An Old Subscriber.

Among the old subscribers to The Morning Star is Mr. E. G. Flanagan, of Greenville, N. C., who has been on our mail list continuously for thirty three years. He comes very near being one of the "charter members," as the paper was not two years old when he became a subscriber. In forwarding his subscription for the current year Mr. Flanagan says: "I have always been pleased with the Star."—Wilmington Star.

We knew Ed. was a little "shy" about his age, but had no idea he was getting along so old as the above would indicate. However, we expect the Star has got Ed. and his excellent father a little mixed. The Star has been in the elder Mr. Flanagan's family fully as long as stated and we have heard him say he would not be without it.

Honors for Greenville.

Dr. Charles Laughinghouse was elected a member of the Board of Medical Examiners by the State Medical Convention at Wilmington this week. A handsome portrait of the late Dr. C. J. O'Hagan, grandfather of Dr. Laughinghouse, was presented to the Society to be placed in the State Library at Raleigh.

Spring Fever.

Spring fever is another name for biliousness. It is more serious than most people think. Atorpid liver and inactive bowels mean a poisoned system. If neglected, serious illness may follow such symptoms. DeWitt's Little Early Risers remove all danger by stimulating the liver, opening the bowels and cleansing the system of impurities. Safe pills. Never gripe. "I have taken DeWitt's Little Early Risers for torpid liver every spring for years," writes R. M. Everly, Moundsville, W. Va. "They do me more good than anything I have ever tried." John L. Wooten.

Ready to Yield.

"I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve for piles and found it a certain cure," says S. R. Meredith, Willow Grove, Del. Operations unnecessary to cure piles. They always yield to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Cures skin diseases, all kinds of wounds. Accept no counterfeits. John L. Wooten.

Big Time at Farmville.

The educational rally at Farmville, Wednesday, was a great occasion. Fully a thousand people were present, and an influence for education was awakened that will no doubt result in much good.

The crowd assembled in the large grove around Framville academy, and the meeting was called to order by A. J. Moye, Esq., in a few appropriate remarks. Prayer was offered by Rev. T. H. Bain. Then in a speech that was a real gem Rev. D. W. Arnold introduced Gov. Charles B. Aycock, the speaker of the day. Gov. Aycock made a great speech—one of the best of his life—and it met a cordial response from his hearers.

After the speaking the occasion was turned into a picnic and the remainder of the day given over to pleasure.

Farmville has become greatly interested in graded schools, and will have one before a great while.

Leads Them All.

"One Minute Cough Cure beats all other medicines I ever tried for coughs, colds, croup and throat and lung troubles," says D. Scott Currin of Loganton, Pa. One Minute Cough Cure is the only absolutely safe remedy which acts immediately. Mothers everywhere testify to the good it has done their little ones. Croup is so sudden in its attacks that the doctor often arrives too late. It yields at once to One Minute Cough Cure. Pleasant to take. Children like it. Sure cure for grip, bronchitis, coughs. John L. Wooten.

HOYT MOORE PARDONED.

Pitt County Negro Released from Penitentiary.

Governor Aycock has pardoned Hoyt Moore, a convict sent up from Pitt county under an eleven year sentence for manslaughter.

In the spring of 1899 a fight occurred in Bethel in which Policeman Elisha Bryan was struck on the head with a rake and died from his injuries. Hoyt Moore and two of his sons were present and he was supposed to be a participant in the trouble. The principal assailant of the officer made his escape, but Hoyt Moore, one son named Cullen and another negro were placed in jail. They were put on trial at September term of court following, when Hoyt submitted to a verdict of manslaughter and his son Cullen to a verdict of murder in the second degree. Hoyt was sentenced to 11 years in the penitentiary and Cullen to 21 years. Governor Aycock was a prosecuting attorney in the case.

After being placed in the penitentiary Cullen Moore died of typhoid fever. Soon after the trial an application was made to Governor Russell for the pardon of Hoyt, on the ground that he took no part in the killing of Bryan but was there trying to get his sons to leave. The application has since been pending and Governor Aycock granted the pardon a few days ago. Judge Hoke, before whom the case was tried, recommended the pardon.

THURSDAY, JUNE 12, 1902.

The old Liberty Bell has been returned to Independence Hall, in Philadelphia, after its exhibition at the Charleston Exposition. The old bell has taken a number of trips and makes an interesting feature at expositions.

Now that the Boers have been compelled to surrender to overwhelming odds against them, we suggest that the Charlotte Observer and King Edward VII join in a love feast, and at the same time felicitate Lord Kitchner for what he has not done.

Two negro boys, Harrison and James Gillispie, were arrested under a suspicion of having murdered Miss Neely Benston, in Rowan county. They confessed the crime and were placed in Salisbury jail. Tuesday night 50 masked men broke open the jail, took the boys out, swung them to a limb and riddled their bodies with bullets. Pity that those people engaged in the lynching did not let the law take its course, as the boys would have received the full punishment their crime deserved. As it is the lynchers added still another crime to the record of their county and brought the laws of the State into disrepute.

The Big Hygeia Must Go.

Washington, June 9.—The Secretary of War has notified the owners of Hygeia Hotel and other private establishments on the military reservation at Fort Monroe, Va., that the land occupied by them is urgently needed and that the buildings and contents must be removed within a "reasonable time."

This action is taken on the recommendation of a board of army officers appointed to consider the subject and is in accordance with an opinion given by Judge Advocate General Davis as to the law in the case. It is the purpose of the Department to extend the batteries at this port and to erect a number of new buildings for purely military purposes.

Better Streets Needed.

Some of our lovers of horses have recently purchased very stylish traps. If we only had good streets driving would be much more pleasant than it is. For the past week it has been very disagreeable, every passing vehicle raising great clouds of dust, while the poor horses looked like they had all they could pull through the deep sand. Every driver, at least should become an advocate of better streets.

The Best Prescription for Malaria
Chills and Fever is a bottle of Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. No cure, no pay. Price 50c.

Use the Broom Sometimes.

Although the carpet sweeper is a labor saving device, the carpet will need a thorough sweeping with a broom occasionally. Remove upholstered chairs and couches from the room if convenient, but if not cover them while sweeping. There is nothing so destructive to their beauty as to allow them to become covered with dust every sweeping day. Open the windows or doors and sweep with quick, firm strokes that will clean the carpet without injuring it. If the broom is dampened frequently, it will not raise a cloud of dust. Or a better plan would be to sprinkle salt over the carpet before sweeping. It cleanses the carpet beautifully and brightens the colors.

When the dust has settled, remove the covers from the furniture and dust the woodwork carefully. Use a soft feather duster for bric-a-brac and vases. A large square of cheesecloth is better for other articles. When the dust has settled on the walls, wrap a cloth about the brush part of the broom and wipe

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

A Doting Father Gets Some Enlightenment as to His Offspring.

John Wilson was a thrifty mechanic with a nice home, a cheery wife and three children, the youngest of whom was a boy named John. The elder John was a pious Christian man, who tried faithfully not to commit the sin of idolatry in his feeling for his son, but it was impossible. He worshiped the boy. The young John, then five years old, was a real boy in all the term implies. His father was sure he was the best that ever lived, and already he saw him as a man preaching good to all men, for that was the hope in the elder John's bosom.

One day when the father came back from the shop he brought with him a pretty tin cup on which was written in gilt letters, "To a good boy." He gave it to his son, and the child looked up into his face like an angel and smiled. Two days later as John Wilson came home when the day was done he was thinking proudly of his boy who would meet him at the gate when his attention was attracted by a dog coming lickety split down the street with a tin cup tied to his tail and knocking ragtime out of the sidewalk. Before Mr. Wilson could get out of the way the dog dashed between his legs, upsetting him into a coal hole and piling in on top of him in a tangle that was terrific. The dog got away at last, and when a policeman helped the bruised and battered mechanic out of the hole he discovered a string wound round his leg and attached to the end of it a tin cup which looked as if it had been through seven wars.

"You can keep this as a souvenir," said the policeman pleasantly. "What is it?" asked John Wilson, taking it. "It's a tin cup belonging to some of them little devils around the corner, I guess," said the policeman, twirling his club significantly. The father of John Wilson, Jr., looked at the battered tin in his hand. In gilt letters, which he had not forgotten, were the words, "To a good boy."—Detroit Free Press.

Corbin and the Chinese Tailor.

They tell an amusing story of Adjutant General Corbin at Cavite. There is a Chinese tailor there of some note for the making of white uniforms, to whom the officers often come from Manila. The general visited Cavite and went to the Chinaman to be measured for some clothes. "You will come over to the Oriente tomorrow and bring them to be tried on?" he said.

This was not at all the Chinaman's idea of doing business. "No can do," he said. "Admiral, he come off ship to try on clothes; you come too."

It was that or no clothes, and the general had to go back to the Chinaman's shop to have his clothes fitted.

SMALL FIRE.

Residence of Mr. Higson has Narrow Escape.

About 9 o'clock Wednesday night an alarm of fire was given.
It came from the home of Mr. W.
B. Higson, who lives in one of the Corey buildings on Second street.
Fire was burning in a closet beneath the stairway in the hall.

A crowd quickly gathered, and tearing away the plaster wall around the closet soon reached the fire and put it out, with only small damage to the building and furniture.

The cause of the fire is perhaps easily explained. On the night before (Tuesday) the swinging lamp in the hall commenced blazing out the top of the chimney.
Mrs. Higson went to the lamp and tried to put it out. Failing in this,
and fearing the blaze would ignite
the ceiling, she pushed the front of the lamp out of the frame, smothering it out after it fell on the floor. Some of the burning oil set fire to a large pillow then lying on the floor, but this was supposedly extinguished and the pillow
lay in a place of safety over night.
Sometime during Wednesday the servant picked up this pillow
and threw it in the closet.
It is supposed that some fire was still smoldering in the pillow which broke out later and ignited
the closet.

It is fortunate that the fire broke out so early in the night. If it had occurred in the dead of night
the building would doubtless have been destroyed and possibly others
with it.

San Souci Club.

Reported for The Reflector.]

On Tuesday afternoon June 10th the San Souci Club held its second meeting with Miss Flournoy.

The first part of the afternoon was devoted to business, the reading of minutes of minutes of previous meeting, report of several committees, the subjection and adoption of a constitution, and various discussions concerning the selection of new books.

The literary feature of the afternoon was a most charming and instructive sketch of Betty Patterson—Lady Jerome Bonapart by Miss Lillian Cherry which was greatly enjoyed by all.

Business being dismissed a most striking and original social feature was introduced. A love story in ornithology—our President, Miss Louise Latham, was the successful one in this contest.

Most dainty refreshments were served while the sweet strains of the piano and violin filled the air.

Each member extends to our charming hostess sincere praise and thanks for a most delightful afternoon.

On June 24th the club will hold its next meeting with Miss Lizzie Jones.

Cut Her Ankle.

Miss Lena Mathews is a very popular saleslady at the store of J. B. Cherry & Co. Wednesday she was ascending a step ladder when a pair of scissors she carried suspended from a long cord stuck in her ankle and made a wound that bled quite freely. Every one is glad she was not hurt much.

A Real Friend.

"I suffered from dyspepsia and indigestion for fifteen years," says W. T. Sturdevant of Merry Oaks, N. C. "After I had tried many doctors and medicines to no avail one of my friends persuaded me to try Kodol. It gave immediate relief. I can eat almost anything I want now and my digestion is good. I cheerfully recommend Kodol." Don't try to cure stomach trouble by dieting. That only further weakens the system. You need wholesome, strengthening food. Kodol enables you to assimilate what you eat by digesting it without the stomach's aid. John L. Wooten.
