BETHEL HIGH SCHOOL.

Bethel High School had its closing exercises Friday. The program was a good one and was fully carried out. In the morning at 11 o'clock after music Mr. D. C. Moore, of Greenville, in appropriate remarks introduced Prof. W. H. Ragsdale as the speaker at the morning exercises. After some congratulatory remarks to the people upon having such a school in their midst, and extending a cordial welcome to Prof. Sherrill and his accomplished wife to the county and school work, Prof. Ragsdale discussed the following important question: "What does the present demand of young men and young women?" He spoke plainly and practicably, and without doubt impressed the audience with the fact that the things noted as demanded were important.

After this speech and music by some of the pupils, Mr. A. G. Cox, Chairman of the Board of Education, was presented to the audience. Mr. Cox spoke of the educational interest of the community and the county, and insisted that it was incumbent upon our people to take advantage of the educational opportunities now being given them.

At 3:30 o'clock the audience again assembled, the crowd being even larger than in the morning. Mr. H. T. King in a few well chosen words introduced Mr. W. F. Harding, of Greenville, as the speaker for the afternoon. Mr.

Harding spoke upon the educational problem as it now presents itself to us. His speech was a good one and must bear fruit in that community. He pointed out to the town how they might establish a high grade public school to run nine or ten months in the year. He assured the citizens that the Board of Education was ready to render any assistance which they might be able to do.

At the conclusion of this speech Prof. Ragsdale in behalf of the Philomathean Society, presented the declaimer's medal to Master Judson Blount. It was exceedingly complimentary to him to have won this medal in the contest on Thursday night in which there were a number of contestants. He appears not to be over 12 years old.

Mr. Harding next presented the essayist's medal to little Miss Maud Barnhill. She, too, was very young and must be bright to have won this medal.

Prof. Ragsdale then spoke to the audience a few minutes, saying that he was not willing that there should not come immediate results from Mr. Harding's speech. He asked the citizens to get together, formulate some plan to establish a high grade public school and appoint a committee to meet the Board on the second Monday in July to make final arrangements. Some of the best and most influential citizens in the town stated after the meeting that this would certainly be done. We are of the opinion that this was a good day's work for Bethel and for the educational interest of the county.

Visitors are lavish in praise of the hospitality of the town. Prof. Sherrill, his assistants, his wife and Miss Mattie Grimes, have done fine work during the present term of the school and deserve the commendation which the town is giving them.

At night the annual concert was held and all who participated rendered their parts well, showing careful and efficient preparation. The program was too long to particularize.

MONDAY, JUNE 30, 1902.

The North Carolina Press Association held a most delightful session at Hendersonville on the 25th and 26th. The following officers were elected for the next year:

President—W. F. Marshall, Gastonia Gazette.

Vice Presidents—J. O. Atkinson, Christian Sun, J. J. Farris, High Point Enterprise.

Secretary and Treasurer—J. B. Sherrill, Concord Times.

Historian—C. H. Poe, Progressive Farmer.

Orator—Archibald Johnson, Charity and Children.

Poet—J. R. Swann, Madison Record.

It strikes us that nothing further can be accomplished toward securing improvements for the town under the bill passed by the last Legislature, and the wisest step for the Aldermen to take is to refund the bond and school taxes that have been collected. While the decision of the Supreme court seemed to indicate that another trial of the case could be had, still they declared the act unconstitutional, and nothing but the same result could be expected at another hearing before them. The surest way now to get improvements is to end the old bill and make a new start before the next Legislature.

ATTACKS ON JUDGE CLARK.

FALKLAND, N. C., June 28.

EDIEOR REFLECTOR:

It pleased me very much to see in a recent number of THE REFLECTOR your announcement favoring Judge Clark for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. You touched a vibrating chord as far as old Pitt is concerned that went to the hearts of four fifths of her people to say the least.

I ask a small space in your valuable paper to state that I carefully read the attacks, charges, tergiversations of the railroad plutocrats, assisted by a gang of railroad lawyers, who are kept well paid to do any sort of work, and to meet any emergency. All through these carefully written attacks can be seen a conspiracy of "malice aforethought," prompted by some fancied personal grievance. Page has a railroad and Judge Clark thinks as all honest men should think, Page should pay the taxes on his road according to value, and that Page should obey the laws relative to free passes. This, and this only was the offense, that produced (to doubt by the united strength of all the Pages) a flim flam of the flimsiest effervescent stuff that ever emanated from a quarternian of intelligent men. The fabric was so thin that it would not hold a Moore county fly; but it did make stronger Clark men

The next was Mr. Jim Wilson, and he has a personal grievance, one that shattered his nerves, made him sick, judging from his communication he has not yet recovered. Well let us diagnose his case. Mr. Wilson was chairman of the first Railroad Commission. It is a position of great responsibility and big pay. He seemed to have forgotten his great obligation and was charged with condoning or coqueting or transacting some sort of deal (together with another member of the board) with the authorities of a great railroad wherein, he the said Mr. Jim Wilson, would be financially benefited, and the consummation was working along smoothly had it not been for that rather scarce lot of people who believe in honesty and fair play.

So it got to Gov. Russell and it made him cussing mad. He determined that no man guilty of such conduct should hold such a high and responsible office. But it appears that he did not know how to get him out; so he (the Governor) consulted with Judge Clark, who informed him of the law provided in such affairs. Upon this information Mr. Wilson was ordered to walk out. He went and will continue to stay "went." This was Judge Clark's only offence that makes Mr. Wilson such a deadly enemy. He does not seem to think Gov. Russell had anything to do with unfrocking him.

Next comes a lawyer to the attack. He appears to be of such insignificance as to have neither name, home or dwelling place. As he entered the arena armed only with a foir of lead, he could not expect to do any harm and he certainly fulfilled his expectations.

And next we find Mr. Bill Day, as usual he has on his war paint, and in his belt hangs his tommyhawk and scalping knife. Now we have for a long time admired "sweet William" for his candor and honesty, for this reason I was pleased when Gov. Russell appointed him Superintendent of the Penitentiary. He is a man that loves his friends and never permits an opportunity to escape to fearlessly wave a glaring red flag in the face of an enemy. With his tommyhawk in his strong right hand, with an attitude that would have done honor to the Sachem of St. Tamany, he informs "all the world and the rest of mankind" that he dislikes Judge Clark "both as a lawyer and a man" and forth with had an ebullition of the foam-iest wrath that ever escaped from a paroxysm of rage. Mixing in a little imagination, this is about the size of the attack and import of Mr. William Day upon Judge Clark.

Now lookout, Mr. Editor, for here comes Mr. James H. Pou, in command of the rear guard, of the Pages, the Wilsons, the railroad lawyers, money-trust devils, conspirators, id omne genus He plainly regards himself as the Rajah of the grand old Democratic party and as such he issues a pronouncement, warning the dear people not to vote for Judge Clark; but to vote for Judge Justice, (now I have not a word to say against Judge Justice and) to imitate New Hanover county, when it is well known that grand old county instructed for Judge Clark, but Mr. Pou recommends and prefers a minority; as Artemus Ward would say this would be "amoosing" did it come from anyone but J. H. P. We all well recollect when he was Commander in Chief of the Ex. Com. of the party. We had that minority with a landslide—so people are apt to like what they are used to; but he does inform us that he will vote for Judge Clark if nominated. Now what else could he say, as his brother is a member of Congress, and it is his "soul's sincere desire" to go again.

The supposition is that Judge Clark is not sufficiently suple, pliable and mutative, to be led and swayed by the logic and eloquence of some lawyers, when they undertake to make the "worst appear the better reason." It can be noted that Mr. J. H. Pou does not make or charge anything against Judge Clark. Mr. Editor, let us take another snap shot at these men who have been and are still engaged in warning the Democratic party against Judge Clark. Page boasts that he voted for McKinley and Russell and Capt. Day did the same, and when Mr. Jim Wilson was asked if he would vote for Judge Clark if nominated refused to answer. Here's cheek for you galore. Let us note particularly these newspapers, that are daily shouting and howling and howling and fulminating that the party will be lost if Judge Clark should be nominated. The two most prominent are the Charlotte Observer and the Raleigh Post. Here I will state that nothing could induce me to say one unkind word or the slightest reflection personally against the editors of these able papers; but practically they belong to the public. The Observer fought William Jennings Bryan when he was nominated by the largest convention (both times) that ever assembled on the Continent, for President. It apparently did what it could to drag down the party. It is known as a commercial Democratic paper. What is understood to mean that the dollar should be above the man, and that the highest consideration of Government should be the protection of wealth in preference to human liberty.

The Raleigh Morning Post pours out its crucible of wrath every morning upon the devoted head of Judge Clark, and then would have us believe, that it quietly waits to have it refilled by the generative secretions of its railroad patrons. It advocated Governor Russell for U. S. Senator and refuses to say whether it will vote or sustain Judge Clark if nominated. Gov. Vance said the right way to judge a Democrat was by his votes. Then why should the people regard these two papers as guides of Democracy? Mr. Editor you truly said that every charge that had been against Judge Clark had been met and banished, to me not a shadow is left.

We pity the ignorance of the man that does not believe that if Judge Clark could have been turned and twitted and bribed by the railroad plutocrats, that they would now be trying to turn Heaven and earth upside down to defeat him. Not showing any bias or prejudice either for or against them he simply believes that the money-trust devils, corporations and railroads should have no more rights or privileges than the humblest citizen before the laws. Judging from his acts, he believes in justice to all men, special privileges to none.

He will be nominated and elected in spite of all the trusts, railroads, and subsidized newspapers. The laboring classes and farmers will stand by him. Your humble scribe is one of them.

W. R. WILLIAMS.

Spring Fever.

Spring fever is another name for bil-people think. Atorpid liver and inactive bowels mean a poisoned system. If neglected, serious illness may follow such symptoms. DeWitt's Little Early Risers remove all danger by stimulating the liver, opening the bowels and cleansing the system of impurities. Safe pills. Never gripe.
