighth Timberlake hit, was advanced to third by Duke's single and scored on a single by Anderson, who also scored Duke, but was later retired at third. Whitney also was retired at third and Randolph fanned.

In the ninth Staton singled, reached second on an error and scored on a hit by Pennington, G. Pennington was retired at third, Fenner at short and Spratt at first.

TUESDAY, MAY, 27 1902.

The Charleston Exposition will close Saturday, May 31st. Financially it has not been a success, but it has been of great benefit to Charleston and the South.

The General Conference of the M. E. church, South, in session at Dallas, Texas, has created the order of Deaconesses. Only widows and single women are eligible to the order. The conference also placed circuses under the ban, declaring it an amusement that members of the church should not attend. The work of the conference was expected to be completed in time for final adjournment Monday night.

Last week in Iredell county Superior court, at Statesville, two white men were convicted of stealing chickens and sentenced to six months each on the county roads. In passing judgment upon them Judge Shaw said that stealing chickens had heretofore been the peculiar province of the colored race, and they might perhaps consider this an infringement on their rights. We do not remember ever before to have heard of a white man being convicted of this crime.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C. May 26.

There was a remarkable scene in the Senate on Thursday. An old man, white with the snows of many winters and slightly bent, stood among the senators like Socrates teaching the men and youths of Athens. He appealed to them with an eloquence seldom equalled, to remain true to the faith of their fathers. For a quarter of a century this same old man, George Frisbie Hoar, has sat in the Senate chamber and no one has had occasion to question his republicanism, but on Thursday he announced that his conscience would not permit him to vote with his party on the Philippine question for its exponents had forgotten the faith of their ancestors whose lessons fell "upon ears of men dazzled by military glory and delirious with the lust of conquest." Concluding a powerful arraignment of the republican policy in the Philippines, Mr. Hoar appealed to his colleagues in these words: "Let us, at least have this to say. We too have kept the faith of the fathers. We took Cuba by the hand. We delivered her from age-long bondage. We welcomed her to the family of nations. We set mankind an example never before beheld of moderation in victory. We kept faith with the Philippine people. We kept faith with our own history. We kept our national honor unsullied. The flag which we received without a rent we handed down without a stain."

As no official announcement of the death of Lord Pauncefote reached the White House until noon on Saturday it did not interfere with the ceremonies which attended the dedication of the statue of Rochambeau which took place on that morning. On a stand before the statue, which was draped with the flags of the two nations, under the flags of France and the United States, stood the President and the French Ambassador, the Countess de Rochambeau, the Count de Lafayette and numerous others, while Dr. Stafford offered the invocation. President Roosevelt then extended to the French guests a cordial welcome and, as the Marine Band struck up the "Marseillaise," the Countess de Rochambeau stepped forward and unveiled the statue of her distinguished ancestor. The guns of the Fourth Battalion boomed out the national salute, the French and American marines presented arms and the "Old Guard" in colonial uniform, threw up their hats, the whole presenting a scene which in many respects must have resembled that depicted at Hartford 122 years ago when General George Washington welcomed the Count de Rochambeau and the 6,000 troops and the companies of marines he had brought to assist in the cause of American independence.

The French visitors attended service at St. Patrick's church yesterday morning and left last evening for Niagara Falls. The receptions which had been planned to take place at the residence of Mrs. Leiter and at the French embassy on Saturday evening were omitted out of respect to Lord Pauncefote.

Commencement at Ayden.

The Commencement of Carolina Christian College, at Ayden, began Monday evening with an interesting concert by the primary pupils of the school, assisted by musical selections from some of the larger pupils. The exercises opened with an address of welcome by Prof. Manning. The programme consisted of recitations, declamations, dialogues, songs and instrumental selections, all of which were excellently rendered.

This morning Rev. W. O. Winfield delivered the annual literary address, which was a splendid effort. Dinner was served on the lawn after the address.

Tonight there will be another concert by the advanced pupils.

Mr. H. G. Springs, one of the oldest and wealthiest citizens of Charlotte, died Sunday night. He was about 80 years old and left an estate estimated at $700,000.

It Does the Work.

Recently Zeno Moore & Bro. advertised tooth brushes in THE DAILY REFLECTOR. A gentleman in Sanford, N. C., saw the advertisement, and knowing the reputation of the firm, that their goods were always just as represented, he waited for a contemplated trip to Greenville to supply himself with brushes. This may be only a small matter, yet it shows that a good firm advertising a good thing in a good medium makes the sales.

The past week has been one of college commencements here—the Baptist Female University and Peace Institute holding their exercises simultaneously.
