that it has ever been our pleasure to show. That we are in style and have the quality we shall leave that for you say, after you have investigated.

We made a complete survey while away, and feel sure that we thought of all your wants. The quality of our merchandise is the best, while the prices shall be lowest.

Winterville Department.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C. Sept. 13 1902
The A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. have been recently selling some large lots of wire nails.

Mrs. Martha L. Cox is having a nice large house built near the school building. W. L. House is having a coat of paint put on his handsome home, and the home of F. O. Cox with its fresh paint and recent improvements is a thing of beauty. In fact all over Winterville can be seen the signs of progress and advancement, these hand in hand with civilization and education have at all times proven the upbuilding of communities and people.

It has become a daily custom to see wagons rolled from the factory of the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co.

E. E. Dail has just contracted with the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. to build some of his churns. Mr. Dail will soon receive his letters of patent on the churn and we believe it is the simplest and best churn on the market.

Ed Holliday, from the Grimesland section, was here Thursday to make arrangements for placing his boy in the Winterville High School.

Prof. Dawson, of Washington, was here yesterday.

John F. Stokes and wife are visiting friends in town.

Capt. H. M. Dixon and family moved from here yesterday to make their future home near Wharton, in Beaufort county. Our people very much regret seeing this excellent family leave, for they have grown up with the place and none are held in greater regard or stand higher in the esteem of our people. Capt. Dixon is a gentleman that will be appreciated wherever he goes. Our best wishes are with the entire family.

Hunsucker buggies are being carried off from the factory continually. If you see a man with a new buggy please examine it and see if it is a Hunsucker buggy. Should it be a Hunsucker buggy you can send your order for one like it or suggest any change you prefer.

Mrs. Frank Harrington and mother, Mrs. Tucker, spent Thursday in Greenville.

Mrs. M. G. Bryan and Master Bruton left Friday morning for Whichard.

Miss Bertha Dawson, of Ayden, spent yesterday afternoon with Mrs. J. D. Cox.

Fred Buham, of Ayden, was here Thursday on business.

B. F. Manning & Co. have just received a car load of lime. They will sell at low prices.

Miss Cora Carroll spent yesterday evening visiting friends here.

Honeymoon Spoiled.

Sheriff O. W. Harrington left Friday evening for Kinston, to deliver W. O. Burton and Ben Smith, colored, who were arrested here on warrants from Lenoir county. Ben goes to answer a charge of false pretense, and Burton to explain why sentence should not be pronounced against him for multifarious matrimonial relations. Burton leaves a brand new bride in Greenville.

First Showing of New Fall and Winter Clothing

For weeks everybody about this establishment has been on the jump, marking and arranging the car loads of wearables that have been daily pouring into our store. We have now ready a

BISHOP HENRY C. POTTER.

Eminent Divine, Who Will Again Assume Matrimonial Bonds.

Right Rev. Henry C. Potter, bishop of New York, has surprised his friends and the public generally by the announcement of his intention to marry again.

The bride to be is Mrs. Alfred Corn- ing Clark, who in 1896 inherited millions on the death of her late husband. Mr. A. C. Clark of the Singer Sewing Machine company.

Bishop Potter, who is traveling in Europe, is sixty-seven years old and is a native of Schenectady, N. Y. In 1883 Rev. Dr. Potter, who had added a literary reputation to his fame as an eloquent divine, became assistant bishop of New York, next in office to his uncle, Right Rev. Dr. Horatio Potter, and four years later succeeded on his uncle's death to full episcopal honors.

Bishop Potter's wife, who was Miss Eliza R. Jacob, died suddenly June 29, 1901, leaving five daughters and one son.

Dog Stopped the Train.

Train No. 20 on the Indianapolis and Vincennes railroad, in charge of Conductor F. W. Russe of Indianapolis, was tearing along toward Indianapolis at fifty miles an hour. The train was loaded with passengers and was behind time. East of Edwardsport Engineer Dorsey saw on the track far ahead a dog that was jumping about and acting in a peculiar manner. The dog's actions looked suspicious, and as a measure of caution Dorsey shut off the steam so as to have his train under control. When the train reached a nearer point, the dog stood and barked at it, and then, with a yelp, started for the woods.

Then it was that Dorsey saw that there was something red between the rails, and he threw on emergency brakes and opened the sandbox. The train came to a standstill within ten feet of a pretty flaxen haired baby in a red frock. The child was about two years old and had been playing with the dog. The train crew ran forward, and Baggage man Franklin picked up the child, which laughed and crowed and patted his face in glee.

About 800 yards distant was a farmhouse, and toward it Franklin started with the baby, to meet a man running toward him like an insane person. It was the child's father, who had missed the baby just as the train stopped and supposed that the little one had been killed. How it got so far away from home and into such a dangerous place no one could understand. The passengers were considerably jolted by the sudden stopping of the train, but no one was hurt, and when they learned the cause of it they clustered about Engineer Dorsey and congratulated him on his caution.—Philadelphia Times.

Picking Out a Profession.

Let a boy decide upon his profession at fifteen, and though he may not immediately enter it, he saves for preparation all the time his companion loses by putting off his choice until he is of age. And this early time is most valuable time, for it represents the distinctive acquisitive period of life, the period when the mind receives impressions most easily and retains them most tenaciously. The technique of any trade or business or profession is readily acquired by a youthful mind. Later on it seems to be grasped slowly and with difficulty. My advice to boys is that they anticipate their life work as much as possible. Get into the spirit and atmosphere of it. Take the preliminary steps while you are full of enthusiasm.—Harper's Young People.

How to Raise Flowers in the House.

A tiny garden can be made by cutting a piece of sheet wadding to the top of a bowl or a wide mouthed jar which is filled with water just enough for the bottom of the vessel to touch it. Two or three small charcoal will keep the water when all is arranged the wadding is sprinkled with mignonette, sweet pea or a easily grown plant. The roots down through the wadding nourished by the water, and blossoms in a reasonable seal the top.

CONDENSED STORIES.

How the Committee on Military Affairs Got an Appetite.

"Will you lunch with me at the Country club?" asked Secretary Root, and all the members of the committee on military affairs said "Yes."

If some of the committeemen had only known where the Country club is situated, this story could not be told. As it was, they immediately concluded that the Country club and the Chevy Chase club were one and the same, and out to the Chevy Chase club they went. And when they arrived they learned that the Country club was another place entirely. "It is over there," said the Chevy Chase steward, waving his hand indefinitely toward the western horizon.

Senator Hawley and Representative Jett, reconnoitering along the highway, bargained with a passing yokel for a horse that was knock-kneed and spavined and a wagon that seemed about to drop to pieces, like the old one hoss-shay. They rode off in triumph. No other vehicle being in sight, Representatives Mondell, Brick, Prince, Ketcham and half a dozen more started on a tramp across the Chevy Chase golf course and finally reached the Tennyaltown road.

"How often do the cars run?" asked Mondell, hailing a native.

"Once every hour, and one has just gone down," said the unfeeling citizen, grinning with delight.

Down the railroad track the party tramped until they reached Tennyaltown. Then they made their way across fields and along muddy roads until finally they ascended the broad stairs of the Country club.—Washington Post.

Thought He Was a Doorkeeper.

Two ladies were wandering through the senate wing of the capitol one day recently when one of them approached Senator Hawley.

"Will you please show us the president's room?" they asked.

Senator Hawley not only did the honors of the president's room, but escorted them to the room of the committee on military affairs to display to the visitors the handsome frescoes of that apartment.

"Thank you very much," said one of the ladies, and then she slipped into Senator Hawley's hand a silver quarter.

"My dear madam," said Senator Hawley, "I am one of the senators from Connecticut, and you cannot expect me to accept anything for doing you a kindness."

"Goodness gracious!" exclaimed the lady. "Are you a senator? I thought you were a doorkeeper."—Washington Letter.

A Practical Difficulty.

Mamma had been impressing upon the little ones the verse, "And unto him that smiteth thee on one cheek offer also the other."

After awhile Paul came in crying.

"Why, what's the matter?" said mamma.

"Sister hit me," said Paul.

"Have you forgotten about turning the other cheek?" asked mamma.

"No," said Paul, "but I couldn't; she hit me in the middle."

SATURDAY, SEPT. 13, 1902.

Reports from the colleges throughout the State show unusually large openings.

We see it stated that northern capitalists are planning to build a large hotel at Ocracoke. If such a hotel is built and proper transportation to the island provided, it will be a popular resort.

There is something in the article taken from the New Bern Journal headed "Strength in Community," published in this issue, that ought to be read and considered thoughtfully by every citizen of Greenville.

A number of anti-Clark Democrats met in Greensboro Thursday night, to inaugurate a movement looking to the election of Thomas N. Hill, the independent candidate, as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. THE REFLECTOR does not believe such a movement can accomplish the defeat of Judge Clark, and is sorry to see the names of some prominent men mentioned in connection with it.

How glad the tobacco men are that Saturday and Sunday comes between sales. Some of them say they do not believe they could have gone, without rest, through another day of big sales like the past week. It ought to be a cause of gladness for everybody that a day of rest comes once a week. The whole human family needs it, yet there are so many who have no regard for the Sabbath.

This double size issue of THE DAILY REFLECTOR speaks for itself. The very liberal advertising patronage the paper is enjoying makes this both possible and necessary. The people believe in THE REFLECTOR and the paper appreciates their esteem and confidence. To better take care of the increasing demand for advertising space, and at the same time give more reading matter, we are now arranging to enlarge the regular every day edition of the paper. We hope to give our patrons a larger paper by the first of October, sooner if possible. In the meantime bring our work right on to THE REFLECTOR and it will be properly attended to.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C. Sept. 12.

"Tax the Trusts" is the text of a letter which Senator John T. Morgan of Alabama has recently made public and which is likely to attract considerable attention. The Senator, after stating in a lengthy addition to the Sherman law, is a graduated tax on all business corporations with an exemption, in whole or in part, as to such as can establish, to the satisfaction of the government, that they are not engaged in any agreements or combinations that are intended to control the prices, or the cost of transportation, of commodities that are of the descriptions that enter into domestic or foreign commerce.

"The power thus exercised is simply the taxing power and is not necessarily connected with the power of Congress to regulate commerce between the states or with foreign countries.

"It is the application of the principles of taxation which are well settled, to corporations which have been made agreements that violate the purposes for which they were created, to the injury of competitive trade and the general welfare."

The proposition of the learned Senator is simple and easy of application. No constitutional amendment would be required, and no change of the precious tariff schedules. If the President is in earnest in his desire to control the pernicious trusts the scheme should recommend itself to him, and to the members of his party as well. A simple revenue tax bill could be promptly enacted which would bear heavily on every corporation but from which exemption could be secured on proof that the corporation was not acting in violation of the spirit or the letter of the law or contrary to the interests of the people. The burden of proof would rest on the corporations and in their efforts to secure the publicity, so strongly advocated by the President, would be secured. The opportunity offered to the Fifty-seventh Congress, by Senator Morgan, to prove that it has the interests of the people rather than those of corporate wealth at heart, is exceptional.

President Roosevelt has just returned from his trip through the south where he joined the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and spoke enthusiastically of his admiration for organized labor. There is little reason to believe, however, that the working man who has to pay $10 a ton for his coal and 18 cents a pound for his meat will regard the President's action as entitling him or his party to the support of the laboring classes. The verbal statement that the President is his friend will do little to alleviate the suffering of the man who knows that, as a result of republican legislation, his family is cold and hungry.

Senator Jones of Arkansas passed through Washington this week and spoke enthusiastically of the prospects of the fall elections. He called attention to the fact that the passage of the McKinley law was followed by a tremendous rise in prices and that in turn, by a great democratic victory. He predicts that history will repeat itself. He said that all over the United States the high cost of living was proving a serious hardship to the poor man and that the poor man knew that he was suffering that hardship as a result of republican policies. Under these circumstances he would naturally vote the democratic ticket. Senator Jones pronounced President Roosevelt's proposed constitutional amendment "mere buncombe" and stated that the President was well aware that the real issue was the trusts and the tariff and that no republican Congress would enact legislation which would reduce the tariff or correct the trust evil.

Strength In Community.

There are citizens in too many communities who follow the hold back and pull down policy.

The suggestion of any public enterprise, the talk of an industrial institution, and it means ninety-nine reasons advanced by these hold back citizens, why the enterprise will prove a failure, to one reason why it may possibly prove a good thing for the community.

Let there be developed any local institution, a manufactory or any local enterprise which is of value to the community generally, and the pull down citizen will attempt to get up a rival, if the other seems to be making a living, or if it may be paying its expenses, then the word will be sent about to discourage its owner.

With these hold backs and pull downs exercising any power, the fate of the town where they live is easily guessed, for no community can make headway, much less progress, where there is no local co-operation or unity of purpose among its citizens.

Take away community unity, or let it be known that a place is controlled by the hold backs and pull downs, and every outsider will avoid such a place as if it held a pestilential disease, and every progressive citizen will leave such a town at the earliest opportunity.

Every local institution, every enterprise, every merchant, is entitled to the cordial support of the citizens of the place.

A failure of any local enterprise, the stifling of any proposed industry, is not merely injury done to the few persons interested in these institutions, but such failures injure directly or indirectly every citizen, every tax payer and every business or trade in the place.

It is the leveling up, the helping and sustaining process, which is needed in the community, the thought that the success of each citizen aids in the welfare of all, and through this unity comes the substantial community gain and in no other way.—New Bern Journal.

The Liberty Warehouse.

A full page advertisement in this issue has something to say about what the Liberty Warehouse is doing. It is the talk of both town and country that the Liberty sells more tobacco than any other one house in Eastern North Carolina. It took work to get such a reputation as this, and W. T. Lipscomb & Co., are noted for their hard work in the interest of the tobacco farmers. Go to the Liberty any sales day and you will see evidence of this.

The Liberty has a most courteous and efficient corps of helpers and they make you feel at home when you go there. All of them work to maintain the reputation of the house and keep it in the lead.

Much water goeth by the mill that the mill knoweth not of.

Not Over-Wise.

There is an old allegorical picture of a girl scared at a grass-hopper, but in the act of heedlessly treading on a snake. This is paralleled by the man who spends a large sum of money building a cyclone cellar, but neglects to provide his family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a safeguard against bowel complaints, whose victims outnumber those of the cyclone a hundred to one. This remedy is everywhere recognized as the most prompt and reliable medicine in use for these diseases. For Sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, and Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville, N. C.

The hearing ear is never found close to the speaking tongue.

Dysentery Cured Without the Aid of a Doctor.

"I am just up from a hard spell of the flux" (dysentery) says Mr. T. A. Pinner, a well known merchant of Drummond, Tenn. "I used one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I consider it the best cholera medicine in the world." There is no need of employing a doctor when this remedy is used, for no doctor can prescribe a better medicine for bowel complaint in any form either for children or adults. It never fails and is pleasant to take. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, and Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

No man of good sense expects to thoroughly understand two women.

Boy Cured of colic After Physician's Treatment Had Failed.

My boy when four years old was taken with colic and cramps in his stomach. I sent for the doctor and he injected morphine, but the child kept getting worse. I then gave him half a teaspoonful of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and in half an hour he was sleeping and soon recovered.—F. L. Wilkins, Shell Lake, Wis. Mr. Wilkins is book keeper for the Shell Lake Lumber Co. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, and Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

Lingering Summer Colds.

Don't let a cold run at this season. Summer colds are the hardest kind to cure and if neglected may linger along for months. A long sledge like this will pull down the strongest constitution. One Minute Cough Cure will break up the attack at once. Safe sure acts at once. Cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, all throat and lung troubles. The children like it. John L. Wooten.

A glutton is little better than a drunkard.

A Liberal Offer.

The undersigned will give a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach, and Liver Tablets to any one wanting a reliable remedy for disorders of the stomach, biliousness or constipation. This is a new remedy and a good one. Wooten's Drug Store Greenville, Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

to get a bottle of Painkiller, examine it carefully to see if it is made by Perry Davis, and don't be persuaded to take something "just as good" because it is a few cents cheaper. There is only one Painkiller, "Perry Davis'." Large bottles 25 and 50c.

Many a self-possessed girl would prefer to be possessed by someone else.

A Sad Disappointment.

Ineffective liver medicine is a disappointment, but you don't want to purge, strain and break the glands of the stomach and bowels. DeWitt's Little Early Risers never disappoint. They cleanse the system of all poison and putrid matter and do it so gently that one enjoys the pleasant effects. They are a tonic to the liver, cure biliousness, torpid liver and prevent fever. A Wonderful Echo.

At a watering place in the Pyrenees the conversation at table turned upon a wonderful echo to be heard some distance off on the Franco Spanish frontier.

"It is astonishing," said an inhabitant of the Garonne. "As soon as you have spoken you hear distinctly the voice leap from rock to rock, from precipice to precipice, and as soon as it has passed the frontier the echo assumes the Spanish accent."—Pearson's Weekly.

An Odd Pair of Negroes.

An interesting sight on the streets yesterday was a wagon in which were two darkies from Gaston county. One of the negroes was totally blind and the other had both of his arms cut off at the elbows. The blind negro was driving the mule which was hitched to the wagon, while the handless negro would direct him how to pull the reins. They had a load of produce to sell. These two negroes live together and are well-known characters in Gaston. The sightless negro performs all kinds of manual labor while the one with no hands stands by his side to direct him. They are not related, but neither could get along without the other.—Charlotte Observer.

Won't Pay The Tax.

It is announced today that Judge Purnell and other Federal officials will appeal to the courts against the decision of the State Tax Commission in regard to the income tax. The Commission holds that if the Judge's interpretation of the word "diminish" is good, then none of his creditors could touch his salary, nor could he spend it himself without violating the law.

The Attorney General of the State gives it as his opinion that Judge Purnell's salary cannot be taxed, and not a lawyer has yet been seen who has the faintest idea that the Judge can be made to pay this tax.

Senator Simmons did not at first list his income from salary, but made a note that it was exempt. He still thinks it is, but did not wish to continue to make the point and so listed it.—Winston-Salem Journal, 8th.

They Were His Clothes.

Oliver Hazard Perry Belmont was the first representative to appear in the house with a new spring suit of clothes. It was a check worsted which Representative Dick said was louder than the speech which Rhea of Kentucky was delivering at the time. The members crowded about Mr. Belmont and offered congratulations on his quiet attire. He took their gibes good naturedly until one of them said:

"I believe that suit makes more noise than Belmont's red automobile when it is going down Pennsylvania avenue, and the automobile sounds like a machine gun in action."

"Now, see here," rejoined the New York city congressman testily, "these clothes are mine, and I am wearing them."

The other representatives moved away at this sign of ill temper and talked of introducing a resolution to the effect that the millionaire's clothes disturbed the deliberations of the house.—Cor. Chicago News.

A Glance at the Future.

Professor Collins, Pennsylvania's scientific agriculturist, some time ago was recommending to a Berks county farmer a powerfully fertilizing manure in which he was interested. After some discussion the sagacious farmer declared that he had no faith in the manure, as the proposed quantity was too small to be of any use.

"My dear sir," said the professor, "such are the wonderful discoveries in science that I should not be surprised if in the near future we carry the manure for acres of land to the field in the pocket of our coat."

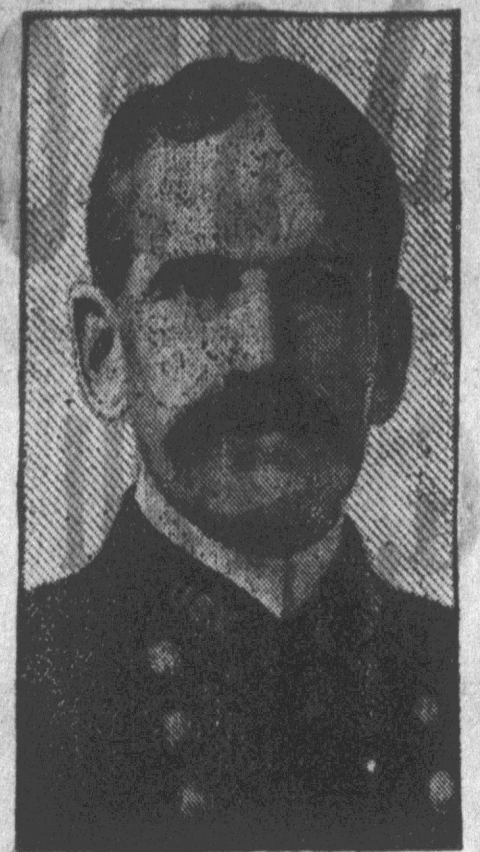

"That may be so," replied the farmer, "but in that case I'm inclined to think you would carry back the crop in the pocket of your vest."

"SHIRT SLEEVES" CHAFFEE.

Famous Fighter, Who Has Been Ordered Home From Philippines.

Major General Adna R. Chaffee, now in command of the United States forces in the Philippines, who has just been ordered home by President Roosevelt, is known in the army as "the man in shirt sleeves." He earned this sobriquet in Cuba, at El Caney hill, where he divested himself of his uniform coat and fought in the trenches with the soldiers.

General Chaffee will leave Manila about Sept. 30 and will relieve General

GENERAL ADNA R. CHAFFEE.

MacArthur of the command of the department of the east, with headquarters at Governors Island, New York.

The meteoric rise of Adna R. Chaffee from a private in the ranks of the American army to a major generalship has attracted the attention of the world. Before the outbreak of the Spanish war General Chaffee was a major of a negro cavalry regiment and commandant of the cavalry school of instruction at Fort Riley.

From a humble country home at Orwell, O., General Chaffee has climbed up the ladder to his present high position, that of major general commanding the United States army in the Philippines, and he was the first private in the regular army to be elevated to such an exalted office. He will be succeeded in the Philippines by General Davis.

Through his tact and bravery during the charge at El Caney and in the campaign in China, where he was also in command of the United States forces, his name has become pleasantly familiar to his countrymen.

After the China campaign General Chaffee succeeded General MacArthur in the command of the Philippine department. He then made a tour of the islands to study conditions and recommended changes in the civil government.

After the civil war General Chaffee won fame as an Indian fighter and was the idol of his men. One of his favorite commands when in a hot chase after Indians was, "Follow me, men, and every man that's killed I'll make a corporal."

ANGEL OF CRIPPLES.

Famous Novelist Helps London's Maimed Children.

Mrs. Humphry Ward, Great Britain's most famous woman novelist, has just succeeded in inducing the London school board to undertake a new educational movement.

For some years Mrs. Ward has been engaged in philanthropic work, her especial charge being the crippled children of the English metropolis. She called the attention of the school board to the cruelty of compelling crippled children to mingle with the sturdier, rougher children at school.

Largely through her efforts the members of the board are now engaged in the humane task of establishing in various sections of the city special schools for little cripples. Two of these have already been opened, one at Paddington and another at Bethnal Green.

At these schools every convenience and comfort has been supplied. Instead of hard wooden benches soft lounges are provided for the little cripples, and trained nurses are in constant attendance.

BOTH COSTUMES QUEER.

Minister Wu Ting Fang and Dr. Mary Walker had a tilt of wit at a reception in Washington last winter, in which the Chinaman had rather the best of it.

It was the initial meeting of the two, and their spinal inflexions were barely completed when the little doctor stepped back a pace and, drawing her rather slight anatomy up to the uttermost semblance of dignity that she could command, with an expression, too, of utter disapprobation upon her countenance, eyed the big Chinaman most severely for a moment.

With a look of astonishment at this attitude, to which the popular diplomat is so little accustomed, he waited in curiosity for what was coming, for Dr. Mary's expression was portentous. At last she let him have it, with a look that might have annihilated one less a philosopher:

"Why do you wear petticoats, Mr. Wu?"

The minister, smiling blandly, as only a Chinaman can, replied:

"Because it is the custom of my country, madam." And then, after a slight pause, to give his words all the effect possible, "Why do you wear trousers, madam?"—Lippincott's Magazine.

LAND SALE.

By virtue of a decree of the Superior Court of Pitt county made at March Term 1902 in a certain cause therein pending, entitled "In re probate in solemn form of the Last Will and Testament of Thos. J. Sheppard, deceased." I will, on Monday, October 13 1902, at 12 o'clock m., before the Court House door in Greenville, sell at public sale to the highest bidder, for cash, the following pieces or parcels of land belonging to the estate of the late Thos. J. Sheppard, situate in Carolina township, Pitt county, to wit:

1. One tract lying west of the Washington Branch of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, adjoining the said Railroad, the lands of the heirs of Daniel Hill and the lands of J. H. Satterthwaite, containing 115 acres, more or less, and known as a part of the John S. Smith land and a part of the Langley land.

2. One tract lying on the east side of said railroad and immediately between said railroad and the county road leading from Tarboro to Washington, and adjoining the land of J. B. Little on the south and the land of Daniel Hill's heirs on the north, containing 320 acres, more or less.

3. One tract lying on the east side of the county road leading from Tarboro to Washington, and bounded on the west by said road; on the south by the public road commonly called the Griffin road; on the east by a line running from a pine on said Griffin road, known as Sheppard and Little's corner, a north-west course to a pine stump on the side of a little branch, known as Jenkin's corner, and on the north by Alfred Jenkin's land, containing 380 acres more or less.

4. One tract adjoining the last described tract, the land of Alfred Jenkins, M. A. Woolard, the high water mark of Sheppard's mill pond down to Frank Pollard's land, thence with Pollard's line to Bryant Whitehurst's line, thence with Whitehurst's line to the high water mark of said mill pond, thence with said high water mark down to the Griffin road, thence with the Griffin road to the 380 acre tract, containing 390 acres more or less.

5. One tract beginning at Sheppard's and Little's corner on the Griffin road and running with Little's line to R. R. Fleming's line to the Tarboro Washington road, thence with said road to the Sheppard mill race, thence with said race up to a point 20 feet distant from the mill dam, thence 100 yards parallel with said dam and 20 feet distant therefrom, thence across the mill dam to the high water mark of the mill pond, thence with the high water mark of said pond to the Griffin road, thence with said road to the beginning, containing 120 acres, more or less.

6. One tract lying on the north side of the Sheppard mill pond, adjoining said mill pond to the high water mark thereof, the lands of W. H. Rollins, the heirs of G. G. Perkins and W. B. Roebuck, containing 225 acres, more or less, and known as part of the Home Place.

7. One tract adjoining the lands of Joseph Crisp, Redding Warren, the heirs of James W. Rollins and others, containing 145 acres, more or less, and known as the Ed Holliday tract.

8. One tract adjoining the lands of Stanly Warren, Ransom Mobley and others, containing 31 acres, more or less, and known as the W. E. Whichard tract.

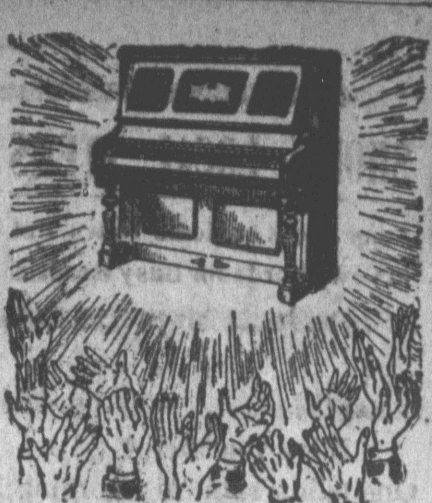

9. The mill and mill seat known as the "Sheppard Mill," including the land covered by the pond to the high water mark, the mill dam and mill race to the county road, with the rights and privileges connected therewith.

Anti-Saloon League.

There will be a meeting at the Methodist church Sunday at 3:30 p. m. for the purpose of organizing an anti-saloon league. All friends of temperance are cordially invited to be present.

No Answer Yet.

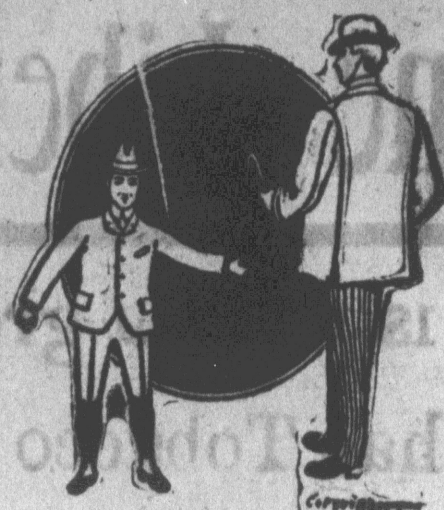

We make all our Conover, Cable, Kingsbury and Wellington pianos complete in our own two mammoth factories. Such houses as Steinway, Knabe, Chickering, Weber, and all of the artistic makers do the same. Most medium and cheaper grade makers buy their entire actions outside, admitting they are manufacturers only in a partial way. We were "challenged" which we promptly accepted. We gave a challenge and silence reigns supreme. The public sees that like the little boy, somebody has "nuffing to say." The Cable piano is the best toned and best constructed piano shown in the section. Call and examine for yourself.

Piano Tuning.

Mr. L. M. Lanier, of the Stieff Piano Co., wishes to announce to the public that during the week beginning Sept. 15th, his services can be had for tuning and repairing pianos and organs. Already he has some 10 or 12 tuning orders. Anyone wishing to have their pianos tuned will do themselves and their instruments justice to procure his services. The Company guarantees his work.

Miss Lillian Bonner, of Washington, N. C., will take Mr. Lanier's place during that week as ware-room performer for the Stieff Co., after which time Mr. Lanier will be re-engaged in the same capacity. Anyone desiring their instruments tuned will leave their orders at S. T. White's store.

The Star Warehouse.

You don't have to look twice to find the large advertisement of the Star Warehouse in this issue. Neither do you have to try twice to be convinced of what the Star can do for you in the way of selling tobacco. One trial will convince you that they leave nothing undone to get the highest prices for every load sold there—and you are sure to go back there next time.

Since Coward, Hooker & Co., took charge of the Star Warehouse their business has grown rapidly as a result of their good work for the farmers, and twice it has been necessary to enlarge their house until now they have a floor space equal to any. They have an excellent force of helpers, all of whom work together in the interest of those who sell there. You make no mistake in carrying your tobacco to the Star Warehouse.

Making More Room.

The drive way of the Planters Warehouse is being raised on a level with the main floor so as to give more space when the big breaks are on. B. E. Parham, the new proprietor, is making things hum at the Planters.

Here Are the Figures.

For the week ending Friday, the Liberty Warehouse sold 572,820 pounds of tobacco for $68,013.51. What do you think of that for one week's business?

Free Concert.

A free musical concert will be given by the Stieff Piano Co. at Hotel Macon, on Monday night, Sept. 15th, at 8:45 o'clock. Misses Bessie Patrick, Delle Forbes, Bruce Forbes, Miss Lillian Bonner, of Washington, and probably Miss Allen and Mr. Ola Forbes, too, will render valuable assistance. The Stieff piano, of course, will be used for this occasion, which will be performed by Miss Bonner, of Washington, and L. M. Lanier, of the Stieff Piano Co. The music loving people of Greenville are cordially invited to attend. Owing to the limited seating capacity of the hotel all should go early to secure seats.
