NEW ROUTES.

Rural Free Delivery Extending.

The following new rural free delivery routes have been ordered established in Pitt county to go into effect Nov. 1st: Winterville, two routes; Bethel, three routes; Ayden, one route; Farmville, two routes; Greenville, one route.

This makes nine new routes for this county, in addition to the several routes already in operation from Greenville and Grifton.

The following new routes have also been ordered at other places in this Congressional district to begin Nov. 1st: Robersonville, one route; Williamston, one route; Jamesville, one route; Plymouth, two routes; Edenton, two routes; making a total of sixteen new routes for the district. All these have been secured through the efforts of Congressman John H. Small, and shows the good work he is doing for the people of his district. It is important that people living along these routes, in order to get the benefit of the service, should provide themselves with suitable boxes. Every head of a household along or near each route should have a box.

The Meeting.

The text used by Rev. Mr. Edmundson, Monday night, was "How can we escape if we neglect so great salvation?" This, like all other sermons preached here by him, was an excellent one. He talks plainly and quotes freely from the Bible to prove every point. Two confessions followed the sermon.

His subject tonight will be "excuses" and he requested every person who has an excuse for not being a Christian to write down the excuse and send it to him, or take it to the church tonight, and let him answer it from the Bible. The sermon tonight will be preceded by the usual 7:30 o'clock prayer meeting.

Auction for Ladies.

Mr. Dave Rauh, of the firm of J. B. Bennett & Co., Norfolk, who has been conducting here an auction sale of jewelry and silverware, had an auction, Monday afternoon, for ladies only. A large number of ladies were present, and they seemed well pleased with the sale. Mr. Rauh had promised to give away three handsome presents, but the sale was such a success that he gave away about a dozen, and that many happy recipients were among the ladies. By special request he will have another auction for the ladies Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Prof. Ragsdale will Address the Public School.

The public school will open Monday, Oct. 6. All who expect to attend at any time during the term are earnestly requested to be present at eight thirty o'clock, Monday morning.

At eleven o'clock Prof. Ragsdale will address the school. All parents and other friends of public education are cordially invited to be present.

Died.

Mr. T. L. Hancock, who was sick but a few days, died at the home of W. H. Reeves, in Skinnerville, this morning, of intestinal obstruction. Age, 58 years. Two children survive him, aged 4 and 12 respectively.

Democratic Speaking.

Hon. F. M. Simmons and Hon. J. Bryan Grimes, speak in Greenville Friday night, Oct. 3rd.

BLACK JACK ITEMS.

BLACK JACK, N. C., Sept. 29. Misses Lucy White and Mimesy Dixon left today for Gum Swamp, to spend a few days.

Miss Nannie Hardee returned to her home near Ayden last Sunday.

Mrs. Robert Dixon has been very sick, but is much better at this writing.

J. C. Webb, the photographer, from Washington, was here several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry White returned Monday from Dover, where they have been to visit Mrs. White's parents.

The revival closed Tuesday night with 13 additions to the church.

Little Misses Perlie and Alice Mills, from near Chocowinity, were visiting little Miss Mattie Mills last week.

Elder Laughinghouse and daughter, Miss Nora, attended church here last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Dixon left today for Gum Swamp to attend the yearly meeting.

Mayor's Court.

Mayor H. W. Whedbee has disposed of the following cases in his court since last report.

Jim Cox, vulgar and profane language, fined one penny and costs, $1.96.

H. S. Hardy, assault, fined $2 and costs, $4.35.

H. S. Hardy, assault, fined $2.50 and costs, $4.85.

Sam Coward, drunk and disorderly, fined $2 and costs, $4.20.

John A. Gray, vulgar and profane language, fined $1 and costs, $4.25.

G. T. Buck, drunk and down, fined $1 and costs, $3.30.

Lewis Stocks, assault, fined $1 and costs, $3.35.

William Allen, violating chapter 7, section 3, fined $1 and costs, $3.45.

John Lochoney, drunk and disorderly, fined $3 and costs, $5.20.

York Dixon, drunk and disorderly, fined $1 and costs, $3.50.

There was significance in the applause which greeted the reading of the resolution, and in the enthusiasm with which the resolution was adopted in the Wayne county Democratic convention Saturday, favoring an amendment of the constitution by which the school taxes paid by the white race shall go to the white schools and those paid by the colored race to the colored schools. It is a cruel thing but there is no disguising the fact that there is a growing sentiment in favor of this idea.—Charlotte Observer.

WANTED—District Manager for The Pennsylvania Casualty Company of Scranton, Pa. for the lines of Personal Accident, Health, all kinds liability Elevator and Plate Glass Insurance. Will pay extra commission with lowest rates and liberal policy.

BEQUEST, DUDLEY & MANN, Resident Managers, Charlotte, N. C.

The warehouses had tremendous sales again today, conservative estimates placing the quantity at about 400,000 pounds. The houses had as much as they wanted to handle.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

Having duly qualified before the Superior court Clerk of Pitt county as Administrator of the estate of W. J. Jackson, deceased, notice is hereby given to all persons indebted to the estate to make immediate payment to the undersigned, and all persons having claims against said estate are notified to present the same for payment within twelve months from this date or this notice will be plead in bar of recovery.

This 29th day of September, 1902. G. E. JACKSON, Adm'r of W. J. Jackson.

Can I Get Fitted?

THAT is about the only doubt that keeps most men from buying ready-made suits. If we can't fit you we won't sell you. If your fit doesn't stay fitted, the sale doesn't stay a sale—bring back the suit.

If you do your part by coming in, you can't be anything else but fitted and suited here.

A CARD.

To the citizens of Greenville:

No doubt most everybody in Greenville has heard of the "jewelry auction," that is being conducted at W. B. Brown's dry goods store. While there are some that are prejudiced against traveling people conducting auction sales, we wish to inform the public in general that all "auction sales are not fakes." The firm of J. B. Bennett & Co., of Norfolk, Va., for whom this sale is being conducted, is a large and reliable firm of good standing and their reputation is second to none. Any article that has been or will be sold if it is not as represented can be returned to the house and they will gladly make same good. The firm will uphold any guarantee or assertion that I may make. Thanking the many that have patronized this sale, I remain very truly,

DAVE RAUH, auctioneer.

of the firm of J. B. Bennett & Co. 158 Church St., Norfolk, Va.

Last sale, Friday, October 3rd.

They Have Combined.

London, Sept. 27.—The tobacco war which has been raging here since early spring, and which has cost British and American interests millions in profits, has been ended by the amalgamation of the American and British interest.

The official announcement shows that the amalgamation takes the form of a new company, to be known as the British American Tobacco Company, in which both the Imperial and American companies are represented. The American and Imperial companies agree to respect each other's domestic trade, while the British-American Tobacco Company will compete for the trade of all the rest of the world. The papers were signed today. The new company will be registered in London Monday.

Notice.

There will soon be a change in the firm of the John Flanagan Buggy Co., and all persons indebted to us are requested to settle at once. By so doing you will save us trouble and yourself cost.

JUST NEWS ITEMS BRO. WHICHARD.

If something doesn't happen in Kinston to divert the Free Press' attention from the Greenville market, our Neusey neighbor will have a case of chronic melancholia on its hands.—Reflector.

We supposed our esteemed contemporary has reference to our chronicling the fact of large shipments of tobacco from Greenville territory, but these are facts and we will be compelled to publish them, though it does hurt our neighbor's feelings.—Kinston Free Press.

Well, neighbor, we don't mind coloring a nice item like that. We just had to ship a little bit, in order to keep the rest of it out of the wet. With the largest warehouse in the State and five others of ordinary every day size, like "yourn," we've had to utilize the drive ways for floor space; and passengers on this morning's 8:30 train from Kinston looked across Greenville's tobacco town at loaded carts and wagons awaiting their turn to "drive in."

It was not a momentary blockade, for horses and mules had been taken out, and the loaded vehicles left alone as you see them on your drive ways at night.

Whyfore? Well, it's this way: We don't disappoint 'em. They like our money, and the size of it.

Confederate Pensions.

The State Auditor furnishes the following figures concerning pensions: There were 9,000 pensioners last year; these were all, under the new law, new applications. This year there were 3,128 new applications, of which 647 were from widows and 2,587 from soldiers. Of these, about 2,300 have passed. Deduct about 300 pensioners who have died. This will give about 11,000 to be allowed pensions this year. This is the high-water mark as to numbers, and henceforward there will be a falling off. The new law requires that when pensions are pro rata the reduction shall apply more particularly to the fourth class, which includes the widows. Hence the falling off owing to the large increase will be principally on that class, which last year got $20 and this year, it seems, will get about $15. And 166 soldiers have died, but there are few incomplete reports and I am sure the number of dead will reach the 300 I mentioned.—Raleigh correspondent.

Good for Greenville.

DEAR REFLECTOR:—
I have with loving interest watched you and your town. I love a clean paper, THE REFLECTOR is such. Some months ago you made the brief, sad statement, that Pitt county had 33 licensed saloons. Last paper told me Greenville had an Anti-Saloon League, I said "thank God!" As I read the names of the leaders, I prayed for them. On November 4th, we in Cumberland will have a chance to vote, "license" or "no license." With joy I expect to vote "no license."

Yours forever,
A. D. BETTS,
Stedman, N. C., Sept. 27.

Washington Letter

Special Correspondence from the Capital of the Nation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 29.

Last week was an eventful one in republican circles. The return of the President from Indianapolis, immediately followed by that of Secretaries Shaw and Wilson, and the cancellation of certain dates for public speeches by Secretary Root, was peculiarly significant. While there is no question but the injury from which the President was suffering was serious, it is equally true that great relief was manifested by the republican leaders, at his return to the Capital and it was in compliance with their wishes that his cabinet officers followed suit. The great interest manifested by the people in economic questions was not considered to sugar well for the party. If the republicans have a majority in both branches of the Fifty eighth Congress, legislation radically curtailing the power and the profits of the trusts will be expected of them and this expectation Mr. Roosevelt was encouraging. That such legislation will not be forthcoming the republican leaders well know and they fear that there will be a revulsion of feeling if the people are disappointed, which will mean defeat in 1904. They know, also, that there is a strong tariff revision sentiment in the west and the President was, at least slightly, yielding to the demand, when he made his speech at Logansport. That was not at all in accord with the views of the leaders of his party. Therefore, it has been determined to keep away from doubtful districts and trust to the local candidates to pull their own chestnuts from the fire.

The triumph of Gen. Alger in the Michigan convention, following as it did, immediately after the President's slighting of Mr. D. M. Ferry, is regarded as inimical to the general interests of the party. As is well known, Senator McMillan had built up a powerful machine in the state and one which commanded the support of the Michigan Central railroad. Gen. Alger is no such organizer and it is questionable if he or his friends will contribute as liberally to the republican campaign fund as did the late Senator and his supporters. The shattering of the McMillan machine is therefore considered a serious blow to republican supremacy in the state. Moreover, the President has won the support of the voters to his Cuban reciprocity policy, and in so doing has weakened the grasp of Senator Burrows and the republican delegation. It is admitted that in recognizing Gen. Alger, Mr. Roosevelt felt that he was recognizing the cleaner man and the man who had the greatest claims on the party, for it must be admitted that the position of Mr. Ferry is quite analogous to that of Mr. Hanna when the latter was first a candidate for the Ohio senatorship, nevertheless, it is often injudicious for a republican politician to consider who is the cleaner man. Moreover it is a kind of pot and kettle controversy—difficult to decide.

Take Care of the Stomach.

The man or woman whose digestion is perfect and whose stomach performs its every function is never sick. Kodol cleanses, purifies and sweetens the stomach and cures positively and permanently all stomach troubles, indigestion and dyspepsia. It is the wonderful reconstructive tonic that is making so many sick people well and weak people strong by conveying to their bodies all of the nourishment in the food they eat. Rev. J. H. Holladay, of Holladay, Miss., writes: Kodol has cured me. I consider it the best remedy I ever used for dyspepsia and stomach troubles. I was given up by physicians, Kodol saved my life. Take it after meals. Jno. L. Wooten.

The scissors that cut the thread of life are never dull.

Not Over-Wise.

There is an old allegorical picture of a girl scared at a grass-hopper, but in the act of heedlessly treading on a snake. This is paralleled by the man who spends a large sum of money building a cyclone cellar, but neglects to provide his family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a safeguard against bowel complaints, whose victims outnumber those of the cyclone a hundred to one. This remedy is everywhere recognized as the most prompt and reliable medicine in use for these diseases. For Sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, and Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville, N. C.

Soft soap will not remove the foul marks of scandal.

Dysentery Cured Without the Aid of a Doctor.

"I am just up from a hard spell of the flu" (dysentery) says Mr. T. A. Pinner, a well known merchant of Drummond, Tenn. "I used one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I consider it the best cholera medicine in the world." There is no need of employing a doctor when this remedy is used, for no doctor can prescribe a better medicine for bowel complaint in any form either for children or adults. It never fails and is pleasant to take. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, and Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

It takes much less to start a quarrel than it does to stop one.

Boy Cured of Colic After Physician's Treatment Had Failed.

My boy when four years old was taken with colic and cramps in his stomach. I sent for the doctor and he injected morphine, but the child kept getting worse. I then gave him half a teaspoonful of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and in half an hour he was sleeping and soon recovered.—F. L. Wilkins, Shell Lake, Wis. Mr. Wilkins is book keeper for the Shell Lake Lumber Co. For sale by Wooten's Drug Store, Greenville, and Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

The conductor of a train of thought often has to sidetrack for empty freights.

Beware of the Knife.

No profession has advanced more rapidly of late than surgery, but it should not be used except where absolutely necessary. In cases of piles for example, it is seldom needed. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cures quickly and permanently. Unequalled for cuts, burns, bruises, wounds, skin diseases. Accept no counterfeits. "I was so troubled with bleeding piles that I lost much blood and strength," says J. C. Phillips, Paris, Ill. "DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me in a short time." Soothes and heals. Jno. L. Wooten.

Conscience is the central station on the telephone line between the head and the heart.

Lingering Summer Colds.

Don't let a cold run at this season. Summer colds are the hardest kind to cure and if neglected may linger along for months. A long sledge like this will pull down the strongest constitution. One Minute Cough Cure will break up the attack at once. Safe sure acts at once. Cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, all throat and lung troubles. The children like it. John L. Wooten.

Sugar coat a fool with money and the world will swallow him without asking a question.

A Sad Disappointment.

Ineffective liver medicine is a disappointment, but you don't want to purge, strain and break the glands of the stomach and bowels. DeWitt's Little Early Risers never disappoint. They cleanse the system of all poison and putrid matter and do so gently that one enjoys the pleasant effects. They are a tonic to the liver. Cure biliousness, torpid liver and prevent fever. John L. Wooten.

The friendship that does not prompt you to assist a friend is not worth labeling as such.

A Liberal Offer.

The undersigned will give a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach, and Liver Tablets to any one wanting a reliable remedy for disorders of the stomach, biliousness or constipation. This is a new remedy and a good one. Wooten's Drug Store Greenville, Farmville Pharmacy, Farmville.

How will people be able to make heated remarks this winter if coal continues to advance in price!

Slow Starvation

is the fate of sufferers from dyspepsia and indigestion. If your food remains undigested it can't build up the body. In fact, it does actual damage by decaying in the stomach and poisoning the system.

KODOL Digests What You Eat.

Kodol is the sensible remedy. By digesting what you eat it strengthens the body and at the same time rests the stomach. This rest soon restores perfect health. Cathartics and stimulants only reach the symptoms. Kodol cures. It is Nature's tonic.

Five years ago a disease the doctors called dyspepsia took such a hold on me that I could scarcely go. I took quantities of peppin and other medicines, but nothing helped me. As a drowning man grasps at a straw I grabbed at Kodol. I felt an improvement at once, and after a few bottles am sound and well. GEORGE S. MARSH, Attorney-at-Law, Nocona, Tex.

It can't help but do you good. The first bottle contains 2 1/2 times as much (actual measurement) as the trial size which sells for 50c. Prepared by E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. Sold by all dealers.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve a soothing, healing application for piles, sores and skin diseases. Beware of counterfeits.

The Mysterious Key

(Original.)
I was spending some time at an Atlantic seacoast resort—I would rather not name it—and was one day standing on the beach looking at the bathers when I saw a bathing master run for the water, jump in and swim from the shore. A woman had swum out far beyond her depth and was seen to go down. She was brought ashore in an unconscious condition, having sunk twice before the man reached her. I assisted in her restoration, persisting after others had given her up, and brought her back to consciousness. While working over her I noticed around her neck a gold chain to which was attached a singular looking key. Her first act after opening her eyes was to grasp the key.
Later I sent to her rooms at her hotel to learn of her condition and was invited up to her parlor. She was lying on a lounge, dressed in a becoming morning gown. She had not yet passed into middle age, though she was near it. Her face was rather interesting than beautiful.
"I suppose I must thank you for bringing me back to life," she said, "though I would be more grateful had you let me die."
"You have experienced a great trouble," I said. "When we suffer, we think there is no more happiness in store for us. When we cease to suffer, we forget that we have been miserable."
She put her hand to her bosom as if to assure herself that something she carried there had not been lost.
"Your key is safe," I said. "I kept an eye on it while we were working with you and saw you grasp it the moment you revived."
It occurred to me to make an attempt to thaw this woman out of her melancholy. I spent two months at the resort, meeting her constantly on the beach and being with her in sailing parties and other amusements. I succeeded in restoring her to a normal condition, but in doing so I lost my heart.
I well remember the evening I asked her to be my wife. We were sitting on a veranda overlooking the beach and the water. The wind had been offshore all day and had now died down. The swells were coming in sluggishly. I always liken the ocean in this condition to a lion beating the sands with his tail.
"Through sheer kindness," I said, "I have tried to bring you to a more healthful frame of mind. Now I wish to see you happy that you may make me happy."
Her reply was a sudden clutching for the key.
"Tell me," I said—"I have earned your confidence—what is the mystery of this key?"
"Listen," she replied, "and you shall know."
"I am a married woman. Words can never express all I have endured from my husband. After a long course of brutality he left me. Before doing so he hung this key about my neck, with the words: 'I am going to be a wanderer and may never return. I give you one chance for happiness. If you can find the lock that the key fits, you will learn something that may prove of great importance to you.' He believed that I could never find it and wished only to tantalize me, though I could never understand why. Now I have a fancy that in that box there may be something that would release me from my legal connection with him."
"Why do you think that?"
"From hints he dropped from time to time."
"Show me the key."
She did so, and I examined it closely. It was neither a door key nor a trunk key. It looked rather as if it fitted the wards of a lock intended to keep valuables. I studied the matter for some time, then said:
"I can understand how a woman would consider the problem impossible of solution. To a man it looks comparatively easy. Confide the matter to me, and I will see what I can do."
She took the chain and key from her neck and handed them to me. Then, without looking further into the future, hoping for something—I did not know what—I left her and the next day returned to the city.
We met again in six weeks.
"I have solved the problem of the key," I said.
She was too excited to speak, and I continued:
"I had a hundred duplicates of the key made, then sent one to every safety deposit company in each of the larger cities of the United States, asking the manager if it would fit any of his compartments used for storing valuables. Last night I received a letter from the president of a St. Louis company stating that the key would open a compartment in their vaults standing in your name."
"Well?" she asked breathlessly.
"That is all I know. Will you go there to learn the rest?"
"I will start tonight."
"Within a week she returned and, flushed with excitement, told me that she had found valuable securities that she supposed her husband had squandered; also a confession that he had served a term in the penitentiary for defalcation.
"Before he married you?" I asked.
"Yes."
"You knew nothing of this?"
"No."
"There will be little trouble in securing an annulment of such a marriage. It was no marriage."
The result proved that I was right. In time the courts annulled the marriage, and soon after a real marriage a letter came to my wife from the wanderer, written on his deathbed, giving the information I had elicited by my investigations.
